Carbon Monoxide Poisoning Prevention

Every year, hundreds of people die and thousands are injured from unsuspected exposure to an odorless, colorless gas—carbon monoxide (CO). Studies by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention indicate that, while people recognize CO gas is poisonous, they perceive CO as less dangerous than other household hazards. CO poisoning is most prevalent when furnaces are turned back on to fight cold winter temperatures, but also commonly occur after summer and winter storms and accompanying power outages, when people tend to rely on portable generators for electricity.

Here are some simple steps to protect yourselves and your family:

- ✓ Install battery-operated CO detectors near every sleeping area in your home.
- ✓ Check CO detectors regularly to be sure they are functioning properly.
- ✓ Have gas or oil furnaces inspected by a qualified professional every year.
- ✓ Never use a generator inside the home or garage, even if doors and windows are open.
- ✓ Only use generators and power washers outside, more than 20 feet away from the home, doors, and windows.
- ✓ Never use a charcoal grill inside the home.

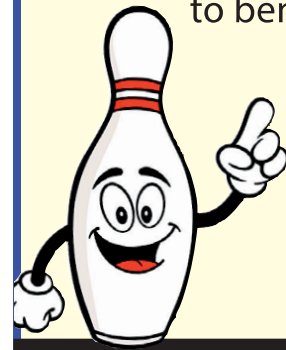

For more information about Carbon Monoxide Poisoning and how to prevent it, call the Livingston County Department of Health, Center for Environmental Health at 243-7280.

SPEAK OUT!!!

The Mount Morris Shopper feels that everyone has a right to be heard (or read, in this case) so we are offering this page each week (space permitting) for our readers to share their ideas, views, feelings or whatever. Realizing that everyone cannot AFFORD to pay for this privilege, the Mount Morris Shopper is offering this page as a FREE Public Service for articles or letters sent in for publication. All letters submitted must be signed with the name, address and phone number of the author. Please make letters as brief as possible.

Dear "Speak Out,"

In response to Mr. Powell's article of February 27th, I take issue with the author's statement which purported to quote me as saying, "Christians are very negative." Actually I said that "... Christians do tend to come across as negative, judgmental and narrow-minded..."

And after a careful re-read of Lauren's articles, no where did I read, "Jesus would be pro-abortion." However, those of us professing to be Christians do not have the right to compel others to obey Biblical standards, if they have not chosen to do so. It's a heart allegiance issue. If my neighbor was a Muslim, believed that all women should stay home, or be seen in public with a veil or head covering, and not converse with men in public, I would be incensed if I was expected to follow those rules. However, if my neighbor was successful in converting me to Islam, then my heart would be changed, and I would desire to follow those standards. I have a bigger issue with those claiming to be Christians who take the name, but don't show a compelling desire to follow Biblical standards.

The author also made reference to the story in John 8 of the woman caught in adultery. After those who condemned the woman dispersed, one by one after Jesus wrote in the dirt, he asked the woman, "Where are they? Has no one condemned you?" When she replied, "No one...", Jesus answered, "THEN NEITHER DO I CONDEMN YOU... go now and leave your life of sin." By resorting to compassion as his FIRST response, Jesus was opening the door to something better.

It is in John 4 that Jesus speaks with the Samaritan woman at the well. If Jesus had simply approached this woman and said, "Naughty, naughty, you shouldn't be in all these serial relationships - now clean up your act," would this woman have run back to town and excitedly told the townspeople that she had met the Messiah? I doubt it. Jesus appealed to her deeper need for a relationship with Him that could not be fulfilled in any other way.

I don't see Jesus as rating sins on a scale of 1-10. He doesn't say, "Oh, adultery is the worst, but it's less serious if you participate in gluttony or gossip." I Corinthians 6:9-11 sates, "... Do not be deceived: neither the sexually immoral, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor male prostitutes, nor homosexual offenders, nor thieves, nor the greedy, nor drunkards, nor slanderers, nor swindlers will inherit the kingdom of God. And that is what some of you were. But you were washed, you were sanctified, you were justified in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ..." That includes ALL of us.

I like the Message translation which says, "Unjust people who don't care about God will not be joining in his kingdom. Those who use and abuse each other, use and abuse sex, use and abuse the earth and everything in it, don't qualify as citizens in God's kingdom. A number of you know from experience what I'm talking about, for not so long ago you were on that list. Since then, you've been cleaned up and given a fresh start by Jesus..."

The next issue of couples choosing to have or not have children is equally problematic. I don't think it's as simple as the author saying, "a person with many children will be happy and not against having children." That almost sounds like God doesn't bless those couple who for many reasons can't conceive. And I have seen families with many children whose lives result in chaos because parents don't know how to parent effectively. If only the adoption process could be simplified, made widely acceptable, and affordable so that the many couples who WANT children, but can't bear them, would be given the chance to raise these precious ones.

Respectfully,
Carolyn Pollock
Hunt

Dear "Speak Out,"

Over the past few years, more and more truth about things has been revealed. This has happened concerning almost every area of our lives - in education, athletics, government, politics, business, entertainment, etc. Many things we thought were true have turned out to be a lie.

There is a Supreme Court case coming up about abortion. Most people are not aware that the Roe vs Wade case was based upon lies. For some of the truth about the original Roe vs Wade case, see one or both of the following:

1. AKA Jane Roe I Deathbed Confession I FX
2. youtube.com/watch?v=gMdEn1ZWGj8

Jane Roe's real name was Norma McCorvey. It won't take much digging to find out more, if you are interested.

Dear "Speak Out,"

This week we continue with the topic entitled "What Would Jesus Say".

As we determined last week, Jesus Christ is the Second Person of the Godhead and therefore has already expressed Himself very distinctly in His Word the Bible. Also, God the Holy Spirit is the Third Person of the Godhead and inspired all the writers of the entire Bible. Because God the Father, God the Son and God the Holy Spirit are One God, they fully agree with Each Other. John 15:15 KJV reads "Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you." Jesus Christ is omniscient and knows all things and is in full agreement with God the Father and God the Holy Spirit.

Let's continue with the original issue of how God views abortion with the next few verses from the Bible:

Isaiah 49:1 KJV reads "The LORD hath called me from the womb; for the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name." Exodus 21:22 KJV reads "If men strive, and hurt a woman with child, so that her fruit depart from her, and yet no mischief follow: he shall be surely punished, according as the woman's husband will lay upon him; and he shall pay as the judges determine."

Jeremiah 1:5 KJV reads "Before I formed thee in the belly I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the womb I sanctified thee".

Proverbs 6:16-17 KJV reads "These six things doth the LORD hate... A proud look, a lying tongue, and hands that shed innocent blood".

Psalms 106:38-39 KJV reads "And shed innocent blood, even the blood of their sons and of their daughters, whom they sacrificed unto the idols of Canaan: and the land was polluted with blood." I do not know how much clearer we need to understand how God views abortion than in these verses!

How does God view the love of money in a society? 1 Timothy 6:10 KJV reads "For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows."

If you look at the pattern of elections over the past few decades, you will notice a fluctuation between Democrat and then Republican candidates being elected. Several surveys over the past few years have revealed that Americans are more concerned with the condition of the economy and their bank accounts rather than the moral condition of the candidates.

Right now, with the inflation which we are experiencing, about 60 per cent of those who voted for our current president and now viewing him in a negative way primarily because of the condition of the economy.

In response to a recent comment from a friend and fellow contributor to the February 6, 2022, "Speakout" she wrote "I know that Christians do tend to come across as negative, judgmental and narrow-minded rather than generous, loving and supportive - our words speak louder than our deeds."

Tolerance of another's views is a fundamental precept of America. But, to remain silent and to condone people calling evil good and good evil is not wise and condones sin in our lives. We need to stand for what is right and not accept sin.

Lord willing, I will submit an article again next week and look forward to any comments.

New Social Services Commissioner

The Livingston County Board of Supervisors has named Tracy McCaughey as the new Department of Social Services (DSS) Commissioner, effective February 28th. McCaughey succeeds former Social Services Commissioner Diane Deane who recently retired after more than 30 years of public service to the County.

McCaughey brings with her more than 27 years of professional experience in the social services field. She previously served as the County's Social Services Division Director, overseeing the daily operations of the Child Welfare and Adult Protective Services program areas. She began her career with DSS in the Child Welfare Division in 1994 and has continually set a standard of excellence within the agency since then, said Livingston County Administrator Ian M. Coyle.

*Newly named Livingston County
Department of Social Services
Commissioner
Tracy McCaughey*

"Tracy is a fantastic asset to the County, and we're all very pleased to see her transition into this role," said Coyle. "I know she will continue to impress as she takes the reins at DSS and leads the agency into its next chapter."

McCaughey said she's eager to begin working directly with agency staff from the various program areas within DSS to learn from their accomplishments and address challenges and concerns they've encountered while serving the community.

Outside the office, McCaughey enjoys spending time with friends and family, and can frequently be found at local school sporting events cheering on her sons from the sidelines.
