HOLLYWOOD by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — We thought it was unusual that Bruce Willis had seven films that went straight to video last year. Even stranger, nine more are going straight to video this year, starting with "Fortress: Sniper's Eye" this month. Best guess is that Willis was diagnosed with aphasia two years ago. Aphasia robs you of the ability to communicate, speak, write and understand language, both verbal and written. It's often caused by a stroke or head injury. In our column last July, we wrote, "Willis must have hit the pandemic running." At the time, he'd already had five films completed and was shooting four more simultaneously. We now realize he must have known his diagnosis. Since then, he's completed eight more films going directly to video. Willis has had great hits like the "Moonlighting" TV series and the "Die Hard" movie franchise.

Bruce Willis in "Die Hard"

Was "West Side Story" on Steven Spielberg's bucket list? He revealed, "Over the last 40 years of my career, if not longer, I've always said a musical was the one thing I haven't done." However, Spielberg admitted that the musical numbers were harder to shoot than the beach landing in "Saving Private Ryan," which may have colored his decision. But there's still another genre on his bucket list ... "One genre I haven't tackled yet is a Western. So, who knows, maybe I'll be putting on spurs one day." He then added, "I have a few in development right now!" Spielberg says he'll never direct another musical, even though he'll be producing, with Oprah Winfrey and Quincy Jones, the musical version of "The Color Purple," the 1985 film he directed that made Oprah a movie star. They've already lined up Taraji P. Henson to play Shug Avery.

Original "West Side Story" Oscar winner Rita Moreno recently voiced she felt Natalie Wood should not have been cast as Maria, adding, "I hate that, again, Maria isn't being represented by a Puerto Rican actress." Natalie Wood was cast for four big reasons: 1) She was a huge star, and they raised a lot of money on her name; 2) Maria was very similar to Wood's role in "Rebel Without a Cause," opposite James Dean; 3) She was a smash opposite Warren Beatty in "Splendor in the Grass"; and 4) The original film made six times its cost, while the 2021 version is still $25 million short of its cost. In the new film version, Moreno plays Valentina, the widow of an older Jewish man who runs the candy store Tony lives under, and the Jets, who've demonstrated their hatred for Puerto Ricans, hang out in HER store. We'd say that's more of a liberty than a white girl playing Maria. Ouchie chihuahua!

CORNER KICK! Our floor-painting pal has worked himself into a corner. Which of four routes leads to the door?

SEVEN-UP! Think of a number — any number. Double it, add 17, take away three, halve the result, and subtract the original amount. Alakazam, answer is always seven.

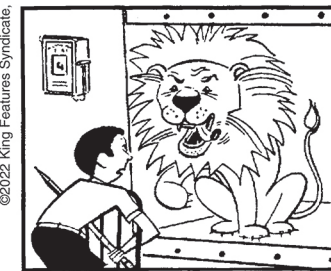

MATCHUPS! Challenge: You are asked to form six two-syllable words from the 12 one-syllable words provided at right. Words in left-hand column are to precede words in right-hand column in answers.

One way to proceed is to begin with first word at top left, find a compatible word at right and draw a line to it. Move on to second word, etc. See how quickly you can make the six matchups. Time limit: two minutes.

1. Oarlock. 2. Gainsay. 3. Highway. 4. Poststage. 5. Bagpipe. 6. Pumpkin.

Junior Whirl

by Hal Kaufman

QUICK ON THE DRAW UNDER PRESSURE?

LET'S see if you have your wits about you under a great deal of pressure. Suppose you are the young man at left who hopes to avoid being clawed by an obviously free-to-roam lion.

What can you do with an object at hand — an object in the picture — that will keep the beast in its place?

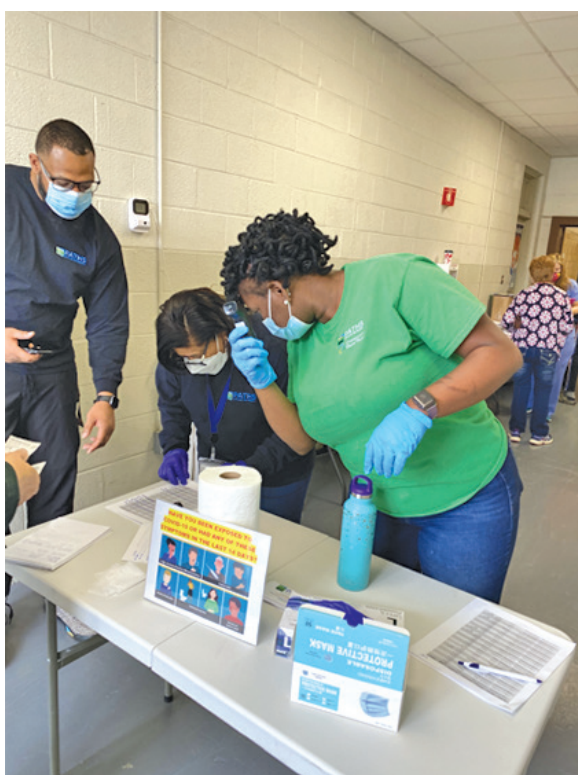

Think fast, and not too hard.

Simply use pencil to draw lines vertically dot to dot to form bars of cage.

STRING TRIO! If the sum of three consecutive numbers is 63, what are the numbers?

Numbers are twenty, twenty-one and twenty-two.

Institute for Advanced Learning and Research Awarded $203,558 to Build Public Health AmeriCorps

(L-R) Stephen Coles, Angel Lea and Chaquita Chappell of Piedmont Access to Health Services (PATHS) help serve the community at a COVID vaccine event. PATHS is one of several partners that will work with new Public Health AmeriCorps members as part of Regional Engagement to Advance Community Health (REACH), organized by the Institute for Advanced Learning and Research.

Danville, VA – The Institute for Advanced Learning and Research (IALR) announced today that it has received a Public Health AmeriCorps grant of $203,558 from AmeriCorps, the federal agency for national service and volunteerism. The grant will expand IALR's presence in the Dan River Region, where IALR has been providing services for Southern Virginia since 2002. IALR has also served as the lead agency for the Dan River Year AmeriCorps program since 2015, with members serving over 15,000 hours focusing on building the region's science, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) and literacy capacity.

"As one of five Virginia Public Health AmeriCorps recipients and the only one serving a primarily rural population, we are excited to be able to again partner with AmeriCorps to provide much-needed services for our community," said Dana Silicki, IALR Program Manager.

Public Health AmeriCorps, a partnership between AmeriCorps and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, supports the recruitment, training and development of a new generation of public health leaders. Supported by a five-year, $400 million investment from the American Rescue Plan Act, Public Health AmeriCorps will help meet public health needs of local communities by providing surge capacity and support while also creating pathways to public health-related careers.

"Integrating REACH AmeriCorps into the REACH Partnership will greatly expand the number of community members we can serve," said Dr. Cassandra Shelton, REACH Program Manager.

"The REACH Partnership aims to improve overall health and address barriers to health care by: providing a coordinated care team, connecting individuals to community resources, providing health education, coordinating communication among health care providers, and helping individuals develop skills to better manage their own health."

With this new funding, IALR will leverage the skills and experience of REACH AmeriCorps members in the Dan River Region to expand capacity for public health service by providing direct outreach and education service in the City of Danville (Va.), Pittsylvania County (Va.) and Caswell County (N.C.). These AmeriCorps members will be responsible for serving 960 individuals, increasing their health knowledge and healthy behaviors through education, outreach, referrals and COVID response.

"Throughout the COVID-19 pandemic, AmeriCorps has established aid networks, supported vaccination efforts and provided food and resources to those in need," said Michael D. Smith, AmeriCorps CEO. "Public Health AmeriCorps is a first of its kind response to the disproportionate impact of the COVID-19 pandemic and social determinants of health. These new AmeriCorps members will add capacity to strained public health systems and build a career pathway for future public health leaders from underserved communities."

If you are interested in learning more about becoming a REACH AmeriCorps service member, please contact Dana Silicki at dana.silicki@ialr.org or 434-766-6729.

DANVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS HONORS TEACHERS OF THE YEAR

Each year, Danville Public Schools (DPS) allows teachers at every building to vote and recognize their peers for outstanding work in the classroom and in the school community. The 2022 Teachers of the Year have been selected and honored by the division at a ceremony held April 12.

The division's Teachers of the Year for 2022 are as follows:

- Jennifer Underwood, Grove Park Preschool
- Jamesha Petty, Northside Preschool
- Kristen Schmidt, E.A. Gibson Elementary
- Mary Green, Forest Hills Elementary
- Carl "Chip" Scales, G.L.H. Johnson Elementary
- Candace Sledge, Park Avenue Elementary
- Pamela Seal, Schoolfield Elementary
- Faye Moorman, Woodberry Hills Elementary
- Heather Bray, O.T. Bonner Middle
- Claudia Woods, Westwood Middle
- Kylie Vater, Galileo Magnet High
- Sharon Leigg, George Washington High
- Karen Chilton, I.W. Taylor Virtual Academy
- Karen Grayton, R.I.S.E. Academy
- Kolby Puryear, W.W. Moore

From the 2022 Teachers of the Year, the DPS nomination for the Virginia Department of Education - Mary V. Bicouvaris Virginia Teacher of the Year will be made and submitted. A teacher will also be selected to represent DPS and be considered for the Region 6 Teacher of the Year award.

Tuesday's event also highlighted the 2021 Teachers of the Year, as they did not have a celebration due to COVID. They are as follows: • Grant Poole, Grove Park/Northside Preschools • Sheryll Jeffries, E.A. Gibson Elementary • Lindsey Huckstep, Forest Hills Elementary • Karen Chilton, Park Avenue Elementary • Gary Chapman, Schoolfield Elementary • Gordon Thompson, O.T. Bonner Middle • LaWanda Castle, George Washington High • Terry Bright, R.I.S.E. Academy • Kimberly Toothman, W. W. Moore

DPS acknowledges and appreciates all of our teachers, especially our Teachers of the Year, in their hard work to shape our youth academically, socially, and emotionally. Their dedication to their profession and our students makes a difference as DPS continues to invest in bright futures.

City increasing tax relief on personal use vehicles

The City of Danville will provide a bigger tax break on personal use vehicles this year because owners are facing a huge increase in their valuations. The tax relief rate for 2022 will increase from 35 percent of the assessed value to 65 percent. "The value of used vehicles for our locality has increased on average around 30 percent," said Michael Adkins, director of finance for the City of Danville. "That means if you had a vehicle that was $10,000 last year in assessed value, it's around $13,000 on average this year. This would cause higher personal property tax bills." Personal property taxes in Danville are calculated at $3.60 per $100 of value. With the relief rate of 65 percent, the bill on a vehicle with an assessed value of $13,000 will be $163.80. At 35 percent, the bill would have been $304.20. Under Virginia law, localities are required to utilize a subsidy provided by the Commonwealth for local tax relief on the first $20,000 of assessed value for vehicles coded as personal use. Vehicles with an assessed value of $1,000 or less receive 100 percent relief. This year's subsidy would have resulted in a relief rate of only 35 percent. The relief rate of 65 percent applies only for 2022. Personal property bills will be mailed to customers during the first week of May and will be due on June 6. Citizens with questions regarding their personal property taxes can contact the office of the Commissioner of Revenue at 799-5145.

Public Safety Director Named Director of Operations

With decades of experience in management and local government, Public Safety Director Chris Slemph has been promoted to Director of Operations for Pittsylvania County. Slemph will assume his new duties on May 1.

"I have enjoyed overseeing the development of the Pittsylvania County Public Safety Department, which touches all of our County residents and businesses in some way," Slemph said. "I've been lucky to make some great friendships with many of the volunteers and staff and I'll miss working with them every day. Our public safety system is lucky to have such great people as a part of it. As the Director of Operations, I am ready to make a positive impact on the County in different areas. I am thrilled to serve the County in this role, which includes more diverse responsibilities."

In his new position, Slemph will oversee three primary areas: the Public Works Department, the Pittsylvania Pet Center, and special projects. The Public Works Department includes solid waste operations, water and sewer services, and the Building and Grounds Department. Some of the special projects that Slemph will manage beginning day one include the restoration of the Ringgold Rail Trail Bridge, the Gretna Library Renovation project, and convenience center improvements.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

- How many No. 1 chart toppers have Stray Cats had?
- Which group released "How 'Bout Us"?
- What city was "Leroy Brown" from?
- Who had his first hit with "Splish Splash"?
- Name the song that contains this lyric: "Look at us baby, up all night, Tearing our love apart, Aren't we the same two people, Who lived through years in the dark?"

Answers

- Just one: "Runaway Boys," in 1980 ... in Finland. The song, from their debut album, also did well in Belgium and the U.K., but not the U.S.
- The R&B group Champaign, in 1981, off their debut album. The song charted around the world and reached No. 1 in the U.S. on the Adult Contemporary chart.
- "The baddest man in the whole downtown" was from the south side of Chicago. Songwriter Jim Croce wrote the song about a soldier he met in the Army who went AWOL but was arrested when he came back to pick up his paycheck.
- Bobby Darin, in 1958.
- "I Can't Tell You Why," by the Eagles in 1980. The rock ballad went to the Top 10 on multiple charts and was the first Eagles' song to feature bass guitarist Timothy B. Schmit on lead vocals.

* "To remove residue left over from price tags, use hairspray. Remove as much paper as possible, and then give it a good squirt. Use a plastic scraper to lightly scrape off the adhesive." -- L.P. in Ohio

* "Guacamole is a precious commodity at my house, but sometimes I want a snack, not a whole bowl. I have struggled with how to save the leftovers, because once it browns, it's done. I learned a new trick, though. Simply put the leftovers in the smallest container possible and tamp down to press out all the air. Then carefully add a thin layer of water. Seal and refrigerate for up to three days. When you're ready to dip, pour off the water and stir!" -- C.D. in California
