Joyce B. Weaver, 78, of Medina travelled on from life on Tue., May 25, 2021. Born Joyce Ann Barron on Sept. 10, 1942 in Ithaca, NY, she was the cherished daughter of David E. and B. Jeanne (Wilcox) Barron. Joyce graduated from Lansing Central School in 1960. She was employed by General Electric, and later by Lansing Central School as a library aide. Joyce married the late Steven F. Wood in 1961. After Steven's passing, Joyce married Charles E. Weaver in 1984. Joyce loved music and animals, especially dogs and cats. She was an avid collector, primarily of porcelain and jewelry. Beside her parents and first husband, she was preceded in death by her son, Bryan and her second husband, Charles. Joyce's memory will be honored by her daughter, Kimberly Anne (Thomas) Fuller of Medina; grandchildren: Jeremy L. Bower and Miranda K. Bower both of Lockport; and several cousins and lifelong friends. There will be no prior visitation. Interment will be at the convenience of the family. Arrangements are in the care of Cooper Funeral Home, 215 W. Center St., Medina, NY 14103. Share condolences at www.cooperfuneralhome.com

WHAT COLOR ARE YOU?

Do you know what color you are? Not the kind of color the mirror shows you, but the colors inside you. When you think about colors and yourself, what color do you feel like? Strange thing is when I think about it, I feel at times my shade of the spectrum changes. My favorite combination is either a very bright vibrant mixture or just plain white. One is all messy and free and the later is very clean and clear. Maybe because I am a Gemini, the sign of the twins. Some people like the soft colors of pastel. This all must mean something because we are all visual beings and react to what is presented to us visually. My favorite color is green and I have never been fond of pink. However, if you take hot pink and combine it with green, that makes me happy. Pale blues always make me sad, but for others it makes them feel calm. Statistics show that 40% of people are blue people, which is a large majority considering all the colors available on the spectrum. Definitely not feeling red which indicates you are a power person. The world needs power people, but those days are done for me. I am fine just letting others be red for now, maybe someday I will change my mind. That is the wonderful thing about your color, if you are not satisfied or antsy, get your brush out and change your color. Google taught me not many people are green like me. Green people need safety and security. They are happiest in nature and peace. They are loyal and good listeners. They can be very expressive, emotional and are sincere and sometimes frank. We see the big picture and try not to get caught up in details which make us perfect business people. White gives us that old soul mentality, which even though I am not truly an old soul I often feel I am being led by old souls. A splash of hot pink and there is an added sparkle and craving for peace and harmony. Also pink's revel in encouraging others and their happiness. I think my Mom might be a purple. Purple people are intuitive, they are great humanitarians, they have silent strength, but yet they are people magnets and people love to be around them. I could use a bit of that purple. Yesterday I turned 53! So this year I am going to gift myself a bit of purple hue. If you are an orange I want to hang out with you because you are the party people with adventure. No matter how seasoned I become, I pray life will sprinkle me with a dash of orange. Gotta have that flavor. Although Color Psychology is not scientific it is fun to read about and see what colors you are drawn to. And if you want to add a little spice to your life, maybe sprinkle a room a color that promotes those qualities you like and meditate in there for a while. That is the blessing of life, we get to choose how we approach it and how we want to be remembered and most importantly how this treasure makes us feel inside. What color are you??

Superintendent Edwards releases District Strategic Planning Survey

Dear Members of the Albion Family,

Congratulations to everyone and thank you for your support in passing the budget. We couldn't do what we do without the hard work of everyone in this district and we're grateful for the confidence you have in us. Although the budget was passed, we deeply respect the perspectives of all voters and want to be better each day for everyone. In that spirit, I am writing to ask for your help!

The Albion CSD is excited to be looking towards the future by building on our tradition of excellence. We're beginning a strategic planning process that takes into account what is working, what we'd like to improve on and how everyone in our school community feels about the work. We need your input so that we can make the best plans for our district. Please tell us what you think we are doing well and what we can improve on. We would also like to know what you think we should be considering for the future. Our plans will be based on your feedback. Please share your thoughts by clicking on the following link, or scan the QR code below, to a thought exchange: <https://bit.ly/3v9MgGm>. If you would prefer to have a hard copy of the survey mailed to you or need to access the survey in Spanish, please contact the district office at 585-589-2056.

You can add thoughts, see what other community members are thinking and rate each other's feedback. All of this is done anonymously, and we encourage you to check back often to keep the conversation going. The exchange will be open until June 11th. Over the coming months, the board and leadership team will be using your feedback for discussions and planning with volunteers from all groups in our school community. Stay tuned for more information on how to get involved further.

Thank you again for your support and all you do to make our schools great.

Best wishes,
Mickey Edwards
Superintendent of Schools

Travel Thoughts By Kim

Let's go on an adventure together....Arizona!

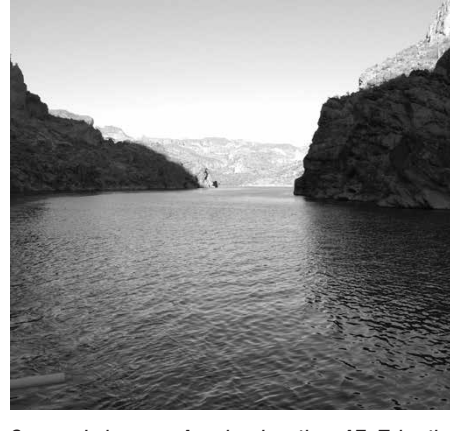

Arizona....I think everyone should experience Arizona at least once. My first time was a business trip to Phoenix maybe 20 or so years ago. I didn't get to see much, but I did contact a friend of my Mom's while I was there and we met up one evening so she could show me around, some. My second time was in 2006 when I went to attend the 50th birthday party for a friend I graduated with that was living in the Mesa/Chandler area outside Phoenix at the time – she still lives in the general area. I could only stay for a long weekend for that trip, but we managed to get out and do quite a bit of sightseeing in the few days I was there. But, the third time was the charm....I was able to plan an eight day stay with friends who lived in Apache Junction in 2013 and we crammed so much into my visit.

Superstition Mountain Museum in Apache Junction, AZ. The Elvis Chapel was used in the filming of Elvis Presley's 1969 western, "Charro".

I stayed with my friends in their beautiful home at the foot of the Superstition Mountains with stunning views and a pool. It would have been a perfect vacation, if we never left their house. But – we did go out...a lot! Apache Junction is also near Phoenix, where I was on my other trips, but we ventured out pretty far in just about every direction every day and saw a lot of the state.

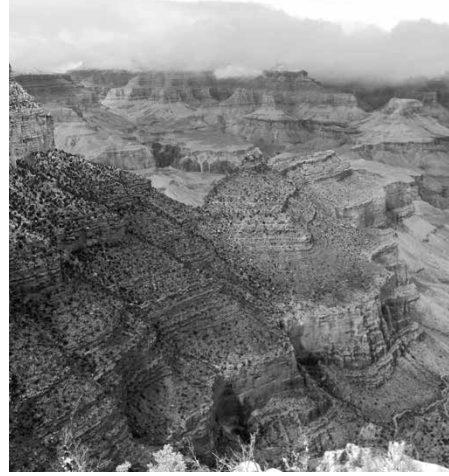

My first full day was spent with the high school friend I mentioned above – I called it my "Bonnie Day". We drove about two hours south to Old Tucson in Tucson – a theme park with old movie sets and memorabilia. We had such a great time talking and laughing and talking and laughing and ended the day having a fabulous steak at Toby Keith's I Love This Bar and Grill restaurant.

Canyon Lake near Apache Junction, AZ. Take the Dolly Steamboat cruise to get a relaxing view of this stunning crystal clear blue lake and canyon.

There is a ton of stuff to see and do right in and around Apache Junction. Ron, Lisa, and I went to all the local tourist attractions over the next couple of days. We had to go to Superstition Mountain Museum – a cool place with several actual movie sets, including the Elvis Chapel – a chapel used in the filming of Elvis Presley's western "Charro". What self-respecting Elvis fan would miss that? We also spent some time at Saguaro Lake, Fountain Hills, and Tortilla Flat. All amazing places.

The highlight of the local stuff was taking a lake cruise on the Dolly Steamboat on Canyon Lake – WOW!!! If you are ever in this area of Arizona, I highly recommend this cruise – words cannot describe how amazing it is! And emotional...I was in tears and had to remind myself to breathe at several points along the hour and a half cruise. Canyon Lake snakes through the canyon with water so blue and crystal clear – like a mirror reflecting the rocky ledges along the way. And, amidst all that beauty, we also saw big horn sheep, bald eagles, a bald eagle nest, and other wildlife native to the canyon.

View of The Grand Canyon from the southern edge.

Of course, we included a visit to the Grand Canyon on this trip. We got up really early Saturday morning and drove three and a half hours to Williams. We got there in time for breakfast before we boarded an old-time train that took us on a two-hour ride to the southern rim of the Grand Canyon. The train was an amazing experience! There was incredible scenery all the way, musicians singing for us, and lots and lots of wild life to see – including, herds of mule deer, elk, antelope, cattle, and even several coyote. We spent several hours at the Grand Canyon – even with the poor visibility, snow, and fog, it was so amazing – take whatever you've heard about the beauty of the Grand Canyon, multiply it by 1000 and you still won't come close to the real thing! Then, on the train ride back, we were stopped by some train robbers who boarded the train with scarfs over their faces and wielding guns to rob us! The ladies were screaming and everyone was shaking in their boots! Hahaha What a riot – so much fun! We spent the night at the Grand Canyon Inn – a really nice place out in the middle of nowhere just outside the town of Williams.

The next day, we explored Williams for a while after breakfast – a small historic town established in 1881, but looks more like it got stuck in the 1950's. Then, we took the long way back to Apache Junction. We drove through Jerome and Sedona, driving on steep, winding roads at high elevations and taking time to stop and enjoy the gorgeous red rock and whatever else caught our eye along the way.

Taking the old fashioned train from Williams, AZ to the Grand Canyon is an amazing experience – including getting held at gun point by a gang of train robbers.

And, the fun didn't stop there! On my last day, we left extra early for the airport so we could stop at the Queen Creek Olive Mill where they have olive tree groves and make olive oil on-site. I learned so much about olives and olive oil in the hour or so we were there. I never would have guessed how fascinating the process is and how delicious it can be when you get it fresh from the source. Be sure to click the link to the blog post to learn all about it – so interesting. I had several different flavored olive oils and some other products they make at the mill shipped home to me so I could enjoy them for a good long while.

Yep – Arizona is a gorgeous state with so much to see and do! The friends I visited were living there because Lisa is a travel nurse and she had a year contract in the area, so they aren't there to visit, again. They did another contract in Lake Havasu City that I wasn't able to work out a trip to, but they hope to go back, so maybe I'll have another chance. And, from what they told me, I think I may just plan a trip on my own, if they don't. That's in a part of Arizona I have not been to...yet....and, I'd get to see London Bridge if I go there! Hehehehe
