OLD-FASHIONED COMMUNITY OUTPOURING OF SUPPORT FOR LOCAL VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT

It felt good to see how news spread word-of-mouth and with genuine concern can alert a county to a need. The need arose when the Sulphur Bluff Volunteer Fire Department Fire Chief's cell phone rang on April 1, 2021 and one of his volunteers cried "The fire station's on fire!". Well, he first thought it was an April Fool's joke, but the frantic voice on the phone was for real. The fire station/community center building in the heart of the small burg in northern Hopkins County was indeed on fire. Valiant efforts were made to save it, but it was deemed a total loss. So were three fire trucks stored inside. One long month later, and with the building still under investigation for cause, the fire department members were ready to put fundraising efforts in place to eventually get their rebuilt and trucks replaced. So, on Saturday, May 1, 2021, members, friends and family opened up the 'old gym' of the Sulphur Bluff ISD to serve fish and trimmings by the plate by donation. They had also organized an Auction and filled tables with donated merchandise that guests could browse through before the Auction began.

Wet grounds and intermittent showers that day didn't deter the diners, and at dinnertime the floodgates of people seemed to open up with people waiting for the fish meal. Before long, the line actually began to stretch outside the building and down the parking lot. The more than 200 pounds of fish that were being fried had seemed plenty at first, but now it was feared they wouldn't have enough food for the crowd. Fortunately, side dishes and homemade desserts were very plentiful, so everyone did get to eat. When auction time began, spectators filled every table and part of the gym's bleachers, too. Everyone visited, met their neighbors and got reacquainted with friends they hadn't seen in over a year. And the spirit of community was restored in at least one corner of Hopkins County county that day. According to long-time Bluff resident Pee Wee Bassham, it was reminiscent of the 1970's, when after the school's gym burned down, the people living in the isolated community came together to form their own volunteer fire unit, officially organized in 1975. Current Fire Chief Chris Bassham told me that his department is 'blown away by the support and generosity from the broad community of Hopkins County, and from people who live at the Bluff and who depend on their fire station for protection. The outpouring of help as they opened their hearts to us in our time of need is just overwhelming. We appreciate every donation as well as every offer to help when we rebuild, hopefully very soon".

I will add this final note, if you'd like to help out by donating to the SBVFD cause, mail it to P.O. Box 35, Sulphur Bluff, Texas 75481. Your assistance will be appreciated!

PULPWOOD QUEENS AND TIMBER GUYS

Tumbleweed Smith

When Kathy L. Murphy had her hair salon/bookstore in Jefferson (Beauty and the Book) some women invited her to a meeting of their book club. When the meeting was over, Kathy said, "This is fun. What book do we Tumbleweed Smith read next month?" The hostess apologized and told Kathy she was just an invited guest, that there could only be 8 women in the club because that is all that fits around the table. "Unless someone dies or moves agized and told Kathy she was just an invited guest, that there could only be 8 women in the club because that is all that fits way," said the hostess, "we can't have any more members." So in 2000 Kathy started her own book club and called it Pulpwood Queens and Timber Guys. "Pulpwood comes from the industry in this area and honestly I just love to say the word. It makes people laugh." Kathy wrote a book titled THE PULPWOOD QUEENS' TIARA WEARING, BOOK SHARING GUIDE TO LIFE. She is now working on a sequel 21 years later.

She says her book club grew by word of month, mostly. But Kathy is a character deluxe and knows how to get things done. She's been on Oprah and every major network plus numerous television and radio stations. Newspapers and magazines have done feature articles on her and her book club, which now has 800 chapters in 20 countries. People are joining every day (www.thepulpwoodqueens.com).

Members get a newsletter and Kathy selects a book of the month. Some of her authors have made it to the best-seller list. Kathy takes no credit for that. "They have the talent, I'm just the facilitator." She says it's all about telling stories. "We are the largest meeting and discussing book club in the world because we bring our authors into our conversations. Before covid, when we had real face-to-face meetings, we'd bring in authors by the dozens to visit with our members. Our annual meeting is usually held during January in Jefferson, but this year we did it by ZOOM. And it worked great because some people who couldn't make it in person could be there by computer. I had authors from France, Spain, Malta, Canada and it was very successful. We will always do a virtual meeting from now own. I had to learn how to do it. We're now doing weekly book club meetings online and I've started my own Kathy L. Murphy channel on utube. This year I've done more than 100 interviews with authors, film people, celebrities, anybody who has a story to tell and they're all recorded."

Kathy grew up in Kansas and got the reading bug in elementary school when teachers read to the class every day after noon recess. Now she keeps a stack of books in her home in the woods near Hawkins, Texas and reads hundreds of books a year. She has just one helper. A woman in Florida, Mandy Haynes, now carries the title of CEO.

Kathy's day starts at around 4 AM and ends around midnight. She is an artist whose work is in galleries and on items like clothing, table settings and pillows. "I paint first and while the paint is drying I answer emails, then read and write the rest of the day. Right now I'm battling plumbing and roof problems from the winter ice storm."
