ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A heads-up alert to all free-spirited Ewes and Rams: Be wary of a deal that could result in compromising your independence. Check every detail before making a commitment.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) New facts emerge that help put an irksome workplace situation in perspective. Meanwhile, pay more attention to a family member who needs your wisdom and strength.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A slight setback in plans is nothing to worry about. Use this delay to deal with a number of matters you might have ignored for too long. Expect news from someone in your past.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You're entering a period of stability. Use it to straighten out any outstanding problems related to a very personal situation. Also, pay closer attention to financial matters.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) As much as you love being a social Lion, you might well benefit from staying out of the spotlight for a while. You need time to reflect on some upcoming decisions.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A difficult family situation improves, thanks to your timely intervention. You can now start to focus more of your attention on preparing for a possible career change.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An on-the-job change works to your benefit by offering new opportunities. It's up to you to check them out. Meanwhile, a stalled romantic situation starts up again.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That flare-up of Scorpion temperament cools down, leaving you more receptive to suggestions about changes that might need to be made in your personal life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An unusual period of indecisiveness is a mite frustrating. But things soon clear up, allowing the sage Sagittarian to make those wise pronouncements again.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might feel that you know best, but it's not a good idea at this time to try to force your opinions on others. Best advice: Inspire change by example, not by intimidation.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Some setbacks could affect your plans to fortify your financial situation. But things start moving again by early next week. Meanwhile, enjoy your resurgent social life.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Show that often-hidden steely spine of yours as you once again stand up to an emotional bully. You've got the strength to do it, especially as friends rally to your side.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your ruling planet, Mercury, endows you with a gift for writing. Have you considered penning the world's greatest novel?

Piedmont Pets
 May 26, 2022 By Paulette Dean

June 1st will be my 30th anniversary of working as the executive director of the Danville Area Humane Society. As is the way of the world, some things have greatly changed in the animal welfare world and others things have remained the same. Each scenario comes with both good and bad and depends a lot on individual perspectives.

My father was always my advisor and go-to person when I needed to hear simple honesty, devoid of "fluff." As I talked with him about applying for the job (I was serving on the board at the time), he asked if I was prepared to handle criticism. I so very naively asked, "Oh, Daddy, who could ever be mad with anyone who works for a humane society?" I know the answer now.

Two questions that I was asked my very first day on the job continue to be the most-asked questions today, no matter what has changed.

Shortly after I walked into the office and spoke with all of the shelter staff, my office phone rang. A woman identified herself and said she was furious because she had lots of bird feeders in her yard and a neighbor's cat had just come into her yard and killed a bird. She said that happened a lot. She demanded I do something about it and do something right then! Problems with outside cats has been the number one consistent complaint about cats I have received throughout the years. The complaints range from not wanting them on their property to being concerned about them during harsh weather.

The second call I received was from a man who wanted to help his neighbor get his dog off a chain. Neither of them could afford a fenced-in yard, and he wanted to know what we thought about the chain link dog lots. I told him that I thought it would be an excellent idea to take a dog off of a chain and at least provide them a more humane way of confinement.

996 South Boston Rd., Danville, VA 24540
Phone: (434) 799-0843

Through the years, the calls about chained dogs are the number one consistent complaint about dogs I have received. Danville Police Officer Jerry Riggins, who served as an animal control officer, kept reminding me to make getting dogs off chains a priority. Within the city limits of Danville, we now have a very good tethering ordinance and, as of July 1st a couple of years ago, there is also a limited statewide prohibition under certain weather conditions.

Laws change, philosophies change, and policies change. What I have not seen change is the fact that most people who love animals want them to be taken care of and kept free from suffering. The messy part is figuring how to make that happen!

FLASHBACK
By Mick Harper

1. What artist released albums titled "Texas Flood" and "Couldn't Stand the Weather"?
2. Why did the Moody Blues originally call themselves "The M Bs" and "The M B Five"?
3. Which Laura Branigan song was used in the film "Flashdance," but wasn't included on the soundtrack album?
4. What artist had a hit with "Total Eclipse of the Heart"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "There ain't nothin in the world like a big-eyed girl, To make me act so funny, Make me spend my money."

Answers

1. Stevie Ray Vaughan, in 1983 and 1984. When Vaughan died in a helicopter crash in 1990, he left behind a wealth of material. Since then, a number of tribute specials and posthumous albums have been released, some of them charting globally.
2. They were hoping for an endorsement from the Mitchells & Butlers Brewery. It didn't happen.
3. "Gloria." The other one, "Imagination," was used. "Gloria" nabbed a Grammy nomination for Best Female Pop Vocal in 1982.
4. Bonnie Tyler, in 1983.

Matter of the Mind: Why Your Mental Health Matters and How You Can Care for It

by Dr. Keshavpal Reddy, Medical Director of Behavioral Health

When you think about your health, what first comes to mind? For many – if not most – of us, it's probably our physical health. Are we eating healthy? Are we exercising regularly? Are we feeling tired? Or ill? Do our joints ache? Have we scheduled our annual check-up?

All these questions are, of course, important ones to answer, but there's another question we should be asking – another part of our health that deserves attention: how is our mental health?

Our mental health has a tremendous impact on our overall health and well-being. Our mental health includes our thoughts, emotions, feelings and moods. It influences our choices, actions and how we relate to others. Good mental health can help us cope with stress, succeed in our professional lives, more effectively recover from difficult situations and add value to our community and be our best self. It's important to understand that maintaining good mental health can often be a challenge. Mental health conditions are quite common. According to statistics published by the National Alliance on Mental Illness, one in five U.S. adults experience mental illness, and one in 20 adults experience serious mental illness. So, if you are struggling to maintain good mental health, you are definitely not alone. It's important to know that it is ok to speak up and ask for help if you're suffering from a mental health condition. The benefits of seeking professional help and treatment can make a positive difference in your overall health and quality of life. In addition to professional care, there are some steps you can take at home and in life to improve mental wellness:

- Take care of your body. Exercise can help burn anxious energy, prevent muscle tension, release endorphins that help you feel relaxed, and build strength and endurance which can boost your confidence.
- Eat healthy. Avoiding processed and high-fat foods can help prevent lethargic feelings and a lack of motivation, concentration and energy.
- Learn a new skill or engage in a new activity. Challenging your brain can result in positive and healthy stimulation and promote mental wellness.
- Make time for family and friends. Building and maintaining healthy relationships can go a long way toward long-term mental well-being.
- Sleep. Ensuring that you're getting the sleep your mind and body needs can help prevent fatigue and ensure you have the energy and mindset to navigate tomorrow.
- Meditate. Meditation can help relax your mind and body. Even one minute of quiet meditation during your workday can make a difference.
- Practice deep breathing. Deep breathing gives your brain and muscles necessary oxygen and can help keep your mind and body healthy.

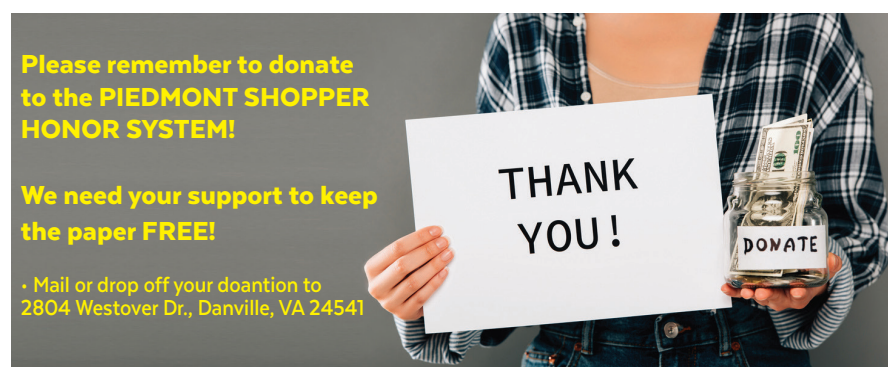

Of course, the most important step, as mentioned before, is to talk to a mental health professional if you are struggling with maintaining good mental health. A mental health provider can help you with tips and treatment individualized to your unique needs and circumstances.

Your mental health is a valuable and vital part of your well-being. This National Mental Health Month and all year long, make sure you're giving it the care and attention it needs so you can be your best self and enjoy all that life has to offer. If you think that you or someone you know may be suffering from a mental health condition, Sovah Health can help. Sovah Health offers comprehensive medical and psychological evaluations, individualized treatment plans, recovery-oriented coping and life skills training, medication management and education, individual, group, and family therapy, and more. Visit SovahHealth.com/behavioral-health-and-psychiatry for more information, or call 844.GO.SOVAH to get connected with the right care that can improve your mental health and enhance your overall well-being. Additionally, the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline offers free and confidential support at 800.273.8255 for anyone experiencing suicidal crisis or emotional distress.

For more on the importance of mental health, visit www.mentalhealth.gov and www.nami.org.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

LEIGG NAMED DANVILLE PUBLIC SCHOOLS TEACHER OF THE YEAR

During their meeting on Thursday, the Danville School Board recognized George Washington High School Teacher Sharon Moore Leigg as the 2022 Danville Public Schools (DPS) Teacher of the Year.

Leigg holds a Bachelor's degree from the College of William and Mary and a Master's Degree from Warren Wilson College. She is continuing her education at Concordia University Chicago for her doctorate.

Leigg, who began her career at GW 26 years ago, currently teaches Japanese and is the Foreign Language Department Chair. In her years at the school, she has also taught English and magazine journalism for the award-winning Euanter literary magazine. In addition, she has served as an adjunct English instructor at Danville Community College.

Leigg also writes fiction, as more than 100 of her short stories have been featured in Danville's Evince magazine, and her writing has been anthologized in Long Story Short: Flash Fiction by Sixty-five of North Carolina's Finest Writers.

"Mrs. Leigg is an overcomer, a problem-solver, and innovator, and a dynamic leader of our World Language team," GW Principal Dr. Johnnie Wright-Simmons said. "She teaches her students to strive for excellence, to love learning, and to respect each other."

Every day, Leigg, a Danville native and product of DPS, tries to create a feeling of inclusion and fun in her classroom. She said she is grateful to receive this honor.

"I am surprised, excited, and grateful!" Leigg said. "I came up through the DPS system. I have been teaching here for 26 years, so that's about 38 years in all in this school system. It is really wonderful to be recognized and appreciated."

Leigg will serve as the district's nomination for the 2022 Virginia Department of Education - Mary V. Bicouvaris Virginia Teacher of the Year. She will also represent DPS for Averett University's Regional Educator of the Year award.

* Here's a grill tip just in time for Memorial Day: When you need to cook something that needs covering (say, chicken) alongside something that does not (like hot dogs), simply invert an aluminum roaster/cake pan over the needs-covering item. You can purchase smaller size pans that can be reused. -- JoAnn

* "I have a tip about taking medicine. Regardless of the size of the pill, I always feel as if it is stuck in my throat. I have started to have a chunk of banana after taking a pill. I don't get that stuck feeling anymore." -- T.B. in New Hampshire

* "The sticky residue from price tags can be really annoying. I use WD-40 to get it off. Works every time for me!" -- J.K. in Alabama

* "Painting stairs? This tip will save your life! Paint every other step to start with. When they are dry, go back and paint the others. This way, you can use the staircase anytime during your project. This is particularly important if the stairs are the only way to get to bed after a long day of painting!" -- I.L. in Nevada

* Mix a quarter cup of salt in with two table-spoons of bath wash for a sudsy, refreshing, skin-soothing salt scrub.
