Anglers of all ages enjoy their favorite spots along the Tennessee River to search for that trophy catch whether it be at dawn or, in this case, at dusk.

Welcome to the Shoals!

True Southern hospitality among our residents has continued to shine brightly over the past years during the COVID-19 pandemic. Even today people are remaining cautious to further help to eliminate the deadly disease. Some may still wear masks, but we are seeing more smiles in the last few months because activities around the Shoals have begun to ramp

Inside this magazine, we'll give you a glimpse of the four cities which comprise the Shoals: Florence in Lauderdale County, Muscle Shoals, Sheffield and Tuscumbia in Colbert County. Visit them all and the surrounds areas. You'll find family-centered parks and museums and one of the most stunning campuses in the state: the University of North Alabama. Take advantage of a beautiful day or even a star-filled night to drop by and see the revamped Harrison Fountain on campus.

The area is also a perfect place to enjoy the outdoors, whether it be down by the river fishing or hiking the miles of trails throughout Colbert, Lauderdale and Franklin counties. The creeks and branches of the Tennessee River also lend itself to great sailing, kayaking and canoeing.

Make sure you turn to the music section of this magazine to check out the rich history of the noted artists who have recorded or written songs in the Shoals. We also look back to celebrate an exciting and musically jampacked 2021 ShoalsFest.

The Shoals has a rich history and its fair share of myths and legends. Long before the first track was recorded here, the American Indians fittingly nicknamed the Tennessee River the "Singing River." You'll also find that one of the most notorious criminals in our nation's history paid a visit to the Take your time to absorb all that the Shoals has to offer. You'll understand why countless visitors return because just being here gets better and better. We're confident you'll agree that the Shoals should be added to your travel plans every year.

SHOALS AREA REAL ESTATE Love Where You Live!

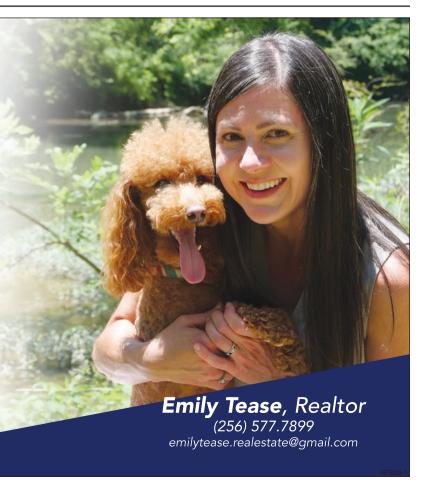

Picturesque landscapes, intriguing history, and reasonable cost of living are just a few reasons the Shoals' river towns are sought after places to make home.

Experience diverse offerings of music, art, culture, dining, and unparalleled outdoor attractions for walking, hiking, cycling, boating, fishing, and watersports —to name a few.

The market is strong, sustained by historically low mortgage rates, creating a unique opportunity to list, purchase, relocate, retire, or invest in the Shoals.

It's time to truly love where you live.

theShoals distinguishing the four cities

Our name comes from the rocky shoal of the Tennessee River that flows east to west, making a northward turn to join the Ohio River at Paducah, Kentucky. The treacherous shoals are now under water, tamed finally by the Tennessee Valley Authority dams. Meanwhile, our distinct four cities were born.

Florence

Population: 40,797

When founded: 1818; incorporated, 1826

Florence, the country seat of Lauderdale County, was established on the northern banks of the Tennessee River in the years immediately after the Louisiana Purchase and the War of 1812.

The town's site was surveyed in 1818 by Ferdinand Sannoner for Cypress Land Company. Sannoner, who was a native of Italy, named the new town after his favorite city in his homeland.

Florence became a textiles town and was home to some of the earliest mills in the region.

Music is a key element of the city's heritage. W.C. Handy, the "Father of the Blues," and Sam Phillips, the "Father of Rock 'n' Roll," were born in Florence. The Muscle Shoals music industry got its start in Florence, as well. The University of North Alabama has its roots in the first state-chartered university in Alabama.

UNA is an Equal Opportunity Institution. Information contained herein is correct as it currently exists, but is subject to change without prior notice. Information correct as of April 2022.

Muscle Shoals

Population: 14.575 When founded: 1923

Muscle Shoals was unincorporated farm land until the early 1920s when automotive tycoon Henry Ford visited the area and proclaimed his vision of turning the flat land into a metropolis. Ford offered to purchase Wilson Dam, but was turned down by the U.S. government. Instead, the government established the Tennessee Valley Authority. In 1923, the people living in unincorporated Muscle Shoals voted 361-6 for incorporation.

Disagreement continues about the origin of the name Muscle Shoals. Some claim the muscle portion of the name is a misspelled reference to mussels found in the Tennessee River, while others say it refers to the hard work and strength used to establish the area.

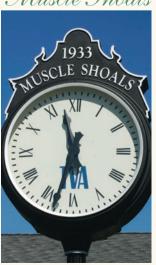

In the 1960s and 1970s Muscle Shoals became known as a hit maker in the music industry. Rick Hall and his FAME Recording Studios, and talented back-up musicians, The Swampers, put Muscle Shoals on the music map.

3815 Florence Blvd., Florence (the old Gray's Furniture location) • 256-284-7599

Sheffield

Population: 8,901 Founded: 1884

Gen. Andrew Jackson recommended that a town be established on the bluffs overlooking the Tennessee River after he and his troops camped in the area in 1817. The town was later laid out on that site and called York Bluff. The name was changed to Sheffield, after the city in England, which is on the River Sheaf.

Sheffield is the home of both locations of Muscle Shoals Sound Studios, where artists such as The Rolling Stones, Paul Simon, Boz Scaggs, Lynyrd Skynyrd, Willie Nelson, Rod Stewart and Bob Seger recorded albums in the 1960s and 1970s.

Sheffield is the home to Tuscumbia Landing, which was a debarkation point for Native Americans who were uprooted from their homes and forced to migrate west to reservations in Oklahoma under the Indian Removal Act of 1830 under President Andrew Jackson. In 2013. the city formed the Sheffield Port Authority at Tuscumbia Landing to work with groups that want to develop the site into an interpretive center.

Tuscumbia

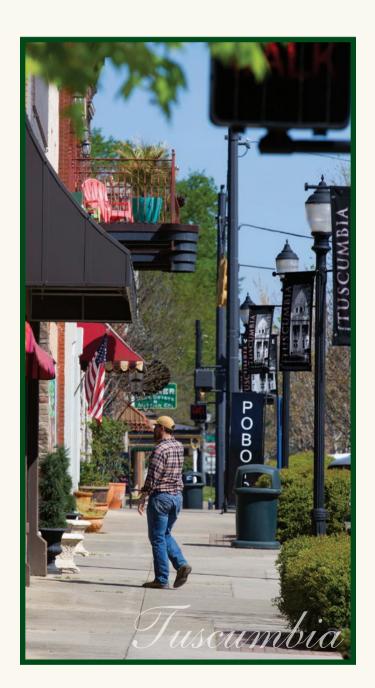

Population: 8,461 Incorporated: 1820

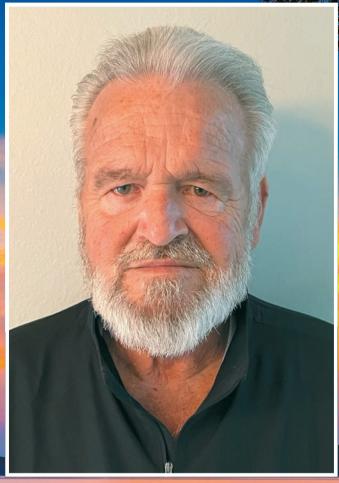

The French settled the land in the 1700s, but the town was destroyed. The Chickasaw Nation moved in next, establishing a town near the spring. The first white family arrived about 1815.

The town, which is the county seat of Colbert County, was renamed in 1822 in honor of the Chickasaw chief who lived there.

Tuscumbia is best known as for Ivy Green, the birthplace of Helen Keller. It had the first railway west of the Alleghenies.

was applauded for its river theme, taking its inspiration from the Tennessee River it is situated next to and Wilson Dam just a short walk away. Children can slide down blue slides that mimic water flowing out of the Wilson Dam spillways; climb on a turtle and fish that pop out of the ground; climb and slide through a tree house; or swing on swings attached to poles fashioned to look like tree trunks. An interactive soundboard that plays animal sounds is popular with children. The board is decorated with animal tracks and pictures. The playground is just one attraction in the recreation area. There is a paved pedestrian path that follows the river to the rockpile waterfall for a closer view of Wilson Dam. The recreation area also has campsites, hiking trails and a boat launch. The 17 miles of paved and primitive hiking trails are Americans with Disabilities Act compliant.

Belle Mont Mansion is one of Alabama's best examples of the styles of the Jeffersonian-Palladian style architecture. The two-story structure was built in the early 1800s by Dr. Alexander Williams Mitchell, a native of Virginia, and one of the area's largest slaveholders. The house was sold in 1833 to Isaac Winston, who was the uncle of Alabama first's native born governor, John Anthony Winston. Winston was also the cousin of Patrick Henry and Dolly Madison. The structure was sold again in 1941 and donated to the Alabama Historical Commission.

EDITH NEWMAN CULVER MUSEUM

501 Main St., Waterloo 256-767-6081 Hours: call

The museum is nestled on a hillside overlooking downtown Waterloo and the path that thousands of Indians took during the 1800s removal as a part of the Trail of Tears. The two-story structure is the town's museum and features many military memorabilia, as well as Civil War relics and Native American artifacts. On the grounds is a barn housing a collection of horse-drawn carriages. The museum was the home of Joseph Marion Newman and his wife, Sarah. Newman, a Union soldier from Ohio, purchased the house in 1918 after opening a sawmill north of Waterloo.

TUSCUMBIA DEPOT AND ROUNDHOUSE

204 W. Fifth St., Tuscumbia 256-389-1357 tuscumbiarailway.com Hours: call

It's only fitting that since Tuscumbia was the site of the first railroad west of the Allegheny Mountains - built in the 1830s - it would have the area's premiere railway museum. The museum is in the former Tuscumbia Depot, which was built in 1888 and served as division headquarters for the Memphis and Charleston Railroad. The fully restored depot features rail and train memorabilia including a photo gallery. There is an interactive train simulator and telegraph demonstrations. Keeping with the historic architecture of the depot, a roundhouse was built in 2013.

W.C. Handy Museum and Library

W.C. Handy Birthplace, Museum and Library, Florence.

W.C. Handy became famous in the music world for his compositions such as "Memphis Blues" and "St. Louis Blues" and as a band conductor and author. He is heralded as the "Father of the Blues." But before his famous life, he was born in a small log cabin in Florence on Nov. 16, 1873. The museum in his honor houses a collection of memorabilia, including his famous trumpet and his personal piano, as well as personal papers and original sheet music.

Pope's Tavern

Pope's Tavern Museum's façade harkens to the time in the 1800s when it was a stagecoach stop, tavern and inn. It is one of the oldest buildings in Florence and its location pinpoints the military road that once ran through the area, connecting Nashville to the Natchez Trace, and on to New Orleans. Andrew Jackson is said to have stayed at the tavern during his march to the Battle of New Orleans. The inn was a hospital for both the Confederate and Union during the Civil War before later becoming a private family home until the city bought it in 1965. It is housed with antiques and artifacts from the 18th and 19th centuries, as well as artifacts from the Civil War and local history.

Indian Mound and Museum

The Florence Indian Mound Museum is in its third year since its rebuild and reopening.

The museum's mission is to interpret the prehistoric culture of the Shoals area for education while preserving the Woodland period landscape of the site and fostering a community dialogue about environmental stewardship and Native American history, according to its mission statement.

The 42-foot-high mound near the museum is one example of the work of early Native Americans who lived in Alabama before the Cherokee. Chickasaw and Creek nations inhabited the region. The mound is quadrilateral, with a summit that's 145-by-94 feet. Early settlers found steps on the east side and there was evidence the mound was enclosed by a semi-circular earthen wall.

Inside the museum are artifacts dating back to more than 10,000 years. Displays are arranged in chronological order from Paleo to Historic periods.

Frank Lloyd Wright Rosenbaum House and Museum

Frank Lloyd Wright is among the most prominent and revered American architects of the 20th century. He designed approximately 1,000 structures spanning a 70year career. He preferred construction where buildings blended into the landscape rather than being obviously perched to rise independently of the ground on which it was constructed. His famous architectural designs include the Prairie, Concrete Block and Usonian, of which the Rosenbaum House in Florence is included. Horizontal lines connect the home with the land, as do its flat roofs with overhands, natural materials like cypress, glass and brick, access to the outside from every room, and board and batten walls. The house has its original Wright-designed furniture.

The Shoals is popular for its celebrations and festivals that are a continuous flow of entertainment from spring until winter.

That is, unless there's a pandemic.

While some festivals have announced dates for this vear's events, it's best to go to the website or Facebook page listed, or call the phone number provided with the information to double check that the event will still take place.

Florence's Wilson Park plays hosts to a myriad of artists and craftsmen who flock to the downtown park to sell their arts and crafts and compete in the juried Arts Alive exhibit at the Kennedy-Douglass Center for the Arts.

Anything from paintings to sculptures to clothing and woodwork can be found at Arts Alive.

The 2022 festival is May 21-22. For details about the festival or exhibits, visit alabamaartsalive.com or call 256-760-6379.

W.C. HANDY MUSIC FESTIVAL

Every year, the Shoals honors W.C. Handy, who was born in Florence and built his legacy as "Father of the Blues." There will be some abbreviations to this year's 10-day event, scheduled for July 22-31. Visit wchandymusicfestival. com or call The Music Preservation Society Inc. at 256-766-7642.

TRAIL OF TEARS COMMEMORATIVE MOTORCYCLE RIDE

Motorcyclists honor the Trail of Tears by riding from Chattanooga to Waterloo. The riders always ride on the third Saturday in September, this year Sept. 17.

COON DOG CEMETERY LABOR DAY CELEBRATIO

Not many places have a cemetery for coon dogs. Even fewer have a Labor Day celebration at a coon dog cemetery.

But the annual Coondog Cemetery Labor Day Celebration has become one of the most popular, if quirky, events in the Shoals.

Graves will be decorated and live music and barbecue will be available.

The Coondog Cemetery is at 4945 Coondog Cemetery Road, off U.S. 72 and Alabama 247.

For more details, visit coondogcemetery.com or call 256-383-0783.

ALABAMA RENAISSANCE FAIRE

The Fountain on the Green, better known the rest of the year as Wilson Park in Florence, hosts nobility, knights and kings as the city of Florence celebrates the annual Renaissance Faire.

The 2022 faire is Oct. 22-23. For details about the fun and educational event, visit alrenfaire.org. The feast is usually set for the third Saturday in October.

SHOALS SPIRIT OF FREEDOM CELEBRATION

The popular Spirit of Freedom Celebration makes its return to McFarland Park this year, although it will be at the start of the Independence Day weekend instead of on July 4. The celebration is July 1, which is on a Friday. Officials also plan for First Fridays to take place that day, and to have a kid-friendly celebration on June 30. The festival will feature a lineup of live music starting at 3 p.m. at the park. The headlining act will hit the stage 8 p.m. followed by the 9 p.m. fireworks show.

The life and accomplishments of one of the Shoals' most famous natives, Helen Keller, is celebrated each year with a summer festival.

The weeklong festival takes place in Spring Park in Tuscumbia. not far from Keller's birthplace, Ivy Green.

The festival includes live bands and music, a 5-mile and 23-mile family bike ride, a 5-mile and 1-mile fun run, a car and truck show, a golf tournament, arts and crafts, educational displays, and a parade and street party.

Of course, no Keller festival is complete without a rendition of "The Miracle Worker," and the Helen Keller Art Show of Alabama.

The 2022 festival is June 23-26. For details, visit helenkellerfestival. com or call 256-383-4066. HELEN KELLER FESTIVAL

Renaissance Faire has its own renaissance

Story by Bernie Delinski Photography by Dan Busey

After a year's absence, Wilson Park has transformed again into Fountain-on-the-Green.

The Alabama Renaissance Faire started in late October and the scene of revelers in period attire was welcomed after COVID-19 forced last vear's event to be only virtual.

Billy Ray Warren, a founding member and organizer of the state's annual festival, said he could tell leading up to the faire that there was a great deal of excitement about its return.

"I think everybody is ready to get out of their house," Warren said. "The response this year has just been overwhelming."

In its 35th year, the faire saw a rare event: Its monarch is in her third year. Debbie Martin returned to the throne as Oueen Serene de Renard.

It's a faire tradition that there is a different monarch every year, due to a curse causing something to happen that forces the reigning monarch to step down on the last day of the event.

The new monarch is chosen during the Renaissance Feast, which takes place on the third Saturday of October. During the feast, they distribute desserts, and one has a coin in it. The person who gets the coin is the king or queen that Martin received the coin in the 2019 feast, and since COVID forced cancellation of the 2020 and 2021 feasts, she has remained queen since her 2019 coronation.

For a complete schedule of events and entertainment, visit www. thealrenfaire.org/schedule.

I then went on to get my bachelor's degree at UNA before being hired as a police officer in 1998 by the Florence Police Department, where I've worked for more than 24 years. I have always been interested in technology, especially in computers and digital photography as it became mainstream. I started getting into photography when my oldest son started playing flag football. I had little knowledge on how to use a camera to capture sports, so I started researching. I was hooked. I started to study all types of photography and got hooked even more with landscapes. I enjoy getting outside, exploring and then capturing the scene to take home with me. I then began sharing my images on social media. I love the beauty of the Shoals, and I try to promote the area's beauty as much as I can.

Listen to the music at the Muscle Shoals Songwriters Festival

Story by Russ Corey Photography by Lillian Glanton

Lillian Glanton said she believes her mother encouraged her to learn to play the guitar because while she was a great singer, her mom regretted never learning how to play a musical instrument.

Glanton started taking guitar lessons from a neighbor who lived nearby outside Rogersvizrce behind the Muscle Shoals Songwriters Festival, which is scheduled for the first weekend in November at several venues across the Shoals.

More than 100 performers and 30 songwriters are expected to take part in this event.

It's safe to say Glanton grew up in a musical household.

"My mom is a great singer and an awesome songwriter," Glanton said. "She sang at a lot of local talent competitions when growing up. When I was younger, she encouraged my brother and I to take guitar lessons."

"Probably why she wanted us to learn to play so badly [is] because she never learned."

Glanton said while taking guitar lessons, she soaked up everything like a sponge.

Female country music artists like Taylor Swift and Miranda Lambert were making waves, and Glanton used them as sources of inspiration.

"I watched these women playing their own songs and playing on stage," she said. "I wanted to be like that."

When she was 15, Glanton was encouraged to audition for the popular reality program "American Idol." She did and received the coveted "Golden Ticket," which allowed her to proceed to another level of competition.

While she didn't make it into the final rounds, Glanton was often asked for her autograph by people who would see her out in the community.

She also knew that being on "American Idol" isn't a ticket to fame.

So she and some friends from school put a band together and booked gigs wherever they could.

Then she took some time off to get her bearings.

"I took a step back from the artist's side of things," Glanton said. "I didn't realize who I was for a while. I felt like I'd lost track."

That's when she began to focus more on songwriting and began working the songwriter festival scene.

Glanton estimates she's written or co-written 500 to 600 songs since she was 10 years old.

ShoalsFest

OCTOBER 2021

Story by Russ Corey Photography by Dave Hyatt

The second edition of Jason Isbell's ShoalsFest got underway Saturday after a one-year hiatus caused by the COVID-19 pandemic. Isbell wasn't going to allow the pandemic to crash the party in 2021, so he required fans to present proof of vaccination of a negative COVID-19 test.

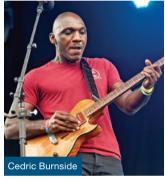

The festival opened with Farmer Jason, a character created by singer/songwriter and former Jason and the Scorchers frontman Jason Ringenberg.

Next up was Hill Country Blues artist Cedric Burnside, who was followed by a trio of female artists, including Isbell's wife, Amanda Shires, R&B artist Candi Staton, and Americana artist Lucinda Williams.

Isbell and his band The 400 Unit closed out the first day of the festival.

Farmer Jason opened the festival Sunday, followed by the Shoals' traditional "ghost music" group The Pine Hill Haints.

Slobberbone entertained the audience with an energetic set, setting the stage for a set by fellow Texas alt-country band Centro-Matic. Isbell played electric guitar during Centro-Matic's set.

At 7:15 p.m., the Drive-By Trucker took the stage for the first time in the Shoals in 10 years.

Frontman Patterson Hood's father, Swampers bassist David Hood sat in during the Eddie Hinton track "Everybody Needs Love."

Isbell, who was a member of the Truckers for six years, joined his former bandmates for "Heathens" and the Isbell penned track, "The Day John Henry Died."

Scott Danborn of Centro-Matic played violin on several tracks.

The encore of Isbell's festival closing set featured Patterson Hood and Drive-By Truckers co-founder Mike Cooley joining Isbell for two of his popular Truckers songs, the poignant "Outfit" and "Decoration

FAMOUS Shoals Faces

Shoals boasts many well-known celebrities.

From Grammy-award winning musicians, songwriters and producers to world-known fashion designers to sports figures to history changers and politicians, many influential personalities have ties to the Shoals area and can be seen from time to time in the area.

Natalie Chanin

Stewart Cink

Rick Hall

Howell Heflin

GARY BAKER

The Grammy-winning singer, songwriter and producer works and lives in the Shoals. Baker won a Grammy in 1994 for co-writing the No. 1 crossover hit, "I Swear," and then in 2001, co-wrote Lonestar's No. 1 country hit, "I'm Already There." He also has worked with pop stars Nick Lachev. Jessica Simpson and the Backstreet Boys, and country stars Reba McEntire and LeAnn Rimes. His Florence recording studio, Noise Block, has entered into a partnership with the University of North Alabama to teach students recording arts.

NATALIE CHANIN

Chanin, a Florence native, is a renowned fashion designer whose line of clothing, Alabama Chanin, is highlighted by uniqueness and handsewn detail. The clothing line continues to have a focus on the environment. Many of her projects come from recycled T-shirts. She returned to Florence to work on the fine, hand-stitching that's a signature of her clothing line. Her clothing sells to high-end stores such as Barney's in New York. Her clothing has also been featured in various national and international fashion magazines.

STEWART CINK

Cink, a mainstay among the professional golf ranks and 2009 British Open winner, fine tuned his skills on the golf courses of the Shoals. The Bradshaw High School graduate and Florence native, turned professional in 1995 after graduating from Georgia Tech University. He joined the Professional Golf Association Tour in 1997.

On tour, Cink has won four major tournaments and has been a part of the 2000 Presidents Cup and two Ryder Cup Teams. He has earned more than $28 million on the tour.

The 36-year-old lives in Duluth, Ga., but has family in Florence, and he and his family routinely visit here. He sponsors an annual charity golf tournament at Turtle Point Yacht and Country Club for the Healing Place, a local non-profit organization that helps children deal with death. The event attracts many of Cink's PGA tour friends to the area.

JASON ISBELL

A native of Greenhill and a former member of the Drive-By Truckers, Isbell's star began to rise after the release of "Southeastern" in 2014, the same year he won three awards from the Americana Music Association. Isbell credits a stint in rehab for alcohol addiction for making him a better songwriter and performer. He said sobriety has also given him more time to work. After leaving the Truckers, Isbell released "Sirens of the Ditch," which was followed by "Jason Isbell and The 400 Unit," "Here We Rest" and "Live From Alabama." In 2011, Isbell relocated to Nashville and is married to violinist Amanda Shires. The couple are expecting their first child.

RICK HALL

The founder of FAME Recording Studios is the acknowledged "Father of Muscle Shoals Music." Hall and the Muscle Shoals music scene was featured in a film that appeared at the Sundance Film Festival. In 2013, Hall received the Grammy Trustees Award by the Recording Academy, which recognized his 60 years of success in the music business.

Hall was also featured in the 2013 documentary "Muscle Shoals" about FAME Studios and Muscle Shoals Sound Studio in Muscle Shoals. Beginning in 1961, Hall produced and/or engineered some of the most memorable songs of the second half of the 20th century, including Wilson Pickett's "Mustang Sally," Clarence Carter's "Patches," Etta James' "Tell Mama" and Aretha Franklin's "I Never Loved a Man (the Way I Love You)." In the 1970s, he moved into pop and country, and scored hits with the Osmonds, Mac Davis, Bobbie Gentry, Shenandoah and others. FAME (Florence Alabama Music Enterprises) is still an active studio and music publishing company. Kent Records of England issued a fourdisc boxed set of Hall's 1960s and 1970s FAME recordings in 2011. Hall's autobiography. "The Man From Muscle Shoals: My Journey From Shame to Fame," was released in March 2015.

W.C. HANDY

William Christopher Handy was born in a log cabin in west Florence in

The man who became known as the "Father of the Blues" left the area at a young age and went on to compose the "St. Louis Blues" and other jazz songs such as "Beale Street Blues" and "Memphis Blues." Handy's talents and efforts helped create and popularize the blues.

HELEN KELLER

Most likely the most famous resident of the Shoals is Helen Keller, "The First Lady of Courage." Keller, who was born and raised in Tuscumbia, became blind and deaf at a young age from an illness that many believed to have been scarlet fever. In 1887, her family hired Anne Sullivan to teach Keller. The association with Sullivan changed Keller's life from a wild and unruly child. She went on to accomplish many things in her life, graduating from Radcliffe College and becoming famous

HOWELL HEFLIN

The Tuscumbian, who died in 2005, served as an Alabama U.S. senator from 1979 to 1997. He was a member of the Judiciary Committee and was heavily involved in hearings on nominees to the U.S. Supreme Court, including the famous Clarence Thomas hearings. Heflin also served as chief justice of the Alabama Supreme Court and wrote a judicial article that modernized Alabama's courts. Known as "the judge," he was one of Alabama's most popular senators, winning three elections with wide margins of victory. He was also known as a storyteller who could hold his audiences rapt with humorous, downhome tales that often reflected his political thoughts.

GEORGE LINDSEY

Lindsey, who will always be best known for his role as Goober on "The Andy Griffith Show," died in 2012.

The Jasper native and former quarterback on the football team for Florence State Teachers College (now University of North Alabama), where he graduated in 1952, has performed on stage and screen throughout his professional career. The annual George Lindsey/ UNA Film Festival is named in his honor by his alma mater, where he also established the George Lindsey Academic Scholarships.

MAC MACANALLY

The Red Bay native and current Sheffield resident and recording artist has been recognized as the Country Music Association's Musician of the Year in consecutive vears. He has recorded 10 albums, all for major labels. A member of Jimmy Buffett's touring Coral Reefer Band, MacAnally has produced several of Buffett's albums, including the No. 1 "License to Chill," and has written many songs for Buffett. Numerous singers have recorded MacAnally's songs, and the group Alabama took his "Old Flame" to No. 1 in 1981. McAnally has won seven consecutive "Musician of the Year" awards from the Country Music Association, which is an association record for consecutive awards.

MITCH MCCONNELL

A native of Sheffield, McConnell moved to Kentucky, where he serves as a U.S. senator. He was unanimously chosen as Senate Republican Leader in 2006. He was first elected to the Senate in 1984. His wife, Elaine L. Chao, was President George W. Bush's secretary of labor.

OZZIE NEWSOME

He gained the nickname "The Wizard of Oz" for his ability to make circus catches on the football field.

Newsome, a native of Leighton, and graduate of Colbert County High School and the University of Alabama, is a well-respected businessman and general manager of the Baltimore Ravens of the National Football League. He was the first African-American to become a general manager in the NFL. Newsome, who played professionally for the Cleveland Browns, is a member of the NFL Hall of Fame.

SAM PHILLIPS

Phillips enjoyed the ins and outs of radio for a lifetime as a station owner and on-air personality. However, the Florence native will forever be known as the "Father of Rock 'n' Roll" and the founder of Sun Records in Memphis. In 1953 at Sun Recording Studios, Phillips discovered a talented kid from Mississippi, Elvis Presley, who would change the makeup of the music industry. He is also credited for launching the careers of Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis, B.B. King, Carl Perkins and Roy Orbison.

The Sam Phillips Music Celebration is held annually in the Shoals to honor Phillips and his legacy.

QUEEN

The grandmother of Alex Haley was the illegitimate and unacknowledged daughter of James Jackson III and his slave, Oueen lived and worked for several years on the Forks of Cypress Plantation, which was owned by the Jackson family, just north of Florence. The house was given its name because Big Cypress Creek and Little Cypress Creek border the plantation and converge near the site of the main house, which was struck by lightning and burned in Queen was highlighted in a 1993 CBS movie. "Alex Haley's Queen." Haley, the award-winning author of "Roots," began writing the book about his grandmother but died before it was finished. The book was completed by David Stevens, a friend of Haley's.

BILLY REID

Reid, an internationally recognized fashion designer known to give classic American designs subtle modern twists with nods to Southern gentility, owns and operates his headquarters and design studio on Court Street in Florence.

Reid has stores in New York City, Dallas, Houston, Nashville and Charleston, S.C., and has partnerships with Bergdorf Goodman and Bloomingdale's, two upscale retailers that carry his clothing line. After living in New York, Reid, a native of Amite, La., whose wife is from Florence, moved to north Alabama in 2002. He opened his flagship shop and studio, Pickett Place, before moving into the Court Street location in

The man whose name is synonymous with the earliest civil rights battles, lived in Florence as a slave in 1820 with Peter Blow and worked in a hotel that Blow owned. Scott lived in Florence until 1830 when he and Blow moved to St. Louis. In 1846, Scott sued for his freedom, claiming he should be free since he had lived on free soil. The case went to the U.S. Supreme Court, which ruled against him in 1857.

Historians say the Dred Scott case widened the gap between the North and the South, and brought the nation closer to the Civil War.

PERCY SLEDGE

The Leighton native became known worldwide in 1966 when the song "When a Man Loves a Woman" was released and moved up the music charts. Sledge, who now lives in Louisiana but still has relatives in the Leighton area, recorded other songs such as "Warm and Tender Love," "It Tears Me Up" and "Take Time to Know Her." He is recognized as one of the artists who helped make Muscle Shoals music world famous.

T.S. STRIBLING

The graduate of Florence Normal School (now the University of North Alabama) went on to write 16 novels, but is best known for a trilogy of books set in and around Florence. The second novel in that trilogy, "The Store," won the 1933 Pulitzer Prize for fiction. He died in Florence in 1965, and is buried in his hometown of Clifton, Tenn.

THE MUSCLE SHOALS RHYTHM SECTION

The group, made up of Barry Beckett, Roger Hawkins, David Hood and Jimmy Johnson, was a house band, working backup for music artists coming through the Shoals in the 1960s and 1970s, the heyday of the Muscle Shoals Music Scene

The group was featured in "Muscle Shoals," a 2013 documentary film about FAME Studios and Muscle Shoals Sound Studio.

The group has appeared on classic recordings by top-named artists. They began their career at Rick Hall's FAME Studios appearing with Wilson Pickett, Aretha Franklin, Clarence Carter, Arthur Conley and Etta James. In 1969, with the support of Atlantic Records and producer Jerry Wexler, they opened Muscle Shoals Recording Studios at 3614 Jackson Highway in Sheffield. There, the group worked with R.B. Greaves, The Rolling Stones, Paul Simon, Bob Seger, The Staple Singers, Willie Nelson, Leon Russell and Rod Stewart among a list of others. The group was inducted into the Alabama Music Hall of Fame in 1995 and in 2008 into the Musicians Hall of Fame in Nashville. Barry Beckett died in June 2009.

FRED THOMPSON

Born at then Colbert County Hospital (now Helen Keller Hospital) in Sheffield, Thompson lived a short time with his family on Colbert Heights mountain before moving to Lawrenceburg, Tenn., where he was raised.

Thompson, a graduate of Lawrence County

High School, attended the University of North Alabama in Florence before transferring to Memphis State. He became a U.S. senator, representing Tennessee, from 1994-2002 and ran unsuccessfully as a Republican presidential candidate in 2008. An attorney by profession, Thompson served on the minority council of the Senate Watergate Committee. He became an actor and has appeared in numerous movies and television series, maybe best known as Arthur Branch, the district attorney in NBC's "Law and Order."

JOSH WILLINGHAM

Willingham is in his second season with the Minnesota Twins after signing a three-year deal with the organization last vear.

The Mars Hill and University of North Alabama standout won the America League Silver Slugger Award last year. The award goes to the best offensive player in each position. Willingham was drafted by the Florida Marlins in the 17th round of the 2000 Major League Baseball Draft. He made his MLB debut July 6, 2004, against the Pittsburgh Pirates but did not garner regular playing time until 2006. After three seasons with the Marlins he was traded to Washington during the 2009 offseason before moving on to Oakland and then to Minnesota.

ED YEILDING

The time was 68 minutes 17 seconds. The day was March 6, 1990, a day the Florence native and resident flew a R-17 Blackbird jet coast to coast. The average speed of that short trip was 2,189.94 MPH. Yeilding shattered the old coast-to-coast record of 3 hours, 38 minutes, set 27 years earlier.

BILL YOAST

Yoast grew up in Florence, attended Coffee High School and loved the game of football. He eventually got into high school coaching and gained national fame in 1971.

That was the year integration combined two schools in Virginia, where Yoast was coaching. Yoast found himself going from head coach at Alexandria High School to assistant at the new T.C. Williams High School.

Yoast, who is white, bonded with black head coach Herman Boone. and that friendship and working relationship led the team to the state championship. The season and the team, along with Yoast and Boone, inspired the 2000 hit movie "Remember the Titans."

JOHN PAUL WHITE

The Florence resident was formerly part of The Civil Wars, teaming with Joy Williams, of Nashville. The duo won Grammy awards in consecutive years. The songwriting and singing partners made numerous television appearances, released the best-selling "Barton Hollow" album, and had surprise concert appearances with Taylor Swift, one of their most ardent fans.

White continues to write music and some of his songs have been used in the ABC television show "Nashville." White is currently working on an album with noted singersongwriter Donnie Fritts. He and two other Shoals residents founded the Shoals-based record label Single Lock Records.

DRIVE-BY TRUCKERS

The core songwriters and singers in this Athens, Georgia.-based band hail from the Shoals and perform and record locally from time to time. Florence native Patterson Hood and Tuscumbia native Mike Cooley have been recording together for more than 20 years under various names and band line-ups, but it's with the Drive-By Truckers that they have made their mark. They have also worked and recorded with Booker T. Jones for a Grammywinning performance, and with Bettye LaVette for a Grammy-nominated work at FAME Recording Studios.

THE SECRET SISTERS

The Greenhill sisters Laura and Lydia Rogers have made a big impression with fans of traditional country and old-school harmony singing. Their seamless harmonies landed them a recording contract after a Nashville audition and a production deal with producer T-Bone Burnett for their debut record. They have appeared on television, toured Europe and made numerous festival performances.

Every community has a legendary tale to tell, and the Shoals is no different. Stories and myths from the Shoals add a unique flavor to the area and make for interesting conversation. Here are a few examples:

THE SINGING RIVER

If you like music, you've come to the right place. The Shoals has a long history of musical influence, with countless Billboard Top 40 hits recorded in the area throughout the years.

Perhaps a story passed down through the centuries by American Indians who settled in the area foreshadowed that success.

American Indians gave the portion of the Tennessee River that runs through here the nickname "Singing River."

The story goes that the name was created because the shoals in the river were so abundant that a hard breeze would produce a noise as it traveled over them. The noise sounded musical.

Judith Winston, who died in the Winston Home after an 1874 tornado.

It is said that the river continued to "sing" after American Indians fell victim to forced federal government relocations in the 1800s. The singing river was beckening them back home.

The Legislature was so moved by the tale that it named the newest bridge across the Shoals the "Singing River Bridge."

SPOOKINESS

If you like to get spooked, you're at the right place. The Shoals is full of ghost stories to make your spine tingle.

One popular tale is about Mrs. Winston, who was killed in a tornado at her home, which today is a historic building on Deshler High School's campus in Tuscumbia.

Mrs. Winston's ghost has been known to peer out the window at passersby, and it's a tradition to leave her an invitation at the house if you are going to have an event there, lest she haunt the gathering.

Another ghost story is of a child who was killed after being bitten by a rabid dog.

Today, the home is the location of the Off Campus Bookstore across from the University of North Alabama, on North Court Street in Florence.

Many students, employees and owners tell of sightings of the girl's ghost, which sometimes asks, "Have you seen my dog?"

In fact, there are so many stories that historic ghost tours are available in downtown Florence and Tuscumbia in October.

DETROIT. ALABAMA STYLE

Could you imagine this place as the automobile hub of the world?

Well, in 1921, Henry Ford and Thomas Edison came to the Shoals with a vision of making the area a huge metropolis. Ford said it would become the "Detroit of the

He wanted to build a factory that would employ as many as 1 million workers. Ford envisioned a city 75 miles long.

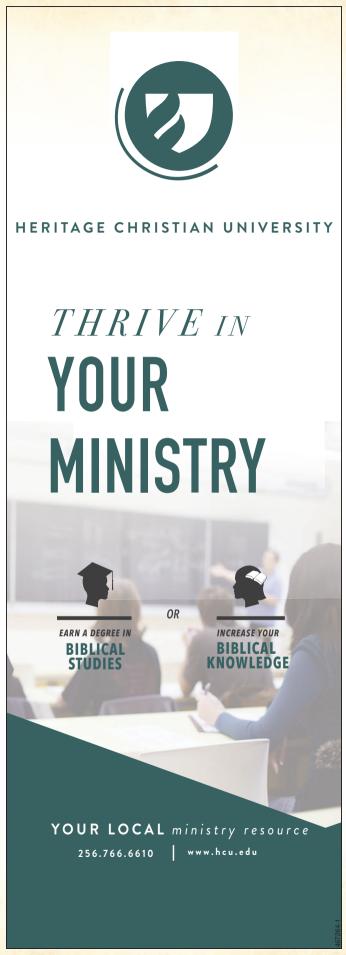

He offered to buy Wilson Dam, but that was turned down by Congress, which later formed the Tennessee Valley Authority to develop the dam and the TVA river

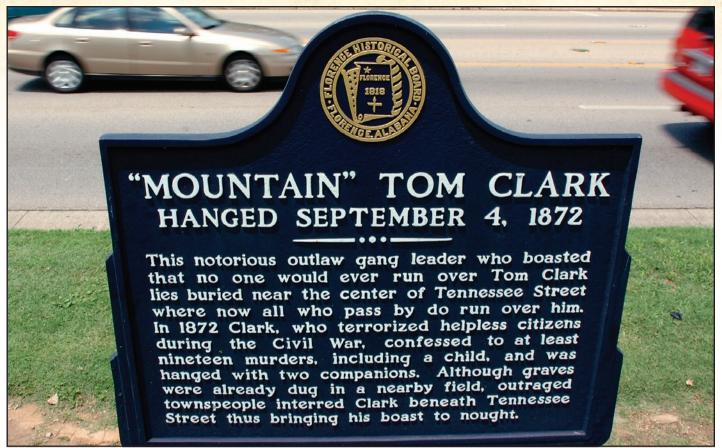

At the time, residents were disappointed the Detroit vision didn't work out, but most say today they are thankful the Shoals was able to maintain its small-town

There still is a hint of Ford's visions, however. Many of Muscle Shoals' main streets are named after major Detroit streets.

"MOUNTAIN" TOM MEETS HIS MATCH

If you find the occasion to drive across the easternmost portion of Tennessee Street in Florence, you supposedly are taking part in a plan hatched in the late 1800s to prove one of the area's most notorious villains wrong.

"Mountain" Tom Clark had committed about every heinous crime imaginable in the area during those days. The story goes that he finally was captured and scheduled to be hanged, but that wasn't good enough for local residents, who lynched him and buried him under what became Tennessee Street.

They chose that spot for a purpose: it was and continues to be one of the most-traveled roads in the area, thus making Clark's well-known boast — "No one will ever run over Mountain Tom Clark" — wrong.

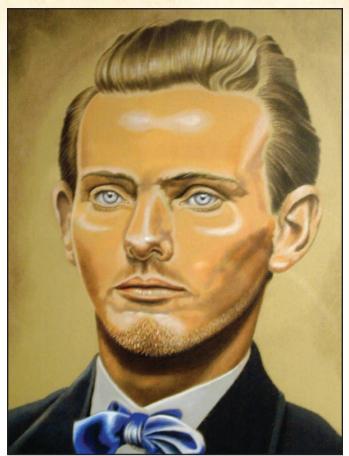

A historic market at the Florence City Cemetery at that stretch of road describes the incident.

LEGENDARY ROBBER

One of the most infamous criminals in our nation's history once came calling to the Shoals.

Jesse James and his gang hit the area in and made off with $5,200 in federal paychecks.

Jesse and Frank James and company robbed a Muscle Shoals Canal paymaster of the checks shortly after the paymaster had gone into Florence for the money. The robbery, near Killen in Lauderdale County, involved three men on horseback who confronted the paymaster and took the federal money.

MUSSEL/MUSCLE SHOALS

There remains disagreement about the origin of the name Muscle Shoals, one of the "Quad Cities" in the area.

Some say it's another spelling for the river's mussels, which is why the city should have been spelled "Mussel Shoals."

Others claim it honors those whose labor helped build the area through their hard work and muscle, hence "Muscle Shoals."

Either way, the official name remains Muscle Shoals.

LONG LIVE THE KING

There were plenty of Elvis sightings in Sheffield, even before the singer became a national icon. Elvis Presley was a regular at Sheffield Community Center, where he honed his skills.

The center had a reputation at the time as an important spot to reach in order to achieve stardom. Jerry Lee Lewis, Johnny Cash and Carl Perkins are others who played at the center, which today has been remodeled into Park Place retirement center on North Montgomery Avenue.

It also was common to see Elvis spend leisure time in town, with the old Woody-Mac Drive-In among the spots where he would pull in his pink Cadillac.

HAIL TO THE VISITORS

No fewer than six U.S. presidents have visited the Shoals. William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, John F. Kennedy and Jimmy Carter visited during their presidential terms.

Rutherford Hayes was here as a Civil War Union officer and Andrew Jackson encamped here during the War of 1812.

SWAMP THINGS

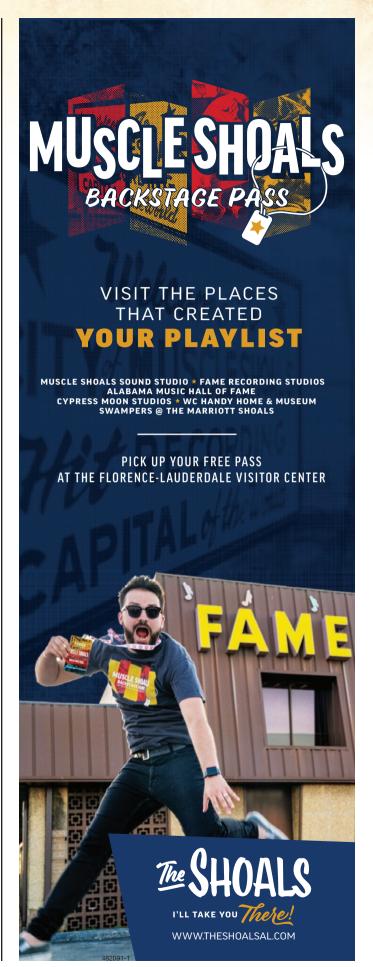

One of rock 'n' roll's best-known anthems, "Sweet Home, Alabama," not only pays homage to the state, but to a group of talented musicians from the Shoals.

When Lynyrd Skynyrd sings the line, "Now Muscle Shoals has got the Swampers," in the song, the band is speaking of the musicians who helped record hit after hit in the 1970s, including some for Skynyrd.

Those recordings helped members of Skynyrd and the Swampers form tight bonds.

The best 18 holes in the Shoals

Story by Gregg Dewalt Photos by Matt McKean and Patrick Hood

One of Robert Trent Jones Sr.'s integral golf design philosophies was that it should be hard to make a par and easier to make a bogey on any given hole.

That design influence can be found on three of Alabama's best golf courses located in the Shoals — Turtle Point Yacht and Country Club, and the self-named Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail's the Shoals Fighting Joe and Schoolmaster layouts.

Turtle Point, annually ranked among the top five courses in the state, was designed by Jones. Fighting Joe and Schoolmaster were the brainchild of Jones' protégé Roger Rulewich, who did the majority of the architecturally acclaimed Trail designs.

of history important? Because those three courses contain the bulk of what a panel of local experts consider the best 18 holes in the Shoals.

But Jones' philosophy, while perhaps forged from his mentors, isn't the gospel of golf architecture. Every great designer has their own ideas for architecture. So do most players.

So, what makes a great golf hole? Jeff Neuman, editor of Met Golfer magazine, offered insight in an email response.

"A great golf hole should be a challenge to the mind and body, and a delight to the senses. It should have a strategic element, offer more than one way to play it, and fit pleasingly in the landscape. Some would say it should look as rather than built; for others, it's like the joke about honesty and sincerity being the key to success in Hollywood ('As long as you can fake that, you've got it made') artfully manufactured surroundings can serve just as well."

Many of the great holes are what Donald Ross called half-par holes: potentially driveable par-4s, reachable par-5s, long fours where the prudent play might be to lav up on the second shot. Holes that force decisions plant the seeds of doubt in a golfer's mind, and those seeds often sprout at the top of the backswing.

For Tom Doak, "The best holes tend to be the ones that play into the most interesting greens." Whether through size, tilt, contour, or surrounding hazards, they offer challenges that affect the golfer all the way back to the tee. He once told an associate, "If (you) made the green look as different as possible from opposite sides of the fairway, that would be a great start to an interesting hole."

University of North Alabama golf coaches Cullen Carstens and Neil Self, UNA senior golfer Jackson Wedgeworth, Blackberry Trail's Jason Vaughn, Cypress Lakes' Scott Arndt and Turtle Point's Les Holcombe compiled a list of their favorite local holes from seven courses based on aesthetics, shot value and playability. Panelists were asked to consider each of the holes from the middle tees to reflect where the majority of the general public plays from, although back tees were considered in some instances. The preliminary list featured 48 holes.

From there, the list was pared down to reflect which holes received the most votes. Par-3s were heavily favored among the panelists, with seven among the top vote-getters. However, to more closely reflect a traditional 18-hole, par-72 course, the list was separated into par-3s, par-4s and par-5s, and from there the top holes were selected to form the Shoals Dream 18.

The front nine plays to 3,630 yards from the middle tees and features water on five holes.

Dream 18: The Back Nine

After traversing a difficult outward nine holes of the Shoals' Dream 18, the back nine features spectacular views with fun holes and a sprinkling of danger at every turn.

The yardage on the back nine softens considerably once you get past the front's daunting 3,600-plus yards. The Dream 18's back nine plays to a modest 3,159 vards from the middle tees with multiple chances for birdies. Dial in your iron play and get your putter working, and a sub-par score is easily attainable.

Make a few errors or get distracted by the scenery and a good round can quickly go south.

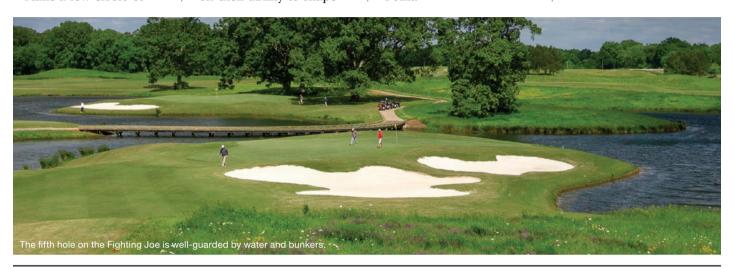

The back nine starts with a par-3 — No. 18 on Fighting Joe at the Robert Trent Jones Golf Trail the Shoals. Scott Arndt, the former director of golf at the RTJ facility who now manages Cypress Lakes, calls it the best finishing hole on the trail.

Players need to show off their ability to shape shots with their driver, needing a draw on one hole and a high fade on the next. The back nine also features a pair of risk-reward par-5s, a long, difficult par-3 and a smattering of fun short par-4s.

It ends with another spectacular view of Wilson Lake and a devilish short iron into the 18th green at Turtle

Turtle Point. No. 13. Par 4. 336/359 vards

Neil Self says: I've seen good players hit irons off the tee but I'll always hit driver. If the greens are firm, it's one of the trickiest little wedge shots around. Hit the fairway and a solid little nipper you'll have a good look at birdie. Anything less and you probably won't keep it on the green.

Former TimesDaily sports editor Gregg Dewalt, avid golfer, says: This is just a tremendous short par-4 with multiple options from tee to green. You can bomb a driver as close to the green as possible or hit something less and leave a longer, vet more-full shot into a shallow green that is hard to hold. On paper, it looks like a birdie hole. In reality, it's a tough second shot to a green that is tough to hold and par is an acceptable score.

Schoolmaster, No. 16, Par 3, 146/157 yards

Neil Self says: Beautifully carved out little par 3. Interesting green in both shape and severity. Triangle green makes for good variation.

Gregg Dewalt says: This is a hole that really fits a person's eye. Every time I play this hole with friends, I feel as if I could see a hole-in-one because you have a short iron in your hands. That only adds to the thrill factor.

Turtle Point, No. 5, Par 5, 493/566 yards

Cullen Carstens says: If you enjoy working the ball from left to right, this hole is for you. From the white tees, players can either hit a 220-240 shot straight away, or hit more and try to maneuver a cut around the trees guarding the corner. After the tee shots, the rest of the hole plays downhill with a pond guarding the front of the green. For the big hitters, a well-placed drive will leave you just a little too far to reach the green, but close enough to convince you to try it. Another hole where you have to think your way through every shot, the downhill elevation must be factored in on the layup shot, making sure you don't run through into the water. Approach shots to the green are usually from 80-120 yards, so make sure to leave yourself a number you are comfortable with. The green has a crown in the middle which will run putts towards both the front and back edges of the green. Such a great hole, I've seen just as many birdies as I have double-bogeys. Three good shots will earn you a par (or better), so if you can, take 5 and be thankful.

Fighting Joe, No. 5, Par 3, 175/193 yards

Gregg Dewalt says: One of the few holes on Fighting Joe with significant elevation change, this is another one of the great par-3s in the area. Water can come into play on both sides of the green and also behind it, and bunkers protect the front. Because the tee shot is downhill, you get to track it all the way, wondering as the ball flies toward the green if you pulled the correct club. When the ball lands safely, you can let out a sigh of relief.

Blackberry Trail, No. 14, Par 4, 303/336 yards

Gregg Dewalt says: This is a neat little hole that mostly requires a lay-up to 100 yards. The green is divided into two sections by a ridge and is one of the most perplexing on the course. Even though a short-iron approach should leave a player stalking a birdie, the slightest miss-hit can result in the ball resting in a watery grave and putting double bogey in play.

Schoolmaster, No. 2, Par 3, 178/196 yards

Gregg Dewalt says: another really fine par-3 that you face early in the round on Schoolmaster. This deep green can play as much as three more clubs depending on the wind and the hole location. Water guards the front and right side of the green with bunkers on the left. It's another one of those holes where you'll take par and move on.

Cypress Lakes, No. 17, Par 3, 184/224 yards

Jackson Wedgeworth says: A 230-yard carry over water to a protected green can be scary late in a round. This hole requires a great shot and some luck to hit the green. Many balls find the water all around this green. Keeping the ball dry on this hole is a great success.

Turtle Point, No. 10, Par 3, 188/219 yards

Les Holcombe says: No. 10 is a great par-3 because of the shape of the green and the placement of the four bunkers, and it is 219 yards from on the back tee. It can take three different clubs depending on the hole location. And the back left bunker or over the green must be avoided.

Blackberry Trail, No. 8, Par 5, 493/526 yards

Gregg Dewalt says: The perfect ending to an emergency nine — the classic risk-reward par-5. A good drive leaves a decision — try to carve a 3-wood or hybrid into a narrow opening for an eagle opportunity or lay up and go for birdie with a wedge or sand wedge. There is no bailout area if you go for it — a pull ends up in a penalty area and a fade ends up in a pond guarding the front and right side of the green. There's always a little indecision in the second shot if you go for the green in two because the pond extends slightly in front of the green.

If you enjoy hiking, the Shoals has several options with trails that wind through tranquil wooded areas, some of which border the beautiful Tennessee River.

■ Shoal Creek Nature Preserve

This picturesque place is a popular destination for those who enjoy a walk in the woods, horseback riding, bicycling and bird watching. The state-owned, 298-acre nature area features 4.5 miles of trails that provide views of cascading streams, wildflowers, wildlife and Shoal Creek.

The preserve features varying habitats including fallow fields, mature upland hardwood stands and scenic creek bottoms. It also offers opportunities for fishing, canoeing, picnicking, photography and nature study.

Motorized vehicles are only allowed in designated parking areas and access roads.

An additional 2 miles of trails at the nature area are available for horseback riding and bicycling.

The preserve is about 7 miles north of Florence and 2.5 miles north of St. Florian on Lauderdale 61. Access is available via a gravel road off Lauderdale 61.

■ Rock Spring Nature Trail

Located west of Florence, this scenic trail is a part of the Natchez Trace Parkway.

Visitors have an opportunity to see beaver and other wildlife. During the fall, numerous hummingbirds can be seen along the trail, feeding on the jewelweed that grows around Colbert Creek.

A small natural spring bubbles from the rocks near a deep pool where fish dart about. After completing the 20-minute walk around the loop trail, you might be tempted to take off your shoes and dangle your feet in the cool water. Vegetation and trees change as you move along the trail, past the stream, and on to a field and a rocky hillside. Steppingstones that provide access across Colbert Creek limit the opportunities for handicapped access to the trail.

■ Key Cave National Wildlife Refuge

Key Cave National Wildlife Refuge is located southwest of Florence and features more than 2.5 miles of gravel trails that provide opportunities for watching birds and other wildlife. Many of the birds seen there are grassland species that are not commonly found in north Alabama.

The 1,060-acre refuge is on Lauderdale 204. Take Alabama 20 to Lauderdale 2 in Florence. Travel 5 miles west and turn south on Lauderdale 223 for 1.5 miles. Then turn west on 204 for 1/4 mile.

■ Bankhead National Forest

In addition to nature preserves, parks and other outdoor venues in the Shoals, Bankhead National Forest, in Lawrence, Winston and Franklin counties, has numerous trails ranging from narrow paths through wilderness to a multi-use trail where horses and all-terrain cycles can be ridden.

The forest is a popular destination for campers, hikers, wildlife watchers, horse-back riders, canoeists and kayakers. Alabama 33 south of Moulton and Alabama 195 south of Haleyville provide access to the forest. 205-489-5111.

Old Railroad Bridge

At one time, this bridge provided access across the Tennessee River for both automobiles and trains. Today, it is used only by pedestrians.

It provides a scenic view of the Tennessee River. Many walkers time their visits to watch the sun setting over Pickwick Lake.

Hikers also can access Tennessee Valley Authority trails from the Old Railroad Bridge.

Access to the bridge is from Ashe Boulevard in Sheffield.

■ Cane Creek Canyon Nature Preserve, Tuscumbia

Just a short drive from the city, hikers and nature lovers can find one of Alabama's treasured forests - Cane Creek Canyon Nature Preserve. With more than a dozen waterfalls. and 15 miles of trails, opportunity to enjoy the area's natural beauty awaits. Although the trails range from beginner to advanced, all of the real scenery requires some difficulty to see. Visitors are required to sign in to the preserve.

Go about 6 miles north of U.S. 72 on Hawk Pride Mountain Road, turn left onto Loop Road and reach entrance to preserve in about a mile and a half.

BOATING LAWS

If you were born after April 28, 1954, Alabama law requires you to obtain a boaters license. The Florence Flotilla of the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary offers several classes each year to help boaters prepare for the boaters license exam.

Children younger than 12 are prohibited from operating boats and personal watercraft in Alabama. Youths 12 and 13 can obtain an Alabama boater safety certificate, which allows them to operate a boat while being supervised onboard by a person 21 years or older who has a valid Alabama boat operators license.

Alabama law requires a U.S. Coast Guard-approved personal flotation device be on board boats for the operators and all passengers.

Children younger than 8 are required to wear a life jacket at all times except when riding inside an enclosed cabin. All boat operators and passengers are required to wear a life jacket while within 800 feet of the downstream side of a hydroelectric dam or navigation Personal watercraft operators and passengers, and anyone towed on skies, tubes, and wake or knee boards must wear a life jacket.

State law also requires vessels more than 16 feet long be equipped with a flotation device that can be thrown, if needed.

The Alabama Marine Police recommends all boat operators and passengers wear a life iacket at all times.

The local Coast Guard Auxiliary flotilla offers vessel safety inspections at area boat ramps during the spring and summer to help boaters make sure they have all required safety equipment onboard. For more details, call 256-757-4622.

10 must-see stes

while Visiting the Shoals

Let's say you only have a couple of days to visit the Shoals and you need some recommendations as to what sites to visit. Here are our recommendations:

The Rosenbaum House, W.C. Handy home, Pope's Tavern, FAME recording studio, Muscle Shoals Sound Studios Museum, Ivy Green, Wilson Dam, Coon Dog Cemetery, Spring Park and the Railroad Depot Museum in Tuscumbia.

THE ROSENBAUM HOUSE - 601 Riverview Drive, Florence This is the opportunity to experience the work of Frank Lloyd Wright from inside the walls of one of the homes he designed. The 1,540-square-foot home is the only Wright-designed building in Alabama. It was created in a Usonian style that incorporates organic simplicity by bringing in the outdoors.

W.C. HANDY BIRTHPLACE, MUSEUM & LIBRARY -

620 W. College St., Florence

The small log cabin where W.C. Handy, known as "Father of the Blues," was born is part of an attraction that includes a museum and library containing books on Handy and his music, as well as black history and culture. Handy was born in the cabin Nov. 16, 1873, and died in New York in 1958.

POPE'S TAVERN - 203 Hermitage Drive, Florence

This building's history is intriguing, being a one-time stagecoach stop that later became a hospital for Union and Confederate troops at different times during the Civil War. Andrew Jackson is said to have stopped here on his march to the Battle of New Orleans. Today, artifacts from the 18th and 19th century are displayed in the home.

FAME RECORDING STUDIOS - 603 E. Avalon Ave., Muscle Shoals

This is a chance to visit the place where artists such as Aretha Franklin, Wilson Pickett, Etta James, Otis Redding, the Osmonds, Jerry Reed, Alabama and Mac Davis have recorded. All totaled, FAME has been involved in recording or publishing records that have sold over 350 million copies since opening its doors in Florence in 1959 and later moving across the river to Muscle Shoals.

MUSCLE SHOALS SOUND STUDIOS MUSEUM - 3614 Jackson Highway, Sheffield

This is where The Swampers moved to when they left FAME Recording Studios in 1969. The original studio closed in 1978, but in 1999, it was purchased and brought back to life. It is undergoing renovations even now, but there's nothing like seeing the iconic façade while awaiting its reopening. Artists who recorded here included Cher, Rod Stewart, Lynyrd Skynyrd, Wilson Pickett, Bob Seger, and the Rolling Stones.

IVY GREEN - 300 N. Commons St. W., Tuscumbia
The birthplace of Helen Keller also is the location where she famously learned sign language as a child when her teacher Anne Sullivan repeatedly spelled out "water" in Helen's hand. The pump where Sullivan drew the water is part of the sprawling indoor and outdoor attraction.

COON DOG CEMETERY - Coondog Cemetery Road, Cherokee In 1937, Key Underwood honored his beloved hunting dog, Troop, by establishing the cemetery as his burial site. Today, it remains a unique attraction, where coon-dog owners continue the tradition of burying their pets there, beneath markers that range from small stones to large monuments.

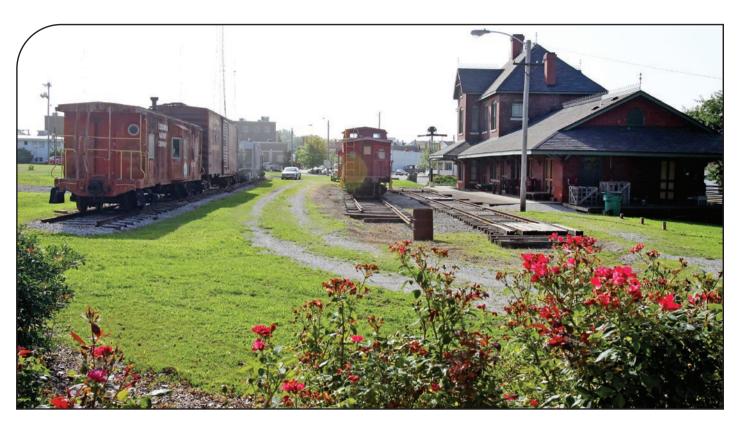

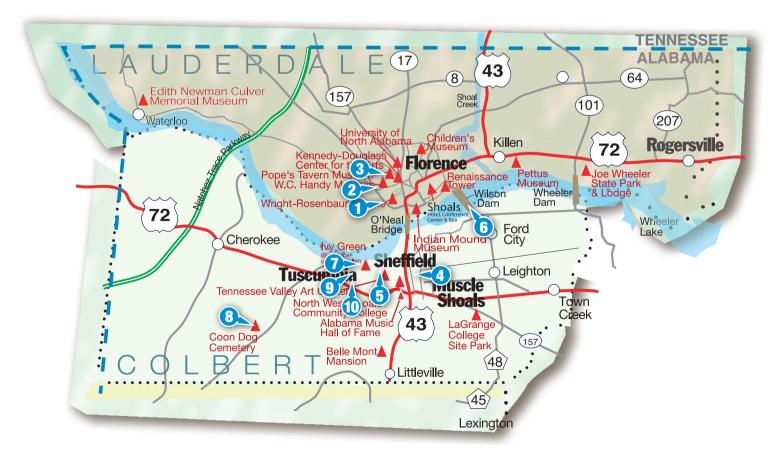

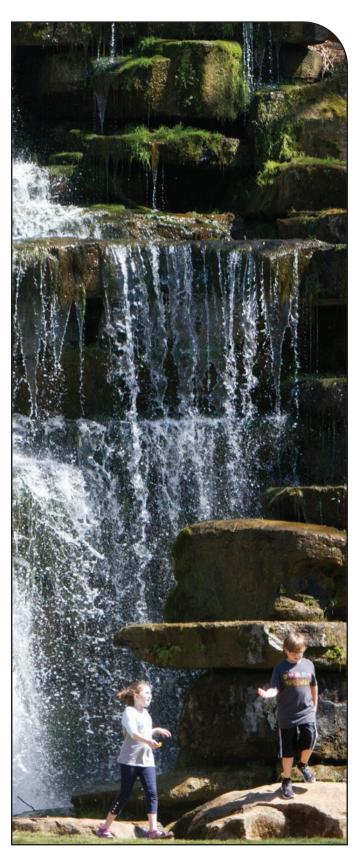

TUSCUMBIA RAILWAY DEPOT MUSEUM - 204 W. Fifth St., Tuscumbia

This train depot was opened in 1888 and today has been renovated to precise specifications to make certain it retains its original look. It includes memorabilia inside the depot and train cars, a roundhouse and operating turntable on the grounds.

SPRING PARK - Off Main Street, Tuscumbia The park, which draws its name from a large spring, features a small roller coaster, carousel, and train that travels throughout the park and waterfall leading into the spring. It also features a two-story open air shelter, several single-story pavilions with lights and power outlets, public restrooms and open spaces.

NATCHEZ TRACE

Nature is always on display with a visit to the Natchez Trace Parkway. Driving the parkway is a way to enjoy the beautiful colors of autumn, and the spring offers a peek at the first colors of a new year. The Trace connects Nashville with Natchez, Mississippi and attracts more visitors each year than any U.S. National Park except the Statue of Liberty. Access to the Natchez Trace is on Alabama 20, northwest of Florence, and on U.S. 72, near Cherokee, in Colbert County.

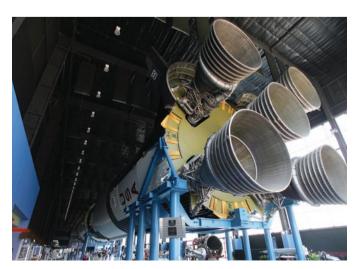

DISMALS CANYON

The Dismals Canyon is a privately owned 85-acre natural conservatory that was designated a National Natural Landmark in 1975 by the National Natural Landmarks Program. Its natural formations awe visitors and the secluded trails and woodlands feature a variety of vegetation and rock formations. Features also include a hiking trail, waterfalls, cabins, campsites and a country store. And if you visit during Alabama's sweltering summers, you'll immediately notice the cooling drop in temperature. Open weekends. 205-993-4559; dismalscanyon.com

U.S. SPACE AND ROCKET CENTER, HUNTSVILLE

Here's your opportunity to learn about the U.S. space program with space travel simulators and hands-on exhibits at the Space and Rocket Center. The center is recognized as one of the most comprehensive U.S. space museums in the world. Visitors can learn about north Alabama's role in putting man on the moon, the space race, the Apollo missions, the Space Shuttle program as well as the International Space Center. The facility is just off Interstate 565 at One Tranquility Base, Huntsville. 1-800-637-7223; rocketcenter.com.

JESSE OWENS MEMORIAL PARK

In 1936, Jesse Owens made his mark in Olympic history by winning four Olympic Gold Medals in Berlin, Germany. His performance in those Olympic Games and his life were the basics of the movie, "Race," which opened in theaters in 2016. Owens was born and grew up in rural Lawrence County, in the Oakville community, south of Moulton. The Jesse Owens Museum and Park is near his birthplace and houses many photos, videos and memorabilia of his life. The museum is about 40 minutes from the Shoals. Take Alabama 157 south through Moulton and turn left on Lawrence 187. Reservations: 256-974-3636; jesseowensmemorialpark.com

The Shoals has plenty of variety when it comes to the dining experience. Following is just a sample of local restaurants that offer great menus.

FAMILY

BIG BAD BREAKFAST

Where: 315 N. Court St. Florence; 256-415-8545; bigbadbreakfast.com/locations/ florence-alabama

Hours: 7a.m. to 2p.m. seven day a week

The aprons were designed by renowned fashion icon Alabama Chanin, the sounds of Shoals-related music mingle with conversation and the tink of cutlery against plate, and there are so many breakfast combinations on the menu, you'll just camp out there - if they'd allow you. But if breakfast past 9 a.m. is not your thing, there are salads, sandwiches and wraps, too. Ingredients are locally sources whenever possible and the chef overseeing Florence's newest eatery is passionate about laying a great table.

BOX CAR CAFÉ

Where: 220 N. Nashville Ave., Sheffield; 256-381-7437

Hours: 5 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday

Good variety on its breakfast menu. A recent sample of lunch, which is served beginning at 10 a.m., was meatloaf, salmon, grilled porkchop, chicken and dumplings, vegetables, salad and bread. Desserts served, too.
