100 THINGS TO DO IN AMARILLO

Tumbleweed Smith

Eric Miller spent 21 years as director of Amarillo's tourist Bureau. He was looking at a list of books titled "100 Things To Do" in various cities like San Antonio, Dallas and Houston. He decided to write one about Amarillo so he called the publisher, told what he wanted to do and got the job. Six months later he handed in the manuscript. His book, 100 THINGS TO DO IN AMARILLO BEFORE YOU DIE, came out in September of last year.

Eric says he got a legal pad and started writing about things in Amarillo. "They all had to be real quality," he says.

"Some are big, some small. I got to about 75 or 80 real quick. My book doesn't mention just the top things to do, just some things to do. At book signings I have a big sign saying 100 THINGS TO DO IN AMARILLO. Some people come up and say 'really?' I visit with them for a while and tell them 100 don't even scratch the surface. I've already started on my next list. I want to do a second edition."

One thing mentioned in his book is The Big Texan Steak Ranch, which serves a half a million meals every year and has done so for decades. The restaurant serves a 5-pound roast and anyone who eats all of it in less than an hour gets it free. If they don't finish they pay $72. One guy ate 2 of them in the allotted time.

The thing that draws the most people to Amarillo is an art installation on Interstate 40. "It's just so quirky," says Eric. "Over a million people stop there each year. It's ten vintage Cadillacs from the late 40s to the early 60's buried nose first into a field west of town. It may have been the first real off the wall public sculpture ever done in the US. It'll have its 50th anniversary in 2024."

Eric says the number one tourist attraction in Amarillo is the Palo Duro Canyon, the second largest canyon in the United States. "If you miss the canyon you miss the whole panhandle experience," says Eric. "It's the only canyon where you can drive to the bottom. It's open 35 days a year. It's where the outdoor drama TEXAS is staged."

The biggest sections of his book are history and culture. The city has lots of museums and art activities including symphony, opera, ballet and live theater. "It's all professional and well done and it's right here," says Eric. "That surprises so many folks."

One interesting place is the RV Museum on south Interstate 27. It has a history of RV travel including some early campers made from freight wagons.

The portion of highway 66 that runs through Amarillo has become a lively place with shops and restaurants. In 4 years the famous highway will celebrate its 100th anniversary.

Eric says because Amarillo is easy to get around you can do several things in one day. "That's one thing about our little town. It's pure convenience."

Rose Mary Beaudin

Visitation will be held the day prior, Wednesday, May 25, 2022 from 6:00 to 8:00 P.M. Mrs. Beaudin passed away on May 21, 2022.

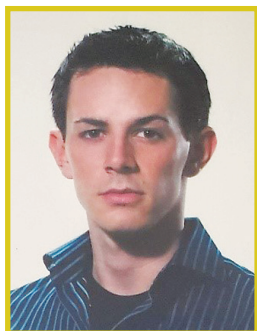

Rose Mary was born on March 2, 1937, in Reilly Springs, Texas, to Irvin Floyd Nichols and Connie Mae Hunt. She married David Hilderbrand of Sulphur Springs and had a daughter JoAnn Taylor. She also raised a nephew, Norman (Buck) Nichols, and niece, Norma (Tootsie) Atchley, who she called her own. Early in Rose Mary's life, she worked at Texas Instruments in Dallas and moved back to Yantis to work at H.D Lee

She had her father make up the rows and she began a 35-year career as a lady farmer. Then, she married Emanuel Beaudin "Frenchie". They both kept farming. During the springtime Rose Mary would pick poke salad to go and sell. During the fall, she would dig sassafras, pick up pinecones and mistletoe. Everyone knew Rose Mary as the produce lady. There was nothing she loved more than to be in her garden barefoot and feel the sun on her back and the wind on her face. Rose Mary loved what she did so much that she did it into her 70s. She loved all the people she met on a day to day basis. Rose Mary was a faithful member of St James Catholic Church.

She is survived by her daughters, Jo Ann Taylor and husband Richard of Yantis, Texas, Norma "Tootsie" Atchley and husband, Bob of Sevierville, Tennessee; son, Norman "Buck" Nichols of Yantis, Texas; brother, William "Bill" Nichols of Duncanville, Texas; grandsons, Joshua Taylor and wife Kathryn, Jessie Nichols, Brandon Nichols; granddaughters, Kathleen "Katie" Atchley, Jennifer Nichols; and great-grandchildren, Mackenzie, Kimberly, River and Jaden.
