The Pine River Watershed Alliance (www.PRWA.us) is a citizen-led volunteer organization that works with local units of government and other agencies to preserve and protect the local environment while meeting resident needs for economic development and a healthy community. Pine River Watershed Alliance recognized the work that a number of organizations are doing to reduce phosphorus in Island-Loon Lake on the Whitefish Chain of Lakes. The organizations involved include the City of Crosslake, Crow Wing County, Pine River Watershed Alliance, the Crosslakers, Crow Wing Soil and Water Conservation District, and the Land and Waters Preservation Trust.

In 2015 MNDNR completed research on Lakes of Phosphorus Sensitivity Significance. Out of 2,795 lakes studied statewide, Island-Loon Lake ranked in the top 14 for sensitivity. In 2017, RMB Labs determined that Island-Loon Lake has a declining trend in water clarity 1992-2016. Water clarity has declined 48 inches over 14 years or an average loss of 3.5 inches of clarity per year.

In the City of Crosslake, CSAH 66 has a number of sections that have curbs and gutters that collect the runoff from the road and some adjacent land and funnel that runoff, untreated, into the Whitefish Chain of Lakes — specifically, Island-Loon Lake and Crosslake along with the Pine River. The project intercepts the flow of runoff water along CSAH 66 and Manhattan Point Blvd that comprises a mini-watershed of 42.6 acres that currently runs directly into Loon Lake.

A system of three hydrodynamic mechanical filters and a holding pond will reduce six pounds of phosphorus and 1.2 tons of sediment per year from entering Island-Loon Lake (Whitefish Chain).

Water clarity and phosphorus levels will be monitored to determine the effectiveness of the filtration and holding pond system so that information can be applied to other sites along CSAH 66 through Crosslake where runoff goes directly into one of the lakes or the Pine River. The US Forest Service has identified the Pine River as Minnesota's number one water protection river for the Twin Cities drinking water supply.

The Land and Waters Trust (www.landandwaters.org), accepts and considers funding proposals that enhance and protect the surface and aquifer water quality in the Pine River Watershed, support sustainable riparian and land management practices, and protect habitat for native plants and animals.

John Blood fund set up

John Blood of Deerwood has been hospitalized since January 11 at Abbott Northwestern Hospital in Minneapolis. He has received a diagnosis of Stage 4 c3cell lymphoma.

The cancer has severely affected John. It is in his spine and lymph nodes. He could not use the left side of his body, the eye on his left side could not close. He has lost close to 80 pounds and his vision is poor.

Recently, John has been making improvements. He was up, walking a few steps and eating soup.

John's disability insurance does not provide enough to cover bills for a family of six. Your help is needed.

Donate to the Blood Benevolence Fund by mailing a check to the Cascade Methodist Church, PO Box 127, Deerwood, MN 56444.

Make your check out to Cascade Methodist Church and place on the memo: Blood Benevolence Fund.

Any amount is appreciated, tax deductible and will bless the Blood family.

Still relevant

There is no way this letter writer can claim a moral high ground as a person. I have been humbled, held accountable, and the carpets my feet have been called upon were more important and from much more important people than a Crosby city council member.

The school closures in MN have shown us most teachers in Minnesota are no longer relevant. Teachers can easily be replaced by a recorded online class, our youth can attend on their own schedule, at their own pace. Students may finish high school at 12 or 13 then complete an online college at 15 or 16. Most teachers have jumped on board with online education and not only proved they are not relevant, they are supporting their job loss. Having lost employment to an online education format, I am speaking from experience.

Tim Walz forced us to do things we should not have done in the name of safety, none of it worked, but he is trying to prove the U.S. Constitution, State Constitution, and State Statutes are not relevant. He infringed on our rights, our freedoms and I for one, have been vocal about his efforts. I have refused to follow any of his executive orders. My letters are about accountability, I am prepared take full responsibility and I want to be the one held accountable for getting Walz out of office. I believe our Constitutions, our rights, our freedoms, our jobs, and We the People are relevant. Sit quietly and watch or you can join the fight, 651-201-3400 demand Walz resign and support his impeachment.

Kelly Avelsgard, Deerwood

Rep. Dale Lueck legislative update

Last week I discussed the recent state budget forecast that projects a $1.6 billion surplus. I closed with a comment that this should dampen any further effort to raise taxes this year. To my surprise, we have discovered we still have a sleeper tax increase buried in Minnesota's complex state income tax laws.

One of the anomalies supporting the $1.6 billion budget surplus is it includes state income tax revenue that will be collected from Minnesota employers on federal Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) funds they received in the form of federal loans during the height of the pandemic.

The federal government mandated that PPP funds be very specifically focused on keeping employees on the payroll. That is exactly what Minnesota businesses did. They used those funds to continue their employees during the forced shutdown, when normal revenues ceased to come in and many more lay-offs would have been necessary.

For businesses that complied with the federal rules those loans were considered forgivable emergency loans and are not taxable at the federal level. However, under Minnesota tax code they are still considered taxable.

The Tax Foundation reports Minnesota is the only state in the Upper Midwest that has yet to exempt forgiven Paycheck Protection Plan loans from state income taxes. These loans were offered as lifelines for businesses to keep employees on the payroll and meet other financial obligations amid COVID-19 restrictions. More than 102,000 Minnesota businesses received them.

The state has a projected $1.6 billion surplus. We need to fix this and not punish recovering businesses with this unintended and unfair quirk in our state tax code. This issue is too important to wait until the end of the session when things can easily fall through the cracks.

The Senate Tax Committee has already approved a bill that exempts federal PPP loans from state income taxes. There is no reason to delay or play games with people's livelihoods.

We need a clean bill – no amendments – with bipartisan support from our colleagues in the House Majority and the governor's cooperation this bill could be on his desk in no time. Our workers have had to endure far too much this past year. We should not put their jobs at further risk. I will work to eliminate this unjust tax liability.

Free food giveaway now in Ironton

The free food giveaway in Crosby has now relocated to Ironton. The food distribution will continue on Tuesdays at noon, but the location is now on the 200 block of Curtis Avenue, across the street from the Taconite Canteen and Event Center (formerly Gary's Sports Bar & Grill). Please do not arrive before 11 a.m. because it is difficult for the volunteers to unload the truck if vehicles are present. Please follow the posted signs and the directions from volunteers and law enforcement staff. Vehicles should enter from the east on Second Street and turn south on to Curtis Avenue. Please do not enter Curtis Avenue from Highway 210. Vehicles should continue south on Curtis Avenue through the food distribution area, stopping to your box of food and exiting on to Highway 210.

The next distribution date is Tuesday, March 16. The food is free and everyone is eligible, but there is a limit of one box of food. Each box usually contains meat, dairy, fruit and vegetables.

Volunteers are needed each week beginning at 10 a.m.

To volunteer or receive a food box delivered directly to your door, please contact Mabel Semler at 218-851-2497.
