THE LAW AND YOU

BY NATHAN D. PACE ATTORNEY AT LAW

CHANCERY COURT: WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

In medieval England, Chancery Court was developed for petitioning the King when parties were unable to resolve disputes through common law. The King referred matters for resolution to the Lord Chancellor. Chancery Court evolved into its own legal area with separate courts, rules, and procedures. Based on equitable and moral fairness, chancery courts provide parties with relief and remedies, such as ordering a specific action to take place or injunctions that stop specific actions from occurring. Many legal systems have eliminated chancery divisions; however, some still exist for mediating corporate disputes, fiduciary litigation involving trusts and estates, overseeing adoptions, custody disputes, divorces, guardianships, and mental capacity hearings. Issues in chancery court are usually decided solely by a chancellor.

Not every legal matter requires the use of an attorney. Fighting a speeding ticket and going to small claims courts are two examples. However, in many other situations involving a legal dispute, challenge, or deal, you may not wish to chance the risks of going it alone without the counsel of an experienced lawyer. To schedule a consultation, please call the Law Office of MACK & PACE. Our areas of emphasis include estate planning, business law, criminal law, and family law.

Medina, NY 14103

Hint: Tennessee, Mississippi, and Delaware are the only three states today that maintain distinctly separate Chancery Courts.

Travel Thoughts By Kim

Let's go on an adventure together...to Bermuda!

As we continue to have snow flurries and super cold temperatures, I find myself thinking and dreaming of warm places to take the chill out of my old bones and joints. One of my favorite warm places is Bermuda. I took a Royal Caribbean cruise to Bermuda in October 2018 and it was the most perfect trip. We sailed out of Boston, spent two and a half days at sea, then stayed docked at Bermuda for three full days, and spent another day and a half at sea returning to Boston. It was so relaxing to stay docked at one port and to have the freedom to come and go from the ship all hours of the day and night with no deadlines be on-board, except for the final day. A great mix of cruising fun and an extended stay at an amazing port. I have not seen this particular format offered, again, on any of the cruise lines, though. Bermuda cruises I've seen since then tend to have at least one additional port of call - resulting in either extending the total duration of the cruise or shortening the time spent in Bermuda. Sad - I really liked the one I took. I'll keep watching - maybe they will offer it, again.

conservative with their water because they may need it to last through a drought! In recent years, the island now has three plants that process salt water into fresh water, but everyone is still required to generate their own water and only use the water from the conversion plants when absolutely necessary. Also, some of the more affluent homes and businesses now have their own water systems to turn salt water into fresh.

The capital of Bermuda is currently Hamilton, whereas, the original capital was St. George's - the capital was moved when the population of the island started to grow. Hamilton is a larger city and more centrally located. But, St. George is absolutely incredible and loaded with history - including an awesome old church and cemetery, which is the oldest church in the Western Hemisphere still operating as a church - established in 1612. St George's is a "must see" to put on your "things to do in Bermuda" list.

I took a bus tour of the island and learned so much about the history and economy of the island - our guide was amazing.

I also went on two glass bottom boat tours - they were literally the same tour with different themes, but one was during the day and one was at night. Both were really fun and I'm glad I did both, but I especially liked the one at night - how cool is it to be on a pirate themed boat at night drinking rum in the Bermuda Triangle!!!??? I took a lot of ribbing when I was planning my trip - lots of jokes about never seeing me, again. But, that whole Bermuda Triangle legend is really just a myth. Yes, strange things have happened there and the magnetic and gravitational pulls can be an issue. But, a lot of what has happened can be explained by understanding that ships and planes didn't use to have as advanced technology as they do now and they didn't know how to navigate through the extensive barrier reefs, so the magnetic and gravitational anomalies made it difficult for them to pass through the area safely. So, don't worry --- go to Bermuda and enjoy without fear of getting "lost"!

In my never to be humble opinion, a cruise is the best way to go when traveling to Bermuda. Resorts and other lodging in Bermuda are extremely expensive and then you have to also factor in airfare to get there and your food and entertainment while you are there. When taking a cruise, your lodging, meals, entertainment, etc. are all included in one price and most likely far less expensive in the long run than staying at a resort. There are other options - different cruises and different accommodations - and a travel agent can help you find the most economical way that works best for you. But, if you ask me, a cruise is the way to go!

Bermuda is a fascinating place located off the eastern coast of the US. It is a small island - just 21 miles long and 1.5 miles wide - that is under British rule and sits on a dead volcano. The island was discovered in the 1600s and the original population was mostly slaves who jumped ships to freedom when they sailed past the island because it looked like a safe haven for them. Although they are British rule, they are fairly self-sufficient and even have their own currency that is equal to ours and is used interchangeably with US currency on the island. So, you don't have to worry about exchange rates or getting Bermuda currency to use while you're there. But, be careful about bringing back any Bermuda currency, except what you may want as a souvenir - it is worthless outside of Bermuda. The cost of living in Bermuda is one of the highest in the world. They have no industry and very little agriculture, so pretty much everything has to be imported at an extremely high cost. So, expect to pay a lot at restaurants and businesses (a cup of soup, burger, onion rings, and a coke in St. George's cost me $46 plus tip) - another good reason to go the cruise option and have most, if not all, your meals on ship.

You may have heard that all the buildings in Bermuda have white roofs. Well, that is correct! They are colorfully painted in beautiful pastel colors, but are all topped with white roofs. The reason for that is because there is NO fresh water on the island at all. The roofs are made of limestone and the white paint also contains limestone. The roofs are carefully designed to allow rain water to cascade across the limestone to purify it, then it is captured by a lip along the edge that directs the purified water to elaborate gutter systems sending the water into the "water cellar" - every building has one. Everyone on the island is very

Horseshoe Bay Beach - consistently ranked in the Top 5 Most Beautiful Beaches in the World

There is so much to see and do on this tiny little island. But, one of the best things is to just go spend some time on Horseshoe Bay Beach - consistently ranked among the Top 5 Most Beautiful Beaches in the WORLD! The pink sand (colored with pink flecks caused by the coral reefs) and crystal blue water is simply stunning and unlike any sand and water you'll find anywhere else in the world! The water is even more blue and beautiful than the waters in the Caribbean...totally indescribable.

But, with all of the amazing things I did and saw while in Bermuda, the most memorable thing was getting to swim with dolphins. Just off the ship, there is a lagoon that I was able to swim and play with dolphins and even got to kiss one! It was the best time and best money I spent on the entire trip...I LOVED IT!!!

If you like history, snorkeling, rum, boating adventures, dolphins...did I mention rum...or just sitting on any one of several stunning beaches soaking up the sun, you'll absolutely love Bermuda! And, October is a great time to go - it was still in the 80s every day, but it was just about the end of the season, so there were less tourists to deal with than in higher peak times of the year - we were the only cruise ship in port at the time.

CURE!!

Your fungal toenails before SUMMER 2022

- Were you embarrassed this summer to wear sandals or go barefoot because of thick, yellow nails?
- Now's the time to get treatment. If left untreated, fungal toenails can: affect your immune system, cause recurring athlete's foot, infected ingrown toenails (requiring surgery) and discomfort wearing shoes, not to mention their unsightly appearance!
- Patients with diabetes, poor circulation and numbness to their feet can develop more serious problems.
- There are also safer new topical medications available to help cure fungal toenails.
- A simple one-a-day pill for 3 months will usually cure fungal toenails within 6-9 months from the start of treatment.
- Treatment now may result in clear, thinner nails for the year 2022.
- Call now for an appointment to determine if you're a candidate for this newer treatment.

Tips for Negotiating with Contractors

Spring is the season for fixing up a home. Homeowners who aren't interested in doing the work themselves turn to contractors to ensure the job is done not only to code, but on time and efficiently. After receiving an initial estimate from a contractor, homeowners may wonder if there is any additional wiggle room in contractors' costs. Certain contractors are willing to negotiate while others are firm in their prices. However, learning the basics of negotiation can put homeowners in position to save money on dream renovations.

Do your homework
Getting the best price typically requires shopping around and not settling on the first bid. Experts recommend getting at least three estimates on the same job — and be sure to let each contractor know that you are soliciting multiple bids. This alone may entice a specific contractor to give you his or her best offer up front. Avoid simply choosing the lowest bid. Look at quality of work, reputation and reviews. If you like a costly contractor more than another, see if that contractor is willing to match a lower bid to win the job.

Pick the right season
As with other industries, home renovation work heats up during certain seasons or times of year.

General contractors may be more willing to negotiate for a lower price depending on when their busy season may be. Jobs may slow down in winter, for example.

Talk about supplies
Even after getting a good bid, you may be able to speak with your contractor about lowering costs even more by choosing less costly supplies. Find out if contractors can source materials from a low-cost supplier. In addition, discuss if you can purchase your own supplies.

Ask to do a portion
Be honest with the contractor about your budget and figure out if there is any way for you to do some of the work to lower costs. The contractor can give you jobs that are within your abilities, which can shave dollars off the final price.

Know your rights and laws
Understand the laws governing contract language in your state or province. Contracts should also spell out the change order process so that expectations of changes and costs will be known in advance.

These are just some of the tactics homeowners can use when negotiating the price of home remodels or improvements.

Radon Exposure

Radon is a colorless, odorless gas that forms naturally when radioactive elements, such as uranium, decay. These radioactive elements can be found in different amounts in soil and rock. Though radon is present outdoors and indoors, it is often present in such small amounts that it does not pose a threat to human health. People who work in factories where uranium is processed or those who come in contact with phosphate fertilizers are more likely to be exposed to high, and potentially dangerous, levels of radon. Building materials made from substances that contain radon also can lead to unhealthy levels of radon exposure. ■

Medina CSD Offers Full-Day UPK Program

The Medina Central School District (CSD) will be offering a Universal Pre-Kindergarten (UPK) program to provide area four-year-olds a full day of educational opportunities to play, learn, develop socially and emotionally, and thrive as they start their educational career.

The program will begin in the 2022-23 school year, Monday through Friday from 7:35am to 2:30pm, at Oak Orchard Primary School under the direction of Principal Jennifer Stearns. "We are very excited to be able to offer UPK full-time," she says. "We believe that students can use additional support and opportunities for social interaction before starting kindergarten. Each of our classrooms will have a certified teacher and classroom aide. Classes will be structured with a strong emphasis on purposeful play, early literacy and numeracy and specials like physical education, music, art and library. We will also be incorporating behavioral supports and early intervention that will help us identify and provide strategies to help students build the foundation needed to succeed in school and life."

The program is no cost to Medina CSD families and transportation to and from school is provided by the school district, following their regular transportation policies. Breakfast and lunch will also be provided to students as well, at no cost. Eligible students must be a Medina District resident and four (4) years old on or before December 1, 2022. Spaces will be limited and a random lottery will be held if needed. The application can be found at the Medina CSD website at www.medinacsd.org under the District News link.

Families will receive a letter in the mail in early May, informing them of their child's placement. "Once you receive word that your child has been accepted, families will need to complete the student registration process," says Mrs. Stearns. "Students will have the opportunity to meet our staff at our annual summer picnic in August. Full-time UPK is a great step for the Medina Central School District in early childhood education. We are pleased to be able to continue to build on the strength of our academic offerings and help to shape our children's future."

Tell Us About Your Health: 2022 Community Health Assessment Survey & Community Conversations

The Genesee, Orleans and Wyoming (GOW) County Health Departments and Hospitals are currently working with community partners to gather information from residents and those who work in these counties to help with public health planning for the next three years. The information will help inform and guide documents called the Community Health Assessment (CHA), Community Health Improvement Plan (CHIP), and Community Services Plan (CSP). This initiative is part of the New York State Prevention Agenda, the state's health improvement plan, which is a blueprint for state and local action to improve the health and well-being of New Yorkers.

The 2019-2024 NYS Prevention Agenda Priority Areas are to Prevent Chronic Diseases; Promote a Healthy and Safe Environment; Promote Healthy Women, Infants and Children; Promote Well-Being and Prevent Mental and Substance Use Disorders; and Prevent Communicable Disease. In the 2019-2022 GOW Community Health Improvement Plan, the community survey and community conversations helped inform some of the public health initiatives that the local health departments and hospitals focused on, which were:

- Promote Well-Being and Prevent Mental and Substance Use Disorders
  - Prevent opioid overdose deaths
  - Prevent Chronic Disease
- Promote tobacco use cessation
- Increase cancer screening rates
- In the community setting, improve self-management skills for individuals with chronic diseases, including asthma, arthritis, cardiovascular disease, diabetes, prediabetes and obesity.

Now, we are looking for community input to help inform the next Community Health Improvement Plan and to fully assess the health status of our communities. We are asking the public to participate by taking a survey and sharing their viewpoints during community conversations. An online survey is available and paper copies will be available at various locations throughout each county. You can access the survey by visiting the following link:

- English: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/GOWCHA2022English>
- Spanish: <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/GOWCHA2022Spanish>

The survey is anonymous, only takes about 15 minutes to complete and focuses on the health of the person taking it. If you are under the age of 18 years old, be sure to receive permission to take the survey from your parent(s) or guardian(s).

"As chief health strategists, the health departments are working toward identifying major community health challenges, gaps in services, and other factors that may contribute to a less than optimal health status for our community residents," stated Paul Pettit, Public Health Director for Genesee and Orleans County Health Departments (GO Health). "The input from our residents will help identify community health needs, which will ultimately help us to develop our Community Health Improvement Plan

(CHIP) for the next few years."

The health departments are also seeking to schedule Community Conversations with willing groups to learn what they feel are the greatest health concerns or issues in their community and thoughts on how they can be improved.

"This process offers an opportunity for our community members to have a voice about the barriers and issues they face when trying to be healthy," stated Laura Paolucci Wyoming County Health Department Public Health Administrator. "The more members of the community who participate, the more inclusive and stronger these plans will be."

To participate in a community conversation, obtain hardcopies of the survey, obtain flyers that promote completing the survey online, or have any questions, please contact your local health department:
