Sunday School Lesson

The Sunday school lesson for the day was about Noah's Ark, so the preschool teacher in our Kentucky church decided to get her small pupils involved by playing a game in which they identified animals.

"I'm going to describe something to you. Let's see if you can guess what it is. First: I'm furry with a bushy tail and I like to climb trees."

The children looked at her blankly.

"I also like to eat nuts, especially acorns."

No response. This wasn't going well at all!

"I'm usually brown or grey, but sometimes I can be black or red."

Desperate, the teacher turned to a perky four-year-old who was usually good about coming up with the answers.

"Michelle, what do you think?"

Michelle looked hesitantly at her classmates and replied, "Well, I know the answer has to be Jesus -- but it sure sounds like a squirrel to me!"

Piedmont Pets
June 16, 2022 By Paulette Dean

This has been a difficult spring for us. Since Monday, June 6 through Tuesday, June 14, we have received over 180 animals. It is a physically demanding and a heart wrenching time for shelter employees; however, we prefer receiving all those animals to what happens in many cases - abandonment. It is chilling when people call to ask if we will accept their animals and when our answer is, as always, "yes," and the response is, "Oh good, I didn't want to put them out on the street."

Through the years, we have received hundreds of calls (maybe even thousands, actually) about animals being abandoned. Dogs, cats, rabbits, ferrets, and guinea pigs have all been rescued from cages on the side of the road, from median strips, at dumpster sites (sometimes in a taped box), and a myriad of other places. Sometimes, a dog's neck appears to have had a collar removed. The physical condition of the animals range from being in good condition to being emaciated or injured and near death.

The one they all have in common is the look in their eyes from being scared or confused. That look usually goes away when they are rescued, brought to the shelter, fed, watered, and put in a comfortable resting spot.

Abandonment is against the law in Virginia; it is a Class 3 misdemeanor. The Comprehensive Animal Care portion of the Code defines abandonment as: "Abandon" means to desert, forsake, or absolutely give up an animal without having secured another owner or custodian for the animal or by failing to provide the elements of basic care as set forth in 3.2-6503 for a period of four consecutive days."

Several years ago, the Virginia Legislature included companion animals under the litter laws. At first, this may seem offensive to group pets in with garbage, but it actually is a very good step. However, if the person is charged under the litter laws, the crime is a Class 1 misdemeanor. The law itself is very well-written: "It shall be unlawful for any person to dump or otherwise dispose of trash, garbage, refuse, litter, a companion animal for the purpose of disposal, or other unsightly matter, on public property, including a public highway, right-of-way, property adjacent to such highway or right-of-way, or on private property without the written consent of the owner thereof or his agent."

Under the Class 3 misdemeanor abandonment laws, a person can be fined not more than $500. Under the Class 1 misdemeanor litter laws, a person can be confined in jail for not more than twelve months, and fined not more than $2,500, either or both.

We will pay a reward for information leading to the arrest of anyone abandoning an animal in the City or in Pittsylvania County. The reward money comes from donations.

If you know of anyone who has abandoned an animal, please call us. Abandonment is illegal and cruel.

NEARLY 60 GRADUATE FROM GALILEO FRIDAY

Family, friends and school officials gathered at Averett University's North Campus to celebrate Galileo Magnet High School's Class of 2022 on Friday, June 10.

Nearly 60 students received their diplomas during Friday's ceremony. The class amassed more than $4.9 million in scholarships earned from various colleges, universities and other institutions. Galileo Principal Michelle Ramsey commended the Class of 2022 for their hard work and perseverance.

"This group has a very special place in my heart," Ramsey said. "Four years ago, you started your journey at Galileo, and while the pandemic has certainly impacted your high school experience, you remained determined, passionate, and positive through it all."

The students heard from Hillary Hylton Muir, a 2012 graduate of Galileo. Muir studied English and philosophy at the University of Virginia. She spent two years as a paralegal at St. John, Bowling & Lawrence LLP and returned to UVA as a law student.

Most recently, she has held a position in the financial services group at Deehart LLP, which represents 24 of the 25 largest global asset managers. However, she told the graduates of her story of her self-worth being tied to accomplishments and what others perceived of her. She urged them their self-worth should come from within.

"Know that you're valuable and valid even when you're not achieving," Muir said. "Know about the things inside you that make you good... You are all valuable today and every day, not just because you graduated high school, but just because." Valedictorian Zachary Parker spoke about his four years at Galileo with admiration and thanked people in his life who helped him along the way.

"I remember feeling like an outsider when I came to Galileo my freshman year, because I only knew my brother and a couple others," Parker said. "However, it was not long before I felt right at home."

Salutatorian Amari Graves began her speech with an open letter to her high school, followed by dedications to friends and teachers.

"Dear Galileo Magnet High School, the Class of 2022 gave me the task of writing this letter to inform you that we will be resigning from our positions of students on June 10, 2022," Graves said. "We have all been given new positions that require our attention elsewhere. Some of us will be going off to colleges and universities, while some of us will be joining the military and others will be joining the workforce. So sorry, we just don't have time for you anymore."

STAY THE COURSE START-UP TIME

WHILE Jones prefers to get his exercise riding a bicycle, his friend Smith likes to run. When Jones bikes, he averages 10 miles per hour, which is three times Smith's average speed on foot. Last week, both Jones and Smith left at the same time from the same place in Longville, agreeing to meet each other in Shortville, before returning home. Jones's trip on a winding road totaled 10 miles, and Smith's trip via a cross-country shortcut totaled three and one-third miles. Both reached the same spot in Shortville at exactly 12 o'clock noon. Question: At what time did they depart together from Longville? Answer in 30 seconds.

There's no catch. They departed at 11 o'clock.

WHAT'S UP! Strictly speaking, a catch is not always a catch on a fishing trip. Draw missing lines dot to dot.

HALF RIGHT! Old joke: Teacher: "Class, what's half of eight?" Student: "Which half?" Teacher: "What's the difference?" Student: "Top half is zero, side half is three."

PLAY BALL! There are at least 21 baseball terms to spell out in the letter maze at right. Start at any letter, move to an adjacent letter across, up, down or diagonally. Individual letters may be used in more than one word, but not repeated in the same word. Words to find:

Bat	Ball	Fan	Force	Cushion
Sack	Strike	Out	Error	Hit
Battery	Run	Curve	Trade	Balk
Slab	Starter	Foul	Hero	Bunt

See how quickly you can find them.

NEARLY 200 GRADUATE FROM GW FRIDAY

Averett University's North Campus was filled with parents, family, friends and school staff on Friday for George Washington High School's graduation ceremony for the Class of 2022.

At the ceremony, 191 students sat next to their classmates waiting to turn their tassels.

GW Interim Principal Lisa Deberry told the class that graduating high school is just the beginning, not an ending. "After 12+ years of being in public school, your future is about to begin today," Deberry said. "Students, you have overcome classwork, COVID, and virtual learning. You made it!"

In his senior reflection, Student Government President David King said his decision to come to GW after spending two years at a different school was "the best decision" he's ever made.

"I hadn't seen a lot of you since we were 12, and I had never seen most of you in my life, but the almost immediate support, motivation, and love I was met with when coming here was something not even in my wildest dreams I was expecting."

Salutatorian Serious Pinchback praised his fellow classmates for stepping up to the struggles they faced, from COVID and quarantines to remote learning and other events.

"Throughout all that, you all adapted to those changes," Pinchback said. "Some of you stepped your game up when it came to academics, and you became more organized and studied. Others got jobs to help their households, improve finances for college, or buy a pair of shoes. Despite the challenges, you all made it through and have grown to become better people because of the hardships."

In his speech titled "Loving and Embracing Brokenness," Valedictorian Jeb Byrnes spoke about embracing broken situations and imperfections, as are each of us and even the school, and what he loved about his time in high school: the people.

"I prefer to look at it like the broken pieces to fit together to form something beautiful like a mosaic, and I love what they formed," Byrnes said.

HOLLYWOOD — Becoming Elvis Presley landed Austin Butler in a hospital. To become "The King" for his movie role, Butler immersed himself in everything Elvis, and his body went into overdrive. Even when production shut down due to Tom Hanks testing positive for COVID, he continued his character study. Butler revealed, "The day after we wrapped, I woke at 4 a.m. with excruciating pain and was diagnosed with a virus that simulates appendicitis that hospitalized me for a week."

He attributes his collapse to living, breathing and doing everything Elvis to build his portrayal. The usually jaded audience at the Cannes Film Festival gave the film a 12-minute standing ovation, and when Butler recreated some of Presley's greatest hits — including "Jailhouse Rock," "Blue Suede Shoes" and "Suspicious Minds" — the audience went wild. Then when Priscilla Presley (Elvis' former wife) hugged him, the audience broke out in spontaneous applause yet again. "Elvis" opens in theaters Friday, June 24.

Little known fact: When Butler appeared on Broadway in "The Iceman Cometh," starring Denzel Washington, his dedication to the role and the play impressed Denzel so much that he started coaching him, and unbeknownst to Butler, Denzel called Baz Luhrmann (who he'd never met and didn't know) and sang the praises of his cast member. Butler admits, "Denzel didn't call me beforehand, he didn't call me afterward; it was just this generous thing he did!"

Rob Reiner, who recently announced he's making a sequel to "This Is Spinal Tap" (40 years after its original premiere), was shocked when he heard he's been banned from Russia forever by Vladimir Putin because of a video he made in 2016 condemning Russia's meddling in our 2016 election. Reiner is in good company, because Putin also has banished President Joe Biden, Vice President Kamala Harris and former first lady Hillary Clinton, as well as Morgan Freeman (who narrated the video) and Facebook's Mark Zuckerberg. Reiner, not to let Putin have the last word, retorted, "I've no comment, except to say that I'm heartbroken and will have to live with the disappointment!"

Sharon Stone, who played a villain in "Catwoman" (which starred Halle Berry in the title role), will again play a villain in the upcoming Warners/DC film "Blue Beetle," due August 2023. Stone's career has had a lot of ups and downs: "Basic Instinct" (1992) made her a star, and "Casino" (1995) earned her an Oscar nomination. But "Catwoman" bombed, as did the sequel to "Basic Instinct" in 2004. While awaiting release of "What About Love," with Andy Garcia, she's currently in TV ads for Slotomania, a game you can download for free but eventually wind up paying through the nose for. Caution: Don't get stung by Captain Slotostar, aka Sharon Stone!

SENIOR NEWS LINE

Walk Faster, Live Longer

We've known for years that walking is a good form of exercise for seniors ... we just didn't know why. Now a new study not only explains how it works, but why brisk walking is even more effective. Ten years ago, researchers at Leicester University Biomedical Research Centre started looking at genetic data in the biobanks in the U.K. for clues about why seniors who walk seemed to live longer. They didn't fool around with a dozen or so participants. No, they analyzed the information of over 405,000 people.

And now we know: It's the telomere length. Telomeres (aka leucocyte telomere length, or LTLs) are the "end caps" on strands of DNA, the building blocks of our bodies and an indicator of our biological age. Fast walkers have longer LTLs, and therefore better health ... and longer lives.

That same study showed that as little as 10 minutes per day of brisk walking can equate to longer lives. (The Mayo Clinic prefers 30 minutes of activity per day, possibly broken into three 10-minute sessions.) The best walking pace appears to be 3 mph, although the research data was from wearable tracking devices like those we use to measure steps per day.

But there's more. A study at the National Institutes of Health concluded that the length of the telomeres is positively associated with consuming fruits, dairy, 100% fruit juice and coffee. On the other hand, food and drinks with high amounts of sugar and red meat can negatively affect the telomere length. The study gave a big thumbs up to the Mediterranean diet, with loads of nuts, fruits, vegetables, unrefined cereals, fish and olive oil.

If you invest in a pedometer to measure your steps, be sure to look for one that tracks your speed. Ask your doctor about any recommendations they have for the trackers.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Lucie Winborne

- * The next time you cut your yard, you can thank Edwin Bearn Budding for inventing the lawnmower in 1830. But while most inventors take pride in their creations, Budding was so concerned about what his neighbors might think of his new contraption that he only tested his prototypes at night.
- * There are more than 12,000 species of ants.
- * Hall of Fame pitcher Lee Smith didn't play baseball until he was a high school junior and, even then, just tried out to win a $10 bet. His turn to play came when his team's star pitcher was killed in a hunting accident.
- * One sunflower is actually 1,000-2,000 tiny flowers held together by a base.
- * Have you ever dreamed of smelling like a hamburger? No? Well, you could have in 2015, thanks to Burger King Japan's release of a limited-edition cologne called Flame Grilled ... and yes, it smelled like a Whopper.
- * On Jan. 1, 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt shook the hands of over 8,510 people, setting a record that lasted more than 70 years.
- * Sodium citrate makes any cheese into a creamy nacho cheese sauce. Curiously, its chemical formula spells out Na3C6H5O7 (NaCHO).
- * In England and Wales, it's legal to consume alcohol on private premises from the age of five.
- * Gesundheit! Ever wonder why someone "blesses you" when you sneeze? The custom was introduced by Pope Gregory the Great in 590 A.D. Since sneezing could be a sign of the plague, it was considered proper to offer a potentially ill person a blessing. ***

Thought for the Day: "Once I had a rose named after me and I was very flattered. But I was not pleased to read the description in the catalog: 'No good in a bed, but fine up against a wall.'" -- Eleanor Roosevelt

1. Which group released "The Wizard"?
2. What is a Parrothead? Whose concerts do they attend?
3. Who penned and released "Sometimes When We Touch"?
4. What girl group released "Soldier Boy"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "Born in the valley and raised in the trees of western Kentucky on wobbly knees."

Answers

1. Black Sabbath, in 1970. The song was on the b-side of the "Paranoid" single. The idea for the song came from the Gandalf character in "The Lord of the Rings" novel.
2. Parrotheads are Jimmy Buffet fans who go to his concerts wearing parrot hats, flipflops and Hawaiian shirts. Buffet has made his millions in multiple ways: music, books and a restaurant chain.
3. Dan Hill, in 1977. Hill said in an interview that the song was from a real-life experience: The girl loved someone else.
4. The Shirelles, in 1962.
5. "Run for the Roses," by Dan Fogelberg in 1980. The song is about a horse that might have a future in racing. The roses refer to the blanket of over 500 roses that is awarded to the winner of the Kentucky Derby.

An Inviting Refuge

How color can make your house a haven

FAMILY FEATURES

If ever there was a need to create a tranquil escape from the chaos of the world, the time is now. Converting your living space into a soul-soothing refuge may be easier than you think as a serene color palette is often all you need to shift the mood of your home.

For many people, the home is a personal sanctuary, and through thoughtful color design, you can discover a renewed sense of balance and ease each time you walk through your front door. Incorporating colors inspired by simplicity and serenity can create spaces that transform the home into a soothing and comfortable space.

A restorative style starts with soft and natural colors; simplicity, approachability and comfort are also essential. Softened tones keep things easy and uncomplicated for spaces that feel balanced and meaningful.

To start creating a peaceful refuge within your home, consider these tips from the experts at HGTV Home by Sherwin-Williams to discover how to use color to paint a sense of calm for all who enter.

Peace on the Porch

Fuss-free styling on the front porch sets a tone for the ambiance inside. Make sure all who enter know this is a place of calm and comfort by using soft, subtle colors. A fresh coat of exterior paint – or a new shade on the front door – can help freshen and brighten the space while purposeful, understated furnishings and accessories lend themselves to a graceful welcome.

Balanced Bedroom

There's no space quite like the bedroom to command a peaceful presence. A curated palette like the HGTV Home by Sherwin-Williams 2022 Color Collection of the Year offers multiple options that exude peacefulness and facilitate tranquility. The Softened Refuge Collection, available exclusively at Lowe's, is composed of 10 soft and simple tones that can be mixed and matched in any combination for a perfectly cohesive look.

One highlight is the 2022 Color of the Year, Aleutian, a washed indigo that is grounded by the warmth of its red undertones and bridges the gap between warm and cool tones. It pairs beautifully with wood tones so you can easily incorporate practical furnishings that lend to an aura of relaxation and comfort.

Laid-Back Living Room

Color that mimics the hues found naturally outdoors tend to soothe the soul. Introduce natural calm to a place your family enjoys congregating by updating walls to a sophisticated organic green that is rooted in nature. Carry the relaxed mood throughout the room with complementing nature-inspired neutrals for your furniture, window treatments and accent pieces.

Subtle Kitchen Spice

A stark white kitchen may feel crisp and clean, but it lacks the character that color brings. You can keep that airy feeling while infusing some gentle, welcoming warmth. Painted cabinets are on trend, so this is a perfect place to play with color. Use a light neutral taupe for the cabinets then balance with a warm, creamy white on the walls. If you're worried the space may be dull, infuse a bit of color with a neutral blue on the backsplash. The soft hues work harmoniously for a simple but stylish space.

"The Softened Refuge palette is designed to simplify color selection for a perfectly coordinated home design," said Ashley Banbury, HGTV Home by Sherwin-Williams senior color designer. "Color combinations within the Collection can easily be used to craft spaces that help promote positive physical and mental well-being."

Inspiring Office

Your home office may see more use these days, so make it a place that keeps you centered and serene. Take a less-is-more approach and style with minimal color and repeating shapes for visual harmony that helps keep distractions at bay. For example, a rich black with brown undertones offers an elegant backdrop for a workspace. Consider using it for an accent wall with architectural detail like shiplap or beadboard then, on the remaining walls, complement the warmth with a pale tan shade that picks up the notes of brown.

Brighter Small Spaces

It's possible to illuminate small rooms and make them glow, even if there are no windows in the spaces. Tan shades with golden undertones attract natural light, and pairing a soft white adds vitality without overpowering the space. It's a logical approach for a small, dimly lit bathroom or even a small bedroom situated away from ample direct light.

* Add a small bit of boiling water to a glass of iced tea to clear it up if it is cloudy. You can do this to a pitcher just before serving.

* If you're traveling with pets, you know you'll need to bring something for them to drink out of. If you have ice in a container, they can lick the ice to stay hydrated, but it doesn't slosh around or spill easily.

* "Cutting corn off the cob can be tricky business, but you only need to recruit the right equipment. The next time you're making corn for dinner, grab a Bundt pan. The corn cob gets set upright in the center, and when you cut down, the kernels fall right into the pan on all sides." -- A.S. in Texas

* "If you have trouble holding your cat still to clip its claws, sneak up while it's asleep. You might get only a couple done before your cat catches on and wriggles away, but you'll get there." -- P.L. in Oklahoma (Slow and steady wins the race, P.L. Your tip works great for babies, too! -- JoAnn)

* Skunk run-in? Try this mix before you buy pricey de-stink shampoos at the pet store. Mix a quart of 3% peroxide, a teaspoon or two of dish soap, 1/4 cup of baking soda and quart of room-temperature water. Apply to pet, and work deeply into the fur. Massage in for five minutes, and rinse thoroughly.

* Boiling potatoes? Plants love starch. Let your cooking water cool, then use it to water the plants in your garden.

Blueberry Sour Cream Muffins With Lemon Glaze

Ingredients

- 1 cup sugar
- 2 large eggs at room temperature
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 cups all-purpose flour plus an additional 1 tablespoon for blueberries
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 lemon, zested
- 2 cups blueberries

Glaze

- 2 cups powdered sugar
- 2-3 tablespoons fresh squeezed lemon juice

Instructions

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Line a muffin pan with paper liners. Set aside.

In a large bowl, using a hand mixer, beat together eggs and sugar until light and fluffy, about 4 minutes. Add sour cream, vegetable oil, lemon zest, and vanilla and beat on low until just incorporated.

In a medium-size bowl, whisk together flour, baking powder, salt, and baking soda. Add the flour mixture to the wet half at a time, mixing in-between. Be careful not to overmix.

In a small bowl, add blueberries and sprinkle over the flour. Toss to coat the blueberries. Add floured blueberries to the muffin batter and fold in.

Using an ice cream scoop, fill muffin liners to the top with batter.

Place muffin pan in the oven and bake at 425 for 5 minutes THEN LOWER TEMPERATURE TO 375 and bake for 25 minutes or until tops are golden and a toothpick inserted into the center comes out clean.

Remove muffins from oven and let cool in the pan for 5 minutes. Remove the muffins from the pan and cool completely on a cooling rack.

Lemon Glaze

In a small bowl, whisk together the powdered sugar and lemon juice. Drizzle glaze over the cooled muffins. Enjoy!

VETERANS POST

by Freddy Groves

Homeless Vet Falls Through the Cracks

The Department of Veterans Affairs creates numerous programs to deal with homeless veteran populations -- and this is all well and good. But it's the individual homeless vet who can fall through the cracks.

The VA Office of Inspector General reports about a veteran (I'll assume here it was a guy) who had multiple physical conditions on top of severe cognitive impairment. Years ago, he was given housing assistance and an evaluation and made part of a program. Eventually, he was booted out of the housing and thus booted out of the help program.

In the space of seven months, he took himself to the emergency room at a VA hospital a dozen times for various medical conditions, most a result of living outside or in a car. They admitted him for 33 days while he got evaluated for his cognitive functioning and had his medical conditions cared for. They discharged him and sent him off in a cab to a non-VA shelter.

For whatever reason, an hour later, he showed up at the ER again. They gave him a bus ticket to the shelter. The trip involved changes of buses, not an easy trick for someone with severe cognitive impairment. An hour later, he again showed up at the ER. Once more, they gave him a bus ticket and a printed list of instructions, telling him to go to the shelter. The next day, a social worker discovered that he never made it to the shelter, and the following day, the family filed a missing person report.

Three days later, he was found at the shelter. A reading of the OIG report shows one misstep after the other, with staffers putting a cognitively impaired veteran on a bus and not using one of the donated Uber gift cards and having him delivered right to the door of the shelter. Better yet, they could have told family members that he was being discharged.
