Researchers have discovered that the concentration in the blood of the antioxidants vitamin C and beta-carotene are significantly lower in patients with mild dementia than in control persons, according to a study published in the Journal of Alzheimer's Disease. Alzheimer's Disease (AD) is a neurodegenerative disease; alterations in the brain caused by amyloidbeta-plaques, degeneration of fibrillae and a loss of synapses are held responsible for the characteristic symptoms. Oxidative stress, which constrains the exploitation of oxygen in the human body, is suspected to promote the development of AD.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Aubagio (teriflunomide), a once-a day tablet for the treatment of adults with relapsing forms of multiple sclerosis (MS). MS is a chronic, inflammatory, autoimmune disease of the central nervous system that disrupts communication between the brain and other parts of the body. It is among the most common causes of neurological disability in young adults and occurs at least twice as frequently in women as in men. For most people with MS, episodes of worsening function (relapses) are initially followed by recovery periods (remissions). Over time, recovery periods may be incomplete, leading to progressive decline.

A study of patients treated with the anticoagulant medication warfarin suggests that resuming warfarin therapy after an episode of gastrointestinal tract bleeding was associated with lower risk for thrombosis (blood clot) and death, according to a report in the Archives of Internal Medicine.

Baal worship was made to appear as Christianity (followers of Christ) so the people would accept false man made commandments of lawlessness as their doctrines (Dan 7:25, Mt 15:9). Implanted in 325 A.D. and forced upon the people until it was accepted as righteous worship, even to this day. The 10 commandments are contorted to make some appearance of validity, the remaining 603 are not mention. 365 negative commands (days in a year), 248 positive commands (an ascribed number of bones and organs in the human body). Many try to make the Bible support their Baal worship and call Christ Lord, then refuse His written Holy Words (Jn 14:24), which proves they have no love for the Truth (Jn 14:6,15)! Some teach Christ changed at the cross, which also goes against scripture (Mt 5:17-19, Heb 13:8). The Holy Truth shall never pass (Mt 24:35)!
