FEDERAL, STATE, AND LOCAL COVID-19 MANDATES WILL BE FOLLOWED.

THIS IS AN OUTDOOR EVENT AND WILL BE HELD RAIN OR SHINE. PLEASE DRESS ACCORDINGLY.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The pitter-patter of all those Sheep feet means that you're out and about, rushing to get more done. That's fine, but slow down by the weekend so you can heed some important advice.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You're in charge of your own destiny these days, and, no doubt, you'll have that Bull's-eye of yours right on target. But don't forget to make time for family events.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Be prepared for a power struggle that you don't want. Look to the helpful folks around you for advice on how to avoid it without losing the important gains you've made.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Congratulations! You're about to claim your hard-earned reward for your patience and persistence. Now, go out and enjoy some fun and games with friends and family.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat might find it difficult to shake off that listless feeling. But be patient. By week's end, your spirits will perk up and you'll be your perfectly purring self again.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A problem with a co-worker could prove to be a blessing in disguise when a superior steps in to investigate and discovers a situation that could prove helpful to you.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) This is a favorable time to move ahead with your plans. Some setbacks are expected, but they're only temporary. Pick up the pace again and stay with it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your creativity is recognized and rewarded. So go ahead and claim what you've earned. Meanwhile, that irksome and mysterious situation soon will be resolved.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A new associate brings ideas that the wise Sagittarian quickly will realize can benefit both of you. Meanwhile, someone from the workplace makes an emotional request.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) It might be a good idea to ease up on that hectic pace and spend more time studying things you'll need to know when more opportunities come later in November.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A relatively quiet time is now giving way to a period of high activity. Face it with the anticipation that it will bring you some well-deserved boons and benefits.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Go with the flow, or make waves? It's up to you. Either way, you'll get noticed. However, make up your own mind. Don't let anyone tell you what choices to make.

BORN THIS WEEK: You like to examine everything before you agree to accept what you're told. Your need for truth keeps all those around you honest.

Birthday Surprise

A husband went to buy a birthday gift for his wife. Some friends had been invited over that night to celebrate her fortieth, and he wanted to get something special. At the store he spotted some cute little music boxes. One blue one was playing "Happy Birthday." Thinking they were all the same, he chose a red one and had it gift-wrapped.

Later, at dinner, he gave it to his wife and asked her to open it. When she lifted the lid, out came the tune to "The Old Gray Mare, She Ain't What She Used to Be!"

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Toy Icebox

Children's toys are often miniature copies of full-sized objects in the house. They like to imitate Mom and Dad's work. A recent Bertoia auction sold the toy icebox with its original pristine box for $1,440. The Gurney toy refrigerator made by Arcade is only 5 1/2 inches high. It is a copy of an 1840s icebox. Although the first refrigeration method was patented in 1809, the icebox for home use dates from the 1840s.

The toy has a square door on the right side that covered the compartment that held a block of ice, which was delivered by an iceman in a horse-drawn wagon. Food was kept in the large compartment, and the small section on the right is where the water from the melting ice was collected and discarded each day.

A modern electric refrigerator was made by General Electric Co. in 1927. It is named for the Monitor Top. It remained popular until the 1940s. Today's refrigerators can be dated by the special section for frozen food introduced in 1924. All of the styles have been copied for toys.

Q. I was just told that there was a bag kept in the privy building used in past centuries. It was quilted from old pieces of cloth and used to save scraps (some say cloth, some paper) to use like we use toilet paper. Is this true?

A. We thought that was a strange question, but we searched our library and finally went online to Kovels.com. We wrote about an exhibit in 2009 in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, of quilted privy bags. They also had a booklet showing the collection. The bags were used in the privy to hold the pieces of paper that were to be used like toilet paper. Waste went into the hole in the seat to the ground about 6 feet below. Lancaster, Pennsylvania, seems to have been the center of this tradition with Amish-made quilted bags. As you probably have heard, the joke was last year's Sears and Roebuck catalog was saved for the out-house. The only price we have seen for this rare item was $995.

Piedmont Pets

October 28, 2021 By Paulette Dean

Since we began our sheltering contract with the City of Danville in 1984, we have received all kinds of companion animals. Dogs, cats, birds, pocket pets, reptiles, have all been welcomed. In fact, we have even received goldfish and other fish! Our shelter, along with most shelters in Virginia, have seen a marked increase in the number of rabbits received.

We humans breed them and over-breed all species of animals for the pet industry. In fact, different breeds of dogs are now being bred to produce "designer dogs." They are really mixed breed dogs, and shelters receive vast numbers of them each year.

People buy pets, and then realize that the responsibility is great. Pet ownership comes with financial, emotional, and physical responsibilities. Others lose their jobs, and with it the financial ability to take care of their animals. Marriages or other relationships break up, and in some cases, the animals become the victims.

Because of all of the breeding of every species, animal shelters are full. Rescue groups for every species of animals have been organized, simply because breeders continue to breed while shelters and rescue groups try to clean up the mess. The boards of shelters run by humane organizations decide they cannot stand the sadness, causing many to give up their contracts to operate the municipal shelters. The one topic open-admission shelters, limited-admission shelters and rescue groups agree on is the need for spaying/neutering dogs and cats and stopping the mass breeding of other animals.

In the midst of all this, breeders continue to breed. What is it going to take to truly help the animals? It is going to take more than a national discussion about euthanasia rates. It will require mandatory spay/neuter laws, but it will also require a raw look at how we view animals as commodities.

The discussion will be a difficult one, but the animals will benefit.

AVERETT UNIVERSITY CUTS RIBBON ON AU AVIATION SERVICES

University now serves as fixed base operator at Danville Regional Airport

Averett University today held a ribbon cutting event celebrating the opening of AU Aviation Services, the new Fixed Based Operator (FBO) of the Danville Regional Airport. The University and the City of Danville entered into a lease agreement beginning July 1.

“With so many exciting economic development initiatives underway, our community airport is becoming increasingly significant, serving as a window to the region and often providing a first and lasting impression,” said Averett President Dr. Tiffany M. Franks.

“Here at AU Aviation Services, we’ve established an enhanced look, developed a new logo and hired wonderful staff who are here to serve all who travel through Danville Regional Airport.” Averett hired industry veteran John Earl to serve as its inaugural FBO manager. Earl has extensive experience leading FBOs across the United States that have commonly been recognized for exemplary customer service, including Boston, Denver, Los Angeles and San Francisco, as well as in some smaller communities throughout Alabama and Kansas.

“It means so much to join a community that has such pride in its FBO, and I look forward to leading it and supporting this growth during this time of exciting advancement in this region,” said Earl.

The University has had a presence at the airport for 40 years, operating its Aeronautics degree program out of the George J. Falk Flight Operations Center next door to the FBO area. More than 100 Averett Aeronautics majors are learning the business of aviation or receiving in-flight training at Averett’s FAA-approved 141-certified flight school. “This transition gives us the opportunity to maximize growth in our aeronautics academic program – which is projected to almost double in enrollment within the next four years – and this FBO will serve as a fully integrated, hands-on learning lab for our students.”

Averett is building upon the solid foundation provided by former operator, General Aviation – a multi-generational, family-owned company that operated the FBO since 1948. At today’s event, both the City and Averett presented the former FBO managers – the Rembold family – plaques of recognition for their vision, persistence and commitment to service over these 70 years of aviation growth in the region.

Danville Regional Airport is owned and operated by the City of Danville. It covers 800 acres, and includes a primary runway and a cross runway.

“There is no limit to where this region can go, and as there is continued growth, the Danville Regional Airport will continue to evolve as well to be a current and necessary asset providing the business of aviation, training support and convenience,” Mayor Alonzo Jones said. “The City and Averett have worked and continue to work together very closely. Today, we celebrate the latest chapter.”

NEW REACH PARTNERSHIP AWARDED $6.3 MILLION GRANT TO ADDRESS HEALTH DISPARITIES IN DAN RIVER REGION

Project offers improved access to health care, job creation and workforce development (DANVILLE, Va.) – The Regional Engagement to Advance Community Health (REACH) Partnership, begun as the former Community Health Worker (CHW) Project, will expand resources and services to more wholly address health disparities in the Dan River Region, thanks to a $6.3 million grant award from the Danville Regional Foundation.

“The name change from the Community Health Worker Project to REACH is intentional,” said Dr. Julie Brown, a leader of REACH and Director of Advanced Learning at the Institute for Advanced Learning and Research (IALR). “REACH is a strategic effort to bring disparate and siloed providers together, creating a system of care that drives positive population health outcomes at a reduced cost, improving the quality of life for everyone.”

The REACH Partnership represents the next iteration of the CHW Project, which was originally designed (in cooperation with The Health Collaborative) to improve health outcomes for residents at the highest risk for chronic disease, increase the number of individuals who seek appropriate healthcare services, and create a career pathway for healthcare workers. REACH will continue this work and will expand it to address the systematic barriers preventing positive health outcomes and create a system of care that provides equitable access to all residents in the region. REACH also provides holistic support through the clinical Community Paramedic role and the non-clinical CHWs, who work to address the social determinants of health. REACH’s expanded, systems-based approach will include nine partners, an increase from the original four of the CHW Project. IALR will serve as administrator and fiscal agent, joined by Piedmont Access to Community Health Services, Gateway Health, Sovah Health-Danville, Compassion Healthcare, the Danville Life Saving Crew (DLSC), Pittsylvania County EMS, Caswell County EMS, Danville Pittsylvania Community Services and Danville Redevelopment and Housing Authority. Some of the steps to be taken among partners will include data integration, alignment of resources and coordinated communication.

The project will also add nine new positions, including five new Community Health Workers, three new Community Paramedics (CP) and a Program Assistant. These new positions will work with the current CHWs, Care Coordinators, CPs (initiated by DLSC), Project Manager, and IALR and REACH organizational leadership. The REACH Partnership has also aligned with workforce development efforts, including the state certification of the Community Health Worker position by the CHW Project team, ample training options and career pathway progression opportunities.

The success of the CHW Project is expected to continue with REACH. Since the CHW Project began working with citizens in 2017, it has served over 1,040 clients with 674 graduates, connecting 38 percent with a primary care physician and 76 percent with a specialty doctor. Sovah Health-Danville emergency department (ED) visits by superusers (those using the ED more than five times in 12 months) dropped by 59 percent after enrollment in the CHW program. The CHW Project also was instrumental in the City of Danville’s All-America City Award win in 2020. Plus, the CHW effort won awards from Health Quality Innovators for creating rural health solutions, as well as the THRIVE Award from The Health Collaborative.

Danville Area Training Center to Announce New Director

DANVILLE- The Danville Area Training Center is pleased to announce the appointment of Brian Alderson as its next Director. Alderson started his EMT career in 1985 with the Danville Life Saving Crew serving in many capacities, including Chief of the crew during his 20+ years. After 11 years, Alderson obtained his Virginia Office of Emergency Medical Services (EMT) Instructor certification, now titled Education Coordinator, and found his love for teaching. He is also an American Heart Association, AHA, CPR certified instructor.

Alderson is retiring from his current position of Battalion Chief at the Danville Fire Department, who he has been with for over 33 years. He has held many positions within the Danville Fire Department, including the training division, but most of his time was spent as an officer serving the Danville community.

“My plans for retirement have always involved teaching in some capacity,” said Alderson. “I aim to make sure the Danville Area Training Center continues to provide the best pre-hospital instruction in the region.”

Alderson plans to start his new position off strong by increasing daily trainings for DLSC crew members, and solidifying partnerships with other medical agencies nearby. He has taught hundreds of students over the years, some advancing to become Advanced Life Support (ALS) providers, nurses, physical therapists, doctors, and more.

“We are very excited for Brian to join the Danville Area Training Center as director,” said Neal Morris, president of the DATC board. “Training is one of the most important aspects of any EMS career and being able to offer not only our crew members, but the surrounding community superior training opportunities is our mission.”
