Valanderous Bell

Services for Evangelist Valanderous Bell, 68, who passed away on May 30, were held on Saturday, June 5, at League Street Church of Christ. Dr. David Lane officiated. Visitation was on Friday, June 4, from 6 to 8 p.m. at West Oaks Funeral Home.

Evangelist Bell was born on July 26, 1952, to Alvin and Eddie Mae Hudson Bell. Both preceded him in death. He was educated at Douglas and Sulphur Springs schools. Mr. Bell then became a long time employee at what was originally General Telephone but later became Verizon from which he retired after 35 years.

Evangelist Bell married Ronnie O. Wright on February 21, 1969, and to this union four children were born.

As a minister for over 40 years, he served at numerous churches such as The Church of Christ in Leesburg, Franklin Street in Pittsburg, Shepherd Street in Mt. Pleasant, Atlanta Street in Texarkana, MLK, Central, and Arbala Churches all in Sulphur Springs.

As a strong advocate for the city he served as City Councilman, Mayor Pro Tem and later served as Mayor; and founded the Nehemiah Foundation.

Bell leaves the following family members to mourn his passing: his wife, Ronnie Bell, and four children, Jeffrey D. Bell (Quinta) Redonna R. Hicks (Trent), Damiyon J. Bell, Yolanda R. Cleveland (Jermain). He also leaves 9 surviving grandchildren, Brittney M. Rodriguez (Carlos), Guyanna Beddington, Maya I. Thomas, Donovan J. Bell, Legend S. Bell, Zoe D. Bell, Jalik O. Cleveland, Mia J. Hicks, Jermain O. Cleveland, and two great grandchildren, Noah and Izabella Rodriguez.

He also leaves to mourn two brothers and two sisters: Calvin Bell (Perlita), Richard Bell (Brenda), Evelyn Holeman, and Gwen Bell. He was preceded in death by his two brothers, Benjamin Bell and Kenneth Bell.

Arrangements were under the direction of West Oaks Funeral Home. www.westoaksfuneralhome.com

RECORDING ORAL HISTORYTumbleweed Smith

Tumbleweed Smith

Dr. Stephen Sloan is head of Baylor's Institute for Oral History, recognized as one of the best in the country. Last semester he taught a course on the Vietnam War.

"All my students did interviews with Vietnam Veterans. One of my students came to me after one of his interviews and said, 'I had never heard of oral history. I want to do more of it. I really enjoyed it.' For students it's an eye opener. Something in a textbook can be quite distant and impersonal but it makes it very real and relational once they talk to someone who has experienced some of these events."

The archives at Baylor's Oral History Institute have more than 5,000 interviews, collected since the program started in 1970.

"We've always had good support and keep up to date with what the latest trend is."

Dr. Sloan teaches both graduate and undergraduate courses on interviewing and archiving. He also conducts online workshops.

"Last spring with all that's happened with Corona Virus I pulled together an online workshop on how to do remote oral history as well. We got the National Oral History Association to sponsor it and we had over 500 participants from all around the world. Our next online workshop is scheduled for August."

Sometimes the interviews become part of an audio or video documentary on a specific topic.

"We've done all sorts of things with those interviews once we have them. We've done oral histories about liberating World War Two concentration camps; we've done theatrical productions, museum exhibits. There are several ways to use oral histories. Now most of our interviews are on both audio and video. The first thing we do is capture the interview then build it into the collection. We transcribe everything we do, have the interviewee review it, the interviewer review it, and then it goes into the collection."

One student is doing interviews on how the pandemic has affected the homeless community in Waco.

"He's doing interviews with those who have been challenged in that way and also with folks who work with that segment of society."

In doing face-to-face interviews, students get to see and hear the interviewee's expressions of emotions.

"Students find out these individual stories can offer a very different picture of the history of something in a textbook. I think oral history is one of the most valuable things I do as a teacher. It certainly makes students more aware of the world."
