Have a Happy Thanksgiving; don't let COVID-19 restrictions get you down

by Rebecca Weber, CEO of the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]

Don't let the COVID crisis put a damper on your Thanksgiving Day. Several years ago the founder of the Association of Mature American Citizens, the late Dan Weber, my dad, issued a Thanksgiving Day message at a another particularly trying time in our nation's history. The threats we faced then were disruptive but definitely less threatening than the pandemic that has us safe-distancing, self-isolating and watching too many of our fellow citizens fall ill and perish.

Nonetheless the message my father had then is appropriate this year. As he put it: "Pessimists might suggest that we have a lot to be fearful of these days and not a lot to be thankful for. They'll say that the threats of terror attacks have cast a dark shadow over the country. And they'll argue that the country is divided politically and that unrest is widespread. But the truth is that every day is Thanksgiving Day. Challenges abound, they always have. But we have much more for which to be grateful than we have to be afraid of. As Psychologist Robert L. Leahy put it: 'giving thanks may be the best gift that you can give to others—and to yourself. And, like the best things in life, it's free'."

Top of the list of optimistic news for which we can be grateful is the promising progress being made on the development of a COVID killer vaccine. At least seven trials of vaccines are underway by respected pharmaceutical firms. They are working feverishly to make an effective serum available for distribution as soon as possible. In fact, bearing in mind that annual routine flu shots are 40 to 60 percent effective, according to the Centers for Disease Control, three of the COVID trials are reported to have shown impressive efficacy results in the 92 to 95 percent range.

Meanwhile, Just days ago Pfizer and its partner BioNTech announced that they are petitioning the FDA for approval for "emergency usage" of their vaccines. And several other drug companies whose trials have shown their COVID shots are highly effective are expected to file their own requests for early usage.

If these developments don't make you grateful, there are plenty of other reasons to be thankful. Keep in mind the armies of caregivers and first responders who risk their lives day after day to help the victims of the coronavirus.

And then there are our friends and neighbors who aren't afraid to offer help when needed, like Lauren Laborde who lost her job due to the pandemic. Instead of feeling sorry for herself she decided to do chores, including lawn work, for locked down senior citizens and veterans in her community in Houston, TX. She's not alone. Across the country there are thousands of citizen volunteers who go out of their way to help friends, families and strangers during these trying times.

My hope is that this message gives you a reason to have a Happy Thanksgiving.

Find at least six differences in details between panels.

The story goes that a preacher and a bus driver both passed away at the same time and were both entering Heavens gate. The Lord welcomed both the preacher and the bus driver in and took them to a place over looking a serene valley with beautiful soft rolling hills just beyond.

To the preacher he said, "My son, do you see that little cottage with the white gate and all the flowers down there in the valley? The one over there just beyond the creek?" The preacher said he did. The Lord then told him that this was now his heavenly home and this is where he would be spending eternity.

The Lord then turned to the bus driver and said, "My son, do you see that big stately mansion up there in the hills? The one just to the right of the waterfall where the golden path leads up to it?" The bus driver said he did. The Lord then told him that this was now his heavenly home and this is where he would be spending eternity.

With this the preacher turned to the Lord and with amazement exclaimed that there must be some mistake. "I have been your loyal servant all of my life." He went on to explain to the Lord that he was truly a man of God. The preacher said, "Lord, I accepted you as my savior when I was just a child. I studied your word as a young man, than preached your gospel the rest of my life. How can it be that I am to spend eternity in this small cottage when the bus driver gets the mansion in the hills?"

The Lord replied. My son, it is true that you have been my loyal servant. And, both of you have been in a position to influence my children.

However, while you preached, my children slept. It was while he was driving they prayed!

PIEDMONT PETS
November 26, 2020
By Paulette Dean

Our companion animals express their gratitude to us in many ways. One of my cockatiels, Davey, occasionally will say a very quiet "thank you" when I put a special treat in his food bowl. Most of the time, animals speak a different language than humans, but a listening heart can hear what is being said.

Many lessons of simple gratitude have come to me from animals. We have seen starving dogs eat dog food as if it were manna from heaven, and have heard cats purr when they were offered water. Generally, animals ask for so little, sometimes receive even less, but they are always grateful for what they do receive.

I have seen scared dogs tentatively approach shelter employees with their tails gently wagging in thankfulness for a tender touch. One critically ill kitten reached out to put a small little paw on an employee's cheek as medicine was being given. An animal's body language cannot lie and gratitude expressed by them can be understood.

We are thankful for the many kindhearted people who live in this area. So many of you support us with donations, and we promise that we use the money wisely to help the animals.

We are very aware of the fact that many of you serve the animals privately, by picking up strays, buying doghouses for a neighbor's dog, putting extra food out so the stray cat will learn to trust you, and being a friend to the animals in valuable ways. You make a difference for the animals.

We are grateful for business, large and small, who sponsor donation drives or who support our fundraising efforts. Thank you again, Piedmont Pets, for allowing us space to spread the humane messages. We appreciate the shelter employees who take care of the animals every day, even as their hearts are breaking. We are grateful for "nosy" neighbors. We appreciate your willingness to call us when you see an animal who needs our help. You take a chance that you will make a neighbor, a friend, or a family member mad, but you make the call because you recognize that the animal in need is helpless. We are thankful for the animals. We love the quiet, gentle lessons they teach us, and we are so thankful that we share the earth with so many wonderful creatures. On behalf of all the Board members and employees, I offer our appreciation for all you do for the animals and for the Humane Society. Through your efforts, perhaps we will one day become a truly humane society.

River District Association announces RDA 2021 Dream Launch Boot Camp

DANVILLE VA - In celebration of Global Entrepreneurship Week, the River District Association (RDA) is excited to announce the continuation of the River District Association Dream Launch Boot Camp and Pitch Competition in 2021.

The RDA Dream Launch Boot Camp is for entrepreneurs who wish to learn how to open a business in the Dan River Region. It is also open to existing businesses who wish to hone their business knowledge. This will be the third RDA Dream Launch Boot Camp and Pitch Competition. Since its start in 2019 over 150 individuals have participated in some or all of the bootcamp classes and 9 businesses were awarded a total of $140,000 in grant funding to start or expand a business in the River District.

"The River District Association is thrilled to offer this opportunity once again to serious entrepreneurs that have dreamed of opening their own business" said Diana Schwartz, Executive Director of the River District Association. "The program goes a step beyond incentivizing good ideas. Those that register for the program with the intent to pitch will be required to attend all sessions of our 'Entrepreneur Boot Camp', an intensive workshop that will meet once per week for 8 weeks beginning in January. Through this program, we can provide start-ups the tools, information, and assistance to give them the best possible opportunity for success."

Once participants complete the 8 week Boot Camp, they have the opportunity to pitch their idea for funding to open or expand their brick and mortar business in the River District.

Additionally, in 2021, entrepreneurs participating in the RDA Dream Launch Boot Camp, who may wish to locate their brick and mortar business in Pittsylvania County, or in Danville but outside of the River District, will have the opportunity to choose to instead pitch their idea at the Rev Up Danville Pittsylvania Pitch.

Eligible participants may only choose one pitch in which to participate. This year there will be $50,000 in cash and prizes available in each of the pitch competitions, for a total of $100,000 to support entrepreneurs locally.

RDA Dream Launch Bootcamp and both pitch competitions are also open to current businesses that would like to expand, as well as those that would like to audit the courses to prepare for potentially opening a business in the future. There is no cost to participate in the bootcamp or pitch. Registration for the program is now open at <https://bit.ly/dreamlaunch2021> or can also be found at www.riverdistrictassociation.com or our social media pages. Due to COVID, the Dream Launch Boot Camp will be held virtually in 2021.

Funding for the RDA Dream Launch Boot Camp and Pitch Competition and Rev Up Danville Pittsylvania is made possible by the City of Danville Economic Development office, a grant from Danville Regional Foundation via the recently funded DRREE, and other local partners including The Launch Place, the Danville Pittsylvania County Chamber of Commerce, and Longwood SBDC.

The River District Association was organized in 1999 as the Downtown Danville Association. In May 2015, the organization was renamed the River District Association to complement the city's River District brand and is an accredited Virginia and National Main Street Community. The office is currently located at 527 Bridge Street, Danville VA.

COVID-19: How the Pandemic Made Sovah Health Better

By: Alan Larson, Market President, Sovah Health & CEO Sovah Health - Danville & Dale Alward, CEO Sovah Health - Martinsville

As we enter a season of giving thanks, we have been reflecting on the unprecedented challenges that our community and our team at Sovah Health have faced as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. More specifically, we have been intentionally looking for every possible silver lining in a time when - let's face it - we all need some positive news. We are always seeking new ways to enhance how we care for our community and advance our mission of Making Communities Healthier. We truly believe that adversity is one of the greatest paths to improvement and improving is exactly what we have done despite the difficult circumstances. And the truth is: there are silver linings everywhere.

First, we cannot say enough how proud we are of the way our healthcare team has weathered the storm together. When we saw that COVID-19 was beginning to spread overseas earlier this year, we began taking steps to prepare our facility before the virus was even detected in the United States. We implemented our robust emergency operations plan and executed it down to the final detail to keep our patients, providers, employees, and community members safe. Every member of our team was ready to step up to the challenge of caring for our patients, and we saw our providers, employees and staff come together like never before. We are so grateful for and inspired by their courage and selfless dedication.

Not only did the pandemic make our team stronger, but it has also made our hospital even safer. While we have always had strict infection prevention protocols in place, we introduced new processes and procedures. We took steps to isolate patients with the virus to a specific area of the hospital and also enhanced our cleaning and disinfection processes. These are just a few examples of how we have fundamentally changed the way we work so we can better care for you and your family and ensure a safe environment for everyone.

COVID-19 has truly turned life as we know it upside down, but we believe it has made us better in so many ways - especially when it comes to quality and patient safety. It has challenged us to be innovative, to think outside the box and to quickly adapt to change - all things necessary to successfully navigate our "new normal." Who knew we would ever again see physicians making house calls? Now they come virtually, and it's so nice not to sit in a waiting room. From what we're learning, we can expect that COVID-19 will be with us for a while. It's something that we must learn to live with and do our best to protect against. Since it isn't going away, we hope you have every confidence that your hometown hospital is continuing to take every possible precaution to help protect you when you come for care. We sure do.

So, as we go into this holiday season, starting with Thanksgiving, we want to publicly give thanks to the entire Sovah Health team, and all our care partners in the community. We have all been working hard behind the scenes to keep you and each other safe. We have learned so much through our response to this pandemic, and we will continue looking for new ways to improve. Because of this experience, our team is stronger, our hospital is safer, and we are even more deeply committed to caring for our community. These are all silver linings in our book.

Thank you, as always, for entrusting Sovah Health with your care. It is our privilege to serve you.

Dean Hite

7/26/1940-Nov./12/2020

It is with a heavy heart that I tell everyone my "pop" has passed away. If anyone heard him speak of me he would say "my daughter" he rarely said Susan. My father also leaves two special ladies behind, Nannie and Teresa Simmons.

He also leaves a brother, James Wall and sister, Martha Warren. My father had a private burial and he will be missed so much. It was nothing for him to call me 4 or 5 times a day and now the phone doesn't ring, it is so sad here at home. I love you Pop. Thanks for the love that will last my lifetime.

The Best Pumpkin Pie

- INGREDIENTS
- 1 cup heavy cream
 - 1 cup whole milk
 - 3 large eggs plus 2 large yolks
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
 - 1 15-ounce can pumpkin puree
 - 1 15-ounce can sweet yams, drained
 - 2/3 cup sugar
 - 1/4 cup pure maple syrup
 - 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
 - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
 - 1/2 teaspoon table salt
 - 1 prepared pie crust (homemade preferred)
 - Other: Deep dish pie pan

INSTRUCTIONS

Preheat oven to 400° F. Adjust oven rack to lowest position, and place rimmed baking sheet on the rack.

In a large bowl, whisk cream, milk, eggs, yolks, and vanilla together; set aside.

In a large, heavy pan (not nonstick): combine pumpkin puree, yams, sugar, maple syrup, ginger, cinnamon, nutmeg, and salt. Bring to low boil over medium heat, 5-7 min. Continue simmering and stirring constantly while mashing yams against sides of pot with a fork until mixture is thick and smooth (10-15 min.)

Remove pan from heat. Whisk in cream mixture until fully incorporated and smooth without clumps.

Place prepared pie crust in a deep dish 9-inch pie plate. Flute edges as desired. Remove heated baking sheet from oven; carefully place pie on the preheated baking sheet. Pour the filling into the crust, and bake for 10 minutes at 400° F. Without taking the pie out of the oven, reduce the heat to 300° F, and continue baking until edges of pie are set (instant-read thermometer inserted in center registers 175° F), 45-55 minutes longer. The center may look firm but jiggle slightly; it will firm upon cooling. *Actual cook time depends on your specific oven.

Transfer to wire rack and cool to room temperature and not in the refrigerator to ensure that the filling sets, at least 3 hours depending on room temp. Cut into wedges and serve at room temperature or chilled with whipped cream.
