THE LAW AND YOU
BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW
WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT YOUR PARENTS' PLANS

It can be difficult, even awkward, to talk to your parents about their estate plans, but it is a conversation that needs to take place. If nothing else, there are a few key questions you need to be able to answer after their deaths. To begin with, where do they keep their estate documents? Are they in the care of an attorney, locked in a home safe, or simply left in a desk drawer? You don't want to be hunting them down at a time when you have so many other things to be concerned about. You should also know who the executor of their estate is to ensure that your parents' wishes are carried out properly.

The wills and trusts lawyers at the Law Office of MACK & PACE can help you with everything that comes along with estate planning. We can help you craft a plan that suits your unique needs. Our firm will help you avoid the probate court process and set up the perfect trusts to suit your wishes. We also can help you review existing documents and recommend any amendments as seen fit. Please call (585)798-1000. We emphasize estate planning, family law, business law, and criminal law.

He is survived by his true love of nearly 40 years, his wife, Cindy; children: Shannon (Brad) Ficarella, and Brandi (RJ) Kropp; grandchildren: Rudolph III, Jayce, Kayson Kropp, Jameson, and Mason Ficarella; sister, Tina (Ronald) Newman of Lockport, Frank (Janice) Rider of Barker, Robert Rider of Lyndonville; mother-in-law: Cheryl Smith of Bangor, Pa.; brother-in-law, Daryl Erskine of Bangor, Pa., Chet Williams of Howard, Aren (Beth) Williams of Plattsburg; along with many nieces, nephews, great-nieces, great-nephews, aunts and uncles. UNDERSTANDING HIP REPLACEMENT SURGERY

More than 450,000 total hip replacement surgeries are performed in the United States annually¹, making it one of the most common orthopedic procedures performed today. With so many adults looking to stay active into their 60s, 70s and beyond—it's important to be aware of the procedures, and how to establish realistic expectations for your post-recovery goals.

Are You a Candidate?

Experiencing joint pain doesn't automatically mean that you need a joint replacement. Total hip replacement surgery is generally performed for late stage conditions, most commonly osteoarthritis, or irreversible damage caused by fractures, torn cartilage, or torn ligaments after other options have failed.

What to Know

Currently the approaches for hip replacement include posterior, lateral, and anterior. Of the three, the anterior approach offers less post-surgical pain, shorter recovery, and fewer post-surgery limitations in movement, such as bending over and crossing your legs. Why? According to Dr. Nicholas Valente "The anterior approach, doesn't require cutting through muscle to get into the hip joint, it maneuvers in between muscles, so it's less compromising. That means being able to get rid of a walker or cane faster, returning to work sooner, and taking less pain medicine after surgery."

The First Step

Despite the post-surgery benefits from the anterior procedure, not every person is a candidate for this approach. But regardless, hip replacements in general can restore movement and reduce pain—and the No. 1 factor should be choosing a surgeon who will offer a one-on-one consultation, assessment, and personalized rehabilitation to help you reach your goals.

When replacing a joint is necessary, we pride ourselves on bringing quality orthopaedic care to all of our patients throughout the Western New York.

"The anterior approach, doesn't require cutting through muscle to get into the hip joint, it maneuvers in between muscles, so it's less compromising."

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

Travel Thoughts By Kim

Let's go on an adventure together...to Yellowstone and the Grand Tetons!

This beautiful waterfall is located in a gorge they call Yellowstone's Grand Canyon on the Yellowstone River.

R & M Seamless GUTTERS. 585.735.6610

In early October, 2018, a friend and I took a Caravan bus tour that covered five states (South Dakota, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, and Utah) over 8 days. We had a BLAST! It was a wonderful trip and we saw so many amazing things. This article will focus on Yellowstone National Park and the Grand Tetons.

Yellowstone National Park is the first national park in the United States and widely held to be the first national park in the world. Established by the U.S. Congress and signed into law by President Ulysses S. Grant on March 1, 1872, Yellowstone National Park is located mostly in Wyoming, but also extends into portions of Montana and Idaho. Yellowstone's most famous attraction is Old Faithful – a cone geyser that erupts faithfully every 45 minutes or so.

The most popular attraction in Yellowstone National Park is Old Faithful – a cone geyser that erupts about every 45 minutes.1`

While in the park, we saw lots of wild life – bison, elk, bear, and pronghorn – even had sightings of bison right near the entrance to the lodge we were staying at and elk lounging by the Visitor's Center when we visited Mammoth Hot Springs. All the wildlife sightings – especially the semi up close and personal ones – made this animal lover just a little over-the-top excited, for sure.

This is the stunning Jenny Lake with a back drop of the Grand Teton mountain range in Grand Teton National Park in Wyoming.

Then, we left Yellowstone and entered Grand Teton National Park and on to Jackson Hole, WY, where we spent our third night in the area. I actually thought Grand Teton National Park was more beautiful and awe inspiring than Yellowstone was. We saw the amazing jagged Teton mountain range and scenes where the movie "Shane" was filmed. We stopped for a photo op at the Continental Divide and a little chapel that was used in the movie "Spencer's Mountain" (which the TV series the "Waltons" was based on). The chapel is still in use, today and behind the altar, instead of a stained glass window, there is a clear pane glass window framing an amazing view of the Grand Tetons – a truly religious experience.

One of my favorite stops was at Jenny Lake. The views there were so breathtaking I was brought to tears and felt overwhelmed by the peace, quiet, and beauty. I remember giving my friend a little hug and saying, "I'm so glad we came here".

A highlight of our time in the Grand Tetons was a float trip down the Snake River. What an awesome experience that was! Getting in and out of the oval inner-tube-like raft was a challenge, but the ride and the scenery was incredible. Our guide was a young man with super human strength – he operated the raft while standing with two big oars and a smile that would melt an iceberg. The river has a few spots that are somewhat rough, but is mostly fairly calm – not like riding the rapids of some rivers. So, it was exciting, yet relaxing, and the views were stunning. And, we got to see a mama bear and three cubs off the parking area on our way to the raft. Of course, wherever we saw wild life, we were kept at a safe distance by park rangers. It is never wise to try to get too close to wild life.

We ended this three day segment of the trip at Jackson Hole, WY, where we were able to wander around a bit before checking into our hotel. Jackson is a sweet little cowboy town with large antler arches marking the entrances to the center square, the Million Dollar Cowboy Bar with saddles on the stools at the bar, and lots of statues and cute shops. While enjoying a beautiful morning waiting for our bus after breakfast, I saw these really cool birds I'd never seen before. They were white and black with bright blue tail feathers – they looked like they were wearing a tuxedo. I asked our guide about them and was told they were Rocky Mountain Magpies. So cool!

We left Jackson and headed toward Idaho and Utah. I was hesitant in taking a bus tour, like that, for so long. The tour itself was one I really wanted to do, but the thought of doing it on a bus didn't appeal to me. But, I am so very glad I did it. Caravan is a great company – their bus was comfortable, the accommodations and attractions that were included along the way were top notch, and the guides were amazing. I would do another Caravan tour in a heartbeat! In fact, I'm seriously considering doing their Canadian Rockies tour and their Panama Canal tour – which includes both a bus portion through the country surrounding the canal and a ship portion for the ride down the canal. Both are on my list of places to go and things to see once we get past all this Covid stuff and can travel, again.

Check out all the stories and photos from our visit to Yellowstone and the Grand Tetons: <https://thoughtsbykim.com/2018/10/06/2018-caravan-tour-yellowstone-and-the-tetons/>

JOY

Drawing by Stephen Burgoon, coloring by Me! Joy, such a tiny word for such a big emotion! Love this word. Defined as feelings of great pleasure or happiness. The fact the thesaurus claims a good synonym for Joy is Jubilation makes this word feel even more warm and sparkly. Do you ever lay in bed at night and the craziest things pop into your head? Well that is what inspired this post. In the middle of the night Three Dog Night pops into my head singing Joy to the World. What a perfect way to start a day. This song was considered an unlikely hit in it's day because it was just a grins and giggles kind of song. The creators were more inspired by the melody than the words, so they put together some random fun lyrics and created this song around Jeramiah. The Songster literally didn't even understand Jeramiah, however being in his presence made him so Joyful. I am sure the wine may have helped, ha! Some believe that Jeramiah was a prophet and The Bullfrog was simply a metaphor with it's distinct sound in nature. This distinct Bullfrog sound was thought by some to be God's voice heralding the world to be Joyful and come together. It was 1971 when it hit #1 on the song charts and stayed there for six weeks. No matter the true meaning of the lyrics, it has brought Joy and harmony to so many, even this almost 53 year old in the middle of a cold winter night in Western NY. Curious what things always bring you Joy?. Perhaps it is sports or a good comedy or ice cream or playing with your four legged friends, or feeling the sun on your face, or bourbon. For me it has to be music.. and maybe a little bourbon too. My Ipod is full of 70's and Country. It is a go-to for a pick me up. The standout Joy moment for me happened this fall at my Positivity Party at The Positivity Pen in my backyard. I was handed a black garbage bag with an item in it. As I took the bag into my hand Joy sparked and I knew right away it was a Banjo. My Father-In-Law gifted it to me. Someone snapped a photo and I was surprised how the Joy translated in the photo. Truly the feelings inside beamed from my body. Since then Banjo practice has been slow. I have found that my brain does not play music as well as it can enjoy listening to it. So I pick and grin slowly. No doubt I am the only one with Joy during this painful practice. As we continue on in this earthly world, I pray for Joy in the world too "The boys and girls, fishes in the deep blue sea, you and me" and every creature in between! Give this a listen for a joyous way to start your day. The wardrobe and attitude only adds to the Joy. Anytime a bunch of young men can pull off yellow bell bottom pants, long hair with a stash, chaps and/or a hip fanny pack while performing, it is both a musical and visual treat, #FACTS. <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=1FvKU1UCM9Q> What is your Joy song and 2020 moment?
