MERION MERCY ACADEMY

Merion Mercy programs a bright spot in your summer

MediaNews Group

For nearly 30 years, Merion Mercy Academy's summer programs have offered a multitude of academic and athletic opportunities for students. The programs provide numerous academic and enrichment opportunities and sports camps for girls and boys in grades 6 to 12.

Popular offerings include Make Art!, Cricut Create, Adventures in Science, Basketball, Field Hockey, Soccer and Volleyball camps.

Whether students wish to sharpen their writing skills, earn high school credits, prepare for the various high school and scholarship exams, try a new sport or learn a new skill, there's surely a summer activity at Merion Mercy that matches their interests.

"There really is something for everyone," said Director of Summer Programs Gina Briscella. "We are proud to have strong instructors and to utilize our facilities to offer students a productive and unique summer experience. This summer, we look forward to using our expansive and versatile art studios and innovation lab where our Art and STEM courses will be held."

Close to 100 high school students take part in the summer programs, while elementary school students and incoming freshmen are also eager to explore MMA's welcoming campus in Lower Merion Township, Montgomery County.

In addition to several co-ed options, many of the summer offerings are just for girls and allow prospective students the chance to get to know MMA's campus and experience the school's programs firsthand.

Most notably, the all-girls Summer Academy is a full-day, four-week program designed specifically for girls entering grade eight. The Summer Academy helps students begin the transition from an elementary school to a college preparatory high school program.

Students take courses such as pre-algebra, language arts, study skills and public speaking.

There is also a fitness class built in that includes options such as volleyball and yoga.

As one happy Summer

Academy parent noted: "My daughter loved the program, learned a lot, and made great new friends.

MMA's Summer Academy

was a perfect mix of learning and fun."

AIM ACADEMY

AIM Academy to offer Summer Enrichment Program

MediaNews Group

Did you know research shows that all young people experience learning losses when they do not engage in educational activities during the summer? Now more than ever, students cannot afford to lose ground over the summer months.

AIM Academy's four-week, in-person Summer Enrichment Program in Conshohocken can help students catch up or build momentum through dynamic learning experiences integrating research-based teaching methods and creative, hands-on activities.

Explore Your World in grades 1-5

This summer, each grade will explore a different corner of the globe. Students will focus their reading, writing, math and humanities instruction on the people, places and animals of their region. By the end of the program, each child will become an expert in their subject and will astound you with their knowledge during our annual Summer Showcase.

For full-day students, AIM's action-packed afternoons include STEAM, arts, sports and games, not to mention special events on Fridays!

Groovy '60s in grades 6-8

The theme for our 2022 middle school program is the Groovy '60s. From the Space Race to Civil Rights, join us as we groove into learning. Middle school students will reinforce reading, writing and math skills as they weave space science and history into into this year's program. Students will also have rotating electives with thematic STEAM and arts-based projects in our Global Innovation Hub.

Full-day students also have the opportunity to participate in four-week afternoon workshops covering a variety of high-interest areas, including the arts, science, sports/fitness and outdoor adventures.

Service Learning and Urban Studies in grades 9-12

It's not your average summer school. Join us for four weeks of immersive, multidisciplinary study and seminar-based instruction exploring Philadelphia through the lens of Service Learning and Urban Studies.

Students will receive four weeks of on-campus learning with at least four off-campus excursions in the greater Philadelphia area. Locations may include a mural arts tour, visits to a local food bank and urban garden, housing- or education-based service projects and other community experiences.

The design of this program encourages student discussion and critical thinking, broadens background knowledge and supports the development of essential 21st century student skills. This is a morning-only program that runs from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

WOLF PERFORMING ARTS CENTER SUMMER THEATRE CAMP

Wolf Performing Arts Center to hold Summer Theatre Camp

MediaNews Group

Wolf Performing Arts Center's Summer Theatre Camp is the place to experience a summer filled with acting, singing, dancing, storytelling, script writing, musical theater and friendships.

Wolf PAC is more than a camp; it is a community led by industry professionals for over 16 years.

Campers from kindergarten through 12th grade are immersed in theater programs that focus on making connections, building creativity and gaining confidence through a variety of performance opportunities.

Campers experience the magic of performing arts with peers in four unique options.

CUBS are rising kindergarten to second-grade campers. CUBS will build upon their musical theater skills while working as an ensemble toward a final performance.

Sessions will feature an original script inspired by beloved classic books, cultivating campers' skills in acting, singing and dancing. When not rehearsing, these young actors will tap into their artistic sides to build props, set pieces and costumes, rounding out a full day of theater, creativity and fun.

PAC are rising third- to eight-grade campers. The PAC will learn the skills needed to perform in a full Broadway Junior musical, sharing the spotlight at the end of each two-week session. PAC campers will build upon their musical theater skills while working as an ensemble toward a final performance.

Summer Studio are our rising ninth- to 12th-graders. Summer Studio campers are immersed in an advanced theatrical program spanning monologues, scene study, devised work and more. Performers will work together in rehearsals, scene analysis, character deep dive, storytelling, the audition process and more. Additionally, Summer Studio artists will work with younger campers to prepare and lead workshops, theatre games, and character activities.

Counselor-in-Training (CITs) is another option for rising ninth- to 12th-graders. Every summer we look forward to CITs joining us for a tuition-free, volunteer opportunity to grow and hone offstage skills as a leader and mentor to our younger campers. CITs will assist with all aspects of the camp day, including tending to camper needs and assisting with rehearsals for the final performance.

COURTESY OF WOLF PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

Wolf PAC's Summer Theatre Camp is a unique program that encourages campers to connect with friends, experience the joy of performance and build skills that reach into all aspects of their lives. Campers return summer after summer to experience the true feeling of home that Wolf PAC is proud to offer.

PATHWAY

Pathway offers a summer full of enriching experiences

MediaNews Group

It's not about forcing a fit, it's about finding a place. Pathway could be the place for your child during the school year and/or during the Extended School Year (ESY) program.

For over 50 years, Pathway has been serving students with special education needs. Pathway provides educational and therapeutic services to young people with significant learning, social-emotional and executive functioning needs.

The goal is to provide an individualized, structured learning environment that empowers all students to build independence for all students.

Pathway offers a sixweek Extended School Year (ESY) program that was created with various tracks that focus on each student's affective, academic, social and functional needs in various structured learning environments in school and in the community.

The ESY program supports each student's IEP goals while providing students unique opportunities to increase their interests in educational topics and further develop recreation and leisure skills.

Summer therapeutic activities further develop academic skills while providing students an opportunity to choose from a variety of club activities. After some instruction in reading and math, students will participate in theme-based activities which allow them to have fun while build executive functioning and social skills.

Clubs are designed to increase a student's repertoire of interests and expose them to different types of experiences throughout the summer. Social skills, cooperative teamwork, communication and recreation and leisure skills are embedded in all club activities.

Social and Community Activities — For Life Experiences focuses on providing students with a hands-on approach to developing social skills and promoting successful functioning in the community.

Students will continue to develop functional academic skills, communication skills, vocational skills and daily living skills.

The program will take place both on campus and in community settings to teach social skills and life skills through community outings, preparing menus, grocery shopping, money management, and self-care lessons.

Field trips are another fun part of the ESY program. Students will participate in field trips to local points of interest that coordinate with classroom and program themes while promoting social skills in the community. Trips may include places such as fishing spots, hiking trails, tours of local facilities, historical spots and much more.

The ESY program is offered to Pathway students ages 5-21, as well as students with similar needs in nearby school districts.

For students not currently attending the school-year program but who are interested in ESY programming, contact Diana Phifer in the Admissions

MediaNews Group

At Riverbend Summer Camp, we spend as much time as possible outside having fun and learning about the environment.

Our 30-acre nature preserve has plenty to explore. Whether it's the pond teeming with tadpoles, salamanders scurrying in the forest, crayfish crawling along the streambed, lichen laying across a stray boulder or songbirds soaring over the meadow, there is always something alive to discover at Riverbend.

Camp themes include Messy Science, Mini-Worlds, Riverbend Rangers, Riverbend in Space, Caring for Critters and Camp Classics. No matter what the activity, Riverbend campers are learning how to pay attention to nature and ask good questions, letting them follow their own curiosity into a world brimming with life and information.

Riverbend also offers an exciting new Counselor-in-Training program for campers aged 11-13. Campers join a team of CITs that will help Riverbend Camp as nature stewards, environmental educators or animal care experts.

Each week, the group will work on a project of their choice that benefits the Riverbend community. CITs will meet Riverbend staff, interns and younger campers to learn what goes on behind the scenes on the preserve.

Each week will involve about 15 hours of volunteer service and end in a field trip

(location changes weekly). Campers' project track can be selected during the registration process.

For 40 years, Riverbend has connected children and families to nature through our camp programs. Riverbend Camp encourages exploration and positive experiences in the outdoors that foster a love for nature and create memories that last a lifetime. What could be better? BOSTON LEADERSHIP INSTITUTE

Boston Leadership Institute offering in-person and remote programs

MediaNews Group

The Boston Leadership Institute is offering in-person and remote programs in 2022.

These award-winning summer STEM programs are offered as both three-week, competitive admissions research programs and one-week introductory programs in medicine, business, science and engineering.

Popular three-week options include Biomedical & Surgical Research, Cardiology & Internal Medicine, Emergency Medicine, Veterinary Medicine, Finance, Biological Research, Astrophysics, Applied Physics and Engineering and Electronics & Robotics.

Why take a three-week option? Being admitted to and completing a competitive admissions research program provides highly valuable credentials to a college application.

Students also complete hands-on lab work that gets them out from behind a computer screen and in front of complex, exciting experiments typically only available to college students.

One-week programs include Intro to Surgery, Pediatrics, Investment Banking, Clinical Psychology, Architecture, Physics of Space and over 20 additional options.

These are perfect for students who would like to explore different career paths, are interested in many different subject areas, or would like to mix and match programs.

Not interested in traveling to Boston? We still have wildly popular remote options. These include Biotech Research and Biomedical & Surgical Research, and students receive lab supplies right to their homes.

Teachers and professors from the top schools in and around Boston design and lead these programs. They hold degrees from Harvard, MIT, Yale and more, and many hold the highest degrees in their fields.

Locations are in Boston, Wellesley, Mass., and Waltham, Mass. Day and residential options are available. Call 781-431-2514 or visit www.bostonleadershipinstitute.com to learn more.

YMCA OF GREATER BRANDYWINE

YMCA of Greater Brandywine to hold summer camp open houses

MediaNews Group

The YMCA of Greater Brandywine, a nonprofit association of eight YMCAs serving Chester County, is hosting summer camp open houses from Friday through next Sunday at all of its YMCA summer camp locations. All are welcome. "Our summer camp open houses give families in our community to learn more about the YMCA and preview some of the fun and activities children will experience when they join us at camp," said Janelle Brandberg, senior director of youth programs at the Upper Main Line YMCA.

Each open house will provide families the opportunity to learn more about camp schedules, theme weeks, camp swim teams, camp amenities, staff trainings and safety.

To learn more about the summer camp open houses visit: ymcagbw.org/events.

The YMCA of Greater Brandywine offers: day

camp, aquatics camps, teen camps, preschool camps, environmental camps, STEM camps and many more for your family to enjoy.

And, to ensure that all youth have the chance to experience camp, YGBW offers financial assistance to those in need. If you're interested in helping send kids to camp this summer, you can donate to the Y at ymcagbw.org/give.

Registration for summer camp is now open. Register before March 31 to be entered to win a free week of summer camp. For more information, visit ymcagbw.org/camp
