Whirlpool Making a Difference At

Benton Harbor Area Schools with Care Counts Program

A new partnership between Benton Harbor Area Schools and Whirlpool Corporation means students who lack access to washers and dryers at home can have their clothes washed at school. Whirlpool's Laura Fletty tells us the company has brought its Care Counts laundry program to the district. It's put washers and dryers into the school buildings.

"Care Counts was started about six years ago," Fletty said. "What happened was a teacher came forth identifying a need for her school, and at the time, we were happy to assist. We provided some washers and dryers to her school, and what we found was the data was overwhelming, that this was actually helping more significantly than we could have ever imagined. As we dug in and did the research, what we found was that lack of access to clean clothes has a much larger impact on students throughout the United States than we ever expected, and it really became the foundation and the kernel to the Care Counts program that we now have in place. Since then, we've expanded into 134 schools in 36 states, plus the District of Columbia. So, throughout the United States."

Whirlpool says one in five students lack access to clean clothing, which makes them more likely to miss school. It also says kids who miss school are seven times more likely to drop out.

Fletty told us the Care Counts program was not officially in Benton Harbor Area Schools until recently. Whirlpool approached Superintendent Andrae Townsel about making the district a partner in the program and he was enthusiastic. Townsel spoke about Fun For All, Happy Fall 2021!

Greetings my MailMax friends! It has been a while, far too long! Summer has come and gone in a blink of an eye. Here we are in one of the most beautiful areas (in all seasons) but especially fall! I can't wait for all the beautiful fall colors. I also love different seasons for the different beverages that are released. We have some new beverages to cover and some upcoming events too.

Limited Edition: Bud Light Seltzer Fall Flannel Variety Pack

This variety pack has all the flavors of the season. "We're going all in on the season with our new Limited Edition Bud Light Seltzer Fall Flannel pack. Four flavors made for a hay riding, apple picking, and corn mazing enthusiast in your life: Maple Pear, Apple Crisp, Toasted Marshmallow, and of course, the guiltiest of Fall's guilty pleasures, Pumpkin Spice. So, dust off your leather boots, find your biggest scarf, and start practicing your leaf-throwing boomerang moves, because fall is here." (www.budlight.com)

These seltzers com in at 5% ABV, 100 calories, 1 gram of sugar and 2 carbs per 12 oz can. I can tell you these are FULL of flavor and delight, and taste pretty true the flavors.

Cider Mill Edition:

Blake's Bushel of Blake's

Blake's Hard Cider Company (Armada, MI) packs a fall punch with this lovely fall cider pack. This just hit our warehouse late this week, so if you're a cider lover, make sure to check shelves soon!

"Introducing a perfect variety of the Blake's Cider Mill fall experience. We created a pack of ciders that provide the taste and smells of your favorite fall memories...and then we added a touch of alcohol to warm you up. Grab your boots and a flannel, and enjoy hard ciders that taste fresh baked, hand dipped, and straight out of the orchard. It's fall good!" (www.blakeshardcider.com).

This 12-pack variety includes their flagship Flannel Mouth, which is a traditional apple cider. Apple Lantern, which is a roasted pumpkin cider, Caramel Apple which tastes just like a caramel apple, and Apple Pie. It is like drinking grandma's yummy apple pie.

All come in around 6.5% ABV and are naturally gluten free! These are fabulous fall choice!

Fall Fun: Area Events

If you aren't doing anything this weekend, Friday, October 1st kicks off The Four Flags Area Apple festival in Niles. Friday night features the band P.S Dump your Boyfriend at 7:30pm. The fun continues all day Saturday with plenty to do with the whole family. Saturday evening features the band 1985. There will be beverages available for purchase.

Saturday, October 9th join the fun down in New Buffalo at the 15th Annual Wine & Harvest Festival, which will feature 18 local wineries, breweries, and cider makers. Cost of Admission is just $5, and it runs from noon to 9 pm. There will plenty of fun for everyone with food, live music, arts and crafts, and of course...tasty beverages.

That's it for me! Hope you have a wonderful fall season. Remember to always enjoy responsibly, and I will see you next time.

STUDENT ATHLETE of the week

Name: Samantha Dietz & Grace Chisek
School: Watervliet High School

This week's Midwest Family Athletes of the week are Samantha Dietz (left) and Grace Chisek (right) of Watervliet High school Volleyball.

In last weeks matchup with Saugatuck, not only did Watervliet come away with the road victory, but both Sam and Grace made their way into the MHSAA record book.

Grace set the record for most assists in a match with 53. Sam set the record for most kills in a match with 35.

Outside of the volleyball court, Sam and Grace hold 4.0 GPA's and are both members of the Watervliet basketball and softball teams.

Chamber Forum for City Commission Race
 Arthur Havlicek,
 President,
 SMR Chamber

As a 501(c)6 advocacy organization and the Voice for Business in the region, our chamber has a responsibility to communicate where elected leaders stand on matters important to our members and our community. This responsibility extends to those seeking public office as well and thus we often look to better our community simply by helping voters make informed choices when heading to the ballot box.

To that end, the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber, in partnership with News/Talk/Sports 94.9 WSJM, will host a candidate forum for the St. Joseph City Commission race on October 6 from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at the Shadowland Ballroom in St. Joseph. This race features six candidates vying for three open seats on the commission and we are pleased that all six have confirmed their attendance.

The forum will begin with each candidate making one-minute opening statements after which point forum moderators will ask a series of questions on themes important to chamber members and to the broader community. Our goal is to prepare candidates for the types of questions and issues they will face as commissioners, therefore prepared notes or statements will be not allowed.

Time permitting, candidates will also be asked questions submitted from the general public before jumping into one-minute closing remarks. If you have a question you'd like to see asked of these candidates, please visit <https://bit.ly/SJForumQuestions>. We encourage the public's participation and want to give everyone a chance to spark a discussion or highlight a forgotten issue.

The public is welcome to attend the event in-person and those interested are encouraged to RSVP in advance at the following link: <https://bit.ly/sjcandidateforum>. Doors open at 5:30 p.m. with the forum itself running from 6 to 7:30 p.m. There will also be an informal networking hour following the forum, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., where the public is invited to stay and interact with the candidates directly. The event will include light hors d'oeuvres and a cash bar option will be available for those in attendance.

For those unable to attend, News/Talk/Sports 94.9 WSJM will stream the forum live on-the-air and via Facebook Live from 6 to 7:30 p.m., after which it will be re-broadcast and made available to voters for on-demand consumption. We will re-share the live stream on our chamber Facebook page as well and make the on-demand version available to our members.

We look forward to leading a robust discussion with the six candidates for city commission and we greatly appreciate News/Talk/Sports 94.9 WSJM, the Shadowland Ballroom, and the Silver Beach Center for partnering with us to make this public service possible.

Spend Time With Jesus

[Jesus said] "No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him."
 John 6:44

In his younger years, renowned Christian writer C. S. Lewis was an avowed atheist. When he was a young boy, his mother died. Her death so wounded him that it took him down the path of renouncing God. Left to himself, he would have continued in that path throughout his life.

luctant convert in all of England...dragged into the kingdom kicking, struggling, ... darting his eyes in every direction for a chance of escape."

But he was not left to himself. Little by little, the Lord rattled his presumptions and exposed him to the reality of his existence. Little by little, the Lord gave him passing encounters with the message of the good news of what Jesus Christ came to do. One key encounter involved a long walk he took after an evening meal. He took this walk with an old friend, J. R. R. Tolkien (yes, that J. R. R. Tolkien—the man who wrote The Hobbit and The Lord of the Rings). As a result of these various encounters with the message of Jesus, C. S. Lewis came to faith in Christ as his Savior from sin.

In his own C. S. Lewis-like way, he made it clear that he could not take the credit for coming to faith in Jesus. On the contrary, he trusted in Jesus as Savior because the Lord had drawn him in through the power of the gospel.

Jesus himself acknowledged the same thing. He said, "No one can come to me unless the Father who sent me draws him" (John 6:44).

Perhaps you are in a period in your life where you don't know what to make of Christianity. If so, keep spending time learning all that Jesus has done on your behalf. And know this, too. The Lord is at work in your life.

Prayer: Heavenly Father, in those moments when I struggle, fill me with your Spirit. Draw me closer to your Son. Amen.

Later in life, Lewis wrote about his conversion. When he did, his candor about it was disarming. According to his autobiography, Surprised by Joy, Lewis describes himself in his conversion as "the most...re-

Care Counts to the board of education, which was also supportive. It wasn't long before the washers and dryers were being delivered to the district's buildings.

"We are ecstatic that we were able to get all of the schools new laundry pairs in time for back to school," Fletty said. "Everything was actually installed the week before back to school the week before August 30. So, everything is up and running and ready to go so students can get access to clean laundry as they need."

Benton Harbor Area Schools Superintendent Andrae Townsel said in a promotional video released by Whirlpool that he's glad to welcome the program to Benton Harbor.

"Care Counts is very important to bring to Benton Harbor Area Schools," Townsel said. "Any way that we can minimize young people not coming to school, we're all for it. I'm so excited bringing this to Benton Harbor because we have a great opportunity to support kids, keep them in school, and keep them achieving."

Fletty says Care Counts has placed the needed appliances in all of the buildings of the Benton Harbor district, which is somewhat unique.

"Historically, the Care Counts Laundry Program by Whirlpool had an emphasis on K through fifth grade and elementary education specifically," Fletty said. "We know that being able to assist at those ages has a greater impact on longitudinal education. So, we've always been very focused on the elementary age groups, but because of the fact that Benton Harbor schools are in our backyard because of our commitment to this area, we felt that it was our obligation to bring it forth and to bring it through all the way from kindergarten up until that senior year of high school."

Fletty says each building is now equipped with a laundry set and Whirlpool also replaced some commercial grade washers and dryers that were already at Benton Harbor High School. How the laundry program will work and matters like scheduling use of the appliances is being handled by school building administrators and staff. You can learn more about Care Counts online at Whirlpool.com/care-counts.

Mosaic CCDA Resale Store
 Now In New Location

The Mosaic Christian Community Development Association is settling into its new storefront in Benton Township after moving into the location this summer. You can now find their resale store at 1804 M-139 in Benton Harbor, right behind Henry's Hamburgers. Mosaic CCDA CEO Andrew Robinson tells us they opened their first resale store in 2009.

"We first started off in 2009 in Fairplain. The founder and board president Brian Bennett actually opened up the store in Fairplain," Robinson said. "It was kind of in the same area as Big Lots. Then we eventually moved. We moved to Main Street right there on Riverview Drive, and then about four or five years ago, just a little bit before I got here, moved to the Wall Street location."

Last year, their old location started to get too small.

"I hired a new resale store manager back, I would say, probably around May of last year, and we didn't assume that it was going to do extremely well just because it was at the height of the COVID pandemic, but we started to see sales that were amazing. They were sales numbers that we had never seen throughout our store's history, and about maybe in October of last year, we had to literally stop taking donations."

Robinson says an opportunity to buy the former ValueLand came up and with help from Honor Credit Union, Mosaic acquired the property. The 25,000 square foot building offers plenty of space for the resale store, offices, and even room for Jobs for Life and other programs. In their new location, Robinson says the non-profit Mosaic is thriving. Does he think Mosaic will run out of space again?

"Honestly, what is interesting is that we thought in that space, it was going to be large enough. We thought we were going to have plenty of space. We thought that we were going to have so much space that it may even look bare. But I would say a month in, we realized that we don't have enough space," Robinson said with a laugh. "A part of that is the support that we've received from the community has been amazing. We're getting tons and tons of donations every single day. It even got to a point where we had to stop picking up donations because it just felt like we didn't have enough space to put everything on the floor. And this is top quality stuff...This is some top-notch furniture, appliances, household accessories, and clothes that we're getting as well."

However, don't expect Mosaic to go looking for another new location soon. Robinson says they have big plans for the new home.

"What our whole vision was for that space was much more than just a resale store. We really saw it as a community hub, as a community resource center so there are a number of organizations who can work out of there and be able to provide their services and programs out of there as well. We want to run the full gamut of services and programs that are all about the community.”

Honor Credit Union will operate an office in the new store, offering financial education to the community.

“The new space at Mosaic will allow the Summit to increase its presence in the community,” said Barbara Sistrunk, Executive Director of Summit Financial Wellness at Honor Credit Union. “This partnership gives us the opportunity to not only work with their Jobs for Life participants but enables us to offer financial education and coaching opportunities to a broader audience in a centralized area.”

“Andrew was a pleasure to work with throughout the process,” stated Brian Barber, Honor’s Director of Commercial Lending for Honor Credit Union. “We were happy to help him, and the Mosaic team make this much needed transition and look forward to seeing their positive impact in the community for years to come.”

Everyone’s invited to stop by and pay a visit to the new resale store. It’s open Mondays through Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information, you can visit MosaicCCDA.com.

Krasl Art Center welcomes Project FIRE

Founder to Annual Meeting - Public Welcome

Krasl Art Center (KAC) has a mission to inspire meaningful change and strengthen community through the visual arts. On October 24 at 3 PM, KAC welcomes an expert on the topic to the 2021 KAC Annual Membership Meeting. This will be a hybrid presentation from Project FIRE founder Pearl Dick. Experience the free event in KAC’s Galleries or on Zoom. Both require advance registration at krasl.org/art/programregistration.

Krasl Art Center is pleased to welcome Pearl Dick to the Annual Meeting of the Membership. One of two founders of Project FIRE (Fearless Initiative for Recovery and Empowerment), Pearl will share stories about the program and the impact art has had on her community. She currently teaches both the Fiber and Material Studies Hot Projects Glass Production class in her studio for the School of the Art Institute, Chicago.

From Pearls site pearldick.com/instruction: “... Project FIRE (Fearless Initiative for Recovery and Empowerment) is an artist development employment program that offers healing through glassblowing, combining glass arts education, mentoring, and trauma psychoeducation to support trauma recovery and create jobs for youth injured by violence.”

Shortly after the launch of the program, Project FIRE joined forces with the well-established and respected nonprofit, ArtReach Chicago. Project FIRE is now the flagship program of ArtReach, and has paved the way for a variety of innovative social justice arts programs taking place at ArtReach.”

Project FIRE was featured on the NBC Nightly News - Inspiring America segment. View the coverage online at pearldick.com/instruction.

The evening will include a brief annual meeting of KAC’s membership. KAC will announce new board officers and 2022 plans that further the organization’s mission.

Register for this event by Friday, October 22 at 4 PM at krasl.org/art/programregistration

Camelot -- Candid and Candidnot

Continuing with last week's topic, I invite you to return with me to the days of Camelot, as in, Disney's animated origin story, "The Sword and the Stone"; or the original Broadway cast recording featuring Julie Andrews and Robert Goulet, which I used to own until someone I live with pulled a "Marie Kondo" on my CD collection and, in Merlin-like fashion, made it disappear; or really anything Camelot-related BESIDES the terrible 1967 film version, which I tried to watch but couldn't finish, as it got Mordredful (ha ha!) by the minute.

No, actually we'll check out a few more scenes from the "Creating Camelot" photography exhibit at the John F. Kennedy Hyannis Museum, which I visited recently.

Item: It's a point of pride for me that I hardly ever maek mitsakes in my columns.

That's why I found it so amusing to read a placard explaining how much official business was conducted by President Kennedy when he visited Hyannisport. The sign explains how the Kennedy compound hosted visits by a wide range of dignitaries, as well as more mundane day-to-day activities like "budgetary mweetings."

(Note: When I searched the word "mweetings," Google delivered more than 13,300 results; perhaps this word is more common than I thought, and the joke's on mwe.)

Item: One photo depicts the President aboard his private airplane, The Caroline, enjoying his favorite fish chowder (which, having heard countless recordings of Kennedy's voice, shoulda been spelled "chowdah"). Nearby sits Jackie Kennedy, reading a book by Jack Kerouac called "The Dharma Bums."

When I searched to find out more about this book, I found zero wryly amusing topics or anecdotes to share, other than a list of the book's characters juxtaposed with the real-life people that Kerouac was depicting. Some of the fictional names are pretty excellent candidates for my annual "Pretty Excellent College Football Names" columns: Japhy Ryder, Rheinhold Cacoethes, Cody Pomeray, and Locke McCorkle.

Ooops, check that, Locke McCorkle is (or was?) a real person. He is (was?) a Californian I believe. And there's a Locke McCorkle on LinkedIn, from Palo Alto, CA. And he is (was?) the owner of a Supercuts hair salon. And don't you think Locke is a pretty, pretty, pretttttty good name for a hairstylist?

Item: To demonstrate the tenacity with which the Kennedy's and their personal photographer, Jaques Lowe, pursued images of casual intimacy – Candidlot, if you will – the exhibit features many of Lowe's contact sheets, the equivalent of today's thumbnails in cellphone photo albums. And I must say, it's heartening to know that scads of pix were Candidnot: Bored gazes, closed eyes, "are we done yet?" grimaces. Just like a LOT of my family pictures!

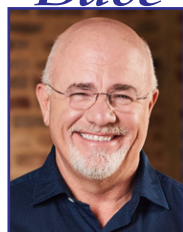

Item: The same photo was repeatedly featured in internet search results about the exhibit. It's from the first photo shoot Lowe did with the family: There's dapper JFK, classy Jackie, and precious little Caroline. Who, in the picture, is trying to eat Jackie's pearl necklace.

Item: Speaking of pearl necklaces, there's a photo of JFK's many siblings and their spouses taken in the latter 1960s, I believe. It's a big group and every woman in the pic is wearing a classy pearl necklace.

"Nice-looking necklaces," I recall commenting. My wife instantaneously agreed. And that's how her souvenir of our trip wound up being a pearl necklace.

Dave Says

Protect against inflation?

Dear Dave,

All the talk on the news about inflation is a little scary. Is there any way to protect yourself against it on a day-to-day basis?

Garret

Dear Garret,

When people start talking about inflation, it seems like there are always some who want to start collecting gold, fill every container they own with gasoline and stick their cash under their mattresses. But listen, you can prepare for inflation and address the results without being panicked.

You are still in control of your money, inflation or not. You'll be able to make sure your money is going toward the right things, while being able to find places where you can cut spending, if you're living on a written, monthly budget. If you're noticing the prices of things like food and gas rising in your area, you'll need to adjust your budget to account for this. That way, you'll know exactly what you're working with, and it will help you avoid any nasty surprises.

If you're really feeling the pinch and want to save even more, look for specific ways to lower your grocery bill or save money on gas. Maybe it's time you switched to generic brands, or started a carpool into work. If you find great deals on canned food and things you can stock your pantry with—I'm talking about stuff you'll actually use—go ahead and buy a little extra. Just make sure you've budgeted for it before heading to the grocery store. You'll want to already know exactly what you're going to spend, so you don't get swept up into impulse buying.

Like it or not, inflation is a thing. If you plan on retiring one day, it's pretty much guaranteed that the cost of a loaf of bread, a tank of gas and even a cup of coffee will have gone up by then. The best way to protect yourself against inflation that's bound to happen is to invest your money—and the sooner the better. But remember, if you still have debt other than your mortgage, and don't have an emergency fund of three to six months of expenses, you need to take care of those things first!

— Dave
