WALLACE STATE News

Wallace State Child Development Courses All Online

All courses for the Wallace State Community College's Child Development program are now online. Marcie Hill, director of the Child Development program at Wallace State, has been working on creating a completely online curriculum since she took over less than two years ago.

"As a working mother myself and having recently finished my doctorate, I know it's hard to find the time to sometimes do the simplest things, much less attend classes on campus," Hill said. "That's why I wanted to offer anyone interested in Child Development the opportunity to take my classes online without having to come to campus for class meetings. Students can more easily find time for coursework when it is convenient for them, such as when the kids are asleep or after they get off work."

Wallace State's Child Development program offers an Associate in Applied Science degree or Short Certificate students can also take three classes to fulfill the education component of a CDA (Child Development Associate) Credential. Classes taken for a CDA or Short Certificate can all be applied toward a degree, as well.

"Whether you want to open your own child care business, work in a day care or become an early childhood educator, Wallace State can provide a strong foundation toward meeting your goals," Hill said.

The program has access to a number of scholarships and grants to aid in financing an education, Hill added. One is the Leadership in Child Care Scholarship, which is open to Alabama residents currently working in child care centers or programs and family and group homes. The deadline to apply for the Leadership in Child Care Scholarship is June 1 for the fall semester. This scholarship will provide funding for summer courses for those who utilize it for the previous fall and spring semesters. A workshop will be offered on Monday, May 11, from 5 to 6 p.m., for those interested in getting tips on how to fill out the scholarship application. The workshop will be held in room 409 of the Tom Bevill Health Education Building.

Another is T.E.A.C.H. (Teacher Education And Compensation Helps) Early Childhood® Alabama, which works with employers to help fund an employee's education by providing a small percentage in matching grants. Other scholarships and financial aid may also be available through Wallace State's financial aid and scholarship programs.

For more information about Wallace State's online Child Development program, contact Marcie Hill at 256.352.8383 or marcie.hill@wallacestate.edu.

PHARMACY TOPICS

by Eddy Hoenig

Hospital Discount WEST

Diarrhea and Candidiasis can result from taking the common antibiotic treatments, amoxicillin and amoxicillin-clavulanic acid, although harms may be underreported, according to a study published in CMAJ (Canadian Medical Association Journal). Amoxicillin is the most commonly prescribed antibiotic for respiratory infections by primary care physicians, and is often prescribed in combination with clavulanic acid. However, the benefits of antibiotics for respiratory infections are often minor, so it is important for physicians and patients to weigh the benefits and harms of taking such medications. Because antibiotic resistance is now common, it is particularly important to use antibiotics wisely.

People taking the popular antidepressant medications known as selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors (SSRIs) have a slightly higher risk of a hemorrhagic stroke, according to new research. The increased risk for drugs such as Prozac (fluoxetine) and Paxil (paroxetine), however, still translates only to about a one in 10,000 rate of a hemorrhagic stroke for anyone taking an SSRI for a year. And the raised risk tends to be strongest during the first few weeks and months after starting an SSRI, according to the study, published in the journal Neurology. Besides Prozac and Paxil, other frequently prescribed SSRIs include Lexapro (escitalopram), Celexa (citalopram) and Zoloft (sertraline). These medications treat depression by changing levels of serotonin, a chemical neurotransmitter, in the brain.

4th Annual Lyndon Brooke Stidham Memorial walk for HAE
12pm - 6pm May 16th 2015 at Heritage Park in Cullman Alabama at the Walmart Pavillion behind Starbucks.

Hereditary Angioedema (HAE) is a very rare and potentially life threatening genetic condition that occurs in about 1 in 30,000 people, HAE patients are missing a plasma protein called C1 inhibitor. We have edema (or swelling) in every part of the body - including hands, feet, face... We can also have excruciating abdominal pain, nausea and vomiting from swelling in our intestines. Swelling in your throat is very dangerous because you can suffocate to death. Which is what happened to Lyndon at age 12 in 2004.

PLEASE JOIN US to raise awareness of HAE in Lyndon's sweet memory. All proceeds go to the US HEREDITARY ANGIOEDEMA ASSOCIATION for research toward a CURE!

Refreshments will be provided, along with karaoke all day, prize drawings, and a large balloon release at the end in memory of Lyndon.

hae day :-)

For more info on HAE please visit www.haea.org For more info on Lyndon's walk call Lora (Lyndon's mom) 256-255-9080 or email Lyndonsmemorialwalk4HAE@yahoo.com

CONGRATULATIONS TO ALTON AND RUTH BICE ON THEIR 72ND WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Alton and Ruth Bice were born and raised in Cullman County, Alabama. They met at a Box Supper when they were 16 years of age. Three years later Alton and Ruth married on May 8, 1943.

They moved to Detroit, Michigan and lived there for 42 years. After retiring they moved to Florida and lived there for 28 years. They moved from Florida to Morningside of Cullman in September of 2013. They have two sons, Larry and wife Terri, Roger and wife Coleen, three grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

On their 72nd Wedding Anniversary, May 8, 2015, they renewed their vows at Morningside with their family, friends, residents and staff in attendance. It was a beautiful ceremony, followed by an elegant reception prepared by Morningside's Food Service Director, Marie Campbell and kitchen staff.

KJV Bible: the day to be kept Holy is the 7th day (Ex 20:8-11, Deut 5:12-14), but it does not say 7th day of the week. No where can one find written in KJV to keep the 1st day of the week Holy. Protestants: reject papal authority and their beliefs began with the Reformation in the 16th century. They claim to be the true Christians and not the RCC, but keep much of what the RCC established and call it a new covenant given to them by Christ. The 7th day of the week keepers; some keep The Bible's Holy Feast Days by the lunar calendar, then say to keep Saturday holy. Others keep Saturday holy and not the Feast Days, etc. Sunday was the Teutonic's lord's day, they worshiped the sun (Baal). Saturday is Saturn's day the Greek's god Cronus, who ruled the universe and the Roman's god of agriculture, also points to Baal worship. Vain worship (Mt 15:9)!

Plus The Best Service In Town... Come See!*

WEEKLY ADVERTISED SPECIALS:
Special lower prices on selected items advertised weekly, to every trade area household, (direct mail delivered), in The Community Shopper's Guide.

BLUE TAG SPECIALS:
We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
