STAMFORD SOLD LOTS OF CARS

Tumbleweed Smith

Tumbleweed Smith

The museum in Stamford has displays about the city's history. "We had one called 1947, the peak population year for Stamford," says Jewellee Kuenstler, museum curator. "We were at 5,600. So 1947 was 75 years ago when we had 14 car dealerships in the city limits. We had 25 grocery stores."

The Museum of the West Texas Frontier in Stamford just re-opened after being closed for 2 years.

"People are excited," says Jewellee, who previously did a stint at Albany's Old Jail Art Center. "They want their history kept alive. We are a microcosm for every little town in West Texas. We all pretty much started the same way. This was the frontier, the opening of the west. After the Civil War people started coming this way and began ranching and farming, then the railroad came and cities were established along the tracks. We wanted the museum to be more than just about Stamford, Texas. We wanted to cover the West Texas frontier. So you can come to our museum and learn how these little communities got their start."

She has big plans for the museum. "We try to change our exhibits once a month. So we have the death of the Marlboro Man, Carl Bradley, who was from our neighboring town of Old Glory. He was the original Marlboro Man for Marlboro cigarettes. From Old Glory. How cool is that? We have done a campaign to raise $100,000 because we're going to re-do the museum to tell the history of this area. We're going to start with the native Americans, then go on to SM Swenson who was the first Swedish immigrant in Texas and became a large landowner. He brought several families to Texas from Sweden and established a Swedish colony at Erichsdahl, about 10 miles from Stamford. He was very passionate about bringing his fellow countrymen to Texas and giving them a chance at having a better life. The church at Erichsdahl conducted services in Swedish for years. His sons started a successful ranch operation."

The museum has a chuck wagon, saddles and other items from the Swenson ranch. It also has stick horses for children. "Every one of these horses has a name. And these names are actually the names of horses on the Swenson ranch. So kids can come in, choose a horse and ride it around the museum."

Many visitors go to the museum and spend time in the research room. "We have scrapbooks and school annuals and photographs and city records, journals and telephone books. High school students come here to help once a week and after they get through working with whatever there is to do, they head for the research room. They love to look through the city records that have the names of people who were arrested for various things."

Jewellee, who grew up in Stamford and taught school for 10 years, has written a book about a World War Two Tailgunner. "It's about Ray Perry, father of Governor Rick Perry who lived at Paint Creek just up the road. He wrote letters to his mother and she kept shoe letters. Those letters, along with photos he sent, are in my book."

Eldon Ray McWilliams

Funeral services for Eldon (E.R.) McWilliams, age 83, of Brashear, were held at 2:00 p.m., Friday, March 4, 2022, at West Oaks Funeral Home Chapel with Bro. David Burns officiating. Interment followed at Greenview Cemetery with Brandon Gowin, Jeff Shedd, Joshua Kerby, Lucas Kerby, Mason Kerby, William Sallee, Johnny Edwards Jr., and Daniel Foster serving as pallbearers. Honorary pallbearer was Toby Reeves posthumous. Visitation was held at 1:00 p.m., prior to service time. Eldon passed away on Monday, February 28, 2022, at home surrounded by his loving family.

He was born on July 17, 1938, in Hopkins County, the son of Johnnie E. McWilliams and Ruby Opal Patton McWilliams. He married Patsy Mae Regan on July 19, 1958. She preceded him in death on June 6, 2007. Eldon was a dairyman for many years and retired in 1991.

Nola Sue Tittle

Nola Sue Tittle passed peacefully March 2, 2022, to join her best friend and husband, Wayne. Sue, as she was known by most, was born on February 1, 1940, to Nolan Dero and Mary Belle Love Tipping. Sue worked in the public for a few years before marrying her childhood sweetheart in May 1963. After marriage, she joined him on the family dairy farm. This is where you could almost always find them, working side by side to get any job done. Whether it be milking, bottling baby calves, feeding stock cattle, putting out hay, working in the hayfield or in the shop, you would always find them together. And in the midst of all the agricultural duties, Sue always found time to be involved in school activities. She was a lifetime PTA member, PTA president, often cooking or baking for teacher appreciations and always had homemade crafts to give to each student for whatever holiday it was. She was a very talented woman and very humble. She was quick to help anyone she could and there's no way to know the number of people that know her by "Mama Sue" or "Granny". Some of her, self-proclaimed, greatest times were spent in the hayfield helping Hunter. She said it made her feel like she was working with Wayne again.

She is survived by two daughters: Karen Tittle and Kelly Stonaker, four grandsons: Brad Tittle (Jodie), Jeff Pace, Kris Pace (Alaynna) and Hunter Stonaker (Jordan), three great-grandsons: Braden Tittle, Brody Tittle and Layden Pace. She is also survived by one brother, Paul Tipping (Dorothy). She was preceded in death by her husband, parents, brother and sister-in-law Johnny and Sandra Tipping and sister, Judy Tipping.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 p.m., Monday, March 7, 2022, at Cross Spur Cowboy Church with Bro. Mike Eason officiating. Interment followed at Pleasant Grove North Cemetery with Brad Tittle, Jeff Pace, Kris Pace, Hunter Stonaker, Braden Tittle, Brody Tittle, and Layden Pace serving as pallbearers.
