Strange BUT TRUE

By Lucie Winborne

* "The Whole Shabang" is a brand of potato chips once sold only in jails and prisons. It was so popular that in 2016, due to demand from ex-inmates, it was finally made available to the general public.

* The majority of people will tilt their head to the right when they kiss.

* Sherlock Holmes creator Sir Arthur Conan Doyle helped popularize skiing by being the first Englishman to document the sport.

* In Alabama, it's against the law to drive while impersonating a member of the clergy.

* For centuries, doctors thought that medicines made with human flesh, blood or bone could be effective in curing all kinds of ailments, from epilepsy to headaches. The practice was called "corpse medicine."

* The original name for the search engine Google was Backrub. It was renamed after the googolplex, which is the number 1 followed by 100 zeros.

* The fear of young people is known as "ephebiphobia."

* Gatling gun salesmen went to Civil War battlefields to demonstrate their products in actual combat.

* A newly sworn-in Barack Obama visited the U.K. in 2009 and presented some rather curious gifts to the prime minister and queen: 25 DVDs to David Cameron, and an iPod Classic to the then-octogenarian Elizabeth II. Cameron returned the gesture with some "wellies" and Hobgoblin ale.

* In the Solomon Islands, dolphin teeth were (and still are) used as a form of currency.

* Historically, most Easter celebrants would have eaten lamb for the occasion, as the holiday has its roots in the Jewish Passover. Most American Easter dinners now feature ham, however, because years ago, hams cured over the winter would have been ready to serve in early spring.

PIEDMONT PETS

April 8, 2021
By Paulette Dean

For a little more than half of the 1980s, I lived in Utah. I was a secretary at BYU for a few years, moved back to Danville, then returned to Utah and worked in a bank. Danville's call, though, brought me back in 1989.

When my niece, Jenny, graduated from high school and was accepted at BYU in 1993, I was the natural choice to fly to Utah with her and help her learn her way around. My Utah friends and I went to a favorite park and had a cook-out. While there, we all noticed a dog on a chain. He had a broken down doghouse, but it was his body language that haunted me. He was lonely. He had completely worn a circle in the ground. His entire life consisted of that small little radius of chain, dirt, and loneliness.

My friends all commented, "Someone should do something." Have you ever heard yourself or someone else say that? Who is the "someone" who needs to do "something?"

What should you do if you see an animal that you believe is being neglected? The answer always is - call the authorities. Maybe nothing can be done, if the legal minimum standards of care are being done. However, perhaps your phone call is the one hope for help that animal has.

996 South Boston Rd.,
Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

In Danville, if the animal control officer is off-duty, regular police officers investigate the complaints of neglect or pick up strays and injured animals. Call 799-5111, and press 8 to reach the animal control dispatcher.

Pittsylvania County provides emergency services. Call 432-7937 to file a complaint or to report an animal in need. In my mind's eye, I can still see that hopeless dog. He has been dead for many years now, but I hope that the phone call I made when I returned to Virginia two days after the picnic brought him some relief. Maybe you can be the "someone" who does a life-saving or life-altering "something" for the animals.

Averett University to Launch Four New Online Academic Programs, New SIS

DANVILLE, Va. (April 6, 2021) – With grant funding from the Danville Regional Foundation and in response to demands of the marketplace, Averett University is launching four new academic programs through Averett Online and converting to a new student information system (SIS).

The following online degree programs, most of which will begin in 2022, are under development:

- entrepreneurship and small business operations,
- healthcare administration,
- information systems/security, and
- psychology.

Although online and intended for adult learners, some of these programs will also serve traditional, on-campus Averett students. The new SIS will provide the necessary technological infrastructure to support this expansion in online programs.

“We are deeply grateful to the Danville Regional Foundation for its continued support of Averett,” said Averett University President Dr. Tiffany M. Franks. “We understand that for our region to grow socioeconomically, the educational attainment of our citizens must be raised, and as the only baccalaureate degree-granting institution in the area, Averett is a major factor in making that happen. This significant investment by DRF will make it possible for students to enhance their careers and achieve educational goals for years to come.”

The four academic programs* were chosen after listening sessions with local industry leaders, expansive data review and an analysis of the institution’s strengths. They are intended to grow the talent of this region, providing a more diverse and prepared workforce as well as an enhanced quality of life for the area’s residents.

“This gift is yet another example of DRF’s steadfast commitment to its Hometown University. The Foundation has supported Averett generously over the years through funding a number of initiatives critical to our students and this region, including our bachelor’s nursing program; creating simulation and clinical skills labs for those nurse learners; and upgrading chemistry and biology labs, among many other contributions — notably the recent five-year renewal of Averett’s Center for Community Engagement and Career Competitiveness,” said Franks.

Entrepreneurship and Small Business Operations

- Bachelor of Science online: Begins Fall 2022 Up to 30 graduates per year over time
- Master of Science online: Begins Spring 2022 Up to 15 graduates per year over time

This program will focus on the many diverse elements of the small business enterprise with special attention to entrepreneurialism. Graduates will be equipped to start a new business or prepared to take their current small/medium business enterprise to the next level of growth and transition. Students will work in tandem with the newly created Averett Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation, led by Averett alumnus, serial entrepreneur and the University’s inaugural chief entrepreneurship and innovation officer, John Vigouroux.

Healthcare Administration

- Bachelor of Science online: Begins Fall 2023 Up to 20 graduates per year over time
- Master of Science online: Begins Fall 2022 Up to 10 graduates per year over time

Averett will prepare health care administrators with the knowledge and skills to have a career with leading health care organizations such as hospitals, physician offices, care facilities and other health care organizations. This program will include in-demand areas such as financial accounting; legal and ethical health care issues; health care quality management; health care economics and reimbursement; principles of epidemiology; and health care data analytics. A new program director will be sought in the coming months.

Information Systems/Security

- Bachelor of Science online: Begins Fall 2022 Up to 30 graduates per year over time

Under the leadership of Dr. John Hoag, a highly experienced academic leader and professor and department chair of Averett’s computer information systems (CIS) department, this online program will focus on the increasingly critical and requested areas of information technology, information security and cyber security. With approximately 100,000 current cybersecurity jobs within 200 miles of Danville and increasing potential for out-of-region companies to recruit IT professionals to work from home, this program prepares graduates with a wonderful general information technology and information security foundation. It will also provide the needed groundwork for future graduate programs in cybersecurity or in other IT/CIS fields.

Psychology

- Bachelor of Science online: Begins Fall 2022 Up to 30 graduates per year over time

An undergraduate psychology degree can help a graduate enter into a number of human relations and social service jobs. It can also lay the foundation for those who may pursue further higher education or enter a future graduate program in counseling. This program will build off of Averett’s distinctive traditional undergraduate program — which offers concentrations in biological psychology, clinical and counseling psychology, and integrative health psychology — and will include at least two areas of concentration that broadly focus on applied psychology, including the growing demand and critical area of addiction. Both the online programs will be led by Dr. David Rosenberg, a licensed clinical psychologist, a professor and chair in Averett’s Department of Psychology and the chair of the University’s Division of Physical and Psychological Health Sciences.

About Averett University

Since 1859, Averett University has grown and developed into a dynamic institution that serves students of all ages, offering more than 30 undergraduate majors, minors and special programs, along with seven graduate programs with a number of concentrations. Dedicated to preparing students to serve and lead as catalysts for positive change, the University’s historic main campus is embedded in the heart of Southern Virginia with regional campuses throughout Virginia and online. Averett enrolls a diverse student body, and boasts an alumni network that spans the globe. Visit averett.edu for more info.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It isn't always easy for the rambunctious Aries to give a second thought to their often spur-of-the-moment choices. But aspects favor rechecking a decision before declaring it final.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Information emerges for the business-driven Bovine who feels ready to restart a stalled project. Be prepared to make adjustments as needed at any time during the process.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Part of you wants to complete plans for an upcoming event, while your other self wants to see how things develop first. Compromise by moving ahead with your plans while being open to change.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) An unexpected change in a relationship could open up a problem or could lead to a much-needed and too-long-delayed reassessment of a number of matters. The choice is yours to make.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Time for the Lion to total the pluses and minuses resulting from recent personal and/or professional decisions. See what worked, what didn't and why, and base your next big move on the results.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) The clever Virgo can make persuasion work by presenting a case built on hard facts. Sentiment might touch the heart, but it's good, solid information that invariably wins the day.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You usually can win over the most stubborn skeptics on your own. But this time you can benefit from supporters who have been there, done that and are willing to speak up on your behalf.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You win admiration for your determination to do the right thing. Don't be distracted from that course, despite the offer of tempting alternatives that might suddenly turn up.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) While you still need to maintain control of a dominant situation, a new development emerges, making the task easier and the outcome potentially more rewarding.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) New factors might have a positive effect on a still-pending matter, but only if the information proves to be credible. Trusted colleagues might be able to offer needed advice.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) The week favors moderation, especially if a health problem is involved. Resist the impulse to do more than might be good for you at this time. You can catch up later.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You could feel more than a mite upset by someone or some people who might be creating problems for you. Find out why they won't change their ways. Their reasons might surprise you.

BORN THIS WEEK: You know how to inspire others to do their best by setting a persuasive example of your own.
