ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Recently obtained information could open a new opportunity for a career change. But temper that Arian impatience and act on it only when all the facts are made available.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You're moving into a more active cycle. So put your ideas back on the table, where they'll be given the attention they deserve. Expect a favorable change in your love life.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A friend might ask for a favor that you feel would compromise your values. Best advice: Confront him or her and explain why you must say no. A true friend will understand.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A relationship continues to develop along positive lines. Meanwhile, a job situation is brewing that could create complications for one of your pet projects. Look into it right away.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Your interest in a co-worker's project could lead to a profitable experience for you both. But before you agree to anything, be sure to get all your legal I's dotted and T's crossed.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Be careful whose counsel you take about a possible long-distance move. Some advice might not necessarily be in your best interest. Stay focused on your goals.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Someone might try to complicate efforts in an attempt to work out that confusing job situation. But don't let that keep you from sticking with your decision to push for a resolution.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A disagreement on how to handle a family problem could create more trouble for all concerned. Look for ways to cool things down before they boil over.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An unexpected change in long-standing workplace procedure and policy could provide a new career target for the Archer to aim at. Start making inquiries.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You're finally able to get back into the swing of things, as those temporary doldrums begin to lift. Expect some surprising disclosures from a new colleague.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Rely on your innate sense of justice to see you through a dilemma involving a family member. Other relatives who've stood back soon will come forward as well.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A new friend seems to be pushing you to take risks -- financial or otherwise. Best advice: Don't do it. They might have a hidden agenda that hasn't surfaced yet.

BORN THIS WEEK: You love to see new places and meet new people. Have you considered working for an airline or cruise-ship company?

Ahh... Friendship
A man, fond of practical jokes, decided late one night to send his friend a collect telegram which read: "I am perfectly well."
A week later, the joker received a heavy parcel... collect... on which he had to pay considerable charges. Upon opening it, he found a big block of concrete which had this message:

"This is the weight your telegram lifted from my mind."

Piedmont Pets
 June 9, 2022 By Paulette Dean

In this social media world, farm animals are getting the attention they deserve. Even people who eat meat are concerned by the pictures of the immense factory farms, by the sights of the trucks carrying poultry and pigs to slaughterhouses, and by the news reports of the millions of farm animals who become victims of natural disasters or fires.

There are many farm animal sanctuaries and we invite you to visit the Facebook pages of Ziggy's Refuge Farm Sanctuary and Happily Ever Esther Farm Sanctuary (with the companion page of Esther the Wonder Pig).

I became a vegetarian when I was in my late teens in 1972, but I had wanted to become one when I was eleven years old. At that time, we were living in Baumholder, Germany, where my soldier father was stationed. One night, Mother fixed veal for supper. I looked at it and asked where veal came from. Mother told me baby cows, which greatly upset me. Then, when I was about to put my first bite in my mouth, my mother said, "Mama, mama" in a sweet little calf-type voice. I refused to eat the veal, and have never had a mouthful of it. That supper started me really thinking about where our meals came from, and my parents told me that when I was a little older, I could make the decision to stop eating meat if I still wanted to. They probably thought I would never think about it again.

I had my last piece of ham on August 24, 1972, and my last piece of steak on December 23, 1972. I was the typical person who gives up red meat first, when the poultry industry is actually a lot crueler than the beef industry.

I claim the distinction, whether it's true or not, of being the first person in this area to go to Burger King and order a Whopper with no meat. I claim that distinction by the reaction of the Burger King staff after I placed the order.

In November of 1980, I was working at Brigham Young University and went to the credit union to withdraw money to buy a plane ticket home for Christmas. The credit union had a nice

Thanksgiving display, complete with a live turkey. I stood in line by that turkey for 20 minutes, didn't eat turkey the next day for Thanksgiving, and have not had a mouthful of poultry since. Guess what happened when I bought an aquarium filled with goldfish? That's right, I gave up fish.

Vegetarian choices are so much easier now. Most grocery stores carry soy milk, meat substitutes, and even eggs from free-range chickens (although there are many problems with even those).

There are many types of vegetarians. Some eat dairy products and eggs, some do not, and some do not eat gelatin. (I researched how gelatin is made, so I gave up Jell-O, marshmallows, etc.). Veganism is also gaining in popularity.

One only has to look at the difference in the condition of animals on factory farms from those living in good sanctuaries to know that they are intelligent, emotional animals.

I believe that Heavenly Father created animals for our use and enjoyment, giving us dominion over them. Dominion actually means stewardship, rather than giving us complete freedom to overuse, misuse, or abuse. Before I knew about the cruel factory farm methods of today, I knew that, deep down inside, I could never eat an animal without thinking about them as individual creatures.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

June 2022 Monthly Health Article – Men's Health Month

Count on Us, Men.

By: Bradley Yeatts, FNP

It probably comes as no surprise that there are notable differences in the health of men compared to women. But when you take a closer look at the statistics outlining this health disparity, it can be quite alarming. For example, the average lifespan for men is about five years less than women, and there's been a gradual increase in this gap over the years. Men are also twice as likely as women to die of a heart attack and significantly more likely to die of cancer. Not only that, but men are also less likely to undergo treatment for mental health conditions, becoming four times more likely than women to commit suicide. Although these facts may seem dismal, they're mainly due to one reason: women tend to prioritize their health more than men by taking proactive measures to stay healthy. In fact, when compared to women, men make about half as many doctor appointments for preventive care and screenings. But it's important to remember that men's health is not just a "man's issue." It is a family issue and can impact everyone around them, including their spouses, partners, mothers, daughters and sisters. That's why Men's Health Month is observed nationally every June. It serves as a great opportunity for men to reevaluate their wellbeing and regain control of their health. It's also a designated time for healthcare providers across the country to administer health screenings, share education and engage in community outreach activities that raise awareness about the unique health issues that affect men and boys.

In celebration of Men's Health Month, here are some simple ways men can begin to improve their wellbeing and achieve a higher quality of life.

- Go to the doctor.

It may seem simple, but when you feel sick – and even when you don't feel sick – it's important to go to the doctor. Having regular appointments with your primary care provider can not only help build a trusting relationship, it can also help you stay on top of your health and identify any issues before they become serious. Recommit to your health this month by scheduling an annual exam or an appointment to address a specific health issue you may be ignoring. Ask specific questions about your health, like "Should I get a blood sugar test for diabetes?" "Is it time for me to have a colon cancer screening?" "Am I up to date on immunizations that can reduce my risk for diseases like shingles?" Your annual checkup is the perfect opportunity to ensure you and your provider are doing everything you can to stay on the road to good health.

- Eat well.

Keeping a variety of healthy foods in your daily consumption will help ensure that you're getting the nutrients your body needs, including vitamins, minerals, fiber and lean protein. Use vegetables and fruits as your primary sources for vitamins, minerals and fiber, and focus on lean proteins like chicken, turkey, fish, Greek yogurt, beans and lentils. Limit foods and drinks high in calories, sugar, salt, fat and alcohol, and concentrate more on foods that provide good nutrition and a large number of vitamins.

- Exercise often.

Physical activity is one of the most effective ways you can improve or maintain good physical and mental health. Regular exercise can help you achieve a healthy weight; reduce your risk of heart disease, type 2 diabetes and some cancers; increase your bone and muscle strength; and improve your mood while decreasing feelings of stress and anxiety. Exercise can come in many forms too, so find what works best for you – whether it's walking, jogging, lifting, fitness classes or a local intramural sports league. Be sure and talk to your provider before you start a new exercise routine.

- Get plenty of rest.

When your body gets the sleep it needs, your immune system is able to recharge and prepare to fight whatever seasonal illnesses may come your way. Healthy sleep hygiene can also help lead to better weight management, improved mood and even increased productivity. Staying up late and going without enough sleep can contribute to common heart health problems, like high blood pressure and heart attacks. Just like your immune system, your heart needs time to rest to function powerfully and properly.

- Lower your stress.

Statistics show that men have more difficulty managing stress compared to women. This could be because women find more support in their social networks and tend to confide in them, while the male mentality can tend to avoidance of discussions around mental health and are less likely to disclose issues with their family, friends or even their doctor. Stress itself has also been linked to elevated blood pressure and high body weight, so it's critically important to prioritize stress-relieving activities and exercises. There's no better time to start improving your health and wellness. So, remember to eat well, exercise often, get plenty of rest and lower your stress. Most importantly, remember to schedule your annual wellness exam or an appointment to address any issues you may be experiencing and ask about different health screenings.

Others count on you. From the routine to the unforeseen, count on us. More information about men's health issues and Men's Health Month can be found at www.menshealthmonth.org. Treasury staff help citizens find over $350,000

Virginia Department of the Treasury staff helped Danville residents find a record total of $351,000 during an unclaimed property virtual call event that was held last Thursday and Friday.

The previous high during a Danville event was $103,230 found a year ago during a two-day call in June.

Last week, Treasury workers looked up 678 names during the two days. Residents with money owned to them were sent a claim form.

The event was held in partnership with the City of Danville's Treasurer's Office. Last week's event was the fifth event for Danville residents since 2019. To date, the events have recovered $635,978.

The City of Danville Treasurer's Office has already saved the date for Dec. 1-2 to hold this event again.

1. Name the group that released "What's the Name of Your Love?"
2. Who wrote and released "Have I Told You Lately"?
3. What was the original name of The Ronettes?
4. Which duo released "Nobody I Know"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "Wait a minute baby ... Stay with me awhile, Said you'd give me light, But you never told me about the fire."

Answers:

1. The Emotions, in 1979. The group performed the song in 1980 on "The Midnight Special" variety show.
2. Van Morrison, in 1989. In a U.K. poll, the song made the list of "Top 10 First Dance Wedding Songs," and in the U.S. it was included on a list of "The 100 Greatest Love Songs."
3. Ronnie and the Relatives. The trio included Veronica (known as Ronnie), her sister Estelle and cousin Nedra.
4. Peter & Gordon, in 1964. It was penned by Paul McCartney (although credited to Lennon-McCartney).
5. "Sara," by Fleetwood Mac, in 1979. The origins of the song are debatable. Songwriter Stevie Nicks said it was about a good friend. Former boyfriend Don Henley claimed it was a name he'd chosen for a future daughter, should he ever have one.
