Antipsychotic drugs may increase the risk of death in people with Parkinson's disease psychosis (PDP), according to a new study published in JAMDA. People with PDP who were treated with antipsychotics were four times more likely to have died following three to six months of treatment than those who did not receive any antipsychotic medications. They were also more likely to experience serious health issues including cognitive decline, worsening of Parkinson's symptoms, stroke, infections and falls. Parkinson's disease affects approximately 7-10 million people worldwide and is characterized by progressive loss of motor functions, psychiatric symptoms and cognitive impairment. Psychosis is a common and distressing group of psychiatric symptoms affecting people with Parkinson's, usually manifesting as hallucinations and delusions. PDP affects more than 50 per cent of people with Parkinson's at some point in their condition and antipsychotic drugs are often used to treat this psychosis, yet there is little evidence to support their use.

The U.S. Food and Drug Administration has approved Aristada (aripiprazole lauroxil) extended-release injection to treat adults with schizophrenia. Aristada is administered by a health care professional every four to six weeks, using an injection in the arm or buttocks. Schizophrenia is a chronic, severe and disabling brain disorder affecting about one percent of Americans. Typically, symptoms are first seen in adults younger than 30 years of age and include hearing voices, believing other people are reading their minds or controlling their thoughts, and being suspicious or withdrawn.

When a person accepts that Christians are not under the law and it satisfies their spiritual needs, they have no reason to look further and are content with doctrines of men (Mt 15:9), for such is not written in The Bible! When The Holy Father draws one to Christ (Jn 6:44), the love of truth overcomes the heart (opposite of what many churches teach)! The law of Elohim starts taking hold and gives understanding with the need to obey His every word (Deut 8:3, Mt 4:4, Lk 4:4) and (1Jn 3: 4-9)! Then the Truth has set you free from false teaching (Jn 8:31-32, Jn 14: 6,15,24)! So Be It!
Ron & Jeri

Are you a MEDICARE patient with a CPAP?

Do you feel like this poor guy looks? If you can't wear your CPAP because of its bulkiness or discomfort, it's definitely not helping your sleep apnea. Dr Timothy Smith offers a comfortable and convenient alternative: a custom designed oral appliance to move the jaw forward and open the airway. Many of our patients report feeling better and more rested than they have in years. Call us at (256) 287-1250 about a sleep apnea consultation today.
