SPEAK OUT!!!

The Mount Morris Shopper feels that everyone has a right to be heard (or read, in this case) so we are offering this page each week (space permitting) for our readers to share their ideas, views, feelings or whatever. Realizing that everyone cannot AFFORD to pay for this privilege, the Mount Morris Shopper is offering this page as a FREE Public Service for articles or letters sent in for publication. All letters submitted must be signed with the name, address and phone number of the author. Please make letters as brief as possible.

Dear "Speak Out,"

I am writing in response to Lauren Berger's well composed letters in the January 23rd and January 30th Shoppers which give us all points to ponder.

We know these issues are extremely complex and cannot be "solved" in a format like this, let alone REALLY influence people to change their minds about deeply held beliefs, opinions and biases but we can hear each other out. I know that Christians do tend to come across as negative, judgmental and narrow-minded rather than as generous, loving and supportive – our words speak louder than our deeds.

But our deeds are nothing to brag about over the centuries either, considering our history with the Inquisition from the 5th century and many following, the Crusades in the Middle Ages, and more recently the conflict in Northern Ireland.

I was really struck by Lauren's questions, "What would Jesus want to know....?", a variation of "What Would Jesus Do?" (hence the letters WWJD, which were so popular as a slogan, taken from a book written by Garret Sheldon, a modern re-write of "In His Steps", by Charles Sheldon in the 1800's).

I am the first to admit that it is not easy to discern what Jesus would do, despite James 1:5 telling us, "If any of you lack wisdom, ask and.... It will be given to him liberally." Our receptors are not receiving clear signals. I just know that Jesus didn't do what people expected him to do. He acted unpredictably, compassionately, always with the best interest of the other person in mind.

Let me digress and put in a plug for a fairly new video series that has come out in the past couple years which is easily accessible on Youtube, called The Chosen. Of course there is "poetic license" taken in producing them, but the portrayals I see here of Jesus are compelling, personal, faith enriching, relevant, relational, and so much more. Not a namby-pamby Jesus who goes around telling people what they shouldn't be doing, but One who compels people to want a relevant, purposeful, God-honoring life, with His help.

But even the disciples got it wrong on many occasions, with Him right there! On the other hand, it cannot be denied that Christians have been at the forefront in making life better for millions around the world. It is Christians who are the champions of compassionate medical care in remote areas where even the presence of a doctor is rare. Christians are there in promoting better education as well for children who have no access.

Typically homeless shelters, food banks, clothing distribution centers, homes for battered women and pregnant women with nowhere else to go, are run and staffed by Christians. Most Christians I know who give generously to causes do NOT brag about it – it's done in quiet obedience and a desire to make the world a better place.

I honestly wish we all could answer truthfully, "What would Jesus want?," and then there would be harmony, health, and we could say we are doing unto others as we would want them to do unto us.

Unfortunately, we have not learned much from over 2000 years of Jesus' teachings, in spite of trying. As Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel (1770–1831) said, "We learn nothing from history." Sad! But let us at least listen with compassion and open hearts and both sides offer parts of the solutions. As my mother used to say, "You are either part of the problem or part of the solution." We all want to be the latter part of that scenario.

Respectfully,
Carolyn Pollock, Hunt

Dear "Speak Out,"

Recently "Speak Out" posted a letter from a reader stating that "The birth rate in the U.S. has declined..." This is incorrect. The actual U. S. Census figures are as follows: 1960- 180 million; 1970- 200 million; 2020- 330 million. Canada shows similar gains in population: 1970- 21.3 million; 2020- 35 million.

I also take issue with the comment that "people need choice [abortions] because they "cannot afford/take care of more [children]." Does it not seem odd that some depend upon county issue diapers and birth control but somehow can afford new cars? Looks like a cultural issue, not an economic issue to me.

Lewis Carroll's "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" was written to be absurdist. The Queen of Hearts states, "Sentence first...verdict afterwards."

We live in a time of absurdities. Her line is as absurd as a "Planned Parenthood" official decrying a bogus decline in population while at the same time claiming a need for their services. The founder of Planned Parenthood, Margaret Sanger, was an unashamed true racist. She saw it as a way of [her words] "getting rid of the Negro problem." The Nazis modeled their eugenics/Holocaust Program after her policies.

Chuck Cottone
Mount Morris

Dear "Speak Out,"

I continue to hear Americans asking why mass killings and violence are continuing to occur. The answer to this question is that America has become a very violent country.

One reason for this is that media giants like ABC, CBS, CNN, and NBC are broadcasting these shootings and ask why this is happening. As the evening continues one program after another contain large amounts of violence.

One little boy recently asked how the man on television at that moment just got killed, but "Daddy, Mommy, he was on television last night and was killed. How can he be killed tonight when he got killed last night?"

Children and teenagers, who are in their impressionable years, are easily influenced by what they see on television, the internet and on video games. Americans are becoming so desensitized to violence that what they see, they imitate!

A lady I know told me that I am wrong in my assumptions because people can differentiate between what is real and what is imaginary. I disagree with her because our souls are composed of intellect, emotions and will and are very much influenced by what we see and hear. When our intellects are invaded, our emotions become captive to what we see until our will acts upon these suggestions.

I remember when I was young, the content of television was very mild compared to today. There was certain media content which Americans just would not accept. The content of television programs today promotes this violence as excitement. If these media giants were to lessen or stop airing these programs, it would lower their ratings and reduce profits.

Television ratings create money for these networks, but is it worth all these senseless killings just to make a buck? It is not until one of our family or friends become a victim of this violence that we will then become enraged and cry out "Why did this happen?" Even then, we will continue allowing our children and teenagers, as well as ourselves, to continue soaking in this violence and hate.

So now the question is...What are we going to do about this? The answer is...until we Americans become so fed up with these senseless killings and violence, and stop watching it on television, the internet and gaming, they will continue to escalate and eventually hit home with the death of a loved one!

A family which I know became sadly aware of the content of a program called "Dungeons & Dragons". They noticed a dramatic change in the behavior of their son but ignored it until they found him hanging by a rope in their attic. The game they found on his computer encouraged suicide. I pray that you recognize this cancer in our society and decide not to be a part of it but fight to stop this sickness!

Only when we demand change, will these mass killings stop! I am very pleased with the remarks of my fellow "Speakout" contributor and encourage her to continue to share her viewpoints with all of us. People I know have told me in the past that they do not read the "Speakout" but are now anxiously awaiting each week to read the differing views. It is wonderful that freedom of speech and press are still alive in America. It is true that a nation becomes what its citizens desire, and its future, both positive or negative, is molded by these various views.

Lord willing, I will submit a new article next week and encourage you to submit an article yourself.

Thank you to all of our family and friends who contributed meals, donated to the Mount Morris Fire Department, sent flowers, made phone calls, sent emails & cards, and provided comfort to us since our father's passing.

Thank you to Kenny Steen and the Mount Morris Fire Department for the beautiful service for Steve's Final Call.

Finally, a special thank you to Joe Gervase, Amanda Martin, and Trevor Martin for all you did for Steve on the tragic night in December.

With Sincere Thanks,

Roe, Steven Jr., Cassie, Katie, Amanda, Jeff, and Brooklyn

February is American Heart Month

February is American Heart Month. It is the perfect time to learn about your risk for heart disease and the steps you need to take now to keep your heart healthy. Heart disease can happen at any age.

Here are some conditions and behaviors that put people at risk for heart disease:

- High blood pressure
- High blood cholesterol
  - Smoking
  - Obesity
  - Diabetes
- Physical inactivity
- Unhealthy eating patterns

Be aware that heart disease is still the leading cause of death for Americans. Increase your knowledge and reduce your risk by getting your blood pressure and cholesterol checked.

Even through the COVID-19 pandemic, it is important to keep routine visits and testing, especially if you have any risk factors for high blood cholesterol and high blood pressure.

Pay special attention to risk factors for blood cholesterol if you: have a family history of high cholesterol and/or heart disease, have diabetes, are of older age, are male, are a female in post-menopause, and if you are overweight or obese.

Also, high blood pressure can occur for folks with a family history, as we age, men under 64, women over 65, African-Americans, and those with chronic kidney disease. Know your risks and find ways to live and maintain your heart health.

Your heart is the most important muscle in your body. Keep it healthy and fit for a long and productive life. For more information regarding how our communities are eating better, moving more and stressing less stress visit www.gvhp.org and click on the Be Well in Livingston button.

Small Steps, Big Rewards

The Aging Mastery Program®

In this program, participants take core and elective classes that combine evidence-informed materials, expert speakers, group discussions, levels of mastery and achievement, and small rewards. All of the courses are designed to provide the skills and tools needed to achieve measurable improvements in managing health, remaining economically secure, and contributing actively in society.

AMP includes:

Navigating Longer Lives: The Basics of Aging Mastery: Introduction to the program and its philosophy with a special emphasis on the new realities of aging, making the most of the gift of longevity, and taking small steps to improve health, financial well-being and quality of life.

Exercise and You: Discussions of the importance of exercising both the mind and body with a focus on strategies for incorporating meditation, aerobics, strengthening, flexibility, and balance into daily routines.

Sleep: Overview of how sleep patterns change as we age, the importance of monitoring the sleep cycle, and simple strategies to improve sleep.

Healthy Eating and Hydration: Review of nutrition as it relates to aging with a focus on strategies for incorporating healthy eating and hydration into daily routines.

Financial Fitness: Introduction to strategies for remaining economically secure in an era of longevity with an emphasis on setting financial goals and setting financial boundaries with friends and families.

Medication Management: Best practices covering how to take medications as directed, how to store medications safely, and how to keep track of multiple medications.

Advance Planning: Guidance around key steps needed to manage health care, financial, and housing/care decisions with a focus on considering the role of personal values and beliefs in these decisions.

Healthy Relationships: Exploration of the benefits of being socially active, as well as the risks of isolation with a focus on practical strategies for continuing to build and strengthen friendships and family connections as we age.

Falls Prevention: Overview of the importance of falls prevention among older adults and strategies to prevent falling.

Community Engagement: Introduction to the value of continuing contribution and small acts of kindness with a focus on identifying personal aptitudes for meaningful volunteer and civic opportunities.
