

Gorham Basketball Coaches Elected to Maine Basketball Hall of Fame

GORHAM, ME (February 19, 2022) – Mark Karter was elected to the Maine Basketball Hall of Fame, Class of 2022. Karter’s nearly 448 career coaching victories include a 65-game win streak. His Mountain Valley team captured a state championship in 1991. And at Westbrook High School, Karter led the Blazers to Western Maine championships in '94 and '96. The 1978 graduate of Waterville High School played for Maine Basketball Hall of Fame coach Tom Maines. He currently coaches at Gorham High School.

Fort Kent Native Neile Joler Nelson was also elected to Maine Basketball Hall of Fame.

Joler Nelson earned Maine NCAA

Woman of the Year honors at St. Joseph’s College and was a Scholar-Athlete All-American. She’s in the Monks Hall of Fame for softball and basketball. Her career hoop totals: 814 points, 313 assists, 279 rebounds, and 143 steals. She also was inducted with the 1991-92 women’s basketball team, which posted a 23-8 record and advanced to the NAIA National Tournament.

At Fort Kent High School, Nelson was an All-Tourney selection and a 1991 McDonald’s Senior All-Star. She’s the varsity girls’ assistant at Gorham High School, which won state titles in 2016 and 2017.

About the Maine Basketball Hall of Fame: Founded in 2013, basketball has been an institution and a part of every Maine city for a century.

The concept of a Hall of Fame came from a desire to preserve the history of basketball in the State of Maine; identify and recognize the accomplishments and contributions of individuals and teams; and promote the heritage of basketball in the State of Maine.

This undertaking records the one hundred year rich history of Maine’s high school, collegiate and town team/semi-pro basketball as well as identifies and recognize the outstanding teams, players, coaches, officials, athletic administrators, media members and other organizations and persons who have made a significant contribution to Maine’s basketball.

The design of the Maine State Basketball Hall of Fame is not only to identify and honor the elite participants. There are multiple achievement and contribution categories, each one having fitting criteria. The leadership design includes a board of directors, officers, and a selection committee.

It is hoped that everyone who has been involved with State of Maine basketball will value and share in the spirit of the Maine Basketball Hall of Fame which will stand as “A Lasting Memorial to a Maine Tradition.”

Updates from the Town of Gorham

GORHAM, ME (February 11, 2022) – The following are notes from the Gorham Town Manager’s Office Weekly Report.

Redesigned Town Website Now Live

Folks looking for information will now find a redesigned Town website, featuring more prominent buttons and links to frequently accessed webpages, an expanded list of news and announcements, and a calendar of events - all on the homepage. The goal was to allow site visitors to find relevant information with fewer mouse clicks. Citizens can also interact with the Chat tool in the lower right corner on all Town website pages for guidance on how and where to find specific information across the website.

Presentation on Conservation Options, Resources & Potential Funding

Folks who own farmland, a woodlot, or a large undeveloped parcel in Gorham, and are interested in learning about conservation options for their land were invited to join the Town of Gorham, Presumpscot Regional Land Trust, and Maine Farmland Trust for an online presentation on Feb. 17, 2022 via Zoom.

Baxter Memorial Library Update & Upcoming Events

· Snow Pant Story time Tuesdays at 10:00am

· Families are invited to grab their snow pants and join Ms. Heidi and Mr. Jeff for a brilliant outdoor story time that features stories, singing, dancing and playing! All participants are encouraged to come prepared for chilly Maine weather by layering, wearing hats, gloves or mittens, and maybe even a blanket.

· The Jan 25th Snow pant Storytime had special guests as Public Works joined the program with their sidewalk plows as Ms. Heidi and Mr. Jeff read a plow book! Public Works talked about how they keep our spaces free from snow and even let families sit in the plows. This program is truly the best part of Ms. Heidi’s and Mr. Jeff’s week!

· Youth Services gave away 50 take and make Valentines kits. This kit included supplies to make several handmade Valentine’s Day cards.

Elite Airways Announces New Nonstop Flights from Portland Jetport

PORTLAND, ME (February 14, 2022) -- Elite Airways LLC today announced it is expanding air service at Northeast Florida Regional Airport (UST) in St. Augustine with new nonstop service to Portland International Jetport (PMW) in Maine.

The new service starts March 26 and will operate on Saturdays traveling southbound and Sundays going northbound.

Elite's existing service between St. Augustine and Newark will add a third day of flights from late March through mid-

May then return to twice weekly throughout the summer.

Tickets start at $129* each way for Newark/St. Augustine and $199* each way for Portland/St. Augustine and are available for sale at 877-393-2510 and EliteAirways.com.

Elite Airways operates a fleet of Bombardier CRJ-200, CRJ-700 and CRJ-900 jet airliners with 50, 70 and 90 seats respectively, known for comfort and efficiency, and maintains an impeccable safety record. All Elite Airways passengers receive free onboard snacks and beverages, advance seat assignments, free first checked bag up to 50lbs and 62 inches in length (including travel golf bags), and no ticketing change fees; see website for details.

Elite Airways is also pet friendly.

"Elite Airways is expanding commercial air service in St. Augustine with a new nonstop to our hometown of Portland Maine," said John Pearsall,

President of Elite Airways. "We believe Mainers will enjoy having a new Florida destination to explore—one with historical landmarks, pristine beaches and worldclass golf courses and resorts. We're also pleased that our Newark/St. Augustine service is being well received by the community so we're adding a third day this spring and will look for additional opportunities to expand service at NFRA in the coming year."

"Elite Airways' new nonstop flights provide a new economic connection point between St. Johns County and Portland, one of the fastest growing metro areas in Maine," said Bruce Maguire, Chairman of the St. Johns County Airport Authority. "We are thankful for the partnership between Elite Airways' leadership and Airport Administration which enables us to offer this expanded travel option serving both business and recreational travel needs."

More information about NFRA can be found at: <https://flynf.com>.

"The expansion of service into NFRA by Elite Airways is a tribute to the growing demand for our destination from the northeast and Elite's support of our community," stated Richard Goldman, President & Chief Executive Officer, St. Augustine, Ponte Vedra & The Beaches Visitors & Convention Bureau. "We look forward to hosting more of Elite Airways' travelers here in Florida's Historic Coast."

More information can be found at: <https://www.floridashistoriccoast.com/>.

"We are thrilled to add a brand-new Florida destination to our lineup with Elite Airways," said Paul Bradbury, Airport Director, Portland International Jetport. "St. August-tine provides easy access to northeast Florida and offers a warm destination for Mainers looking to escape the long winter."

More information about PWM can be found at: <https://portlandjetport.org>.

Elite Airways LLC today announced it will resume flights at Vero Beach Regional Airport (VRB) on March 25 with its popular twice-weekly nonstop service to Newark NJ.

The airline is also adding a new nonstop flight to/from Portland International Jetport (PWM) in Maine beginning March 26, and a new nonstop flight to/from Westchester White Plains Airport (HPN) starting March 30. Elite's existing service between Vero Beach and Newark will add a third day of flights from late March through mid-May then return to twice weekly throughout the summer.

Tickets start at $199* each way and are available for sale at 877-393-2510 and EliteAirways.com.

"Elite Airways is pleased to be back in Vero Beach with nonstop service to Newark, White Plains and Portland Maine," said John Pearsall, President of Elite Airways. "Vero Beach has been an integral part of our spring and summer expansion plans now that runway rehabilitation at VRB is complete. We'd like to thank airport and city officials and the community for their continued support as we look for additional opportunities to expand service at VRB in the coming year."

"We are pleased to see Elite Airways resume its nonstop service to Vero Beach," said Paul Bradbury, Airport Director, Portland International Jetport. "The service was popular with our passengers in the past and we look forward to its return."

More information about PWM can be found at: <https://portlandjetport.org>. "Vero Beach Regional Airport is pleased to welcome Elite Airways back to Vero Beach at the conclusion of our primary runway rehabilitation project," said Todd Scher, A.C.E., Director, Vero Beach Regional Airport. "Elite provides excellent service and a convenient airline experience that many residents of Vero Beach, Indian River County and surrounding areas appreciate and utilize frequently."

More information can be found at: <https://www.verobeachairport.com/>.

Today's announcement is part of a larger rollout of Elite Airways' spring and summer schedule along the east coast and Florida as leisure air travel continues to rebound. In a separate release the airline is announcing expanded service in St. Augustine with the addition of a new nonstop flight to Portland Maine in addition to its existing twice-weekly service to Newark.

Maine CDC Warns of Potentially Tainted Infant Formula

AUGUSTA, ME (February 18, 2022) — The Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention (Maine CDC) today recommended that consumers avoid purchasing or using certain Abbott Nutrition powdered infant formula after a U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA) investigation linked contaminated formula to at least four cases of illness in children. None of the cases is in Maine, but some of the affected formula was distributed to Maine.

The powdered infant formulas have the potential to be contaminated with Cronobacter, a bacterium that can cause severe foodborne illness primarily in infants. Cronobacter infections are rare but are especially high risk for newborn infants.

The FDA, along with the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (U.S. CDC) and local partners, is investigating four consumer complaints of infant illness related to products from Abbott Nutrition's facility in Sturgis, Michigan. The FDA received the complaints between September 6, 2021, and December 18, 2021. All of the cases are reported to have consumed powdered infant formula produced at Abbott Nutrition's Sturgis facility. These complaints include three reports of Cronobacter sakazakii infections and one report of Salmonella Newport infection in infants. All four children involved in these complaints were hospitalized, and Cronobacter may have contributed to a death in one case.

The FDA advises consumers not to use Similac, Alimentum or EleCare powdered infant formulas if:

the first two digits of the code are 22 through 37 and the code on the container contains K8, SH, or Z2, and the expiration date is 4-1-2022 (APR 2022) or later.

The code is printed on the product packaging near the expiration date. Additional information on products made by Abbott Nutrition is available on its website: <https://abbottnutrition.com/infant-and-new-motherExternal Link Disclaimer>.

Consumers who purchased formula with these codes should stop using it and dispose of it or return it for a refund. Approximately 2,500 Maine households eligible to receive the formula through the Women, Infants, and Children's nutrition program have been notified directly. The FDA inspected the Sturgis facility. Findings to date include several positive Cronobacter results from environmental samples. A review of Abbott's internal records indicates environmental contamination with Cronobacter sakazakii.

This is an ongoing investigation, and Abbott is working with the FDA to initiate a voluntary recall of potentially affected product. The FDA will provide updates should additional consumer safety information become available.

Products that do not contain the information listed above are not affected by this advisory. This advisory does not include liquid formula products or any metabolic deficiency nutrition formulas. Consumers can continue to use all product not covered by this advisory.

Parents and caregivers should never dilute infant formula and should not make or feed homemade infant formula to infants. If your regular formula is not available, contact your child's health care provider for recommendations on changing feeding practices.

Cronobacter bacteria can cause severe, life-threatening infections (sepsis) or meningitis (an inflammation of the membranes that protect the brain and spine). Symptoms of sepsis and meningitis may include poor feeding, irritability, temperature changes, jaundice (yellow skin and whites of the eyes), grunting breaths, and abnormal movements. Cronobacter infection may also cause bowel damage and may spread through the blood to other parts of the body.

If your child is experiencing any of these symptoms, you should notify your child's health care provider and seek medical care for your child immediately. Health care providers are encouraged to report any confirmed cases of Cronobacter sakazakii to the U.S. CDC.

More information on Cronobacter and infant formula is available on the U.S. CDC's website.

UMF Upward Bound Program Recruiting Students

FARMINGTON, ME (February 11, 2022) — UMF Upward Bound is actively seeking participants for its year-round program. UB serves students in grades 9-12 from rural-western Maine, particularly students who would be the first in their family to attend college and need support getting there.

The program aims to help students develop the skills and motivation necessary to succeed in education beyond high school. UMF Upward Bound serves students from the following high schools:

- Waterville High School
- Lawrence High School

- Skowhegan Area High School
- Madison Area Memorial High School
- Mt. Abram High School
- Mt. Blue High School
- Spruce Mountain High School
- Carrabec High School
- Buckfield High School

- School
- Dirigo High School
- Mountain Valley High School
- Oxford Hills High School
- Telstar High School
- Edward Little High School

UB students receive many opportunities, including academic instruction, college, career, and financial aid counseling, as well as the opportunity to take part in a wide variety of trips and cultural activities. Students also participate in a residential 6-week program on the UMF campus during the summer, where they get to experience what it's like to live on a college campus. The best part? The program is completely free to students and their families. For folks interested in learning more about the program, the Upward Bound staff held an online Zoom meeting for families and students on February 15 at 6:00pm. For those interested in more information, contact the Upward Bound office at 207-778-7296.

Special Olympics Maine Returns to Live and In-Person Winter Events

(February 14, 2022) -- Special Olympics Maine has returned to LIVE/IN-PERSON events! Starting last summer we opened up for Equestrian, Sailing, Bocce and Golf. We are currently offering a five-week training and competition Winter Sports Program. Although we were not able to return to our traditional three-day state event at Sugarloaf, we still wanted to be sure that our winter competitors had a chance to train and compete in the sports they love. Training started over a month ago and our first competition was Tuesday February 15th at Quarry Road in Waterville. The remaining winter competitions that will make up our entire winter sports program this year are listed below.

Mitchell Center to Host Talk on Increasing Resilience on the Maine Coast

ORONO, ME (February 15, 2022)—The Senator George J. Mitchell Center for Sustainability Solutions at the University of Maine will host a talk on how the Island Institute collaborates with coastal communities to build resilience on Monday, February 28, 3–4 p.m.

The Island Institute works alongside Maine's island and coastal leaders to build community resilience and share solutions for addressing the coast's most critical issues. In this talk, Suzanne MacDonald, chief community development officer with the institute, will provide examples of the innovation unlocked by the institute's place-based, relationship-driven approach in a time of increasingly rapid change. She will also discuss the internal systems and structures that they have developed to ensure responsiveness to communities and their emergent needs. MacDonald oversees strategy development for the institute's interconnected economic, social and climate resilience programs. She has been a catalyst and leader with several national and global networks focused on island sustainability and currently serves as chair of the Efficiency Maine Trust Board of Directors, on various groups of the Maine Climate Council, and on the steering committee of the Climate Strong Islands Network. All talks in the Mitchell Center's Sustainability Talks series are free and will be offered both remotely via Zoom and in person at 107 Norman Smith Hall on the UMaine campus in Orono. Registration is required to attend remotely via Zoom; to register and receive connection information, see the event webpage. Please note that face coverings are required for all persons—students, staff, faculty, visitors and others—when indoors at a University of Maine System facility. For the latest health and safety guidance, please see umaine.edu/return. Updates for this event will be posted to the event webpage. To request reasonable accommodation, contact Ruth Hallsworth, 207.581.3196 or hallsworth@maine.edu.

Pine Tree Camp Offers Accessible Opportunities to Mainers with Disabilities and their Families

ROME, ME (February 14, 2022) -- Pine Tree Camp is pleased to offer fully accessible opportunities for Maine children and adults with disabilities and their families to experience the restorative benefits of the outdoors this February. During school vacation week, Maine people with disabilities are invited to come with their families or caregivers for Pine Tree Camp Adventure Day Pass to spend the day on February 19, 20, 23, and 26. Space is limited and campers can pre-register for one or more dates by visiting this link. <https://pinetree.campintouch.com/ui/forms/application/camp-er/App> Pine Tree Camp Adventure Day Pass offers safe, barrier-free day use of Pine Tree Camp's 285-acre fully accessible campus, providing the opportunity for people with disabilities and their families to experience winter activities like snowshoeing, sledding and ice fishing. Opportunities like Pine Tree Camp Adventure Day Pass and overnight Family Camp would not be possible without committed community partners, donors and supporters. The 49th Annual Dysart's Snowmobile Ride-In to support Pine Tree Camp held earlier this month raised more than $115,000 and every dollar supports Pine Tree Camp's Open-Door Policy, ensuring that all who can benefit are able to come to camp, regardless of their ability to pay tuition. For more information visit: <https://www.pinetreesociety.org/children-and-families/pine-tree-camp/> or call 207-386-5990. Headquartered in Bath with offices in Scarborough, Auburn, and Pine Tree Camp in Rome, Pine Tree Society helps Maine children and adults with disabilities lead active, more socially connected lives. Visit www.pinetree-society.org

Winter Tracking Workshop to be Held at Orchard Ridge Farm

GORHAM, ME (February 19, 2022) -- Are you curious about the movement of life around you—in your yard, woodlot, or a place you like to visit? Do you wonder about the lives of creatures who, though perhaps largely unseen, inhabit the same spaces you do? Just as water leaves its signature impressions on the landscape, animals leave traces of themselves as they go about their business. Cumulatively called “sign,” these traces—tracks, scat, evidence of feeding & bedding—present rich opportunities for interpretation by those who would take notice. In this workshop, join a Registered Maine Guide in an exploration of the tracks and traces left by wildlife in the vicinity of Orchard Ridge Farm. You will begin to shape an outlook on the practice of tracking, pick up a few handy skills and a little knowledge, and fabricate a simple tool which, through its frequent use, will allow you to sharpen your interpretive faculties on any landscape. All ages and degrees of experience are welcome! We will be offering two times for this event on March 5, both 2.5hrs long. One morning session from 9:30am-12pm and the second from 1-3:30pm. Both sessions will start in the greenhouse with a classroom portion (where there are a few heaters) but the second portion will be out-exploring- please dress accordingly. Admission is $40, please head to our eventbrite page to purchase your tickets! USDA Rural Development Invests $2.7 Million to Improve Community Infrastructure for People Living in Rural Towns Across Maine

BESSEMER, AL (January 26, 2022) – United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) Deputy Secretary Dr. Jewel Bronaugh today announced that USDA is investing $1 billion to build and improve critical community facilities in 48 states, Washington D.C., Puerto Rico and Guam. This infrastructure funding will increase access to health care, education and public safety while spurring community development and building sound infrastructure for people living in rural communities. In Maine, five organizations are receiving loans and grants totaling $2,708,700.

“The Biden-Harris Administration has made investing in infrastructure improvements a top priority,” Bronaugh said. “These loans and grants will help rural communities invest in facilities and services that are vital to all communities, such as health care facilities, schools, libraries, and first responder vehicles and equipment. When we invest in essential services in rural America, we build opportunity and prosperity for the people who call rural communities’ home.”

USDA Rural Development Maine State Director Rhiannon C. Hampson said, “These investments in rural Maine communities do not go unappreciated.

The creation, renovation and rebuilding of these rural organizations are paramount for those who live and visit here; the awardees are not only celebrating the stories of our heritage, but the innovative work that we are engaged in now as a state. When I read through the list of recipients, I see a bright future for Maine as we welcome this administration’s acknowledgement of our important infrastructure through critical funding.”

The following organization in Maine is receiving a Community Facilities Direct Loan:

Wolfe’s Neck Farm Foundation, Inc. has been awarded $2,500,000 to construct an education, training and research facility. The Smith Center for Education and Research will enable the organization to expand upon their ability to engage in charitable, education and scientific activities related to alternative farming techniques, conservation management, research, education and public stewardship. It will allow them to increase their workshops, seminars and camp meetings from 18 participants to around 150. This funding will provide a needed heated indoor growing space, teaching kitchen, classroom space, dining area and a small year-round retail space. This facility will benefit more than 281,000 individuals.

The following organizations in Maine are receiving more than $188,000 in Community Facilities Grants:

The Young Men’s Christian Association of Old Town and Orono has been awarded a $106,000 grant to replace the current fire alarm system. It will replace a system that has been added onto, extended and repaired beyond its capabilities. The new system will ensure notification and timely evacuation. This project will have an impact on more than 67,000 people.

The Town of Old Orchard Beach has been awarded $50,000 for the acquisition of a new ambulance and lifesaving and safety equality. Old Orchard Beach is a summertime destination for many tourists, and it is important for the town to have adequate emergency vehicles and equipment to help those require assistance. The purchase will also include two power stretchers, making it easier to load and unload patients. This funding will help provide a safer environment for more than 8,700 individuals who live in and visit this area.

The Southern Aroostook Agricultural Museum has been awarded $12,300 for a new digital road sign, which will increase visibility of museum and community events and emergency alerts. Along with the museum, there is an agricultural barn, a transportation and snow removal barn, a barrel-making shop, and a blacksmith’s shop. They are open for tours, public suppers and conferences. The museum also serves as an emergency facility for the area. This project will benefit more than 14,000 individuals.

The Ste. Agathe Historical Society has been awarded a $20,400 grant to renovate the Longfellow School, a one-room schoolhouse dating back to the 1920s. This funding will pay for windows, ceiling and flooring repairs, entrance area renovations and the rebuilding of the storage and outhouse facility. The floors will be repaired with hardwood flooring saved from the Our Lady of Peace Hall, which was part of the Daughter’s of Wisdom’s Boarding School, dating back to the 1960s. The renovations will create a gathering place for visitor and residents to learn about the history of the one-room schoolhouses that served the surrounding communities from that era.

Bronaugh highlighted 737 projects that USDA is making in five programs that will fund essential community services to help rural America build back better, stronger and more equitably than ever before. These programs include Community Facilities Direct Loans and Grants, Community Facilities Loan Guarantees, Community Facilities Technical Assistance Training Grants, Community Facilities Disaster Grants, and Economic Impact Initiative Grants. The projects will finance emergency response vehicles and equipment; build or improve hospitals and clinics and help fund other essential community facilities.

Background:

More than 100 types of projects are eligible for Community Facilities funding. Eligible applicants include municipalities, public bodies, nonprofit organizations, and federally recognized Native American tribes. Projects must be in rural areas with a population of 20,000 or less. For more information, visit <https://www.rd.usda.gov/programs-services/community-facilities-direct-loan-grant-program>.

Interested parties should contact their USDA Rural Development state office for information about additional funding, application procedures and eligibility. Also see the Community Facilities Direct Loan Program Guidance Book for Applicants (PDF, 669 KB) for a detailed overview of the application process.

The awards being announced today are being made in Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Washington D.C., Puerto Rico and Guam.

Under the Biden-Harris Administration, Rural Development provides loans and grants to help expand economic opportunities, create jobs and improve the quality of life for millions of Americans in rural areas. This assistance supports infrastructure improvements; business development; housing; community facilities such as schools, public safety and health care; and high-speed internet access in rural, Tribal and high-poverty areas. For more information, visit www.rd.usda.gov. If you’d like to subscribe to USDA Rural Development updates, visit our GovDelivery subscriber page.

Organizations Needed to Provide Free Meals to Children this Summer

AUGUSTA, ME (February 3, 2022) — With the assistance of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Maine public schools have long offered a nutritious breakfast and lunch meal program to thousands of income eligible children in Maine during the school year. To extend this program, Maine Department of Education (DOE) Child Nutrition is seeking organizations who would like to participate in the federally funded Summer Food Service Program (SFSP), which provides children healthy free meals when school is not in session.

“For many children, their school provides the only reliable, nutritious meal that they can count on and we need to make sure those meals are there for Maine children during the summer break,” said Maine Education Commissioner Pender Makin. “By participating in this program, community groups and organizations can have a tremendous impact on the health and well-being of children in their communities. The Department of Education is thankful for those organizations that continue to be a part of this vital summer program and we welcome those joining this year to extend our reach and help feed additional children in Maine.”

In July 2021, 131 sponsors participated in the program, serving meals at 861 sites throughout the state. Although there are sponsors operating in every county in Maine, there is still a long way to go towards feeding all eligible children during the summer. Community partners are working to maximize the number of sponsors utilizing the availability of funds under the SFSP.

SFSP may be offered statewide in areas or at sites where more than 50 percent of the children are eligible for free or reduced meal benefits under the National School Lunch Program or census track data supports the need. Organizations that provide services in rural communities or near migrant farm workers and tribal populations are urged to participate. Eligible sponsoring organizations include schools, nonprofit residential summer camps, government agencies, and tax-exempt faith-based organizations.

Maine DOE encourages any eligible organization to consider providing this much-needed service to Maine children. The agency will begin accepting applications to participate in February. Approved sponsors will be reimbursed for eligible meals served to children during the long summer break.

Interested organizations should begin planning now for a successful summer. Potential sponsors are required to receive training from Maine DOE. Training will occur virtually, and DOE staff will assist in the onboarding process. Maine DOE is available to consult by phone and email to answer questions regarding summer meals.

For more information about the Maine DOE’s Summer Food Service Program, contact adriane.ackroyd@maine.gov, call 592-1722 or visit <https://www.maine.gov/doe/schools/nutrition/programs/sfsp>.

Nearly $18.5 Million for Four Maine Dredging Projects

WASHINGTON, D.C. (January 19, 2022) — U.S. Senators Susan Collins and Angus King announced today that four Maine dredging projects in Ogunquit, Scarborough, Milbridge, and Bar Harbor totaling $18,455,000 were included in the Army Corps of Engineers' work plan for Fiscal Year 2022 – funding secured through the bipartisan Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act signed into law last November. Senator Collins, the Ranking Member of the Transportation Appropriations Subcommittee, was part of the core group of 10 Senators who negotiated the text of the bipartisan infrastructure law.

“These critical dredging projects for Bar Harbor as well as rivers in Ogunquit, Milbridge, and Scarborough will help address significant safety and navigational concerns for commercial fishermen as well as recreational boaters,” said Senators Collins and King in a joint statement. “Maine’s waterways are the lifeblood of many coastal towns and support our state’s economy. These investments are excellent examples of how the bipartisan infrastructure package is creating jobs and providing substantial benefits to Maine’s communities and families.”

The funding will be allocated as follows:

Bar Harbor. $6,325,000 for breakwater repairs and surveys.

Josias River, Perkins Cove, Ogunquit. $3,425,000 for dredging and surveys.

Narraguagus River, Milbridge. $3,905,000 for dredging and surveys.

Scarborough River, Scarborough. $4,800,000 for dredging.

Cabin fever got you down?

Mainers Invited to Join Healthy Living for ME's March Workshops

MAINE, STATE-WIDE (February 18, 2022) -- This March, Healthy Living for ME will be offering workshops focused on helping Mainers who are living with diabetes, other conditions, as well as a workshop focused on helping people with Intellectual and/or Developmental Disabilities or Acquired Brain Injuries live a healthy lifestyle. Available across the state, with in-person, virtual, and telephonic options, these workshops are provided to the public through Healthy Living for ME's partnerships with local organizations and health systems.

"We're grateful for the partnerships that allow us to continue to bring workshops to Mainers. These workshops offer education and guidance for managing conditions and improving health while importantly providing a supportive space for participants," said Maija Dyke, Contract and Business Manager of Healthy Living for ME. "We invite any Mainer who is interested in joining these workshops to reach out to us for more information or to register."

Many of Healthy Living for ME's workshops are free to the participant, while others have a low cost. For virtual workshops, participants who do not have the necessary technology may be eligible to borrow an iPad from Healthy Living for ME in order to participate.

Healthy Living for ME's March workshops include:

Living Well with Diabetes (in-person) - This workshop will be held in-person at the Alford Center for Health in Augusta on Thursdays beginning

March 3, 2022. It is designed to help people with type 2 diabetes by covering topics such as: dealing with diabetes symptoms, fatigue, pain, hyper/hypoglycemia, stress, depression, anger, fear, frustration; appropriate exercise, healthy eating, appropriate use of medication and working with healthcare providers. This workshop is provided in partnership with MaineGeneral's Peter Alford Prevention and Healthy Living Center.

Better Health Now with Diabetes (by phone) - Participants in this workshop will receive a free mail order toolkit and will work with a certified leader via phone or Zoom at a predetermined time. The workshop is scheduled to begin on March 14, 2022. It is designed to help those who have or are at risk of type 2 diabetes and/

or their caregivers. Topics covered include dealing with diabetes symptoms, fatigue, pain, hyper/hypoglycemia, stress, depression, anger, fear, frustration; appropriate exercise, healthy eating, appropriate use of medication and working with healthcare providers. This workshop is provided in partnership with MaineGeneral's Peter Alford Prevention and Healthy Living Center

The National Diabetes Prevention Program (virtual) - This workshop will be held virtually beginning on March 22, 2022. It is not a diet or exercise class, but a program led by a certified lifestyle coach that provides free health coaching to reduce a person's risk of developing Type 2 diabetes. Participants will learn to apply practical strategies to stay motivated, manage stress, prepare food, and avoid negative thoughts. Participants attend 16 weekly sessions followed by every other week sessions for the remainder of the year-long program. Additionally, our Registered Dietician will be available to support participants of the program.

Health Matters (in-person) - This workshop will be held in-person at the Muskie Community Center in Waterville on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays beginning March 28, 2022. It is designed to help people with Intellectual and/or Developmental Disabilities or Acquired Brain Injuries and their supports live a healthy lifestyle. Through exercise, nutrition and health education activities, this workshop helps participants become stronger and healthier, improve self-advocacy skills and confidence, and connect with peers as they gain the knowledge, motivation and skills needed to create healthy habits that last a lifetime. This workshop is provided in partnership with Bridges Home Services.

Living Well with Diabetes (virtual) - This workshop will be held online on Thursdays beginning March 31, 2022. It is designed to help people with type 2 diabetes by covering topics such as: dealing with diabetes symptoms, fatigue, pain, hyper/hypoglycemia, stress, depression, anger, fear, frustration, appropriate exercise, healthy eating, appropriate use of medication and working with healthcare providers. This workshop is provided in partnership with SeniorPlus and the Lewiston/Auburn (L/A) Senior College.

Registration is required for these workshops. Please contact Healthy Living for ME at 1-800-620-6036 or info@healthylivingforme.org for more information and to register. You can also register via our website, www.healthylivingforme.org.

Healthy Living for ME also welcomes referrals from healthcare providers. Our evidence-based programming can help patients manage and prevent conditions before they become more serious or result in emergency situations.

Maine Delegation Urges USDA to Implement Northeast Dairy Task Force Recommendations

Washington, D.C. (February 17, 2022) – In a letter to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), U.S. Senators Susan Collins and Angus King and Representatives Jared Golden and Chellie Pingree urged Secretary Tom Vilsack to respond to the recommendations of the Northeast Dairy Task Force as quickly as possible.

The Task Force was established in response to an announcement by the multinational corporation Danone and its subsidiary Horizon Organic that they would terminate contracts with 89 organic dairy farms in the Northeast, leaving many of the region's organic farms without a buyer and placing them at risk of closure. The Task Force issued numerous recommendations to improve organic dairy viability in the Northeast, many of which can be directly addressed through USDA support.

"When Danone/Horizon announced their intent to end their contracts with 89 organic dairy farms in the Northeast, 27 organizations came together to create the Northeast Dairy Task Force and provide recommendations to the USDA on ways to help the organic dairy industry. Despite the recent announcement that Danone will be providing further assistance to impacted farmers, the underlying structural threats to organic dairy in the Northeast remain and urgent action is needed," the lawmakers wrote in a letter to USDA Secretary Tom Vilsack.

The letter further requests that Secretary Vilsack respond to the Task Force without delay and to fully utilize existing USDA resources, initiatives, and authorities to implement the Task Force's recommendations.

In addition to members of the Maine Delegation, the letter was co-signed by Senators Patrick Leahy (D-VT), Bernie Sanders (I-VT), Kirsten Gillibrand (D-NY) as well as Representatives Annie Kuster (D-NH-02) and Elise Stefanik (R-NY-21).

Collins, King Announce More Than $2.8 Million for Electric Vehicle Infrastructure

Washington, D.C. (February 10, 2022) – U.S. Senators Susan Collins (R-ME) and Angus King (I-ME) announced that Maine will receive a total of $2,856,158 through the National Electric Vehicle Infrastructure (NEVI) Formula Program to support the state’s efforts to expand the network of electric vehicle (EV) chargers.

This funding was authorized through the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act and provided through the U.S. Department of Transportation’s Federal Highway Administration (FHWA). Senator Collins, the Ranking Member of the Transportation Appropriations Subcommittee, was part of the core group of 10 Senators who negotiated the text of the bipartisan infrastructure law.

“Electric vehicles provide many benefits, including a smaller carbon footprint, but the lack of available charging stations in a large, rural state like Maine has been a barrier to their adoption,” said Senator Collins. “This investment in Maine’s charging network will continue the momentum toward cleaner transportation and help reduce harmful transportation emissions, which produce more than half of Maine’s carbon pollution and threaten our public health, natural resources, and economy.”

“With transportation producing more carbon dioxide than any other sector of the U.S. economy, electric vehicles offer a promising opportunity to cut emissions, improve air quality, and help consumers save on fuel costs,” said Senator King. “The opportunity is right in front of us – but in order for electric vehicles to meet their potential we need strong, widely available charging infrastructure, especially in a rural, spread-out state like Maine. This funding from the Bipartisan Infrastructure Bill will help put more charging stations in our communities and allow more Maine people to seriously consider their next car an electric vehicle. As carmakers do their part and start making more electric cars and trucks, I’m pleased to see this significant investment in Maine’s infrastructure needs to support that transition, and look forward to this legislation’s continued support for Maine communities and our air quality.”

The bipartisan infrastructure law includes a total of up to $7.5 billion in dedicated funding to help make EV chargers available to all Americans for local to long-distance trips. These historic investments are part of an initiative to build a national network of 500,000 EV chargers by 2030 and ensure a convenient, reliable, and affordable charging experience for all users.
