TENSION FABRIC BUILDING, 72'x160'. I have a fabric tension building that needs a cover, frame is good. The material ripped during snow over winter and I don't want to replace it. I have estimate to completely replace all fabric ($57k). I have found replacement cover for $12,000. Original manufacturer is Coverall who is out of business, originally installed 2004, dimension is 72'x160', height is unknown but 28' extension ladder won't reach top. The buyer will have to disassemble and transport. Previous uses have been indoor arena, baseball practice, wedding venue and storage. Opening on each end with metal barn doors, $10,000. New original cost thought to be $180k, new cost estimated to be $225k. (615)202-0738.
