NYC COUNCILMAN MARK GJONAJ'S 2020: A Year in Review: Dear Friends, 2020 will be marked in all our memories as a year that fundamentally challenged the established certainties about health and safety, jobs, small businesses, the economy, schools, our daily lives and overall, our emotional well-being. The COVID-19 pandemic exposed longstanding gaps such as poverty, food insecurity, job displacements, small business survival, mounting debts and other issues that have deeply affected our communities. My Staff and I have been working tirelessly for our neighborhoods since the start of the pandemic to ensure that our residents are kept safe, up to date and receive the best assistance possible with any issues or concerns. We are proud that since March 2020, we have delivered over 66,000 food boxes, 55,000 masks, 170 community cleanups and graffiti removals, 33 tele-townhalls, 1,800 constituent cases, 1,500 COVID-19 and antibody testings, and distributed over 4,000 turkeys, 2,000 toys, hats and gloves for the holiday season. As we pause and welcome the New Year, we are first and foremost thankful for our healthcare workers, first responders and essential employees who are out there risking their lives to serve and protect us. May this New Year bring health, peace and happiness to you and your families. Working together, we will make 2021 a year of hope, healing, recovery and rebuilding! - District 13, Bronx
