The Spatula Is Passed at The Neon Grill

There's no torch to pass at the Neon Grill-but the burger-flipping spatula is in new hands. Camille Radde, husband Scott Radde and their son James Radde are the new owners of the Niles Avenue landmark. They're only the second owners, having purchased the Neon Grill from founders Cindy and Dale Haigler on August 1. The Haigler's created the place and ran it for 29 years before thinking about retirement.

Camille says "We're thrilled and happy with the opportunity. Everybody loves the place. We just want to live up to the tradition!" The tradition would be largely focused on the Neon Grill Cheeseburger Deluxe, a/k/a "The Olive Burger."

After all, people who grew up in St. Joe and Benton Harbor take their Olive Burgers pretty seriously. If you want your olive burger com-

Tonight, and tomorrow afternoon are the final performances at The Ghostlight of Guess Who's Coming to Dinner. The cast and crew did an outstanding job! If tickets are still available, I highly recommend this not to miss production.

Also tonight is your last chance for the summer concert series at Shadowland Pavilion by the Southwest Michigan Symphony Orchestra. As the summer series comes to an end, the SMSO will finish up with Cowboys, Spaceships, and More! Take

Director finalist Timothy Verville, selections include music by Oscar-nominated and winning composers Hans Zimmer, Ennio Morricone, Elmer Bernstein, Danny Elfman, and others.

Next on The Ghostlight's lineup is Much Ado About Nothing, August 19-29. Shakespeare comedy - timeless, classic, and hilariously funny! As the title suggests, there's a lot of fuss over nothing. Claudio and Hero fall in love and plan to get married, but the villainous Don John slanders Hero with false evidence. Much silliness ensues, with twists and turns that only the brilliant Shakespeare could create.

Another not to miss creation is The Mendel Center at Lake Michigan College's Drive-In Live Beach Bash, August 28. Put on your flip flops and sunscreen as The Mendel Center parking lot is transformed into the ultimate beach party complete with beach sand dance zone, contests, margaritas, cheeseburgers, and tunes from Gary Roland & The Landsharks Band.

Do you have a classic car, 1980 or older? Bring it along and receive one ticket for free admission for one person! We will have a special "Classic Car Corner" in the parking lot for all the car people to gather and enjoy the show. Be sure to register in advance.

After performing with Gary Roland & The Landsharks Band, Jimmy Buffett hired them to be the house band at Margaritaville. From there The Landsharks became part of beach music history. As one of the most popular beach bands in the world, The Landsharks have an impressive resume, including opening up for, backing up, and playing with Jimmy Buffett in concert, and opening up for The Beach Boys. The Landsharks have also played at The Super Bowl several times. Bring your lawn chairs to sit stage side or tailgate at your vehicle and get ready to celebrate summer with a Key West vibe!

The calendar is full of performances during Live at The Acorn August 17, 20, 21, 27, and 28. They include Tab Benoit, Visions of Santana, John Prine Celebration, Dan Navarro, and an evening of tribute to CCR: The Dan McGuinness Band, respectively.

If you haven't picked up your copy of the Creative Connections brochure, stop by the Southwestern Michigan Tourist Council Monday through Friday 8:30am-5pm each day, or download it from website, or call and we will drop one in the mail to you. Every single event mentioned here qualifies for rewards.

We'll be back in a couple of weeks with more fun and interesting things to do in Michigan's Great Southwest!

Vaccination Related Tax Credits

- Going to get vaccinated;
- Taking family members to get vaccinated;
- Recovering from side-effects of receiving the vaccination; or
- Helping a family member recover from side-effects caused by their vaccination.

Additionally, the federal government will reimburse employers for paid leave given to employees who are recovering from COVID-19, quarantining after an exposure to COVID-19, or caring for a family or household member who has COVID-19.

In the event an employee needs time off beyond the initial 10 days (two work weeks), employers may be eligible for up to ten additional weeks of reimbursable paid time off at a rate of up to $200 per day ($12,000 in total). If the amount of the credit exceeds the employer's share of Medicare taxes owed, the excess is treated as an overpayment and refunded to the employer.

These tax credits are available to any for-profit, nonprofit, or tax-exempt employer with fewer than 500 employees and self-employed individuals may claim comparable credits on the Form 1040, U.S. Individual Income Tax Return.

It is important that all local employers, the vast majority of which qualify for this credit, take advantage of every tool in the tool box to keep their employees both physically and financially secure as we continue to fight our way out of this pandemic. The Delta Variant is on the rise and we cannot afford to shut down our economy another time.

If you are a qualifying business and have questions regarding the tax credit described above, please don't hesitate to reach out. As always, the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber stands ready to help.

Read more at www.MailMaxOnline.com

I've now written several columns focusing on different elements of the $1.9 trillion American Rescue Plan Act (ARP) of 2021. One key component, which I have not yet covered, is a tax credit for employers that has recently been expanded. This week, I want to ensure businesses in our region are aware of the credit and how it's been changed.

When our nation's vaccination efforts first began, we quickly discovered that a large segment of America's workforce - while willing to receive an immunization - could not afford to take the necessary time-off to do so. To overcome this obstacle, the ARP included a tax credit for small employers (under 500 employees) that offered their employees paid sick leave to either receive the COVID-19 vaccine or recover from its side-effects.

Initially, the credit reimbursed employers for up to 80 hours of paid leave given to any employee so that employee could get, or recover from getting, the COVID-19 vaccine. The reimbursement of $511 per day or $5,110 in total would be deducted from the employer-portion of Medicare taxes and applies to paid time off taken between April 1 and September 30, 2021.

Last month, the IRS announced it would expand the existing tax credit to cover employees who took paid time off to accompany and/or care for a family member who receives the vaccination as well.

With that change, tax credits are now available as an employer reimbursement for paid leave given to any employee for:

pared to the famous Roxy Burger, you've got a lot to live up to! And many burger fans say the Neon Grill's rendition is solidly in the running as the "heir apparent" to the Roxy Burger.

Camille says they won't change much. "We plan to leave things exactly the same, except we'll add credit cards," when they can do it without a service disruption. She explains the business never had a computer or wi-fi installed. She acknowledges that "no cards" is the biggest--almost the only--complaint she's gotten from customers. The Grill will remain "Drive Thru Only" and open six days a week, 10:30 am to 9 pm. "Sunday is family time," says Camille.

Where did the new burger entrepreneurs come from? Camille was the Admissions Director at Caretel, a health care facility in St. Joseph Township. Scott is with AEP/I & M Electric and has about five years until he'd devote full time to the Neon Grill. James, 25, is fulltime after previous stints in retail at Best Buy and Gordon Food Service. Neon Grill has six employees, all with considerable tenure. Camille says "We are learning from them." She hopes and believes they will all stay on the new team.

If you have suggestions for the future of the Neon Grill, Camille invites your input--the next time you stop by for a Cheeseburger Deluxe!

Whirlpool's Bitzer says the 'Big Fish' has a special responsibility to the 'Pond'

Breaking ground for a $20 million dollar, 80 unit apartment development, Whirlpool CEO Marc Bitzer acknowledges that the company has a unique role in Michigan's Great Southwest. "We're a big fish in a small pond," says Bitzer, "and that means we have a special responsibility." It's that responsibility, Bitzer says, that led Whirlpool to become the primary developer of the non-subsidized, market-rate rental units that will take shape on North River-view Drive in the next year.

"We could either complain about it and wait. Or we could do something about it. With this project, we chose to do something!" Whirlpool is investing in the apartment complex near two of its major employment centers along Riverview Drive. However, the 80 rental units will be available to non-Whirlpool people as well. Bitzer says that's one of the major attractions of the project--it affects the entire community beyond Whirlpool's walls.

Bitzer estimates that Whirlpool hires from 200 to 400 persons every year in Northern Berrien County.

Hanson Logistics Sold to Industry Leader 'Lineage Logistics'

One of the major family-owned companies in Michigan's Great Southwest is poised for industry consolidation that will make it a part of the largest player in its business segment--cold storage. The announcement spells out the future for what's been known in recent years as Hanson Logistics, but whose roots in Southwest Michigan go back decades when it began as Southern Michigan Cold Storage.

Lineage Logistics, LLC, the world's largest and most innovative temperature-controlled industrial REIT and logistics solutions provider, has announced it has acquired Hanson Logistics, one of the most respected cold storage organizations in the Midwest. Hanson currently ranks as the twelfth largest temperature-controlled warehousing and logistics provider in North America, according to the International Association of Refrigerated Warehousing (IARW).

"Our home is Southwest Michigan," Bitzer says, "and our birthplace was Benton Harbor, about 1,000 feet from this spot. We've stayed close to our roots and we'll continue to do so." He sees one of Whirlpool's biggest challenges locally is attracting young professionals to move to Benton Harbor and St. Joseph. He cites quality of schools and quality and availability of rental housing as huge issues for the individuals Whirlpool wants to hire.

Founded in 1954, Hanson's network includes seven distribution facilities spanning over 46 million cubic feet of capacity across Michigan and Indiana, which are strategically located to reach over 60% of the U.S. population. Their integrated business segments in warehousing and transportation solutions along with Hanson's frozen food consolidation program, Velocities, provide customers with a full suite of services at every step of the supply chain.

"Hanson Logistics is another great example of a family-owned business that has served its customers with excellence for generations. Now, they're joining the Lineage family of companies to help accelerate their growth and customers' reach," said Greg Lehmkuhl, President and CEO of Lineage. "Their dedicated, customer-focused team also represents an awesome cultural alignment with our own, and we are thrilled to welcome them to the One Lineage family."

"For decades, we have worked to build the best possible supply chain logistics program in order to support our customers through every step of the food supply chain," said Ken Whah, President and CEO of Hanson Logistics. "In joining the Lineage family, we are better positioned than ever to continue serving not only mid-market food processors but also large global customers. We couldn't be more excited for this next chapter of growth, and I am confident our strong cultural fit will only enhance our team members' ability to make a difference every day."

The acquisition of Hanson follows Lineage's announcement of five other North American acquisitions earlier this year. The Company has since welcomed two additional cold storage providers to strengthen its domestic operations, including:

- Marc Villeneuve, a direct-to-store distribution service in Montreal
- Orefield Cold Storage, comprised of three locations in Eastern Pennsylvania

In total, Lineage's North American facility network consists of more than 250 facilities in 35 states and two Canadian provinces spanning over 1.7 billion cubic feet of temperature-controlled capacity.

Lineage Logistics is the world's largest temperature-controlled industrial REIT and logistics solutions provider. It has a global network of over 350 strategically located facilities totaling over 2 billion cubic feet of capacity which spans 15 countries across North America, Europe, Asia-Pacific, and South America. Lineage's industry-leading expertise in end-to-end logistical solutions, its unrivaled real estate network, and development and deployment of innovative technology help increase distribution efficiency, advance sustainability, minimize supply chain waste, and most importantly, as a Visionary Partner of Feeding America, help feed the world. In recognition of the company's leading innovations and sustainability initiatives, Lineage was listed as No. 17 in the 2021 CNBC Disruptor 50 list, the No. 1. Data Science company, and 23rd overall, on Fast Company's 2019 list of The World's Most Innovative Companies, in addition to being included on Fortune's Change The World list in 2020.

[The disciples] were terrified and asked each other, "Who is this? Even the wind and the waves obey him!"

Mark 4:41

When you have a moment, look up "Gardner Museum" online. When you get to the museum website, search Rembrandt, and you will find his extraordinary work of art, "Christ in the Storm on the Sea of Galilee."

Look it over. Zoom in on the details. Rembrandt captures the moment when Jesus and his disciples are in a terrible squall while sailing in a small boat. Thanks to Rembrandt's genius, you can almost hear the roar of the wind, the crash of the waves, the cries of the men. You can almost feel the cold spray on your face.

Study the disciples. Several of them are scrambling to control the sail. One is holding on to the tiller for dear life. One is about to get sick. One is clinging to the side, frozen over what to do next. One has his back to us, quietly shutting down in despair. One is in prayer. Two of them are yelling at Jesus in panic, waking him up from a sound sleep.

Finally, there is one disciple who is looking straight at you. He appears to have questioning eyes. He seems to be asking, "What about you? How would you react if you were in my place?"

When the storms of life hit, which one of the disciples are you? Do you scramble to figure things out on your own? Do you simply hold on to the tiller for dear life? Do you yell at Jesus in panic? Do you shut down, overwhelmed?

Time for some candor. There have been many times when you and I have reacted to the storms of life out of anxiety, panic, and fear instead of trust in the one who commands the wind and the waves.

But Jesus came here for more than stilling storms. He came to live a life of perfect trust on our behalf. Jesus came to wash away our every sinful failure at the cross, and then he rose from death. And because he has, he refreshes us in his forgiveness when we come to him in repentant hearts. Restored in him, you and I can rest easy, even in the storms of life.

Prayer: Lord Jesus, when the storms come, you are here. All is well. Thank you. Amen.

Dave Ramsey

Dave Says

And baby makes three

Dear Dave,

My wife and I are expecting our first child in a couple of weeks. I bring home $35,000 a year teaching at a local high school, and she just completed her master's degree in speech therapy. She has a job waiting for her after the baby is born, and they are being very flexible about when she starts. I have heard you tell some people to leave just $1000 in savings for Baby Step 1, and use any other saved cash to pay off debt. But I am concerned about the new expenses we will have once the baby is home. Should we hang on to our savings, so we have extra cushion for those costs or if something unexpected happens?

David

Dear David,

Congratulations! I know you two are excited to welcome a little one into the world.

In your situation, I'd advise pushing the pause button on the Baby Steps for now. Forget about paying down debt, until mom and the baby come home, and you're sure everyone's healthy and safe. You could even hang on to it all until she decides to start work. But the bottom line is if everybody's okay, the baby and all those connected expenses—like formula, diapers, and daycare—just become part of a regular monthly budget.

Your wife is going to be making pretty good money once she starts her job. And the truth is babies are not all that expensive. There are costs involved in having kids, but it's not like we're talking thousands of dollars a month out of your budget just because you had a baby. Can you buy lots and lots of things for a baby? Can those things cost a ridiculous amount of money? Of course! The list of things you could buy goes on and on. But a healthy, new baby doesn't need much, and having one at home isn't going to break the bank.

I think any financial fear or uncertainty you may be experiencing right now will disappear once you've got a couple months of adjusting your budget and getting used to the new normal under your belt. Then, when you and your wife decide it's time to start her career, you can begin paying off debt in a really big way!

—Dave

National Recording Artists to Headline Free Outdoor Concert

“This Is A Move” Event Scheduled for Saturday, Aug 28

Berrien Springs, MI – Everyone is invited for a day of great music and fun at This Is A Move, an outdoor concert to be held on Saturday, August 28th from 4pm to dusk in Berrien Springs.

The free concert is promoted by Tru Dat Praise and Worship Ministry, a loose-knit group of local Christians who love positive, uplifting music.

“‘Tru Dat’ basically means ‘this is the truth,’” explains Founder, Tom Ackerman. “Tru Dat is a group of us that believes in gratitude for Jesus and positivity in life...No religion, no politics. We don’t really care about denomination; we just want to bring people closer to GOD.”

The group has been meeting for several years at local churches, homes, barns, beaches, and parks with a mix of music, inspiring speakers, and humor to encourage people.

“We were traveling to worship concerts and leaving really pumped up,” Brenda Emma Johnston shared. “And we thought, ‘Why not bring an event like that to Southwest Michigan?’”

This Is A Move features an impressive music line-up of national recording artists, and singer/song writers, which includes Nathan Sheridan (from Nashville), Joe Guerra (from Grand Rapids), Jackie Baker (from Alabama) and more.

Sheridan recently made a stop in Michiana when he opened before TobyMac in South Bend. “Broken With You,” his most recent release, features “Loves Like That,” the project’s buoyant first single.

ra’s discography; the most recent being “Reason to Breathe” produced by Jake Rye of the billboard charting band Sanctus Real.

Joe Guerra uses music to encourage and inspire others to rise above circumstances.

Jackie Baker is a worship leader and song writer from Dothan, Alabama. His style is characterized by a strong sense of awe and reverence for the Lord. Often, spontaneous melodies will develop into anthems of worship as people sense the presence of the Lord.

Nashville recording artist, Nathan Sheridan, recently released a new single “Never Gonna Walk Away.”

“Even when you don’t feel perfect or you don’t feel like you’re worthy of love from man, you’ve been made in God’s image, and He loves you because He created you,” Sheridan explains of the song’s message. “When you can’t find love in other places, you can find love in Him. You don’t have to be perfect to be loved perfectly.”

Joe Guerra is a song writer, worship leader, and entertainer with a passion for using music to inspire others. Over the past few years Joe has shared his music with countless individuals across the globe at concerts, camps, and festivals. Four EP releases make up Guer-

Stuart

Don Stuart Livin' in a Wild Wylde World)

While winning over (hopefully) a non-fan in last week's coLOUmn, I mentioned I once ticked off a reader with a piece featuring a guitar god named Zakk Wylde. Let's take a fresh look at this 15 years later and see if I'm still the great big doofus that guy said I was!:

This week's column gets pretty wild, but it's all my kids' fault.

Let's start with No. 4 son (age 9), who landed a spot on a travel soccer team. The teams in his league have lots of super-high-intensity nicknames, like "The Lightning," "The Flames," and "The Rumsfelds."

Somehow, in a stroke of spooky karma, No. 4 son's team is named after him!: "The Wild."

Then there's No. 5 son (age 5), who took my wife to see the animated movie "The Wild." (I got stuck taking No. 4 and No. 5 to see "The Benchwarmers," a movie so utterly stupid it makes "Dude, Where's My Car?" look like "Casablanca.")

No. 5 told me "The Wild" is all about creatures from the plains of Africa, and that the film's villains are – get this – wildebeests. In real life, of course, wildebeests are pretty much hoofed buffets for predators. But No. 5 says they've pulled an amazing one-eighty as cinematic "bad guys." He claims that, in "The Wild," the wildebeests are the hunters. And they eat lions!

Hmmm. In the world of animated villainy, sounds like Wile E. Coyote could learn a few things from Wild E. Beest.

Then there's No. 3 son (age 11), who has begun chasin' his rock'n'roll dream with electric guitar lessons. For several weeks, he's been borrowing a guitar and amp from the daughter of a couple who were our friends up 'til several weeks ago.

The moment the guitar was in his hot little hands, No. 3 told me that he wants to make it go Wylde. I pointed out that "wild" was spelled wrong in the dialogue bubble over his head. He said, nope, I was the dope, because he was talking about Zakk Wylde, a long-haired, tattooed, leather-clad guitarist for both Ozzy Osborne and a band called Black Label Society.

I'd never heard of Wylde, but via the internet I learned he's developed an effective source of revenue-generation: his target market willingly forks good money over to bask in a sort of super-intensity anger featured in Black Label's act. At least, I hope it's just an act; how super-intensely angry could they be after making all that dough?

No. 3 tells me he also has never heard of Black Label or any of their songs. Turns out he just thinks Zakk Wylde's guitar has a way-cool paint job, a black and white design that reminds me of a zebra's, ahem, hindquarters.

We saw Zakk's axe pictured in a direct-mail catalog from a big nationwide instrument seller. The catalog was addressed to the previous occupants of our house, one of whom was a guitar-shreddin' 8th-grader. We're pretty sure No. 5 inherited his old bedroom, the one with the huge zebra's-butt motif painted on the ceiling.

Before No. 3 tries anything like that, I'll try talking him into a different guitar design. Why recycle Zakk's axe-end-of-a-zebra look? I think No. 3 should paint a grittier critter on his guitar, a meat-eater of frightening super-intensity: a Wyldebeest!
