Pumpkin Pie

Our neighbors gave us a pumpkin pie as a holiday gift. As lovely as the gesture was, it was clear from the first bite that the pie tasted bad. It was so inedible that we had to throw it away.

Ever gracious and tactful, my wife sent the neighbors a note. It read: "Thank you very much for the pumpkin pie. Something like that doesn't last very long in our house."

This Won't Hurt Much ....

During a visit to a military medical clinic, I was sent to the lab to have blood drawn. The technician there was friendly and mentioned that his mood improved every day because he was due to leave the service in two months.

As he applied the tourniquet on my arm, he told me that taking the blood wouldn't hurt much. Then, noticing my Air Force T-shirt he asked me what my husband did.

When I replied that he was a recruiter, the technician smiled slyly and said, "This might hurt a little more than I thought."

HOCUS-FOCUS BY HENRY BOLTINOFF

Find at least six differences in details between panels.

Differences: 1. Earring is missing. 2. Box is closed. 3. Doll's collar is different. 6. Girl's shirt is stained.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might feel that you have all the answers right now. But it might be wise to listen to other ideas before you decide to close the lid on other possibilities.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Bovines give and expect loyalty, so it might not be easy to reconcile with someone you feel let you down. Why not ask a neutral party to set up a clear-the-air meeting?

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Anticipating the holidays with family and friends fuels your must-do Gemini energies. But try to pace yourself so you'll be up for whatever comes along later.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) More background information might come through regarding a decision you expect to make. Be sure to check the source carefully before you move.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The strong, nurturing nature of the Lion comes through this week as you reach out to family and friends in need of your warm and loving support.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A relationship that has almost totally unraveled could be close to being restored with more effort on your part to be more patient and less judgmental.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your sense of fair play is strong this week, which can cause a problem with a longtime relationship. But in the end, you'll know what decision to make.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You might not know all the facts behind an unwelcome development, so keep that Scorpion temper in check and resist lashing out at anyone.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is a good time to reinforce relationships -- family, friends, colleagues -- that might have been overlooked in recent years.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Family situations continue to thrive. Business associations also improve. Some holiday plans might have to be shifted. Be flexible.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Avoid any influence of negative energy in this week's aspect by not allowing small problems to grow into large ones. Work them out immediately.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A friend might need advice on how to deal with a challenge to his or her moral values. And who better than you to give the honest answer? Good luck.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a sense of adventure that inspires others to follow your lead.

PIEDMONT PETS
December 3, 2020
By Paulette Dean

On Sunday, November 22nd, I received an e-mail that was sent to many shelters in Virginia. A man named Kris Rotonda lives in Florida and after he adopted a dog from a shelter, he became more aware of the pet overpopulation problem. He began a non-profit organization, Jordan's way and then decided to do something bold and start a 50 state tour of shelters, visiting 3-4 in each state. He does a four-hour, high-energy Facebook Live event, spotlighting most of the animals in the shelter and raising money for shelter operations.

We reached out to him and he decided to visit the public animal shelter in Danville. The event was originally scheduled for November 30th, but will now be held on December 7th, from 5-9 p.m. The public is invited to attend, although masks and social distancing will be required by mandate of the Governor.

We appreciate the words of his public relations manager, Jennifer Johnson, which she posted on Jordan's Way Facebook page this past Monday afternoon:

Good afternoon, I am Jennifer Johnson the PR Specialist and Marketing Manager with Jordan's Way. It has been brought to my attention that some have strong opinions on what shelter is appropriate for our visits. I make the final decision on the itinerary for our fundraisers. We make it a solid point not to be involved in any politics or drama. We also strive not to discriminate and in all fairness, high kill Shelters are a big target for our cause. We bring exposure and awareness to the animals in an effort to help save more animals in these situations. By offering money in the form of a fundraiser and exposure, we give the animals a better chance at life. We are about saving animals not ignoring them because of where they may have ended up. By offering a fundraiser for a shelter, we are not endorsing their business practices but simply trying to save animals. Berating a shelter or filling our inboxes with accusations takes time and focus off the true cause....Thank you for your concerns.

We are so grateful for this opportunity to spotlight our shelter animals. All of the money raised will be used for our April Hogan Shelter Animal Fund. That fund is used to pay for veterinary treatment needed to make animals adoptable.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Movie distributors are more than ready to put films into theaters again, but moviegoers aren't ready to take a chance yet. Ryan Reynolds' "Free Guy" was to open July 3, 2020, then Dec. 11, but in November it was pulled. "Death on the Nile," with Kenneth Branagh (as Hercule Poirot), Gal Gadot and Armie Hammer, was due Dec. 18, but was pulled as well. "A Quiet Place: Part 2," starring Emily Blunt, was set to open March 8, 2020, with billboards up and TV ads running, but was sidelined by the coronavirus and rescheduled for April 23, 2021. Undaunted, plans are set for a threequel to open in 2022.

Sophia Loren, one of the last four stars of The Golden Age of Hollywood, scored excellent reviews for her Netflix remake of "Madame Rosa," called "The Life Ahead," which began streaming Nov. 13. The Washington Post said, "Madame Rosa is a prostitute who becomes a caregiver and mother figure for children of her colleagues in the sex-work industry. Sophia Loren inhabits the role with vulnerability and majesty. As one of the four final links to cinema's Golden Age, she is simply magnificent. She's still got it, and as this performance reminds us, she always did!"

In 1956, Sophia was signed to a five-picture deal by Paramount Pictures. Her first American movie was "Boy on a Dolphin," filmed in the Saronic Islands off Greece in 1957, with Alan Ladd and Clifton Webb, followed by "The Pride and the Passion," shot in Spain and starring Cary Grant and Frank Sinatra. Since she didn't speak any English, she learned her role and all her lines phonetically. During filming, Cary Grant fell in love with her, and in 1958 he replaced his then-wife, Betsy Drake (who actually wrote the script), in "Houseboat," with Sophia. Drake divorced Grant, but in the end Sophia jilted him and returned to her real love, producer Carlo Ponti, in 2007. They were married until his death.

Netflix

Her role in "The Life Ahead" is akin to "Two Women," for which she won a best actress Oscar in 1962. She skipped the Academy Awards that night because of extreme stage fright. Later, she mustn't have realized how big "Dynasty" would become, because in 1981 she turned down playing Alexis Carrington Colby, which went to Joan Collins and made her a major international television star.

Zac Efron, who recently lent his voice to "Scoob!?" (as in Scooby-Doo), with Mark Wahlberg, Will Forte, Tracy Morgan, Ken Jeong, Amanda Seyfried and Gina Rodriguez, has found his next project, the survival thriller "Gold," with Anthony Hayes. They play two strangers traveling through a desert who stumble upon and have to protect the biggest gold nugget ever found. Hope it's a bigger gem than his last film, "Extremely Wicked, Shockingly Evil and Vile!"

Festival Organizer thanks sponsors for helping raise charitable donations.

Thanking all the sponsors and volunteers to make this event successful.

Festival Organizer Beverly Shelton presents check to Mike Mondoul for Project Lifesaver.

Dear Sponsors:

With limited tickets sales due to the unique circumstances of 2020 The Third Annual Bluegrass by the River Festival was still a huge success!

With your help, we raised over $1,200.00 in charitable donations. As a reminder, these proceeds will go towards both our local sheriff's office's chapter of Project Lifesaver as well as for bluegrass legend and Danville native Tony Rice.

I want to extend a whole-hearted thank you for your support and generosity - your contributions have helped to make this year's festival another success. We were delighted to advertise for your business in printed literature, on our webpage and as the backdrop for the festival's main soundstage and we hope to have the privilege of doing so again next year.

We're currently scheduling next year's Bluegrass by the River for Saturday, September 25, 2021 and are looking forward to your continued support.

Warm Regards,

Beverly and Jay Shelton

Gladys (Peek) Wilson

August 11, 1929 ~ November 26, 2020 (age 91)

Gladys Peek Wilson went to heaven on November 26, 2020. A joyous celebration as she has been reunited with her husband, Hugh Wilson, and sisters Agnes McVay and Evelyn Santos, and brothers Ralph Peek Jr and Elbert Peek, and many other family and friends.

She had a very full life filled with many late night card games with her children, Chris Wilson and Brenda Garrett; grandchildren, Michael Garrett and Lisa Garrett; and friends. Mrs. Wilson was a dedicated and loving mother and friend. Many people held a special place in her heart and that included Diane Owens, Barrie Williams, Tony Adams, Russell Tyree, Dylan Marold, Margaret Poindexter, and her great-grandson, Tanner Garrett.

Mrs. Wilson's greatest joy in life was clogging, which lead her all over Virginia and North Carolina dancing away to her favorite bluegrass songs. Wherever she was there was laughter with her dry wit. She was an avid crafter, crocheting Afghans, sewing curtains, and doing home projects.

As Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "It is not the length of life, but the depth of life". My mom got both. She lived to be 91 years old and her life was full of so many amazing memories to hold onto forever.

Go to heaven and show them how it's done momma! I will love you forever and ever!

Out of respect for the safety of family and friends there will be a graveside service at Floral Hills Memory Gardens on Sunday, November 29; 2020 at 2 pm. The family requests that all attendees wear a mask out of respect to the family, friends, and other attendees.

Swicegood Funeral Service is respectfully serving the Wilson family.

Common Myths of Medicaid Crisis Planning

Everyone can be prone to procrastination sometimes! As a result, inevitably, some elders and their families will not have an opportunity to engage in any Estate Planning (which includes Wills and Trusts, Powers of Attorney and Living Wills), let alone start any Advance Asset Protection Planning. If you or your loved one is in a nursing home or think that you or they may need to go very soon, you must remember that Asset Protection Planning in a crisis (while not the best scenario at that point) is still available. However, you should be aware that the crisis planning outcome is often not as ideal as when pre-planning is done before-hand.

The goal in crisis planning is to preserve and protect as much income and assets as permissible under the law for the benefit of the elder in crisis (and their spouse, if married). One of the challenges of crisis planning is overcoming the false presumption that many elders and their families have that it is too late to engage in Asset Protection Planning.

Below is a list of common myths regarding Medicaid Planning/Asset Protection that we are asked about quite often:

(1) “It is too late to do planning”: False!

It is never too late to preserve and protect assets! Too often, elders and their families believe that they need to spend-down all their money on the nursing home before the elder may qualify for Medicaid benefits. This misconception is why it is crucial to consult with a Certified Elder Law Attorney to see how they can help as soon as possible. One thing to keep in mind is that property must be protected either by a life estate deed or by placing it in the right type of trust, as both methods are subject to the 5 Year look-back period required by Medicaid.

(2) “The nursing home will do your application for free”: False!

The nursing home may offer to complete the Medicaid application for free or a low fee, but the fact is that the nursing home will require that you spend down all of your savings before they do that application for “free.” To be fair, in truth, applying for Medicaid is not a nursing home’s function. The outcome from a nursing home applying for Medicaid is not the same as what can be accomplished by actually working with a Certified Elder Law Attorney!

(3) “I will never qualify for Medicaid – I have too much money”: False!

You cannot make an informed decision about when or if you might qualify for benefits until after you meet with a Certified Elder Law Attorney. The fact is that every elder deserves to know all of the facts and options before making an informed decision about their long-term care costs!

R.F.D. by Mike Marland

MOM, DAD, I NEED TO ADD A NEW LAPTOP TO MY CHRIS'MIS WISH LIST.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THAT ONE, JUNE?

ONE TERABYTE IS WAY TOO SMALL TO HANDLE MY CHRIS'MIS WISH LIST.

(4) “Medicaid or Asset Protection Planning requires “hiding” assets or engaging in illegal acts”: False!

No - nothing could be further from the truth! The fact is that a Certified Elder Law Attorney will disclose all planning strategies directly to Medicaid during the application process. The planning is lawful and you have every right to take advantage of your given rights under the law. Just as folks have the right to employ a CPA to save tax dollars, elders have the right to employ attorneys to save and protect their assets in the Medicaid process.

(5) “Planning is unnecessary - the nursing home covers everything”: False!

By shielding assets and income, we can help ensure that married clients protect their spouse at home against impoverishment. For unmarried clients, the attorney should ensure that they have rainy day funds to supplement their quality of life for the rest of their lives. The fact is that nursing homes do not cover all of the needs of the elder. Those elders and their families in nursing homes who have planned ahead enjoy a much higher quality of life than those who failed to save assets.

(6) “I am already protected because Medicaid won't count the assets in my spouse's name”: False!

Sadly, no - Medicaid counts assets in both your name and your spouse's name. Likewise, most assets owned jointly with 3rd parties (adult children, for instance) are also fully countable to the elder in the Medicaid planning process. Asset Protection that yields real results requires the advice of a qualified and Certified Elder Law Attorney, as trying to protect assets yourself without the right help can have real repercussions if done incorrectly.

(7) “I have no chance at all of protecting my home from Medicaid”: False!

Without careful planning, Medicaid can require the sale of your home or record a lien on your home. Depending on the elder's individual circumstances, it is often possible to save the home. We work to prevent a forced sale or prevent a lien where possible. The key here is that you take action toward this as soon as possible.

Many elders and their families seek legal assistance when an elder is hospitalized or already in a nursing home for rehab or long-term care. Sometimes the elder is already paying privately from their own savings for nursing home care (often more than $400 per day, which adds up quickly!). They assume wrongly that the elder must spend down their assets on private nursing home costs. With careful planning, private paying to the nursing home can be stopped after a time, protecting assets for the elder's benefit, and qualifying that elder for Medicaid to pay the nursing home costs.

Noticing Memory Problems? What to Do Next

Dear Savvy Senior,

My mom, who's 76, has become more forgetful lately and is worried she may be getting Alzheimer's disease. What resources can you recommend to help us get a handle on this?

Oldest Daughter

Dear Oldest,

Many seniors worry about memory lapses as they get older, fearing it may be the first signs of Alzheimer's disease or some other type of dementia. To get some insight on the seriousness of your mom's problem, here are some key warning signs to be vigilant of and some resources you can turn to for help.

Warning Signs

As we grow older, some memory difficulties – such as trouble remembering names of people or places or forgetting where you put your glasses or car keys – are associated with normal aging. But the symptoms of Alzheimer's disease are much more than simple memory lapses.

Knowing the early warning signs is a good first step in recognizing the difference between typical age-related memory loss and a more serious problem. To help you evaluate your mom's condition, here's a checklist of some common early symptoms to watch for:

- Asking the same questions repeatedly.
- Getting lost in familiar areas.
- Failing to recognize familiar people.
- Having difficulty following directions.

Misplaces items in inappropriate places, for example putting her keys in the microwave.

Having difficulty completing familiar tasks like cooking a meal or paying a bill.

Having trouble remembering common words when speaking or mixing up words.

For more information, see the Alzheimer's Association list of 10 early signs and symptoms at 10signs.org.

Another good tool to help you evaluate your mom is the Self-Administered Gerocognitive Exam (SAGE test) that was developed at The Ohio State University Wexner Medical Center. This free test helps identify mild cognitive impairment and early dementia and can be taken at home in about 10 to 15 minutes. The SAGE test can be taken online at BrainTest.com.

Get Help

If you would rather have professional assistance in evaluating your mom, the Alzheimer's Foundation of America (see alzfdn.org) is another good resource you can turn to.

Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday they provide free, confidential virtual memory screenings done via video chat in real time. Your mother will need a phone, tablet or computer with a webcam and internet capability to complete the screening.

The screenings are given by healthcare professionals and take about 10 to 15 minutes to complete. Once the screening is complete, the screener will review the results with her and let her know if she should see a doctor for further evaluation. To set up a memory screening for your mom call 866-232-8484 and make an appointment.

If you find that your mom does need further evaluation, make an appointment with her primary care doctor for a cognitive checkup and medical examination. Depending on what's found, she may be referred to a geriatrician or neurologist who specializes in diagnosing and treating memory loss or Alzheimer's disease.

Keep in mind that even if your mom is experiencing some memory problems, it doesn't necessarily mean she has early-stage Alzheimer's. Many memory problems are brought on by other factors like stress, depression, thyroid disease, side effects of medications, sleep disorders, vitamin deficiencies and other medical conditions. And by treating these conditions she can reduce or eliminate the problem.

Send your senior questions to: Savvy Senior, P.O. Box 5443, Norman, OK 73070, or visit SavvySenior.org. Jim Miller is a contributor to the NBC Today show and author of "The Savvy Senior" book.

TWELVE COMMANDMENTS FOR SENIORS

- # 1 - Talk to yourself. There are times you need expert advice
  - # 2 - In Style are the clothes that still fit.
  - # 3 - You don't need anger management. You need people to stop making you mad.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

Using the Internet to Enrich Our Lives

With most of us spending most of our days at home, it's time for us to take advantage of the internet. Here are some resources that can enrich our lives. Inquire at the local senior center about any exercise classes online. Some classes will be live on Zoom and others will be videos that the instructors record and post on the center's website. If they're not hosting any classes, search online for "seniors exercise at home" and look for some that are produced by other senior centers.

Virtual art classes can open up new areas of interest and reveal talents you didn't know you had. Better yet, if you're a beginner or are exploring a new art medium, look for videos that you can review over and over. Look online for free art classes online for seniors.

Exercise and art aren't the only free classes you'll find online. Yoga and tai chi, sewing, baking and cake decorating, creative writing, a new language -- if it can be done online, there's a class for it somewhere.

And don't forget Class Central (www.class-central.com). Check the website for a list of MOOCS (massive open online courses). There 15,000 different free and low-cost classes in its searchable database from colleges and universities around the world. Imagine taking a philosophy course from the University of Edinburgh or Introduction to Classical Music via Yale University. (I put art history into its search box and got back 165 results.) Read the details for any class you're considering. It will tell you if the class is self-paced, whether it's free to audit, the class level and how much time per week you can expect to spend on the work, as well as reviews from other students.

If you're unsure of your internet skills, search for "internet basics for seniors" on Google.

GOTCHA!

The hardships of the COVID lockdown can lead some to do the strangest things to break the tedium of self-isolation, says the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. In the Czech Republic, which has imposed a 9:00 PM curfew as a result of the global pandemic, police are apparently quite serious about apprehending anyone who ignores the curfew. In one town, recently, a coronavirus patrol team stopped a man out for a walk after nine. He claimed he was walking his dog, which is allowed, and sure enough he was holding a leash at the end of which was his dog-- a stuffed toy dog. Caught red handed, the man explained it was just a joke. He was released on his own recognizance.

A WHALE TALE

Jonah was swallowed by a whale, but Julie McSorley and Liz Cottriel managed to avoid a similar fate recently when they went kayaking off the coast of California at Avila Beach, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. They went whale watching and had a very close encounter with a humpback whale. Video footage shows just how close they came to a not so happy ending to their outing. Their kayak actually wound up in the whale's mouth but Julie and Liz were dumped in the water and surfaced safely.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

When James and Clarrisa Munford took possession of their new home in Columbia, South Carolina they found a collection of very valuable rare coins dating back to the 19th century hidden away inside a closet. The 46 gold Liberty $5 coins and 18 Morgan silver dollars are said to be worth about $25,000, according to the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. Did they keep the treasure? The Mumfords say they didn't even think that to be an option. Instead, without hesitation, they contacted the home's former owner, who is a coin collector, and informed him of their find. He said he normally puts the coins he collects in a safe and had completely forgotten that, for some reason, he'd stashed these coins in the closet. Honesty is the best policy.

WHO IS THAT MASKED MAN?

Having to wear a mask during the COVID pandemic can not only be uncomfortable, it can also hide your identity. That might appeal to some people but can be unsettling for others, giving them a feeling that they are losing their identities, says the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. So, when Jorge Roriz, an artist in Rio de Janeiro, began to feel that way he came up with a solution: a face mask on which he painted his lower face. So lifelike is his work that it attracted attention and now he's painting masks for others who want to be recognized while staying safe when in public.

A COVID CHRISTMAS STORY

The resurgence of the COVID pandemic is, once again, shutting down eateries across the land. The Nighttown Club in Cleveland Heights, OH is no exception. On the day before the restaurant was set to shut down this time around something of a miracle happened that brought smiles to its owner, Brendan Ring, and his employees, according to the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC]. In walked a customer, ordered a beer at the bar, presented his credit card and signed the receipt, adding a $3,000 tip to his $7.00 tab. The unidentified patron, took one sip of his beer, got up and headed for the door, nodding to Ring and saying "share it with your employees."
