Trifolium repens

The word shamrock comes from seamróg, the Irish name for the white clover plant, also known as trifolium repens ("creeping three-leaf"). Native to Europe and central Asia, it is widely known as a cultural symbol of Ireland, being famously used by St. Patrick to symbolize the Holy Trinity. The plant is important as food for bees, and also the caterpillars of many butterfly and moth species. It has been used medicinally in treatments for coughs, colds and fevers, in ointments for treating gout, and in making infusions of its flowers to treat eye infections.

Prayer to the BLESSED VIRGIN
(Never known to fail). O Most Beautiful Flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O Star of the sea, help me and show me here in, you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times.) Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days. You must publish it and it will be granted to you. Grateful Thanks.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It was British art critic and social reformer John Ruskin who made the following sage observation: "Sunshine is delicious, rain is refreshing, wind braces us up, snow is exhilarating; there is really no such thing as bad weather, only different kinds of good weather."

• After the events of this past winter, you may not be surprised to learn that sales of cakes, cookies and candy spike when a blizzard is in the weather forecast.

• You've almost certainly heard of "M*A*S*H," one of the most popular TV series of all time. One of the main characters on the show, which ran from 1972 to 1983, was Corporal Klinger, played by Jamie Farr. It's interesting to note that in the 1950s, Farr actually served as an enlisted man in the U.S. Army in Korea — and the dog tags he wore on the show were the same ones he wore during his service.

• For reasons that are not quite clear, inventors have created a robot that can solve a Rubik's cube in slightly more than one second.

• In 18th-century France, there was a Parisian printer who employed several apprentices, all of whom lived in the home of the printer's family. The printer's wife was, evidently, a lover of cats — and her cats begged for scraps and screeched at all hours of the night. Finally fed up with the felines, the apprentices took matters into their own hands: While the family was out of town, they held a formal trial, complete with guards, a confessor and a public executioner. After they were pronounced guilty, the accused felines were strung up on cat-sized gallows.

St. Patrick's Day the Traditional Way

I read an interesting nationwide St. Patrick's Day survey recently, which found that regardless of family roots or Irish heritage, the holiday is more about food and family than drinking. More than 30 percent of respondents said they celebrate at home or at the houses of friends and family members. Less than 14 percent of those who participated in the survey celebrated at a bar or local pub.

If you're planning to celebrate the holiday at home, my traditional St. Patrick's Day menu is easy to prepare ahead of time. The main course is a Lamb Stew with Root Vegetables and Pearl Barley with a side of Northern Irish Potato Bread. Here's a little history about my traditional Irish menu and recipes:

IRISH STEW: This dish originated from the old ways of cooking over an open fire. A good Irish stew should be thick and creamy, not swimming in juice. Adding potatoes and pearl barley gives the stew body and makes it a hardy, main-course meal. Carrots are typically added for extra color and interest.

The authentic Irish recipe calls for mutton, which is usually an older lamb with a tougher texture of meat, which made it perfect for stewing. I suggest using lamb from Australia, which is readily available at most American grocery stores. It's juicy, tender and raised to a specific size and weight that produces a quality product that is nutritious, slightly leaner than beef, and less expensive than American domestic lamb. Australian lamb typically is grass-fed, and has a phenomenal flavor and texture. To learn more about Australian lamb, beef and goat, or for more delicious Australian lamb recipes, go to www.australian-lamb.com.

NORTHERN IRISH POTATO BREAD: Northern Ireland's love of the potatoes is part of a rich legacy of dishes, including this recipe for potato bread (also called fadge or farls). Typically, this bread recipe incorporates leftover boiled and mashed potatoes.

Try these traditional Irish recipes and use Australian lamb to add a modern twist to your St. Patrick's Day menu

Lamb Stew With Root Vegetables And Pearl Barley

- 2 pounds boneless Australian lamb shoulder, trimmed of fat and cut into bite-size pieces
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1 1/2 teaspoons freshly ground black pepper
- 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon olive oil, divided
- 1 or 2 medium Irish or white potatoes, scrubbed and cut into 1/8-inch rounds
- 3 medium carrots, cut into 1/4-inch rounds
- 2 large yellow onions, chopped
- 4 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 cup pearl barley
- 4 cups water or chicken broth
- 2 tablespoons chopped, fresh parsley

Depositphotos.com

1. In a medium mixing bowl, toss the lamb with the salt, pepper and flour.
2. Heat 1/2 tablespoon olive oil in a 4 to 5-quart Dutch oven over medium-high heat until it shimmers. Add half of the lamb, and brown on all sides, about 7-8 minutes total.

Remove the lamb to a bowl and repeat with the remaining oil and lamb. Remove the second batch of lamb and add it to the bowl.

3. Add the onions to the pot, and cook for 1 to 2 minutes. Add the garlic, potatoes, carrots and the remaining teaspoon of salt and pepper. Cook for 3 to 4 minutes, stirring occasionally. Return the lamb to the pot with the barley. Stir to combine.

4. Add the water or chicken broth and bring to a boil. Once boiling, decrease the heat to low, cover and simmer for 30 to 45 minutes or until the liquid is absorbed and the lamb and barley are tender. Five minutes before the stew is finished, add the parsley. Stew will be thick. Taste for seasoning and add more salt and pepper as desired.

Northern Ireland Potato Bread

- 1 cup mashed potatoes
- 1 tablespoon unsalted butter or Irish butter
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup flour plus more for sprinkling

1. Place potatoes in a large, microwaveable bowl. Mix in the butter and salt. Heat on HIGH for 3 to 4 minutes or until warm. Mix in the flour until the mixture turns into a dough.

2. Split the dough into two equal pieces. Sprinkle a cutting board with the remaining flour. Roll the dough on the floured board to create two circles about 1/4-inch thick.

3. Cut the circles into quarters. Brown on both sides on a lightly greased hot griddle or heavy bottomed pan about 5-6 minutes. Serve warm with stew.

Résumé Mistakes To Avoid

(NAPSA)—For your résumé to stand out in a good way, avoid these common blunders:

- Typos: Spelling, grammar, and punctuation errors tell the reader you don't care. If you can't bother to proofread your résumé, why should someone bother to hire you? You may make mistakes without even realizing it, so filter your résumé through a professional editing service.

Listing responsibilities and nothing else on your résumé is not a good idea. Rattling off your duties says very little. Detail what you achieved instead.

- Sassy_chick_69@hotmail.com: No. Get a respectable account.

- Buzzwords: Motivated, team leader, results-oriented, proven track record... Too many adjectives looks like you're overcompensating for a lack of real skills.

- Weird hobbies: Employers like to see that you have passion, but the charity you support may be a better example than the Civil War re-enactment troupe you lead.

Jobs For Individuals With Disabilities

(NAPSA)—About 56.7 million people have some kind of disability, according to the U.S. Census Bureau. If you or someone you care about is ever among them, you may be encouraged to know that despite a U.S. Department of Labor report that says people with disabilities face an unemployment rate of more than 11 percent—double the national average—there is good news. Changes to the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 have resulted in increased efforts by employers to recruit candidates with disabilities.

More Opportunities To Work

The Rehabilitation Act has supported people with disabilities for more than 40 years by prohibiting the federal government, and businesses that work with the government, known as federal contractors, from discriminating based on a disability. Recent changes to the Act now require these federal contractors to take positive steps to recruit, hire, train, promote, and retain people with disabilities. The changes include a new goal for federal contractors to have people with disabilities make up 7 percent of their workforce. This means that thousands of the businesses that provide goods and services to the government now need to hire more people with disabilities. These companies are also required to invite job applicants to identify themselves as people with disabilities both during the application phase and after a job offer is extended.

A Ticket to Work

Another help is the Social Security's Ticket to Work program. The program offers free employment support services to people age 18 through 64, who receive disability benefits, and who want to work. There are 14 million Americans who are eligible for this voluntary program through which they can select a service provider to help them prepare for, and find, a job. The provider may be a state Vocational Recent changes in government regulations may mean more opportunities and a better life for people with disabilities and their families.

tional Rehabilitation Agency or an Employment Network—a public or private organization that contracts with Social Security to provide:

- career planning
- job leads and job placement
- ongoing employment support.

Many of these service providers have been using the change to Section 503 to build relationships with federal contractor employers in their communities to help them locate qualified candidates so that they can meet their recruiting and hiring goals.

Finding A Path To Financial Independence

The road to financial independence looks different for each person. Whether joining the workforce for the first time, or returning after a difficult diagnosis, there are challenges that each person must navigate. Taking advantage of new opportunities related to Section 503, and using the free resources offered through the Ticket to Work program can remove some of the speed bumps on the journey to work.

Your Yard

Tips And Tools For Your Spring Cleanup

(NAPSA)—There's good news for homeowners preparing for their first yard work of the season. Investing a little time and effort in selecting the right tools and techniques when it comes to your spring yard cleanup can make the process quicker, easier and greener.

Advances in battery technology are making it possible for the performance of cordless tools, like the OREGON Cordless options above, to match that of their gas-powered counterparts.

For starters, homeowners should be aware that advances in battery technology are making it possible for the performance of cordless tools to match that of their gas-powered counterparts.

Thanks to a new wave of battery-powered tools, such as the OREGON 40V MAX* Cordless Tool System, homeowners no longer have to sacrifice power for convenience. And because these tools produce zero emissions, battery-powered tools boast a huge environmental benefit over gas-powered tools.

To help make your cleanup easier—and greener—the experts at OREGON offer these tips:

- Choose the right tools. For instance, battery-powered tools start instantly, making it easy to tackle any yard task as soon as spring is here. With battery-powered tools, you'll be ready with a simple charge of the battery.
- Clean up the yard. Remove leaves and winter debris from lawn and shrub planting areas before new growth starts. Inspect trees and shrubs for winter damage, then use a chain saw or pole saw to trim damaged limbs back to the nearest healthy bud. Lightweight, cordless chain saws and pole saws can be excellent tools for this kind of task. They're also handy to have on hand for cleanup after spring storms.
- Prune trees and shrubs at the right time for maximum leaf growth. Most shrubs and ground covers are best pruned in early spring, before they start to grow. A pole saw, such as OREGON's new PS250, makes it easy to trim out-of-reach branches without the use of a ladder.

• Keep grass trimmed to ward off weeds and summer drought. Cut lawns low and re-establish edges along shrub beds, walks and driveways in early spring. Allow your lawn to grow taller as it enters late spring or summer to improve drought stress. The convenience offered by battery-powered trimmers can help make it easier for homeowners to achieve a well-trimmed lawn.

• Be a better neighbor. Compared to their gas-powered counterparts, cordless tools are low noise and quiet between cuts. And no gas means no pollution-producing exhaust emissions.

To learn more about battery-powered tools and see what products are available, visit www.OregonCordless.com.

*Fully charged battery voltage measured without a workload is 40 volts. Nominal voltage is 36 or 37 depending on battery used.

Protecting Ash Trees From An Invasive Pest

(NAPSA)—There's good news for homeowners who have ash trees on their property. There is a simple way to protect this valuable tree.

In addition to creating a beautiful landscape, the benefit from a mature, healthy ash tree is about $217 a year in increased property value, air quality, cooling in summer, reduced heating costs and more, according to the National Tree Benefit Calculator.

A simple injection can protect ash trees from EAB, a particularly invasive pest.

However, they can be vulnerable to what some consider the most devastating of all invasive insect tree pests of the last 20 years—the emerald ash borer (EAB), a beetle native to Asia that was introduced to North America in 2002. EAB larvae live under the bark of the ash tree and feed on the tree's transport tissue, starving the tree of nutrients.

EAB has already destroyed tens of millions of trees. In fact, most trees with EAB die in a few short years after the onset of symptoms. Fortunately, one particular trunk injection treatment from Arborjet, administered by a professional applicator, will protect ash trees against EAB for up to two years, in many cases even if the trees are currently under attack.

Professionally applied trunk injection treatments cost a fraction of what tree removal and replacement does, which can be as much as $1,000 per tree.

Homeowners can look for a number of signs to identify EAB in ash trees, including a thinning canopy (upper layers of leaves), branches sprouting low on the trunk, bark that peels easily with lines appearing underneath, small D-shaped holes in the bark, and increased woodpecker damage.

For more information, visit www.arborjet.com.

How To Create An Outdoor Oasis

(NAPSA)—Wow your friends and families at gatherings, pool parties or barbecues in your backyard by creating your own outdoor oasis. Build.com and Donny Osmond have teamed up to share 10 surprisingly easy and affordable ways to turn your backyard into a great space for both relaxing and entertaining.

- Stay Cool: Umbrellas are a great source of shade, whether in a backyard or front yard. They're easy to move to a favorite spot, come in different sizes, and let you create an enjoyable space to spend time in.
- A Colorful Approach To Plants: Planting in containers is an easy way to add variety and splashes of color to your outdoor space.
- Light Up The Night: Brighten up those dark, hard-to-navigate areas of your deck or patio with solar accent lighting. It's generally affordable, easy to install, and the end result looks terrific. It may also be a bright idea to put lights and lanterns up around exterior doorways.
- Good Clean Fun: If you live near a beach, river or lake, don't worry about tracking sand indoors. Simply install an outdoor shower.
- Beauty Is In The Details: Small accents, such as hurricane lanterns, lightweight throws and ceramic garden seats, show guests you know how to live the good life...outdoors.
- Cool It: If you have a covered porch or deck, a fan or fan-and-light combination can make staying comfortable during warm days easier. Just be sure to get an outdoor one with a DC motor or one that's Energy Star rated. They're 60 percent more efficient than conventional fanlight units. An online how-to guide at Build.com can make installation a breeze.
- Water-Saving Fountains: Build.com's popular fountains all recycle water so you can keep your fountain going even during dry seasons or droughts.
- Make Sure You Have Enough Seating: Whether wicker or wood, canvas or chrome, grouping comfortable, easy-to-clean chairs and benches such as those in the Donny Osmond collection around a garden table is key for parties, brunches and barbecue fun.
- This May Floor You: An outdoor rug is a terrific way to define a space and give your lounge area a little warmth when the night air cools. Build.com offers a vibrant selection of rugs.
- Look Online For Inspiration: To start decorating your outdoor area, check out the entire Donny Osmond Home accessories line at www.build.com.

Relaxing in your own backyard can be even better when you improve the area with accessories such as attractive, comfortable chairs.

A Great Roofing Option
(NAPSA)—Here's news many building owners may greet warmly: Using spray foam insulation as a roofing material can help make your place more comfortable and durable.

This is possible because spray polyurethane foam insulation offers versatility that most other insulation products do not. Depending on the project and type of spray foam, it can serve as an air barrier, a moisture barrier and can even offer structural support.

Spray foam insulation can be good on the roof as well as in the walls.

And this versatility has made certain high-density, closed-cell spray foam insulations an increasingly popular choice as a roofing material in many renovation and new construction projects.

Traditional roofing systems often depend on several layers of materials, such as waterproofing membranes, decking and insulation, to protect their buildings. A spray foam roof, however, can limit the layers of materials and decrease the weight on the building. Combined with a coating material, spray foam roofing can remove the need for a separate waterproofing membrane, as it's seamless and self-flashing, which helps keep water from seeping through weak spots, such as fasteners and seams. It can also be installed in a sloped manner, providing better drainage.

Additionally, it's excellent for installing around roof-mounted mechanical equipment, such as air-cooling units, or in narrow and other awkward spaces, as it is sprayed into place and then expands to fill the area. Spray foam roofing can also increase the structure's resistance to wind uplift, helping reduce potential damage.

With an effective life span that can exceed 30 years, a spray foam roof can be an excellent choice for many structures, providing insulation, strength and protection.

Choosing Stain Color

(NAPSA)—When it comes to giving your home natural warmth and beauty, few things compare to wood—and wood is surprisingly flexible when it comes to color. Whether you're refinishing your floors or cabinets, restoring a fine piece of furniture or creating a new look distressing an existing piece, wood stain can enhance the beauty of the wood and add to your style.

To give wood a rustic or vintage look, layer different colors and sand away parts of the top layer.

From traditional colors such as walnut or oak, to trendy espresso or weathered gray, you can choose from a variety of wood stains or create your own custom colors by mixing stains. The experts at the Minwax Company have tips to help:

- Each species of wood accepts stain differently. A dark walnut stain will look different on pine than on cherry. Test the stain on an inconspicuous area of the wood first to see the true color.
- Use a pre-stain wood conditioner to prevent streaks and blotches and ensure the wood absorbs the stain evenly.
- For beautiful, even color, thoroughly stir—not shake—the can to distribute pigments that may have settled on the bottom.
- If you create a custom color, measure each shade carefully and write it down so you can re-create it.
- For an antique or distressed look, layer lighter and darker stain colors. Once the stain has dried, lightly sand away the top layer in different spots and then protect the piece with a clear finish. See the Minwax Pinterest board "Distressed Furniture Projects" for more information.

Dehumidifiers Add Comfort, Keep Humidity In Check

(NAPSA)—No matter the season or the reason, when homeowners must eliminate damp or humid conditions to create a more comfortable home environment, a dehumidifier can be a valuable tool.

By reducing the level of moisture in basements, living rooms, bedrooms and other living areas in the home, a dehumidifier can also help limit the growth of mold and mildew, which thrive in high-humidity environments.

Homeowners who need to keep mold at bay often use a dehumidifier to reduce moisture.

In fact, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends the use of dehumidifiers to slow mold growth by keeping humidity levels at less than 50 percent—especially during damp and humid months.

There are a number of options available when choosing a dehumidifier, so it is important to consider where and how it will be used and what size is needed for your space, and also to compare the available features that can help with the overall user experience.

The new Honeywell dehumidifiers, for example, include 45-, 50- and 70-pint units for a variety of uses. These dehumidifiers also include detachable water tanks with full-tank alert and automatic shutoff; smart digital humidistat controls that sense room humidity and activate dehumidification as needed to maintain preset humidity levels; and full-feature digital controls with electronic display. And, each model is ENERGY STAR certified to help save on operating costs.

For more information and help choosing the dehumidifier that's right for you, visit www.jmatek.com/dehumidifiers/.

Living Landscapes Matter: The ABCs Of Drought-Friendly Landscapes

(NAPSA)—Living landscapes do more environmental good than many people realize.

Go Green To Be Green

Here are just some of the benefits of protecting green spaces, starting in your own backyard:

• Carbon dioxide. Carbon dioxide is the single greatest cause of climate change. Fortunately, scientists say, grass is the greatest carbon sink in the country, removing about six tons of carbon dioxide per acre, per year from the atmosphere.

• Storm water runoff. Rain water “sheets off” hard surfaces, such as parking lots, driveways and roads, picking up pollutants as the runoff makes its way to streams, rivers and lakes. Grassy areas, however, mitigate storm water runoff, slowing down and absorbing the water while cleansing it of dust and other impurities.

• Soil erosion. Grass controls erosion, not only by slowing down water runoff but by holding soil in place with its natural, dense and fibrous root system.

• Heat island effects. According to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), on a hot, sunny day, roof and pavement surface temperatures can be 50° to 90° hotter than the air. Synthetic turf, made from petroleum, can be even worse. A Brigham Young University study found synthetic turf’s temperatures were 37° higher than asphalt and 86° hotter than natural turf. Planting vegetation and grass and installing green roofs are among the strategies the EPA recommends to mitigate the heat island effect.

• Oxygen. Lawns are incredi-

To help families understand their options when it comes to their yards, kid-friendly TurfMutt was created.

ble oxygen-making machines. In fact, a 25-square-foot area of grass will supply enough oxygen to support one person for a whole day.

• Air quality. Research has shown that grasses remove pollutants such as carbon dioxide and ozone from the air. Grass plays a vital role in capturing dust, smoke and other harmful pollutants.

• Play space. Outdoor areas provide a safe place for children and pets to play and for families to enjoy. Numerous studies have demonstrated the health benefits of spending time outdoors, including improved mood and decreased anger, fatigue and depression.

• Biodiversity. Unlike artificial grass made of petroleum, real grass provides a habitat for birds and animals.

What To Do About Drought

The good news is, you don’t have to lose all those benefits to drought conditions. During a drought, it’s fine to let your lawn go brown. In fact, it is part of the natural plant cycle. It will turn green again when the rains return, and even a dormant lawn provides environmental benefits, while giving kids and pets a place to play.

What’s more, buffalo and Bermuda grass and other types require very little water, making them a smart choice for drought conditions, explains Kris Kiser, president and CEO of the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute (OPEI), the international trade association representing the small engine, utility vehicle and outdoor power equipment manufacturing industry. “The right thing to do is to find the right plants for the right place,” urges Kiser. “Rocks, mulch, hardscapes, pavers and cactus simply don’t cut it.

“If you xeriscape and put in rock gardens and mulch and cactus, it may not provide an adequate place for pets and kids to play,” adds Kiser.

Green Facts For Family Fun

To help families understand their options when it comes to their yards, the OPEI Education and Research Foundation came up with a kid-friendly character named TurfMutt and his sidekicks called the Outdoor Powers.

Created in partnership with Scholastic, Inc., the global children’s publishing, education and media company, TurfMutt is a national educational program for grades K through 5. The program offers fun activities and an online digital storybook for children. It’s featured on the websites of the EPA, U.S. Department of Education, U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Green Building Council’s Center for Green Schools, and U.S. Forest Services’ Climate Change Live.

Avoid Gutter Cleaning

(NAPSA)—There’s good news, bad news and better news for people who don’t like to clean out their gutters.

The good news is, you won’t have to if you get any of the more than 40 different versions of gutter covers around.

The bad news is, covered gutters are breeding grounds for mosquitoes and for nesting bees, wasps, even small rodents. Torrential rains can overwhelm the cover, causing ground erosion. The covered gutter can increase the chance for damaging winter ice-dams.

Stay out of the gutter: Louvered gutters don’t collect leaves so they don’t have to be cleaned out every year.

The better news: There is an alternative. The time-tested Rain-handler Rain Dispersal System has a patented louver design so gutters don’t collect leaves or debris and require no cleaning or maintenance. Gentle, rain-sized drops spread out, away from your home. You’ll never have to climb a dangerous ladder to clean gutters again.

I wasn't looking for a discount funeral. I was looking for an affordable one.

Most "discount funerals" mean less money, less service, less attention to detail, less of everything. An affordable funeral is a complete funeral based first on the needs of the family, then priced to fit within their budget.

Great Grilling

Fire Up The Fun With Extreme Burgers

(NAPSA)—Nothing says summer like hamburgers and hot dogs sizzling on the grill. In fact, according to the 25th annual Weber GrillWatch Survey, more than 80 percent of grill owners say that burgers are their favorite thing to grill, followed by hot dogs (75 percent).

To celebrate America's love affair with hamburgers, brats and other classic grilled fare, Weber Grills has released "Weber's Big Book of Burgers"—their first cookbook dedicated to fueling America's passion for backyard classics.

"This book is truly a start-to-finish guide to throwing the ultimate backyard bash," says New York Times best-selling cookbook author Jamie Purviance. "Each of the 160 recipes features a photo and goes beyond the burger, with fun twists on hot dogs, side dishes and even cocktails."

"Weber's Big Book of Burgers" also explores famous regional favorites in its America the Burgerful section, including Santa Fe, where the green chili cheeseburger rules, to Columbia, South Carolina's own pimento cheeseburger.

An in-depth Sausage and Hot Dog Geography section salutes regional favorites like Classic Chicago-Style Hot Dogs topped with pickled "sport" peppers and neon-green relish, and New York Hot Dogs with Sweet Red Onions.

Try this Ultimate Backyard Classic from "Weber's Big Book of Burgers."

- Extreme Burgers
Serves: 4
Prep Time: 25 minutes
Grilling Time: 6-8 minutes
- 4 slices thick-cut bacon
 - ½ cup mayonnaise
 - 1 teaspoon minced garlic
 - Kosher salt
 - Freshly ground black pepper
 - 2 ripe Hass avocados
 - 1 tablespoon fresh lime juice
 - 2 teaspoons minced garlic
 - 2 pounds ground chuck (80 percent lean)
 - 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 - ½ teaspoon smoked paprika
 - ½ teaspoon onion powder
 - 8 thin slices cheddar cheese
 - 4 hamburger buns, split
 - 4 leaves Boston lettuce
 - 1 ripe beefsteak tomato, cut crosswise into 4 slices about ½ inch thick
- In a skillet over medium heat, fry the bacon until crisp, 10 to 12 minutes, turning occasionally. Drain on paper towels.

Whisk the mayo ingredients, including ¼ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Mash the guacamole ingredients, including ½ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper.

Mix the ground chuck with the Worcestershire sauce, 1 teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon pepper, the smoked paprika and onion powder, and then gently form eight patties of equal size, each about ½ inch thick and a little wider than the buns.

Refrigerate the patties until ready to grill. Prepare the grill for direct cooking over medium-high heat (400° to 500° F). Grill the patties over direct medium-high heat, with the lid closed, until cooked to medium doneness (160° F), 6 to 8 minutes, turning once.

During the last 30 seconds to 1 minute of grilling time, place a slice of cheese on each patty to melt, and toast the buns, cut side down, over direct heat.

Build each burger on a bun with garlic mayo, a lettuce leaf, a tomato slice, two patties, as much guacamole as you like, a slice of bacon (torn in half) and more garlic mayo. Serve immediately.

Shirley Temple Mug
 Carlyle, $75; Horace Greeley, $75; Mark Twain, $300; and George Bernard Shaw, $150. Some of his more obscure personalities generally sell in the $35-$50 range.

Q. I purchased a Shirley Temple cobalt mug in a shop for $20. When I got it home it looked too new to be from the 1930s, so I took it back and was refused a refund. — Don, Salt Lake City, Utah
 A. The market is flooded with fake Shirley Temple mugs, so buyers have to do their homework and educate themselves about reproductions and fakes. One tip-off concerning your transaction was the price. Most Shirley Temple mugs, authentic ones, sell in the $35-$50 range. Twenty dollars was a little too good to be true. When making a purchase, ask the dealer if a refund is possible if you decide you are unhappy with the merchandise. If he or she says no, walk away.

Q. I purchased a Victor Victrola at an auction that requires steel needles. My problem is that I can't find any in my area. Can you help me? — Hubert, Sun City West, Arizona
 A. The Needle Doctor has a cure for your problem with one of the largest inventories of needles and styluses in the country for both wind-up machines and phonographs of a more recent vintage. His steel needles come in packets of 25 for $6 plus postage. Contact is Brian at 6006 Excelsior Blvd., St. Louis Park, MN 55416; info@needdoctor.com; and 800-229-0644.

Q. I have two framed prints, one identified as being a drawing of Richard Owen, 1804-1892, and the other Sir William Crookes, 1832-1919. Both are signed "Spy." What are these prints, and are they worth anything? — Connie, Mesa, Arizona
 A. Leslie Matthew Ward was a Victorian-era British portrait and caricaturist who signed his work "Spy." He drew 1,325 cartoons for Vanity Fair magazine between 1873 and 1911. His autobiography, "Forty Years of Spy," was published in 1915. His work is, indeed, collectible. Typical prices are caricatures of Thomas

 The modern violin has been around for roughly 500 years. It was designed in the 1500s, some say by Andrea Amati, an Italian lute maker.

Steps To Keep Your Child Alcohol-Free This Summer

(NAPSA)—Summertime can bring a flurry of social activities for children and teens. Now that school is out, invitations to attend picnics, parties, sleepovers and other events with their friends may be pouring in. And with them comes a greater risk for underage drinking, as alcohol is often present at these events.

First-time alcohol use among kids increases between the months of May and July. However, you don't need to stop your kids from participating in summer events to keep them from drinking. Parents have the power to prevent their children from drinking alcohol—even more than they may realize.

The Dangers of Underage Drinking

Underage drinking is a serious problem in the United States, and often starts much earlier than most parents realize:

- 10 percent of 9- to 10-year-olds have already started drinking.
- More than 20 percent of underage drinkers begin drinking before age 13.
- 92 percent of the alcohol consumed by 12- to 14-year-olds is in the form of binge drinking.

Studies show that children who use alcohol:

- Have higher rates of academic problems and poor school performance compared with nondrinkers;
- Are more likely to be sexually active at earlier ages, to have sexual intercourse more often and to have unprotected sex; and
- Are more likely to have health issues such as depression and anxiety disorders.

Moreover, children who are frequent binge drinkers (nearly 1 million high school students nationwide) are more likely to engage in risky behaviors, including using other drugs such as marijuana and cocaine.

So What Can Parents Do?

Studies show that parents have a significant influence on underage drinking. Many children identify their parents as the leading factor in their decision to drink or not to drink. Here are three steps parents can take to prevent their kids from drinking alcohol:

1. Serve as a positive role model for your child. Do not drink excessive amounts of alcohol. Do not drink and drive. If you suffer from alcohol-related problems, seek professional help.

Parents can keep their kids from drinking alcohol.

2. Monitor your child for signs that may indicate involvement in underage drinking. These signs may include:

- Switching friends, along with a reluctance to let you get to know their new friends,
- Rebelling against family rules,
- A lack of involvement in their former interests,
- Changes in mood, defensiveness, or a "nothing matters" attitude,
- Lapses in memory,
- Bloodshot eyes,
- Lack of coordination, and
- Slurred speech.

3. Last, but not least, talk to your child about drinking. A recent study found that 80 percent of children believe their parents should have a say in whether they drink alcohol. Parents who do not talk to their child about underage drinking may indirectly influence their child's decision.

To help parents start the conversation about underage drinking, download the Talk. They Hear You. app, developed by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA). The interactive app prepares parents to practice talking to their kids about the risks associated with drinking alcohol. It includes questions to ask and ideas for keeping the conversation going. The free app is available for download on iTunes, Google Play, the Windows Store and the Windows Phone Store. Having a conversation with your child about alcohol may be one of the most important conversations you ever have.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The week promises a calmer aspect. Although there might be some lingering effects of a recent job problem, things should continue to ease up. Also expect a change in a home-based situation.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you feel uneasy about a colleague's suggestion, it might be that your wise inner Taurean guide is alerting you to a potential problem. Stepping away could turn out to be the right thing to do.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A family get-together opens up new opportunities for renewing ties. It can be especially effective in dealing with disagreements that should have been, but never were, fully resolved.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You might be surprised at the response you get to a recent decision. You might be even more surprised by the reasons behind it. In any event, you'll learn something important.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your aspects favor resolving any tensions left over from a recent incident. You might want to consider having a "clear the air" talk as soon as you can. A call can lead to a change of plans.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Avoid repeating yourself. If your first few efforts fail to connect, maybe it's because you haven't found the right way to get your message across. Try changing your approach.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Good intentions plus a strong resolve to succeed can take you where you want to go. Don't give up just because someone suggests you might be pursuing an impossible cause.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) An unexpected setback can be a blessing in disguise. Use it to recheck your facts and how you've presented them. Meanwhile, look for ways to expand your contacts.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You should finally be seeing a positive change in a recent personal situation. However, an on-the-job matter might need more attention than you realized. Stay with it.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) While you should be close to completing an important matter, you still need to focus on being focused. But things ease up in time for weekend fun with family and friends.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A certain matter might take an unexpected turn. Don't simply accept it; ask for an explanation. What you learn might be helpful in shifting the situation around to your benefit.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Projecting a positive attitude helps restore calm even when you're confronting some pretty stormy situations. Stay the course. The outcome will be well worth your efforts.

BORN THIS WEEK: While you enjoy tradition and stability, you also appreciate the good things that change can bring.

napkins around the table. Each person can be given a dessert plate and butter knife used to cut scones or cake into pieces or for spreading butter and cream.

When it's time to sit down, let the children be responsible for passing the milk, sugar, cake or scones.

- How to brew a proper pot of tea:
1. Boil a kettle of water.
 2. Pour 1 inch of hot water into a china or silver teapot. Swirl to warm, and then pour it out.
 3. Into the pot, measure 1 teaspoon of tea per person and 1 extra teaspoon for the pot.
 4. Add rapidly boiling water to the pot and steep for five minutes.
 5. Strain tea into teacups.
 6. Dispose of used tea leaves in compost pile or scatter them around your growing roses.

Serve with whole milk if you wish. It gives tea a nice color and rounds out the flavor. Children tend to prefer it that way.

THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On March 22, 1765, to raise funds to pay off debts and defend the new American territories won from the French, the British government passes the Stamp Act. It levied a tax on all materials printed in the colonies, from newspapers and pamphlets to playing cards and even dice.

• On March 25, 1911, the Triangle Shirtwaist Company factory in New York City burns down, killing 145 workers. Owners had refused to install sprinkler systems and take other safety measures in case they needed to burn down the shop to collect fire insurance, a not uncommon practice at the time.

• On March 23, 1937, Craig Breedlove, the first person to reach land speeds of up to 600 mph in a jet-powered vehicle, is born. He designed a three-wheeled, rocket-shaped vehicle powered by a surplus military jet engine and dubbed it the Spirit of America.

• On March 27, 1945, Nazi Germany launches its last V-2 long-range rockets, killing 162 civilians in England and Belgium. The V-2 could carry a 2,000-pound warhead and became the precursor of the ICBM of the postwar era.

• On March 26, 1953, American medical researcher Dr. Jonas Salk announces that he has successfully tested a vaccine against the virus that causes polio. In 1952 — an epidemic year for the crippling disease — there were 58,000 new cases reported in the U.S.

• On March 21, 1965, in the name of black voting rights, 3,200 civil-rights demonstrators, led by Martin Luther King Jr., begin a historic 54-mile march from Selma, Alabama, to the state capitol at Montgomery.

• On March 24, 1989, the worst oil spill in U.S. territory begins when the supertanker Exxon Valdez runs aground on a reef in Alaska's remote Prince William Sound. An estimated 11 million gallons of oil was released and eventually covered 1,300 miles of coastline.
