THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE
ATTORNEY AT LAW

LAW AND THE LAYMAN: KNOW THE BASICS

The practice of law is vast, beyond the comprehension of the average layperson, which is why lawyers specialize in specific areas of law. It's essential for everyone to understand the basics of the legal system and when to seek legal counsel, such as criminal cases, family disputes, and intellectual property cases. Criminal law often has serious consequences. Criminal lawyers defend the rights of the accused, navigate court rules and procedures, defend client's innocence, or negotiate pleas to reduce punishment. Civil law, which are non-criminal laws protecting one from perceived civil wrongs, and corporate law, which ensures businesses comply with the law, are also important legal areas of which everyone should have a basic knowledge.

Before you decide whether or not you need a lawyer, it's important to understand what it is that lawyers do. Most TV shows and movies portray lawyers arguing in court. While there are lawyers who are trial attorneys, lawyers do more than go to trial. A lawyer can help you with starting a business, estate planning, marital issues, and so much more. To schedule a consultation, please call the Law Office of MACK & PACE at (585)798-1000. We emphasize family law, business law, criminal law, and estate planning.

Making Choices

by Darlene Benton

IN THE BEGINNING

"In the beginning was the word.." (John 1:1) Without language, human beings begin life with pure potential, little angels open to their new world. How humans manifest their potential, their unique, souled being, all begins with words.

From our beginning in the womb, the words and thoughts of the mother, the people in the midst of the mother, also begin the process of the development of "Who Am I?" All thoughts create form. Thoughts, words and actions hold energy, they create one's experience in and of the world.

As science has caught up with what sages, prophets and healers through history have known, it has proven with electromagnetic imaging, thoughts and stimuli create an energetic impulse in every tissue and organ in the body. As a bodyworker working with numerous modalities, I have witnessed what many teachers impressed on me; "Our issues are in our tissues."

With the overwhelming array of media nowadays, we are not just reading ideas in books and newspapers, we are being spoken to by voices, colorful images, videography and sound effects. As humans, we are born as sponges soaking up the energy of our surroundings. It's no wonder people are experiencing such pain in their physical and mental being.

Words and images have become such a profound aspect of who we are, from birth, we aren't aware of who we truly are. Every thought, word and action in our daily life is the result of the words we have been exposed to since conception. Joy, fear, guilt, love, anger; each of our emotions triggered in any experience, have been taught to us since conception. Like a computer, garbage in, garbage out.

Maybe examining how words have shaped our separation from one another instead of bonding us with our fellow humans might be a helpful observation. Listening more than we speak will give us an interesting new perspective. Are the words we hear in our heads, spoken by our mouth or others' mouths, words to help humanity be as one, or are they words that separate us?

Listen from the heart instead of the mind as if you have no head. See how this feels. Judgment and confusion originate in the mind; from our hearts, love and compassion.

CURE!!

Your fungal toenails before SUMMER 2022

- Were you embarrassed this summer to wear sandals or go barefoot because of thick, yellow nails?
- Now's the time to get treatment. If left untreated, fungal toenails can: affect your immune system, cause recurring athlete's foot, infected ingrown toenails (requiring surgery) and discomfort wearing shoes, not to mention their unsightly appearance!
- Patients with diabetes, poor circulation and numbness to their feet can develop more serious problems.
- There are also safer new topical medications available to help cure fungal toenails.
- A simple one-a-day pill for 3 months will usually cure fungal toenails within 6-9 months from the start of treatment.
- Treatment now may result in clear, thinner nails for the year 2022.
- Call now for an appointment to determine if you're a candidate for this newer treatment.

Three finalists selected in Kendall School superintendent search

October 18, 2021, Kendall, NY

The Kendall Central School District Board of Education has chosen three finalists for the district's next top administrator. The finalists are:

- Jennifer DeVinney - Assistant Superintendent for Instruction, Lyons CSD
- Nicholas Picardo - Executive Director for Student Services and Athletic Director, Kendall CSD
- Kerstin "Kas" Wheeler - Educational Consultant, New York State Council of School Superintendents

"The Kendall Board of Education is pleased with the committed educational leaders we have announced as finalists. We'd like to thank the entire Kendall community for the feedback they provided during this process," said Board President Lisa Levett. "We are confident this process will deliver a new leader who will support a well-rounded 21st century educational program that includes the arts and extracurricular activities. One who will promote growth, demonstrate a commitment to equity for all and invest in developing strong relationships with the Board of Education, our staff and community through transparent leadership."

"The members of the Kendall Board of Education have dedicated themselves to an intensive process to select finalists for a new superintendent," said Monroe 2-Orleans BOCES District Superintendent and Search Consultant Jo Anne L. Antonacci. "Their choice of three qualified candidates demonstrates their commitment to providing Kendall with exceptional leadership."

The three finalists are scheduled for individual day-long visits to district buildings. The schedule is as follows:

- Thu., Oct. 21: Jennifer DeVinney
- Wed., Oct. 27: Nicholas Picardo
- Thu., Oct. 28: Kerstin "Kas" Wheeler

Each day-long visit will end with a Meet the Finalist Forum beginning at 4:30 p.m. in the Kendall Junior/Senior High School Auditorium for all community members to meet the candidates in person. Biographies and photos of the finalists are included with this press release.

Any questions regarding the superintendent search process should be directed to District Superintendent and Search Consultant Jo Anne L. Antonacci at jantonac@monroe2boces.org or (585) 352-2411.

Added sugars & their effects on weight loss efforts

Added sugars could be compromising people's effort to lose weight and get fit.

A 2009 report from researchers with the American Heart Association urged people to limit their intake of added sugars while noting that Americans get most of their added sugars from sugar-sweetened beverages, including sodas. A 2010 study led by a researcher from the Harvard School of Public Health noted that consumption of such beverages has increased considerably in recent decades, which has tracked positively with rising rates of obesity over that time.

But pinning the bulk of the blame for rising obesity rates on sugar-sweetened beverages would be a mistake, as such drinks are not the only popular source of added sugars. Candy, baked goods, sugary cereals, and even some dried fruits contain significant amounts of added sugars.

Added sugars are considered empty calories, which means they're high in calories but not in vitamins, minerals and nutrients. Anyone attempting to lose weight and keep lost weight off should examine the foods and beverages they consume to determine if these items, which may be marketed as healthy or at least considered so by unsuspecting consumers, are high in added sugars. Simply checking ingredients labels for the term "added sugars" may not be enough, as the Office of Disease Prevention and Health Promotion notes that added sugars go by many different names, including:

- brown sugar
- corn sweetener
- corn syrup
- dextrose
- fructose
- glucose
- high-fructose corn syrup
- honey
- lactose
- malt syrup
- maltose
- molasses,
- raw sugar
- sucrose
- trehalose
- turbinado sugar

The ODPHP notes that these sugars may be found in foods people wouldn't otherwise see as potentially unhealthy, such as pasta sauces. That only underscores the importance of reading labels carefully and learning what to look for on such labels.

Losing weight and keeping weight off is no small task. And that task becomes considerably taller when people consume significant amounts of added sugars. •

Do you have HEEL pain or ARCH pain?

HEEL SPUR SYNDROME/PLANTAR FASCITIS is a common problem among people who are active. It starts as a dull intermittent pain in the heel which may progress to a sharp persistent pain. Classically, it is worse in the morning with the first few steps, after sitting, after standing, or after walking.

- Plantar fasciitis often begins with irritation and tearing of the fibrous band of tissue on the bottom of the foot, which may eventually result in the formation of a heel spur.

- Contributing factors: flat pronated feet, high arched feet, poor shoe support, increased age, sudden weight increase, increased activity level, family tendency.

- Approximately 2-3 times your body weight of force is exerted on each foot with walking. Flexible, non-custom molded arch support found at those advertised shoe stores cannot support these forces and usually do not provide long-lasting relief, do not come with a lifetime warranty, and are typically more expensive than custom-molded ones made by our office.

- 95 percent of our patients symptoms are resolved with conservative treatment, avoiding surgical intervention.

- We also offer surgical procedures with the best post-op success rates using Endoscopic Plantar Fasciotomy techniques and EPF resulting in minimal incisions and scarring, immediate ambulation and often back in a shoe in one week.

If you can't remember when your feet didn't hurt, now is the time to give us a call!

Travel Thoughts By Kim Answers to your Adventuring questions!

I get so tickled when someone sees me out and about somewhere and stops me to tell me how much they enjoy reading my travel articles and blog posts. Quite often, I also get questions...many times it is the same questions that it seems like most people are most curious about. So, I thought I'd take this edition of "Travel Thoughts By Kim" to answer some of those questions. I'm going to warn you, though....I may sound a bit like a broken record because my initial answer to most questions almost always starts with "it depends...." Hahaha! So here are some of the most FAQ's I tend to get and my attempt to briefly answer them for you.

Book On My Own or Use a Travel Agent? OK...I'll get it out of the way and try to not say it, again...it depends! I frequently use Mitzy Peglow at Orleans Travel – mainly if I'm going to be doing anything that requires a lot of coordination or I need advice about the location and the best options. Most of the time, I know what I want, I just want her to help me make sure I don't get the pieces all wonky. I always use her to book cruises and the associated flights and transfers, but I play around with the shore excursions and book them myself. If I'm just booking transportation (air, train, etc.) and lodging, I usually will take care of that myself because I can do it in my jammies at night on my computer. As for the sightseeing and other activities, I will use Google, TripAdvisor, etc. to see what sparks my interest. From there, I make lists of things to do and book any specific tours I want to do. I really enjoy the research part and looking for cool and interesting things to do wherever I go. I also love it when friends know I'm going somewhere and give me suggestions of things to do.

Guided Tours or On My Own? Both! I love booking transportation and lodging with just a list of points of interest and a rental car with little or no solid plans. That way, I can be flexible and drive around and let myself get sidetracked – I tend to find the best things when I can just stop for whatever catches my eye. But, I also really like guided tours because I learn so much more about where I am and what I'm seeing than I would if I didn't have a tour guide. One thing I love to do, is take guided City Tours – especially Hop-On-Hop-Off tours. I get a lot of interesting information and get to see highlights of the city overall. Then, I can go back on my own to anything that I want to take a deeper dive into. So – yeah – lots of times I will book a guided tour at the beginning of a trip and then take what I learned and spend the rest of the trip having fun on my own. It also depends on where I am – some places don't lend themselves to just winging it or aren't safe to just wander around like a tourist.

Seeing the world from the lounge car on a train is relaxing and enjoyable. This is the Coast Starlight Train I took for an overnight ride from San Francisco to Seattle. The sleeper was really quite comfortable, too.

Planes Trains or Automobiles? All of the above! If I want to get there quick and leave the majority of my time away to the sightseeing, I'll fly. But, I absolutely LOVE traveling by train. Buses are OK – especially group tour buses that have scheduled sightseeing and overnight stops to break up the time that I'm stuck on a bus. I also really enjoy having my own car and driving...but, the older I get, the shorter the distance gets that I'm willing to drive to – especially alone. I find my max time behind the wheel is about 4 hours, now.

Hotel or B&B? Yep, I'm gonna say it again – it depends! I am a bit partial to Bed & Breakfast Inns. I find them quaint and comfortable. They are usually a bit pricey, though, so if I'm going to be gone more than a few days or plan a lot of other parts of the trip that could have substantial costs, I'll usually book a hotel. Hotels are usually best for big cities, while B&B's are best for smaller, historic towns. Most B&B's are older homes that have been renovated for that purpose and have wonderful hosts that try really hard to make your stay enjoyable. Whatever you choose, I recommend you read the comments on TripAdvisor or Expedia and look for trends of what may be problematic. I take most negative comments with a grain of salt – there are some people you couldn't please no matter what you do or are really nit-picky. But, I do look for trends or some comment that sticks out as something I'd really be concerned with.

Cruise or All Inclusive Resort? Good question! Until a few months ago, I would have had no point of reference to make that comparison – I am a cruise lover. But, I have now been to an All Inclusive Resort in Costa Rica and LOVED IT!!! If you do your research, you can find All Inclusive Resorts that are comparable to the cost of a cruise – both will depend on the company, where you're going, and what your plans are, so price isn't necessarily a deciding factor. What I love about cruises is that you get to visit multiple ports of call and see a lot more places without having to move your luggage between the different places and I absolutely LOVE being on the water. What I loved about the resort I stayed at in Costa Rica is having everything in one place and the option to venture out to see more of the country I visited on multiple days. So, it depends on what I want out of the vacation.

Do I Always Travel Alone? Sometimes it seems that way, but no! I have been on a lot of amazing trips with friends and the best part about going places is sharing it with friends. But, if I want to go somewhere and my friends don't want to or can't go....I just go! I enjoy it either way and whether I'm with friends or alone, I always seem to meet interesting new people. I also belong to the Busy Buddies group and have been on other group trips that were great fun. And....I always say that when I go on a cruise, I go with a couple thousand of my closest and dearest friends! Hahaha

I hope my articles give you all some things to think about when considering travel and that this one, in particular, was at least somewhat helpful. If you see me out and about, feel free to stop me and let me know if you enjoy my articles, ask me questions, or tell me you went somewhere because you read about my adventures.
