SCRAPING LIFE'S FLAKES AWAY

This summer has been the summer of scraping and painting. YUK! Two of my least favorite things, along with mowing the lawn and cleaning the bathroom. But as I thought about it, scraping and painting is a good metaphor for life's stagnations. At some point in our lives, we all require a good scraping, at which point you are blessed with a clean work surface.. like a piece of bare wood. You prime it with your dreams for the future. In your mind all these little thought bubbles need to be brushed into a finish that makes sense and the completed product will create a finish that will take your breath away, simply because it is so beautiful. If you're doubly lucky it will be more dazzling than you imagined. Perhaps you added some colorful trim work or ornate detail. Take for example our living room. The walls are beige, but when we added some color to the trim and a sizable handmade fireplace to the wall, it became more spectacular than we originally envisioned. Ambitions and dreams are like that too. For example, I dreamed of having a bike. Sounds nice, but the addition of a bell and a sturdy wicker basket made this dream even more delightful! Not only could I ride my bike, but I could ring the bell to let people know I had arrived and share with them the wine carried in the nice sturdy basket. Every once in a while we need to scrap away the flakes of life to expose some bare material in order to start building again. To stay the same and never grow and continue to learn and dream would be a shame. As I am scraping away all the flakes and dead paint on the flower bed I am reminded that it is OK to scrap away life's flakes at times too. Take stock of what is working and what is not. Some things that may have brought joy before, no longer do. That is OK. Be grateful they did bring you joy when they did. Sometimes as we grow we need to do a little inside remodeling, sometimes a little outside remodeling is needed too. If you no longer feel fulfilled, do a little scraping and see what flakes off and put a new coat of happiness on it. Or if your finish is physically bringing you down and perhaps you no longer feel vital or energetic, scrap away all that junk in your cupboards into the trash. Then begin to fill your cabinets with the joy of knowing you are doing your body good. Keep your lean, mean virus machine in tip top shape both mentally and physically. When it comes to your finish, sometimes it is good to use a good primer. You know, really start those thought bubbles going to make sure it sticks a while. A plan can help ensure the finish lasts. But oftentimes it's just as rewarding to dip that brush in some color and start painting, the brighter the hue the better! The fun and excitement of true spontaneity, you just never know what the remodel will look like. How could you benefit from a good scraping and fresh painting?

ADVANCE >>> Your Professional and Personal Development

Instructors Wanted

Do you have a special talent or skill that you would love to teach to others? Can you provide valuable information that otherwise is difficult to find? The BEST (Business and Employee Skills Training) Center is always looking for new ideas for non-credit courses and exceptional instructors to teach them.

Workforce Training and Development Programs

We are working to build a skilled workforce by offering industry-recognized, in-demand programs that create and improve workforce skills necessary to thrive in today's labor force. These courses are designed to offer instruction that is focused on functional career skills and can act as the foundation to advance your education.

Personal Enrichment Courses

Our goal is to provide a broad variety of courses that enhance knowledge, explore new interests, or develop a skill. Continuing education courses can include topics in Fine Arts, history, cooking, special skills, fitness, languages, etc. that offer unique opportunities to gain exposure, skills, and knowledge.

Driving Programs

The BEST Center is currently looking for a certified Driving Education instructor.

Instructor Qualifications:

- Enthusiastic about subject and teaching
- Excellent communicator
- Flexibility
- Interactive, motivating, and interesting
- Personal organization, preparation, and punctuality
- Prior teaching experience
- Strong, practical experience in subject

All instructors are part-time. You will teach depending on your availability and/or demand of the program. A Non-Credit Course Proposal Form will be required for courses you are offering. Every course requires a minimum number of students to run. You must be able to design and teach the proposed course(s). A resume with references will be required. Any criminal background must be acknowledged.

If you are interested in teaching a course, please contact:

The Insurance Policy that Protects Trapping in New York State.

The New York State Trappers Association was formed in 1938 by a small group of trappers at O.L. Butcher's Adirondack camp on the Blue Ridge. In attendance was E.J. Dailey, O.L. Butcher and Pete Rickard. We believe the first New York State Trappers Association Convention was held in 1941 at Piseco Lake on Labor Day Weekend and has been held on this weekend ever since. It was held at Piseco Lake until the NYSTA outgrew the facilities. In 1978 it was moved to West Winfield and until 1994 was moved from fairground to fairground statewide. In 1994 we were welcomed by the Herkimer County Fair Board. A close alliance was formed with them and the New York State Trappers Association has hosted their Labor Day weekend Convention and Sportsman's Show at the Herkimer County Fairgrounds ever since. At the convention and Sportsman show you can find all kinds of sportsman supplies, kid's activities, trapping supplies, tanned fur, wildlife paintings and photographs, and more. At the NYSTA booth in dealer building #1, you can purchase a membership, and pick up some cool T-shirts, sweatshirts, hats and NYSTA merchandise of all types. This year the New York State Trappers Association welcomes Rose Anna Moore to our convention. Rose was one of the participants featured on season 8 of the History Channel's "Alone" series on television that aired in July and August of this year. Rose will have a booth in building #1 to meet and visit with anyone that stops by. On Friday, September 3rd, Rose will give a special presentation, in the demo area, about her experiences on the series and what it was like being "Alone" for months on Grizzly Island. Don't miss this special presentation!

NEW YORK STATE TRAPPER'S ASSOCIATION

The Insurance Policy that Protects Trapping in New York State.

The New York State Trappers Association was formed in 1938 by a small group of trappers at O.L. Butcher's Adirondack camp on the Blue Ridge. In attendance was E.J. Dailey, O.L. Butcher and Pete Rickard. We believe the first New York State Trappers Association Convention was held in 1941 at Piseco Lake on Labor Day Weekend and has been held on this weekend ever since. It was held at Piseco Lake until the NYSTA outgrew the facilities. In 1978 it was moved to West Winfield and until 1994 was moved from fairground to fairground statewide. In 1994 we were welcomed by the Herkimer County Fair Board. A close alliance was formed with them and the New York State Trappers Association has hosted their Labor Day weekend Convention and Sportsman's Show at the Herkimer County Fairgrounds ever since. At the convention and Sportsman show you can find all kinds of sportsman supplies, kid's activities, trapping supplies, tanned fur, wildlife paintings and photographs, and more. At the NYSTA booth in dealer building #1, you can purchase a membership, and pick up some cool T-shirts, sweatshirts, hats and NYSTA merchandise of all types. This year the New York State Trappers Association welcomes Rose Anna Moore to our convention. Rose was one of the participants featured on season 8 of the History Channel's "Alone" series on television that aired in July and August of this year. Rose will have a booth in building #1 to meet and visit with anyone that stops by. On Friday, September 3rd, Rose will give a special presentation, in the demo area, about her experiences on the series and what it was like being "Alone" for months on Grizzly Island. Don't miss this special presentation!

Signs of a HEART ATTACK

Some heart attacks are sudden and intense, but most heart attacks start slowly, with mild pain. Often people affected aren't sure what's wrong and wait too long before getting help. Symptoms include:

CHEST DISCOMFORT. Most heart attacks involve discomfort in the center of the chest that lasts more than a few minutes, or that goes away and comes back. It can feel like uncomfortable pressure, squeezing, fullness or pain.

DISCOMFORT IN OTHER AREAS OF THE UPPER BODY. Symptoms can include pain or discomfort in one or both arms, the back, neck, jaw or stomach.

SHORTNESS OF BREATH with or without chest discomfort.

OTHER SIGNS may include breaking out in a cold sweat, nausea or lightheadedness

Women are somewhat more likely than men to experience other common symptoms, particularly SHORTNESS OF BREATH, NAUSEA/VOMITING, AND BACK/JAW PAIN.

If you or someone with you has one or more of these signs, don't delay!

Call 9-1-1 immediately!

7 ways to incorporate more blueberries into your diet

2. Whip up blueberry relish. Diced fresh blueberries tossed with onion, diced tomato and various seasonings can be used to top fish tacos or spread on toast rounds.

3. Create a fruit salad. Blend together various fresh fruits into a delicious fruit salad. Squeeze fresh lemon juice on top to prevent browning of the fruits used.

4. Whip up overnight oats. Mix equal parts of almond milk, oats and Greek yogurt together in a container and let sit overnight. In the morning, mix in favorite some blueberries. Add a little pure vanilla extract for added flavor.

5. Add blueberries to batters. Mix blueberries into pancake or waffle batters to add extra nutrients to meals.

6. Flavor your drinks. Drop blueberries into water, fruit juices or lemonade for a nutritional boost. Dress up sangria with blueberries for an added punch to this popular cocktail.

7. Mix up energy bites. Pair nuts, oats, chia seeds, flax seeds, and other healthy ingredients with blueberries. Utilize maple syrup or honey to keep ingredients together, and bake until golden brown. Many different recipes are available online for these types of treats.

Blueberries make nutritious additions to any diet, and there are various ways to incorporate more of this flavorful fruit into your meals. •

Fruits and vegetables are vital components of a nutritious diet, and few foods pack a more nutritional punch than blueberries.

Verywell Health says blueberries are touted as a superfood because they are full of antioxidants, vitamins, fiber, and phytosterols, which are micronutrients that can significantly lower LDL cholesterol and reduce the risk of heart disease. Blueberries also are low in saturated fat and may help lower triglyceride levels. A study published in the Journal of the Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics found that women who consume blueberries on a daily basis have lower blood pressure. Furthermore, researchers in Finland determined a berry-rich diet supports healthy aging and controls the risk of chronic diseases.

Enjoying a blueberry muffin or a cup of blueberries with breakfast are two ways to consume more blueberries. But those are not the only ways to incorporate more blueberries into your diet.

1. Make a smoothie. Blend blueberries into a smoothie containing frozen yogurt and other fruit. Drink it any time of the day as a filling snack or even a small meal.

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

Travel Thoughts By Kim
Let's go on an adventure together...to Costa Rica!

I'm really excited to take you on a trip to Costa Rica that I was able to do a couple weeks ago – yep, I went on an actual recent trip. This was a very different trip for me than my usual jaunts. I have never been to Costa Rica...or anywhere in Central America, for that matter. I also stayed at an All-Inclusive resort for the first time ever! So, very different experience for me in a lot of ways.

I absolutely LOVED Costa Rica! It is a Central American country with a Caribbean side and a Pacific Ocean side. It is bordered to the north by Nicaragua and to the southeast by Panama. I was in Guanacaste province on the Pacific Ocean side. Spanish is their native language, but just about everyone I encountered also spoke English. So, other than a little difficulty with some of the strong accents, I didn't run into much of a language barrier or problem communicating. Be sure to go to the blog link at the end of this article for more interesting information about Costa Rica.

One of several beautiful pools to choose from at the Riu Palace Costa Rica with a wide variety of activities throughout the day.

This is the face of pure joy and by far my favorite photo taken during my trip to Costa Rica. It was the first time I had ever been on a catamaran with sails out on the ocean and it was the thrill of a lifetime!

The stunning Lianos del Cortes Waterfalls on a day tour to Palo Verde National Park in Guanacaste, Costa Rica.

The resort had so much to offer – multiple beautiful pools, activities and fitness sessions throughout the day, wonderful entertainment each night, several bars – including a swim-up bar, and lounges. And, it is kid-friendly, as well. There is also a very nice beach on the ocean just off the resort property that you have access to, as well. And, I have to mention the food! They have an awesome buffet restaurant, multiple specialty restaurants, and pool-side lunch and snack bars. I spent my first partial day and my first full day mostly in or by the pool and could have been very happy just staying right on the resort the entire time. But...I'm not that kind of a traveler – I like getting out on excursions/ tours and seeing more of the area I'm visiting.

I booked tours for my last two full days. There are awesome tour company reps on the resort to help you pick the best tours. I decided on the first day to take a sunset catamaran cruise out on the Pacific Ocean. We were picked up about noon and sailed to a cove where we were able to swim or snorkel or just stay on the boat and enjoy the sun and views – that's what I did. Then, we had a delicious lunch and put up the sails and soared out into the ocean where we saw sea turtles and dolphins and one of the crew caught an octopus for the crew dinner after the tour was over. Then, we sailed back at sunset – it was absolutely amazing!

On the next day, I caught a bus at 7:30 am and we went to Palo Verde National Park where we stopped at Lianos del Cortes Waterfalls – stunning!!! Then, we took a river boat cruise down the Bebedero River, where we saw all kinds of animals and birds and had lunch at the end of the cruise – amazing!!! We also did a Liberia City Tour – the capital of Guanacaste – and stopped at a large gift shop. It was an all-day adventure that was awesome!

A Guanacaste Tree – the national tree of Costa Rica – seen on a river boat cruise down the Bebedero River in Palo Verde National Park. On this river cruise we saw crocodiles, basilisk lizards – aka Jesus Christ Lizards because they run on top of the water, tiger herons, iguana, kingfishers, pink Roseate spoonbills, monkeys, and other amazing critters!

One thing you need to be aware of if leaving the country right now is that everyone entering or returning to the USA is required to have a negative Covid test result within 72 hours of entry regardless of vaccination status. I have to say I was nervous about that --- what if I got a positive test result? I wouldn't be able to return to my own county until I quarantined for ten days. The resort has medical personnel on site to provide the tests free of charge and if the guest tests positive, they provide quarantine accommodations at no additional charge for the 10 day requirement. But, still....I was really nervous about that. But, it all turned out fine – my results were negative. The resort took Covid precautions VERY seriously – it was actually quite impressive everywhere I went, but especially so on the resort. And I...as well as everyone I saw....had a fabulous time!

I can't really do the trip justice in the space I have here, so I really encourage you to visit my blog post for LOTS of photos and stories and interesting information about Costa Rica: <https://thoughtsbykim.com/2021/08/13/2021-costa-rica-adventure/>. There was so much more I wanted to do, but didn't have the time...but, you know what that means....I have to go back and I absolutely will!

Happy Adventuring,
Kim Pritt

Certified Nurse-Midwives: What You Need to Know

There are few milestones in a mother's life that are as memorable as giving birth. Still the decisions an expecting mother makes surrounding prenatal care, labor, and delivery are critical in shaping not only her emotional experience, but the health outcomes for both her and her baby. Given that, many women turn to an OB-GYN to help them through pregnancy and delivery—and to make any necessary decisions should complications arise.

But that's not the only option.

An increasing number of women are choosing a Certified Nurse-Midwife instead of an OB-GYN for care during pregnancy, along with other healthcare services including yearly health checkups, gynecological exams, family planning, postpartum care, contraceptive counseling, prescriptions, and breastfeeding support.

What is a midwife?

Most people think of midwives in connection with pregnancy and birth despite the fact that they can provide comprehensive, individualized gynecologic and obstetric care for women of all ages—from adolescence through pregnancy, menopause, and beyond. Nurse-midwives are highly skilled healthcare professionals that have access to current advances in medicine, working closely and collaboratively with OB-GYN physicians. Unlike OB-GYN's, midwives don't perform surgical procedures like cesarean sections. Still, there is growing evidence that consistent midwifery-led care throughout pregnancy is linked with better outcomes for both mom and baby.

Women who saw nurse-midwives throughout pregnancy:

- Are less likely to have an epidural or episiotomy
- Incur lower maternity care costs
- Have lower intervention rates
- Fewer recovery complications
- Are more informed about their health care

THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

DATA PRIVACY AND CYBER SECURITY LAW

Cyber security and data privacy law is rapidly growing. As more of the working world moved online, "https://thehill.com/policy/cybersecurity/493198-fbi-sees-spike-in-cyber-crime-reports-during-coronavirus-pandemic" cyber security compromises skyrocketed. The global legal community remains committed to developing new, protective regulations to better safeguard individuals' private information. Laws regarding client and consumer data protection continue to evolve, while reputable companies are implementing legal guidance and tech support to protect their customers. Data breaches happen with increasing frequency, courtesy of criminal hackers, making personal financial data easily compromised and exposing individuals to financial ruin and enduring frustration. Many law practices employ expert attorneys that navigate financial crime and liability. They mitigate losses when one is unknowingly victimized by hackers and hold the company who failed to protect their data accountable.

Data breaches and privacy issues can lead to costly unplanned expenses and business disruptions, as well as regulatory enforcement actions and potential lawsuits. The mere occurrence of a data breach can do significant damage to a business's reputation. Businesses that do not take adequate measures to protect against cyber events – legally, operationally and technologically – and prepare to respond to those events often put themselves in jeopardy. To schedule a free consultation, please call the Law Office of MACK & PACE at (585)798-1000. We emphasize business law, criminal law, family law, and estate planning.
