God Has a Wonderful Plan For You!!

Has anyone ever told you that God loves you and He has a wonderful plan for your life? I have a real quick, but important question to ask you. If you were to die this very second, do you know, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that you will go to heaven?

Most people answer this question with a 'NO' or with 'I think so' or 'I hope so.'

The wisest man in the world (at that time), Solomon, wrote in Ecc 3:11 that God has placed eternity in the heart of every person. He (God) wants you to know for sure where you will go when you die. We can help you to know. Give us a call.

SPEAK OUT

Dear "Speak Out,"

This week we begin a word by word study of the United States Constitution as I promised. I wish to first provide a history and some comments regarding how our Constitution came to be.

For generations immigrants have been expected to read and study the Constitution as one of the requirements for citizenship. I do not know whether present day public schools teach the Constitution, but when I was in public school, we were expected to memorize the Preamble.

While many other countries have had multiple constitutions over the centuries, we are still under the same Constitution under which our country was founded. We need to cherish and honor our Constitution and desire to continue to be governed under this Constitution because no nation in the history of the world has continued in its glory and strength for more than 250 years and we are currently in our 245th year.

I pray that we will be the exception. As many Americans challenge various portions of our Constitution, we must defend our Constitution if we wish to continue in a Conservative Constitutional Republic with the freedoms and blessing which we so often take for granted.

Many of our founding fathers considered our Constitution to have been inspired by God. Sharp divisions among the delegates were present and the Convention adjourned for prayer. A much more congenial atmosphere prevailed when the Convention reconvened. George Washington was perhaps the first to use the word miracle in describing the drafting of the Constitution.

In a 1788 letter to Lafayette, he said: "It appears to me, then, little short of a miracle, that the delegates from so many different states (which states you know are also different from each other in their manners, circumstances, and prejudices) should unite in forming a system of national Government, so little liable to well-founded objections."

James Madison wrote in the preface to his notes on the Constitutional Convention: "There never was an assembly of men, charged with a great and arduous trust, who were more pure in their motives, or more exclusively or anxiously devoted to the object committed to them."

Several believed that the Constitution was established "by the hands of wise men whom the Lord raised up unto this very purpose."

Benjamin Franklin stated in these words: "When you assemble a number of men to have the advantage over their joint wisdom, you inevitably assemble with those men, all their prejudices, their passions, their errors of opinion, their local interests, and their selfish views. From such an assembly can a perfect production be expected? It therefore astonishes me, Sir, to find this system approaching so near to perfection as it does. The opinions I have had of its errors, I sacrifice to the public good."

The Declaration of Independence had stated that these truths were "self-evident," that all men "are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable Rights," and that governments are instituted "to secure these Rights." This inspired Constitution was established to provide a practical guarantee of these God-given rights. Several founding fathers referred to the "miracle of Philadelphia, one must therefore add the miracle of ratification."

We need to understand that our Constitution is under attack from both inside and outside our country and that we must stand up as courageous patriots if we wish to continue living in the land of the free and the home of the brave. Lord willing, as we continue our study next week, we will hopefully more fully appreciate our Constitution and the country of which God has provided us.

Federal Supply of COVID-19 Vaccine to Increase

Mount Morris, NY, February 3, 2021 — Yesterday, Governor Cuomo announced that the federal supply of the COVID-19 vaccine will increase over the next three weeks. In particular, private pharmacies in New York State that are charged with prioritizing the 65+ population will receive an additional 10% directly – or approximately 30,000 total doses – from the federal government to supplement the doses allocated to them by New York State.

Because New York State's supply will increase, Governor Cuomo is granting localities the flexibility to add taxi drivers, restaurant workers, and developmentally disabled facilities to the 1b vaccine prioritization group.

According to Livingston County Administrator Ian M. Coyle, "We continue to deal with vaccine supply and demand issues among the already-approved Phase 1a and Phase 1b groups, which include the 65+ population. Until the vaccine supply increases and demand decreases, we cannot – in good conscience – expand the pool of eligible groups."

"As the vaccine rollout continues, we encourage all residents to remain patient and to keep checking our website for updates," stated Jennifer Rodriguez, Livingston County's Public Health Director. "Please know we will work expeditiously to add other 1b prioritization groups to our list of eligible residents once supply increases."

To determine your eligibility and schedule an appointment at a state-run mass vaccination site, you can visit the 'Am I Eligible' website. You may also call your local health department, pharmacy, doctor, or hospital for additional information and to schedule appointments where vaccines are available. We encourage you to visit the Livingston County COVID-19 Vaccine Information webpage at <https://www.livingstoncounty.us/vaccine> or call the Livingston County Department of Health toll-free number at 1-877-280-6775 for more information on the COVID-19 vaccine.

THANK YOU

Thank You to the Mount Morris Fire Department, under the direction of Assistant Chief Tim Bryant, for orchestrating an exceptionally moving and fitting tribute for Chief Warrant Officer Christian Koch. Their efforts reflected our community's respect for this true patriot.

Positively Livingston

Director of Emergency Management

Brad Austin

On January 19, 2021, Brad Austin became Livingston County's new Director of Emergency Management. He replaces Kevin Niedermaier, the County's first full-time Director of Emergency Management, who retired in December after 25 years of diligent service to Livingston County. Kevin will continue to work for a brief period of time in a part-time capacity as Brad gets acclimated into the position.

Brad has been active in fire and emergency services for 28 years. He previously served as a dispatcher for the Livingston County Sheriff's Office and the North Greece Fire District. Most recently, he was employed by Jensen Hughes, an international company that specializes in fire and emergency management for health care facilities. Fire and safety education is very important to Brad as he has been a New York State Fire Instructor for the past 5 years. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice from the State University of New York at Brockport.

Outside of work, Brad enjoys spending time with his wife of 20 years and their two children. The family enjoys sports, camping, and other outdoor activities. Brad is currently training for his next half marathon.

"I look forward to serving the Livingston County community in this new role," said Brad. "I am fully committed to protecting the health and safety of all Livingston County residents."

Livingston County Administrator Ian M. Coyle stated, "We are thrilled to have Brad on board as our new Emergency Management Director. His leadership skills will help us build and maintain relationships with key local, state, and federal partners as we work together to protect our citizens."

The Livingston County Office of Emergency Management is located at 3360 Gypsy Lane in Mount Morris, New York. For more information, please call 585-243-7160.
