Carbon Monoxide Poisoning Prevention

Every year, hundreds of people die and thousands are injured from unsuspected exposure to an odorless, colorless gas—carbon monoxide (CO). Studies by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention indicate that, while people recognize CO gas is poisonous, they perceive CO as less dangerous than other household hazards. CO poisoning is most prevalent when furnaces are turned back on to fight cold winter temperatures, but also commonly occur after summer and winter storms and accompanying power outages, when people tend to rely on portable generators for electricity.

Here are some simple steps to protect yourselves and your family:

- ✓ Install battery-operated CO detectors near every sleeping area in your home.
- ✓ Check CO detectors regularly to be sure they are functioning properly.
- ✓ Have gas or oil furnaces inspected by a qualified professional every year.
- ✓ Never use a generator inside the home or garage, even if doors and windows are open.
- ✓ Only use generators and power washers outside, more than 20 feet away from the home, doors, and windows.
- ✓ Never use a charcoal grill inside the home.

For more information about Carbon Monoxide Poisoning and how to prevent it, call the Livingston County Department of Health, Center for Environmental Health at 243-7280.

SPEAK OUT!!!

The Mount Morris Shopper feels that everyone has a right to be heard (or read, in this case) so we are offering this page each week (space permitting) for our readers to share their ideas, views, feelings or whatever. Realizing that everyone cannot AFFORD to pay for this privilege, the Mount Morris Shopper is offering this page as a FREE Public Service for articles or letters sent in for publication. All letters submitted must be signed with the name, address and phone number of the author. Please make letters as brief as possible.

Dear "Speak Out,"

This week we will continue our study of our beautiful Livingston County during its 200th year bicentennial.

This week, as I mentioned last week, we will begin our study of all seventeen townships in our county. The Town of Avon is in the northern part of our county and the Village of Avon is in its northwest corner. The area around and including what would become Corn Village was inhabited for millennia by Paleo-Indians and later by the Seneca people, the westernmost tribe of the Iroquois Confederacy.

After the Iroquois title to the land was extinguished in 1788 with the Phelps and Gorham Purchase, settlement of the area began. In 1789, Dr. Timothy Hosmer, Major Isaiah Thompson, William Wadsworth, and others from Hartford, Connecticut, purchased a tract east of the Genesee River and named it "Hartford" after their homeland.

The town was organized in 1797 and its name was changed to "Avon" in 1808 to avoid confusion with another Hartford in Washington County, New York. In 1818, part of the town was removed to form the new Town of Rush. County lines shifted as well, Avon and Rush were part of Ontario County until the formation of Livingston County and Monroe County in 1821.

The first permanent white settlers of Corn Village were Gilbert and Maria Wemple Berry in 1789, who operated a tavern and a rope ferry on the east bank of the Genesee River. When Gilbert died in 1797, Maria Berry continued serving travelers in the inn until about 1812.

The town's first gristmill was built by Captain John Ganson in northwest Avon in 1789 and the first sawmill in 1797 on the Conesus Outlet was built by Dr. Hosmer. Mineral springs were an important resource of the early town.

Beginning in the 1820s, people became interested in water as a therapy for all sorts of maladies, and mineral waters in particular for their reputed health benefits and even as cures. Avon, redolent in natural springs, soon became extremely popular with the afflicted. The wealthy, too, seeking relaxation and leisure, flocked to the town from far and wide. Numerous hotels and spas sprang up to take advantage of this fad, and bottling companies packaged the mineral water for sale.

By the late 1890s to early 1900s, most of the hotels that had not closed due to the decline of the spa era had succumbed to fire or were soon razed. The Avon Inn is the only spa structure still standing in the town.

The Town of Caledonia is located in the northwestern part of our county and contains the Village of Caledonia. The Seneca Indians had a village in this area called "Canawaugus" (or Conawagus) which was located on the west side of the Genesee River. The site has since been absorbed by the town of Caledonia.

Chief Cornplanter was born here around 1750 into the Wolf clan of his Seneca mother. His father was a Dutch fur trader, John Abeel, whose family had been established in Albany. Cornplanter was known as a statesman as well as a war chief, and he was influential in inviting Quakers to teach Seneca children on his land.

The Town of Caledonia was established in 1803 as the "Town of Southampton", having previously been known as "Northampton". Settlers from Scotland renamed the town "Caledonia", the Latin name for Scotland, in 1806.

Lord willing, we will continue our study next week. I would very much enjoy any input from all the historians in our county.

Ron Powell
Nunda

Dear "Speak Out,"

In response to Mr. Powell's letter last week in the Speak Out section about Livingston County's Bicentennial, I would like to share what has been happening this year to commemorate, celebrate, and educate county residents.

The County Historian's Office kicked off the year with a special meeting of the Board of Supervisor's on Tuesday, February, 23rd. Given the situation with COVID-19 at the time and concern for public safety, capacity in the county board room was limited but was streamed live on Zoom so the public could participate. There was a full program that included speeches, a video montage, music and more.

Since February, the Historian's Office has sponsored several interactive programs that combine history, entertainment, and opportunities for residents and non-residents to participate. Examples include the first county-wide Geocaching Trail with more than 30 sites spread across all the towns in the county, three new Heritage Trail Tours added to the five existing tours, and a Cheers to 200 years craft brew trail with monthly offerings from the breweries, wineries, cideries, and coffee maker in the county!

The Historian's Office has also dedicated three new historical markers placed at the Courthouse, the site of the County Poorhouse in Geneseo, and on Murray Hill in Mount Morris. In conjunction with the county poorhouse marker, there was a ceremonial event to honor more than 300 people who were buried in numbered or unmarked graves, whose names were read out loud at the county poorhouse cemeteries.

One of the largest events was the Classic Car Cruise in August with 60 cars that wound through every town in the county and culminated with 99 classic cars on display at Millennium Drive in Geneseo. Other events included Livingston County Day at Genesee Country Museum with a tour of the 17 buildings from our county, and an "Art and History Affair" show at the Genesee Valley Council on the Arts on Murray Hill with over 30 paintings from 10 historical societies in the county. In addition, we partnered with the Genesee Valley Conservancy to distribute and plant oak trees across the county.

Meanwhile behind the scene at the County Historian's Office, Deputy Historian Holly Watson and I have been working on a soon-to-be released book entitled, Livingston County Women's Biographical Review: Achievers, Leaders, and Role Models. This book will feature 200 women associated with Livingston County from all eras and walks of life. We are hoping (fingers crossed!) to have a release before the holidays. To wrap the year up we plan to place a time capsule at the Government Center and publish a post-bicentennial souvenir booklet.

Despite the challenges that the corona virus pandemic and economic conditions have presented, Livingston County, along with numerous organizations and dozens of citizens, have stepped up to the task at hand and taken the opportunity to share our rich cultural heritage as widely as possible. For more information, please check out the county website at livingstoncounty.us and click on departments and County Historian. And please be sure to follow Livingston County on Facebook where we post all the upcoming events. Or feel free to contact me at historian@co.livingston.ny.us.

Are you ready for flu season?

We need to prepare for both flu and COVID this fall and winter.

Protect yourself, your family and your community by getting both vaccines.

Talk to your healthcare provider about getting your flu and COVID-19 vaccines.

Everyone 6 months of age and older should get a flu shot and people 12 and older should get a COVID-19 shot, too.

To find a flu vaccine near you, visit www.livingstoncounty.us/doh.htm.

The Livingston County Office for the Aging can help those who are 60 and older find a COVID-19 vaccine. Please call 243-7520.

Did you know that approximately 30,000 men die from prostate cancer and approximately 50,000 men from colorectal cancer in the United States each year? Starting at the age of 50, men should be screened regularly for colon and prostate cancers. Health screenings could save your life. Ask your doctor about health screenings today. The Cancer Services Program of the Finger Lakes Region offers free colorectal screenings to those who qualify. For more information, please call 1-877-803-8070.

Protect Yourself from Diseases While Hunting

If you hunt, you should be aware that it can put you at risk for two common diseases that can be prevented. These two diseases are Lyme disease and rabies. The Livingston County Department of Health offers information about each disease and tips for you below.

Lyme disease is transmitted to humans by the bite of an infected tick. Typical symptoms include fever, headache, fatigue, and a circular skin rash with a target-like appearance. Tips to stay safe from Lyme disease while hunting include:

- Wear insect repellent or use odorless permethrin on clothing
- Tuck your pants into socks, and shirt into pants
- Check for ticks daily
- Shower soon after being outdoors

Rabies is transmitted through direct contact such as broken skin or mucous membranes in the eyes, nose, or mouth of an infected animal. Symptoms can include general weakness or discomfort, fever, or headache. Tips to stay safe from rabies while hunting include:

- Staying clear of animals that have trouble walking, is drooling, or has an appearance of "drunkenness," aggression or even tameness
- Wear gloves when dressing or butchering game
- Wash hands thoroughly afterward

For more information on Lyme disease and rabies, please visit www.livingstoncounty.us/eh or call the Livingston County Department of Health at 243-7280.

Security Guard 8 Hr. Pre-Assignment

Under the Security Guard Act of 1992, licensing is mandatory for all contractual and proprietary security guard employers. The law also requires security guards, themselves, to register with the New York Department of State. This 8-hour course is for anyone seeking employment as a security guard and provides an overview of the Security Guard Act of 1992. One hundred percent attendance is required, and participants must earn a passing score on a final exam. Individuals who successfully complete the course will receive a certificate of achievement.

New Emergency Management Director

Livingston County has named Andrew Brodell as Livingston County's new Director of Emergency Management.

Brodell comes to the County from Chautauqua County Emergency Services, where he worked with the Chautauqua County Technical Rescue Team, the Chautauqua Haz-Mat Team, and the Chautauqua Special Operations Team. His fire experience includes service with the Hamilton (NY) and Bemus Point (NY) Fire Departments.

In his new role with Livingston County, Brodell will ensure the Office of Emergency Management is prepared at all times to respond to and recover from all natural and man-made emergencies.

"I am quite excited to leverage my education and experience towards the betterment of such a unique system," said Brodell. "As we look at the trends of the fire service and emergency management, I hope to take the best opportunities and bring them to our response community members to keep them trained, safe, and resilient."

Brodell is a trained paramedic and holds national certifications as a flight and tactical paramedic. He is also a graduate of Colgate University and has earned a master's degree in Homeland Security/Emergency Management from Northeastern University. In his spare time, the Bemus Point, N.Y., native enjoys practicing Brazilian jiu-jitsu and spending time with family in the Greater Rochester area.

"I believe Andrew's breadth of experience and education will serve our County and its residents well," said Livingston County Administrator Ian Coyle. "He's going to be a great asset to our team and I hope everyone will join me in welcoming him to Livingston County."

Before his selection, Brodell was vetted by County officials through a formal recruitment process. A selection panel made up of County Administration, EMS, Board of Supervisors' members, the County Deputy Fire Coordinator, and a member representative of the Livingston County Fire Chiefs Association recommended his nomination to the Livingston County Board of Supervisors.

"I would like to first thank the County for allowing a fire service representative be a part of this process," said Livingston County Fire Chief's Association Representative Dustin Geiger. "I'm looking forward to seeing where Mr. Brodell takes our County's Emergency Services Department."

For more information on Livingston County's Office of Emergency Management, please call 585- 243-7160 or visit www.livingstoncounty.us/203/Emergency-Management-Office-of.
