FIRST ANNUAL PACIFIC PARK CHILI AND FRIED CHICKEN COOKOFF

Johnny Wright, center, dreamed up the contest and staged it in Pacific Park. All cooking was to be done outdoors.

There was considerable interest, however, there were only four Chili entries and only two chicken entries this first year. Johnny told those attending that the contest would be back next year, bigger and better!

There were three judges; Cody Anglin, Patricia Morgan and Yours Truly! If you know me, you know how much I love chili, so I couldn't resist the urge to volunteer! We judged the chili samples on taste, texture and presentation. We judged the chicken on it's crispiness, flavor and seasoning. It was all very good, and judging was not easy! However, after the scores were tallied, Cedrick Wright had earned the First Place Chili trophy, and Shandis Godbolt Young had taken the First Place Fried Chicken Award. They were applauded by a small but enthusiastic crowd in front of the Pacific Park stage.

Judges were Cody Anglin, Yours Truly and Patricia Morgan

The contest will return in 2022, open to all cooks who wish to enter. Let's plan to be there! Til next week I will watch for you at the Corral Gate.

A QUICK BUNCH OF INTERVIEWS

Tumbleweed Smith

Tumbleweed Smith

Sue Land sent me an email and said, "You oughta come to Hico. We've got a bunch of great folks here and they would make good subjects for your radio program and newspaper column." So I went. I parked my car just before noon on a Friday and left 4 hours later with 7 interviews. They all took place within a 2-block area of downtown Hico. Sue arranged all the interviews, scheduling them 30 minutes apart. Sue is a magnificent host and guide. And by the way, she is an interesting person herself. She writes murder mysteries. "The stories are all from my imagination. I just get an idea and start writing." She has written 4 books and is spearheading a big book signing of prominent Texas writers the first weekend in November. She volunteers at the Billy the Kid Museum in Hico. "Billy was killed in New Mexico but he died in Texas," says Sue. She told me a little bit about how Billy ended up in Hico and Hamilton but referred me to Robert Dean, President of the Billy The Kid Museum.

"Billy the Kid came here and was known as Brushy Bill Roberts," says Robert. "We sell copies of his autobiography here at the museum and they sell like crazy. He's buried in Hamilton and people leave all kinds of things at his grave. He died here on a downtown street in 1950 of a heart attack at the age of 91."

My next stop was my favorite: Kevin Wenzel's chocolate kitchen. He makes Wiseman House Chocolates that go all over the US. He specializes in truffles, ganache and toffee with origins in Belgium and Venezuela flavored with unique liqueurs and spices. He's been making delicious and exotic chocolates for 25 years. I took home some samples. Exquisite. I'll order more.

I interviewed Trish McMillin who lives upstairs in a downtown building full of antiques, gift items and clothing. Her business is called Sugar Moon Market. She and her sisters started the business 15 years ago and have shopped for antiques in Europe and the US. After retiring from an electric utility Trish spent 2 years in Iraq working as a government contractor keeping track of money spent for military supplies.

Then I went to the Wooden Indian Cigar store owned by Roy Ward. He sells cigars (from $5 to $30 each) and Arbuckle Coffee, which has been around since 1959 and comes with a peppermint stick in every package.

My next stop was the popcorn store owned by Steve and Donna McInnis. You wouldn't believe how much popcorn they sell: thousands of dollars at a time to schools, businesses and all kinds of events. They can do popcorn in a variety of colors. While I was there they were getting ready to ship 200 huge bags of popcorn to Norway.

I interviewed Dillon Riechard at Jersey Lilly's, a Mexican Food Restaurant that is an anchor business in downtown Hico. It's kind of like the community center. He bought the business from his parents a year ago. I finished up at Hill Country Dwellers, which designs homes and sells home furnishings. Good trip. Thanks, Sue.
