One day, when I was a freshman in high school, I saw a kid from my class was walking home from school. His name was Kyle. It looked like he was carrying all of his books. I thought to myself, 'Why would anyone bring home all his books on a Friday? He must really be a nerd.' I had quite a weekend planned (parties and a football game with my friends tomorrow afternoon), so I shrugged my shoulders and went on. As I was walking, I saw a bunch of kids running toward him. They ran at him, knocking all his books out of his arms and tripping him so he landed in the dirt. His glasses went flying, and I saw them land in the grass about ten feet from him... He looked up and I saw this terrible sadness in his eyes. My heart went out to him. So, I jogged over to him as he crawled around looking for his glasses, and I saw a tear in his eye. As I handed him his glasses, I said, 'Those guys are jerks.' They really should get lives. ' He looked at me and said, 'Hey thanks!' There was a big smile on his face. It was one of those smiles that showed real gratitude. I helped him pick up his books, and asked him where he lived. As it turned out, he lived near me, so I asked him why I had never seen him before. He said he had gone to private school before now. I would have never hung out with a private school kid before. We talked all the way home, and I carried some of his books. He turned out to be a pretty cool kid. I asked him if he wanted to play a little football With my friends. He said yes. We hung out all weekend and the more I got to know Kyle, the more I liked him, and my friends thought the same of him. Monday morning came, and there was Kyle with the huge stack of books again. I stopped him and said, 'Boy, you are gonna really build some serious muscles with this pile of books everyday!' He just laughed and handed me half the books. Over the next four years, Kyle and I became best friends. When we were seniors we began to think about college. Kyle decided on Georgetown and I was going to Duke. I knew that we would always be friends, that the miles would never Be a problem. He was going to be a doctor and I was going for business on a football scholarship. Kyle was valedictorian of our class. I teased him all the time about being a nerd. He had to prepare a speech for graduation. I was so glad it wasn't me having to get up there and speak. Graduation day, I saw Kyle. He looked great. He was one of those guys that really found himself during high school.. He filled out and actually looked good in glasses. He had more dates than I had and all the girls loved him. Boy, sometimes I was jealous! Today was one of those days. I could see that he was nervous about his speech. So, I smacked him on the back and said, 'Hey, big guy, you'll be great!' He looked at me with one of those looks (the really grateful one) and smiled.... ' Thanks,' he said. As he started his speech, he cleared his throat, and began... 'Graduation is a time to thank those who helped you make it through those tough years. Your parents, your teachers, your siblings, maybe a coach...but mostly your friends.... I am here to tell all of you that being a friend to someone is the best gift you can give them. I am going to tell you a story.' I just looked at my friend with disbelief as he told the first day we met. He had planned to kill himself over the weekend. He talked of how he had cleaned out his locker so his Mom wouldn't have to do it later and was carrying his stuff home. He looked hard at me and gave me a little smile. 'Thankfully, I was saved. My friend saved me from doing the unspeakable.' I heard the gasp go through the crowd as this handsome, popular boy told us all about his weakest moment. I saw his Mom and Dad looking at me and smiling that same grateful smile. Not until that moment did I realize it's depth. Never underestimate the power of your actions. With one small gesture you can change a person's life. For better or for worse. God puts us all in each others lives to impact one another in some way. Look for God in others. 'Friends are angels who lift us to our feet when our wings have trouble remembering how to fly.'

Natchitoches

Two friends were driving through Louisiana when they came to a sign that told them they were almost to Natchitoches. They argued all the way there about how to pronounce the name of the town.

Finally they stopped for lunch. After getting their food, one of the guys said to the cashier, "Can you settle an argument for us? Very slowly, tell us where we are."

The cashier leaned over the counter and said, "Buuurrrrrr-Gerrrrrr Kiiiiinnnnngggg."

All Virginia "releasing agencies" are heavily regulated and governed by the Code of Virginia. A releasing agency is defined as "(i) a public animal shelter or (ii) a private animal shelter, humane society, animal welfare organization, society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, or other similar entity or home-based rescue that releases companion animals for adoption." (3.2-6500)

When an animal is received as a stray with no collar, tattoo, or other evidence of ownership by any releasing agency, that animal must be held a minimum of five days, not including the day they come in. After that stray time, the animal is considered abandoned and becomes the property of the releasing agency. That is when the animal can be adopted or transferred or euthanized.

If the stray animal comes in bearing some evidence of ownership, that time is doubled to ten days, not including the day they come in.

This is actually a very important law. In the past, an adopted animal could technically be reclaimed by a former owner, no matter how much time had passed. Now, the releasing agency becomes the legal owner and the adopter can be assured that animal is legally theirs.

A legal adoption of a shelter animal includes the requirement that the animal must be spayed or neutered. There is no exemption for previous owners who were hoping to breed that animal. This means that even if the previous owner has been out of town on vacation, has a caretaker for their very expensive breeding dog or cat, that animal escapes and is picked up as a stray, if the holding period has passed, the animal must be sterilized. We, of course, strongly support this provision.

If you own a dog or cat, there are things that you can do to help ensure your animal is not adopted by someone else:

1. Keep your animal safely confined.
2. Microchip them so at least the stray time is doubled. Be sure to register that chip and keep your contact information current.
3. If your dog or cat does stray from your property, promptly call every shelter and rescue group within a wide radius. File a lost report, but also visit the shelters and ask them to post a picture.

Owners need to be very diligent in searching for their strayed dog or cat; if not, ownership could be lost.

Hand-Painted Urn

The decoration on this lidded urn made in the late 1800s is what made it worth the $6,100 paid by a bidder at a Rago auction. John Bennett painted this one-of-a-kind decoration.

Ceramic artists mentioned in auction descriptions or reports are almost always the ones who shape the piece, a dinnerware designer or an artist who creates unique pieces by modeling clay or developing unique glazes. But that wasn't always true. In the 1700s and 1800s, there were artists who decorated porcelains with paintings of gardens, flowers, portraits, religious scenes or buildings. Another artist made the ormolu mounting to complement the painted picture.

In the early 1900s, housewives began painting ceramics. Amateurs and artists bought marked plain white porcelain from Germany, Japan, England and other countries, and then decorated them in American styles. Magazines featured instructions and designs for this hobby. Special paints could remain permanently on a glazed vase or dinner plate even when washed. Unfortunately, the paint will not always survive the heat of a modern dishwasher, and the art can disappear.

One of the most famous professional decorators, John Bennett, was born in Staffordshire, England, in 1840 and worked at Doulton & Co. in the 1870s. He moved to New York about 1876 and started his own ceramic business. In 1882, he retired, moved to New Jersey and decorated pottery that he stamped "W. Orange-N. J." Bennett died in 1907.

His ceramic paintings were asymmetrical designs of colorful flowers and nature. He was influenced by the aesthetic, and arts and crafts movements. His work is expensive today. This very large covered urn, 16 1/2 inches high, is signed "Bennett." It pictures clusters of pink and white hydrangea blossoms and green leaves on a black background. Rago Arts and Auction Center sold it for $5,000 plus buyer's premium.

Q: I have a boxed Little Hostess Party set that belonged to a distant relative. It is a set of glass children's cups, saucers and plates in pastel colors. What should I price it at my house sale? How old is it?

A: The sets were made in the 1940s and '50s by Atlas Glass Company. The heat resistant glass is called Platonite. There were many different sets and colors. The 16-piece set, mint in the box sold 10 years ago for as much as $200, but at a house sale today it might sell at $100. Dark colors like green or maroon sell for a little more.

Dust Mite Allergy Triggers Cough

DEAR DR. ROACH: For months, I have had a persistent cough that I have been unable to get help with. I saw an allergist about three years ago and was told I am allergic to dust mites. I was first referred to a lung doctor where X-rays showed that my cheek sinus drains were completely blocked, and then to an ear, nose and throat doctor, who also confirmed this diagnosis. This ENT doctor recommended I have surgery to unblock the drains and clear out the sinus area. I understand that sinus drainage can cause coughing and wonder if this would still make me cough. I sometimes cough until I can cough up something, and this seems to stop my cough for a while. I was using a nasal rinse for a while until about two weeks ago when it caused my nose to bleed. The ENT doctor prescribed antibiotics and oral steroids that did not make any difference. It doesn't seem to make any difference whether I'm home or sitting in the doctor's office, I'm still coughing. What is the best way to deal with dust mite allergy? -- J.S.

ANSWER: There are many causes of chronic cough, but postnasal drip is at the top of the list. Dust mites are indeed a common allergen, and symptoms may include runny nose, watery eyes, sneezing and cough from postnasal drip. Specific treatment for dust mites should include physical barriers, such as covers for pillows and mattresses, and sometimes for other soft surfaces, like furniture cushions, but this is only part of an effective strategy. Removing as many fabrics as possible (draperies, carpets, stuffed children's toys) where dust mites can live is essential. Regular cleaning is necessary, and high efficiency particulate air (HEPA) filters for vacuuming have been shown to reduce dust mites. A low-humidity environment can be very effective in discouraging dust mites, and cooler air -- especially at night -- can reduce irritation of nasal passages caused by dry air. Many interventions for a prolonged period are necessary to reduce dust mite infestation and the symptoms associated with them. This is critical, because the issue of the sinuses is probably secondary to ongoing allergic exposure. Fixing your sinuses will not fix your ongoing symptoms. Without control of the allergens, you will continue to have symptoms and may even develop sinus blockages again, no matter how good a job the surgeon does on your sinuses.

DEAR DR. ROACH: I am 90 years old. My husband and I donated blood as often as needed, over 100 times, but last week my doctor said I tested positive for syphilis. I about fell off my chair. I haven't slept for four nights. Have you ever heard of this? -- E.

ANSWER: The screening test for syphilis, called the VDRL or RPR test, is not particularly accurate. About 1-2% of people will have a false positive result. Meaning, the test is positive but they do not have syphilis. There are many possible causes, such as infection and autoimmune disease, like lupus, but some people, particularly older people, will have a positive test for no identifiable reason.

In your case, I am sure it is a false positive, but your doctor may do a more specific test, such as an FTA-ABS, to be 100% sure. You shouldn't let it keep you awake at night.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual questions, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu.

HOLLYWOOD by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Arnold Schwarzenegger has taken two years and the pandemic to plan his next move. His last film, "Terminator: Dark Fate" (2019), cost $190 million and earned only $261 million. With no bids for his movie services, he's chosen to finally accept Netflix's offer to do a series for it. Arnold signed to star in an untitled, global spy adventure about a father and daughter who've secretly kept from each other that they work for the CIA, and they only learn this when they're forced to team up to fight a common foe.

Also on the comeback trail is 29-year-old Taylor Lautner. At 13, he scored big as Sharkboy in "The Adventures of Sharkboy and Lavagirl" (2005). In 2008, at age 16, he began starring as Jacob Black in "The Twilight" saga, which stretched into five films over five years. In 2013, he starred in Adam Sandler's "Grown Ups 2," which grossed $247 million because of Sandler's following. But when he top-lined "Tracers" (2015), it barely managed to gross $19 million. In 2015, at 22, he worked with Sandler again in the Western comedy "The Ridiculous 6," which managed to gross $60 million (low for a Sandler film). In 2016, Lautner co-starred with Constance Zimmer in "Ride the Tide," which did poorly.

Netflix is gambling he'll do well paired with Kevin James, Rob Schneider and Gary Valentine in "Home Team," in which Kevin James plays a football coach inspired by New Orleans Saints coach Sean Payton.

Netflix feels "Enola Holmes" (seen in 76 million homes in the first month of release) deserves a sequel, but how can they make people stand up and take notice? They came up with the idea of Sherlock Holmes (Henry Cavill, aka "Superman") coming out as being bisexual. That's the word from insiders at Netflix. Millie Bobby Brown, 17, who plays Enola, Sherlock's sister, scored big as the star of "Godzilla vs. Kong," which grossed $427 million.

Cavill recently played Superman in "Zack Snyder's Justice League," which pulled in $70 million (big during the pandemic). He also got the green light from Netflix to star again as "The Witcher," which had eight episodes its first season and was renewed for another eight episodes for season two, available for streaming later this year.

Is Ellen DeGeneres' withdrawal from her daily talk show after 19 seasons a signal that the face of daytime television is changing? The network says it isn't looking for another talk show to replace hers and may go in a totally different direction. Also, rumors abound that Pat Sajak may well retire from "Wheel of Fortune" (after 40 years) at the end of this year. Stay tuned as the wheel of syndicated shows turns!

Southside Soccer Becomes NC Fusion Affiliate Club

Blairs, Virginia - Southside Soccer Club (Southside Soccer) reached an agreement on Tuesday, June 1, 2021, to partner with North Carolina Triad Fusion (NC Fusion) as an affiliate club. NC Fusion is a non-profit entity serving the Triad region of North Carolina by providing sports programs for youth and adults.

The partnership allows interested Southside Soccer recreational players opportunities to participate in tournaments and games against NC Fusion's network of soccer teams. Southside Soccer will create competitive teams scheduled against NC Fusion teams in a simple game series format.

All Southside Soccer players will continue participating as recreational soccer players. The partnership simply allows interested players to play as a NC Fusion club team against other North Carolina teams. Opportunities to play against NC Fusion will occur during Southside Soccer's traditional Spring and Fall seasons with new expanded training throughout the summer.

"Southside Soccer is dedicated to recreational soccer and youth development," Drew Norris, Southside Soccer's coaching director, said. "But, we do have players that desire more competitive exposure to outside teams or want to challenge their own skills against new faces. They don't want to leave Southside Soccer to do it. The partnership with NC Fusion will allow players from both organizations to compete against each other. This provides a player pathway to further development and exposure. We are excited for the opportunity."

Home and away games will be played at both Clubs. NC Fusion will host games at Truist Sports Park in Bermuda Run, NC, and at Truist Soccer Complex at Bryan Park in Browns Summit, NC. Southside Soccer will host games at the Blairs Soccer Fields in Blairs, VA.

While day travel is involved, there will be no overnight trips or distant travel for participating Southside Soccer players. Participation requires seasonal registration with Southside Soccer.

"NC Fusion also offers opportunities for coaches training, officials training, and technical instruction for players," Rodney Lewis, Southside Soccer's president, said. "NC Fusion is large enough to have a number of ongoing training courses that would be beneficial for our Club volunteers and players. We can participate in their training."

"I was so impressed to see the quality training and game facility Southside Soccer families have available," Gary Gartner, NC Fusion Director of Community Relations, said. "NC Fusion is extremely fortunate to partner with Southside to bring families a more competitive level with very reasonable travel. The growth of Southside Soccer Club has experienced in the past few years is a credit to strong relationships they have built in the community. This aligns with NC Fusion Core Values."

Several Southside Soccer age groups are expected to see expanded playing options. Players in U12, U16, and U19 age groups will benefit initially from the partnership. Southside Soccer's U16 and U19 girl's program will now have real opportunities to play girl's NC Fusion teams. The girl's games have been mostly intra-squad for the last few seasons.

"The partnership represents a tremendous opportunity," Norris said. "We had 113 boys try-out for tournament play recently. These young men were roughly 12 and older. We also had a strong interest from the girls. NC Fusion offers options for tournament play, club games, and friendlies as well."

"NC Fusion is pleased to partner with Southside Soccer Club," Scott Wollaston, Executive Director of NC Fusion, said. "We have been very impressed by their desire to do things in the best interest of players and families in their recreational soccer program. This partnership pushes forward our commitment to grassroots soccer and the development of communities through sport. We look forward to the impact this partnership will have on all stakeholders."

Southside Soccer had 581 players sign-up for its spring 2021 season. Spring 2021 was one of the largest seasons in terms of players and family involvement. Sign-ups are now live for Fall 2021. The registration deadline is mid-August. Check the website southsidesoccer.club to learn more.

Southside Soccer is a non-profit 509(a)(2), a sub designation under 501(c)(3), community organization providing recreational soccer for Pittsylvania County and Danville, Virginia. The club maintains access to fields, manages competitive leagues, and provides soccer instruction. The Club is managed by unpaid volunteers of parents and coaches. The Club has faithfully grown and served its community since 2003.

Celebrating our neighbors, family members, and friends – cancer survivors.

Ankit Madan, MD
Hematology/Oncology

As we have improved screening measures, early diagnosis, and developed advanced treatments of all types of cancer such as targeted therapy and immunotherapy, there is now a growing population cancer survivors. According to the National Cancer Institute, there are 16.9 million cancer survivors in the United States, representing 5 percent of the population. These numbers will grow to 26.1 million across all age groups by 2040 (Source: Bluethmann S, et al. Cancer Epidemiology Biomarkers & Prevention, 2016). They are our neighbors, family members, colleagues, and friends. The support they need now may differ from the ways in which we supported them through treatment and recovery.

In June, which is designated as National Cancer Survivor Month, we honor the cancer survivors in our lives – those who have won the fight and those who are still battling. Survivorship means living with, through, and beyond cancer. Survivorship starts at diagnosis and includes those in active treatment, and those who have completed treatment. The phrase “cancer survivorship” was created by the National Coalition for Cancer Survivorship (NCCS) to describe the broad experience on the cancer continuum.

While we recognize the difficult journey of cancer patients, and we find meaningful ways to celebrate their end of treatment and recovery milestones, too often we underestimate what comes next in their lives. Cancer survivors embark on a journey of discovering a new normal for themselves.

Many cancer survivors face physical, emotional, and psychological challenges following treatment. Coping with the constant fear of recurrence and managing cancer as a chronic illness can lead to feeling uncertain and vulnerable. Managing personal relationships, ability to work, and take care of one's family. Survivors may face several changes including what they eat, what they feel they are able to do, permanent scars on their bodies, and feeling angry or lonely. To manage these challenges, survivors can benefit from healthy eating, staying active, sleeping well, being informed, and using creative outlets to express their feelings.

The Sovah Health Cancer Center is striving to provide an environment that addresses the comprehensive needs of patients, so that they not only survive, but thrive. Whether it is through fundraising for cancer research, walking or running in a charitable race, raising awareness about early screenings, or offering care to a friend or loved one, we all have a role to play in making sure that our brave cancer fighters feel supported and understood as they face new challenges reintegrating back into their daily lives.

Their son Keister III (Paula), daughter Christy (Michael), grandsons Kale (Keister IV), Carter, Cole and Devon, sisters Joan Bronson and Sylvia Richardson will cherish wonderful memories of a great man.

Keister was an excellent student and thoroughly enjoyed studying and learning. He attended VA Tech (VPI), University of Miami (FLA), West Virginia University, University of Kentucky, and University of Alabama at Birmingham, receiving degrees and certificates in Dentistry, Pediatric Dentistry and Orthodontics. He graduated 3rd in his WVU dental class of 60 plus students. He was a President of his WVU dental class and a member of OKU, National Dental Honor Society. True to form for his love of continuing education, prior to his diagnosis he was considering returning to school to study medicine.

He and Camille established dental practices in Wilmington NC and Stuart Florida. He was the first Pediatric Dentist in Wilmington. He was a pioneer in dentistry office design and business marketing, with other dentists often consulting him for advice. He enjoyed visiting with other dentists and exchanging ideas and theory.

After specializing in Orthodontics at UAB, he and Camille followed a dream of living in south Florida. They found a beautiful historic property in downtown Stuart on the Saint Lucie River where they could work and live. After years of playing and working in south Florida, they decided to retire early and become "snowbirds". His family is grateful for the years of early retirement that Keister and Camille were able to enjoy in good health. Over the following years, Keister and Camille traveled between homes in Bluffton SC and Boothbay Harbor ME in their motorhomes. Keister loved their Maine summer home and the quaint community of Boothbay Harbor. In spite of his decision to retire early, he continued to volunteer in children's dentistry in the nearby town of Bath, ME.

Keister had a lifelong love of classic cars, real estate investing, his beloved pets and his wife Camille. He was exceptionally proud of his children and pleased that his daughter Christy followed his path, becoming a dentist. He also loved reminiscing about his early life in Danville and the great love he had for his sisters, parents and Aunt Frances fondly known as Aunt 'Flossie'. He recognized that growing up in the Fox Hollow community as the son of a store owner molded him into the man he became. He had great love and respect for area family and friends, and never forgot his roots. Although Alzheimer's ultimately took his brilliant mind, his course of life serves as a guide to his grandsons, through our memories and recollections. Anyone that knew Keister will recall a handsome, engaging, entertaining and charismatic man with a great smile and kind heart.

A memorial service for Keister is planned at Norris Funeral Services, West End, Friday June 18th from 10:30 - 11:00. A visitation with family and friends will follow at Owens Farm Barn, 1251 Stoney Mill Road from 1:00-4:00. The family would like to thank Harbor Cove Memory Care and Caris Hospice for their care and compassion. Keister was a true animal lover and in lieu of flowers please consider donations to the Danville Humane Society.

* Fill a 2-liter soda bottle with water, then plunge the top upside down into a potted plant for self-watering while you are on vacation. Use smaller bottles for smaller pots.

* Going to the beach for your vacation? Here's a handy hint to take great care of your swimsuit. (They get more expensive all the time!) Pack at least two suits and bring a box of baking soda. Soak the suit for 15 minutes in a baking soda and water solution, then lay flat on a towel. Roll the towel up and wring lightly. Unroll and hang to dry. Rotate suits. -- JoAnn

* Help for a sunburn: Take two nonsteroidal anti-inflammatories (aspirin, ibuprofen) right away. Soak a cloth in cold milk and drape over the burn until it warms to room temperature. Repeat if necessary and apply a light moisturizer.

* Use your Christmas light timers to set different lights to go on or off at certain times of the day while you are away on vacation. You can even use a timer on a radio, so it comes on sometimes too. The variation will make people think you are home.

* To ease the ache of a brain freeze, simply cup your hands over your mouth and nose. Blow out hot air, and it will recirculate to warm your palate in seconds. Works like a charm.

* Always keep a couple bottles of water and a roll of duct tape in your trunk. You never know when you'll need these items, and they seem to be pretty handy when traveling.

1. What does "Una Paloma Blanca" mean?
2. Who released "Sixty Minute Man"?
3. Which band member developed the Starchild persona for KISS performances and sported a star over his right eye?
4. Which artist released "Love Hangover"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "If her Daddy's rich, take her out for a meal, if her Daddy's poor, just do what you feel."

Answers

1. That's Spanish for "white dove." Dutch songwriter George Baker says it was about a poor farmer who sits thinking of being a free bird. It was Billboard's No. 1 easy-listening single for 1976.
2. Billy Ward and the Dominoes, in 1951. The song was banned by radio stations because of its sexual content, but it opened the doors to similar songs when rock and roll took off.
3. Paul Stanley, co-writer for many of the group's songs. The star was chosen after a brief experiment with a bandit mask.
4. Diana Ross, in 1976. The song was used in a bar scene in the film "Looking for Mr. Goodbar."
5. "In the Summertime," by Mungo Jerry in 1970. The record was released as a maxi single, which means it was played at 33 1/3 rpm instead of 45, with two songs on each side.

Practical 'Dadvice' for Everyday Tasks

From the host of the YouTube channel that went viral, "Dad, How Do I?," comes a book of the same title that's part memoir, part inspiration and part DIY advice. Rob Kenney wished he had someone who could teach him the basics – how to tie a tie, jump-start a car, unclog a drain, use tools properly – as well as succeed in life. In this book, he shares his story of overcoming a difficult childhood with an absent father through the strength of faith and family, and offers words of inspiration and hope. In addition, he provides instructions for 50 practical DIY projects, illustrated with helpful line drawings, as well as the occasional dad joke.

A Riveting Race Against Time

"New York Times" best-selling author Linwood Barclay returns with a riveting thriller, "Find You First." Diagnosed with a terminal illness, tech millionaire Miles Cookson begins a search for the children he's never known. Somewhere out there, after having been a sperm donor, he has nine unknown kids who might be about to inherit both the good and the bad from him – maybe his fortune, or maybe something much worse. One by one, Cookson's heirs are vanishing – every trace of them wiped, like they never existed at all.

An Exploration of the Challenges Fathers Face

Growing up in Columbia, South Carolina, Craig Melvin, news anchor of NBC News' "Today," had a fraught relationship with his father. Lawrence Melvin was a distant, often absent parent due to his drinking as well as his job working the graveyard shift at a postal facility. A powerful, intimate exploration of fatherhood, addiction and resiliency, "Pops: Learning to Be a Son and a Father" is the story of their long journey to reconciliation and understanding, as well as an investigation of the challenges facing all dads.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Lucie Winborne

* A green cat was born in Denmark in 1995. Some people believe that high levels of copper in the water pipes nearby may have given his fur a verdigris effect.

* Edgar Rice Burroughs, creator of the iconic jungle man Tarzan, worked as a pencil-sharpener salesman before trying his hand at fiction. He only started writing at the age of 36 to support his wife and two kids.

* Boanthropy is a psychological disorder in which patients believe they are a cow.

* The infamous crocodile jump by James Bond in "Live and Let Die" was performed with real crocs by the only person willing to attempt it -- the owner of the crocodile farm.

* In early 2015, Mattel released Hello Barbie, an interactive talking doll that didn't just repeat preprogrammed phrases, but could actually hold a two-way conversation. The doll raised major concerns over privacy, however, since the discussions between it and child owners were recorded and sent to third-party vendors. Goodbye, Barbie!

* Like casinos, your local shopping mall is intentionally designed to make you lose track of time, with clocks and windows removed to prevent views of the outside world, in a type of "scripted disorientation" known as the Gruen Transfer.

* The original recipe for chocolate contained chili powder instead of sugar.

* As if it weren't cool enough that your DNA encodes the entire blueprint for your body using a set of just four characters (amino acids), you can treat the outside surface of cotton fabric with concentrated genetic material, as the DNA is also flame retardant: Its molecules are similar to those in other fireproofing substances.

Call Pastor Anytime

A pastor assured his congregation he was their servant and that they should feel free to call him anytime they had a problem.

That night the pastor's phone rang at 3 a.m. On the other end was a dear elderly lady who said, "Pastor, I can't sleep."

"I'm so sorry to hear that," he comforted her. "But what can I do about it?" the pastor asked.

She sweetly replied, "Preach to me a while, pastor."
