Metro Detroit residents of all ages are gearing up for some winter fun in Royal Oak this weekend at the city's first ever Winter Blast festival, set for Feb. 18-20. The free event, previously held at Campus Martius in Detroit since its inception in 2005, was canceled last year due to the pandemic, and reportedly lacked the funding for its return to Detroit in 2022.

Finding a new home in downtown Royal Oak, Winter Blast has been revived by organizer Jon Witz, who also produces the city's popular Arts, Beats & Eats festival over Labor Day Weekend. Soaring Eagle Casino & Resort, a longtime sponsor of Arts Beats & Eats, is the presenting sponsor for the Royal Oak Winter Fest this year as well.

"We are overjoyed to be back and have the community come together and take advantage of the many activities that people of all ages can see and do at Winter Blast Royal Oak," said Raul Venegas, executive director of Marketing, Entertainment & Sales for Soaring Eagle in a statement. "We're creating a beautiful winter wonderland that's sure to be well received by residents, metro Detroiters and beyond and become the go-to destination for a weekend of winter fun for years to come."

About 50,000 people or more are expected to turn out for the winter festival in Royal Oak.

An outdoor ice rink sponsored by M3 Investments will be set up in the west parking lot of the Farmers Market at 316 E. 11 Mile Road. Skate rentals are $5 for kids and $10 for adults.

"Winter Blast just wouldn't be the same without ice skating, so we're proud to bring to life the M3 Rink at Royal Oak Farmers Market to give attendees the chance to glide, spin, lunge or perform whatever skills they may have on ice skates and to do it for free throughout the festival weekend," Witz said in a statement.

Winter Blast will feature a garden filled with carved ice sculptures that will colorfully light up at night. Sponsored by Henry Ford Health System, the ice garden will be set up on Third Street near Main Street, and include on-site ice carving demonstra-

More than 40 musical acts are set to perform throughout the weekend, and there is a kids stage and family activities zone.

The main Headliners include Larry Lee & Back in the Day, Killer Flamingos, and Cast Iron Cornbread in one of the heated large tents at the comfort zones.

A 300-foot zip line raised 34 feet in the air is one of the attractions, along with a giant slide where riders can travel up to 20 mph inside a dark tube at 40-degree angle. A 30-degree angled slide for children is offered for those who want a slower ride.

Other highlights include marshmallow roasting stations, snowshoeing, and a Winter Blast Polar Plunge in cold water to raise money for Special Olympics Michigan.

Buskers will walk around through the festival area doing juggling acts and magic tricks.

A variety of food trucks are part of the event, offering everything from chicken wings, and sweet and spicy barbecue to desserts and international food. Among those taking food truck participants are Crispelli's, Fork in Nigeria, Big Bo's, Big Mike's, Imperial Tacos, Mercurio's, Cinnabon, Niko's Gyros, Panzerotti, and Wing Snob.

Hot: 10,000 to receive gift cards to spend at downtown businesses during Winter Blast

Ten thousand people will receive $10 gift cards to use at downtown Royal Oak retailers to enhance local shopping before and during the Winter Blast festival this month.

The $100,000 giveaway is from the city's Downtown Development Authority's Royal Oak Retail Dollars program.

Ambassadors from the committee putting on the three-day Winter Blast event will be handing out the gift cards randomly this weekend and during the festival, said DDA Downtown Manager Daniel Hill.

The gift cards can be used at more than 30 participating retailers in the downtown, including shops such as Blu Jean Blues, Five 15 Mojo & More, Made in the Mitten, noir Leather, Paper Trail Books, Rail & Anchor, the Salvation Army store, Toyology, UHF Music, Write Impressions stationery, and Your Personal Jeweler.

Cold: Brave frigid water, take the Winter Blast Polar Plunge

Festivalgoers are invited to brave the chilly winter air and take the Winter Blast Polar Plunge to benefit Special Olympics of Michigan.

This year's polar plunge is sponsored by Howard & Howard Attorneys. Community members, family and friends are encouraged to take the "plunge" into a pool of freezing water benefiting a great cause. The Polar Plunge is sure to be a crowd-pleaser while also providing support for a special charity.

Select from the following Plunge Times:

- 6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 18
- 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 19
- 6 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 19
- 1 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 20

Those interested in taking a dip in the cold waters can register at winterblast.com/special-olympics-polar-plunge. Following registration, a page will be created for each registrant to encourage family and friends to donate in support of their plunge.

Plunge check-in begins one hour before each plunge time at the "Polar Plunge Info" Tent, where you can turn in cash & check donations, get your incentives, and prepare to plunge! Participants will have access to a special heated changing area to warm-up and a coupon for a Winter Blast Freebie. Those that raise $500 or more are eligible to win a prize package provided by Soaring Eagle Casino & Resort including a two-night stay, $200 in spa services, and a $200 dining voucher.

Official Winter Blast after party at The Morrie and Tequila Blue

If you're still looking for fun after the festival activities come to an end, look no further than the official Winter Blast after party at The Morrie and Tequila Blue. The Morrie, located just outside the festival on the east side of Main Street and 6th street, offers American bar cuisine and seasonal craft cocktails. They host a wide array of DJs and live bands on a regular basis, and have a whole lineup of local acts planned to keep the party going all weekend long. Tequila Blue is a Mexican style cantina, located above 526 Main Dueling Piano Bar, that evolves into a nightclub throughout the evening. They offer Mexican cuisine with an American twist, as well as delicious craft cocktails. Stop by Tequila Blue to catch some of metro Detroit's hottest DJs.
