House of David
Historical Film
Premieres Across
Michiana

The House of David has always been mysterious. From the stories of its leader and his high-profile trial, to the organizations' immense wealth, countless enterprises and inventions, to their world famous baseball team, there is a lot of information on the organization, but not many answers. That is why Chris Siriano, the Founder and Director of the House of David Museum, has executive produced a new documentary shedding light on its origins and history titled, 'House of David, Life Everlasting.'

"I was a history major at Western and after returning home after eight years of school, I decided to learn about our local history, but couldn't find much," Siriano explains. "I went to the libraries and everywhere, the more I read the more I kept finding out about the House of David. I started to learn that it was more than just an amusement park and I really started diving in deep. The more I learned, the more I realized that someone had to preserve their story."

The House of David Amusement Park in Benton Harbor drew approximately 75 million visitors to the area between 1908 to 1973. They had hotels on Main Street in Benton Harbor, some in the amusement park and kept hotels like The Vincent and The Whitcomb booked. At one point in time there would be up to five cruise ships docked in St. Joe, with visitors disembarking to make a stop at the famous amusement park, which was the past equivalent to Disneyland with its rides, a zoo, orchestras and band performances, vaudeville shows and miniature raceway featuring gas powered cars, which were a novelty at the time.

"As I studied them I found that they had multiple enterprises at the time such as Charley

Don't forget to get tickets to the Kras! Art Fair on the Bluff today and tomorrow. Also tomorrow is the Collective Artisan Market at Round Barn, which is a curated artisan pop-up event! They have partnered with The Collective, a community for entrepreneurs in Northern Indiana and Southwest Michigan. Members of The Collective are all entrepreneurs who are committed to lifting up other small business owners and giving back to their community. Shop small and support 75+ locally owned small businesses.

Our next event takes us to the Benton Harbor Arts District, The Ghostlight Theatre for the production of Lewiston/Clarkson, July 14 through 24. This play includes two acts in two distinct settings – Lewiston will be staged in our outdoor theater space. During intermission, dinner will be served to the audience. The second act, Clarkston, will be staged indoors in our black box theater. LEWISTON: Alice and Connor sit by their roadside stand in Lewiston, Idaho, selling cheap fireworks while developers swallow the land around them. Promised a condo in the new development, their future is secure. Enter Marnie, Alice's long-lost granddaughter, proposing to buy the land to save her family's legacy. Marnie and Alice will become reacquainted with each other's deeply held secrets, uncertain pasts, and hopeful futures. Hunter, a 2014 MacArthur Fellowship recipient, explores the emotional frontiers of a family struggling to make a home in the vastness of the American landscape with affection, poignancy, and a profound sense of empathy.

CLARKSTON: Jake meets Chris when they are assigned to the same night shift at Costco in Clarkston, Washington. Chris has a hard life; his mom is a meth addict, and living in Clarkston has forced him down a dead-end road. He has promise, but he's "stuck." Jake went to a liberal arts school, is gay and out, but fled his Connecticut town when he was diagnosed with a fatal illness. Wanting to see the ocean, he came to Clarkston, but was sidetracked by his illness. He and Chris form an awkward bond: both are gay, but have led completely different lives. Can they learn to help each other?

St. Joseph Today is helping the vibrant downtown with two more events in July. The Mike Yore Car Show, July 15, and The Lake Bluff Artisan Market, July 16. On the 15th view the classic cars from days gone by as they line up along Lake Boulevard. Attendees will "cruise" along the bluff and enjoy classic hits as they take in over 150 eye-catching vehicles in this charming lakeside town. On the 16th the eclectic craft fair, held in picturesque Lake Bluff Park, will offer a variety of handcrafted goods. With over 50 local vendors, there's something for everyone - everything from home decor and furniture to jewelry, candles and more!

There are so many more things to enjoy this month from the 16th Annual Art, Wine, & music Festival at Domaine Berrien Cellars, to the brand-new Water Dances: Beach Clean Up & Dance Performance at Silver Beach, to Barre at the Barn at the Round Barn Estate, two beautiful performances from the Southwest Michigan Symphony Orchestra and music and more throughout the month of July.

For all the details visit www.swmichigan.org. We'll be back in a couple of weeks with more fun and interesting things to do in Michigan's Great Southwest!

Now that we've officially crossed over to the second half of the year, we've noticed an increase in the number of businesses who are opening their doors, which is always exciting, but even more so over the last few years! We have multiple new business openings lined up for July and will likely be adding more as we move through this month and the last half of the year.

The opening ceremonies kicks off on Friday, July 8th at 10:00 a.m. with 1st Source Bank's new Wealth Advisory Service office located inside the Newberryport Business Center at 500 Renaissance Drive Suite 106 in St. Joseph. The new Wealth Advisory office will serve clients with estate and tax planning, trust and estate administration (including in Florida), standard investment management, investment management with donor-advised funds, and private banking services. The new Wealth Advisory Services office joins their three existing banking centers located in St. Joseph located at 4009 Red Arrow Highway, 715 Ship Street, and 1600 Hilltop Road.

Our next ribbon cutting takes us to the Redbud City & Reader's Digest Nicest Places in America, the City of Buchanan's GP Manufacturing on Thursday, July 14th at 1:00 p.m.

Busting Out The Giant Scissors... Again!

This will be a joint ribbon cutting event with the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber and the Buchanan Area Chamber of Commerce.

GP Manufacturing, located at 16689 Bakertown Rd., was recently named one of the "2022 Michigan 50 Companies to Watch" by Michigan Celebrates Small Business, the most prestigious small business awards program in the state. GP was chosen for this honor from more than 900 nominees. That honor is an amazing feat in itself, then you add in the fact that in a predominantly male industry, GP continues to demonstrate substantial growth through woman owned leadership under owner Erika Schmid.

From industries as diverse as aerospace to R/V, and everything in between, they have built a solid reputation as a partner that dependably supplies complex quality parts, on time, every time. Visit their website to learn more: gpm-cnc.com/

Next up, the highly anticipated Biggy Coffee on Red Arrow Highway, just south of the I-94 exit, in Bridgman officially opens on Tuesday, July 19th! We will be there at 2:00 p.m. to celebrate and welcome them to Southwest Michigan. This location is one of the Biggy cubed drive thru locations like that of Coloma, Stevensville, and Sawyer. All of which are independently owned and operated franchise locations.

Bridgman's owners Stacey and Elliot Davis have roots here in Southwest Michigan. Stacey was born and raised here, and her mom was even the Bridgman Middle School secretary for 25 years! The two met during grad school at Andrews University where they spent 10 years in healthcare, got married, and now have 2 little girls that they love taking to Weko Beach in Bridgman.

Our final celebration involves a face and name that you might be familiar with, on Wednesday, July 20th at 2:00 p.m. we will be hosting the official ribbon cutting and grand opening celebration for Guaranteed Rate's new St. Joseph office at 717 Ship Street.

Area Manager Joy Cluff is no stranger to the mortgage industry, having worked in it for over 19 years in multiple positions. She and her husband, Matt, are committed to Southwest Michigan, and when approached with opening a Guaranteed Rate location here, they gladly accepted! Joy and her team provide mortgage options to Michigan and Indiana communities for buying new homes, refinancing current ones, or building your dream one. You can learn more at guaranteedrate.com/joycluff.

If you'd like more information about these, or on any other upcoming event, simply visit our website smrchamber.com. If you'd like to connect directly, email sspoonholtz@smrchamber.com or call 269-932-4040. Looking forward to seeing you around Southwest Michigan this summer!

Therefore, since we have been justified through faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Justified

Romans 5:1

Consider how the word justify is used in the following statement: "I just don't know how we can justify the cost of a brand-new football stadium." This example shows us how the word justify is used nowadays. To justify means to "give a good reason for, rationalize or defend."

However, God uses the word justify in another way. In Romans 5:1, justify means "to declare not guilty. It's like a judge who looks at a guilty criminal and says to him, "You're free to go!" That's a miscarriage of justice, isn't it? It seems so until we realize that God, the Father, took our every attempt to rationalize our wrongdoing and every lame excuse for sin and stacked them all on the broad shoulders of Jesus. Jesus took that whole mess and paid for it on the cross. In its place, he gives us innocence and peace with him, and, just as importantly, he gives us the faith to believe it.

Through that faith, there is peace between you and God. Whether you die today or years from now, the gates of heaven are open for you. Whether you feel emotionally at peace or not, whether your body is strong or falling apart, whether you are ill or healthy, God still declares you innocent through Jesus. And he still maintains that peace between himself and you by faith.

Today, whether you feel peace in response to these truths or not, believe this, "Since you have been justified through faith, you have peace with God through your Lord Jesus Christ."

Prayer: Heavenly Father, when I am troubled by my sin and wonder how I might appear in your sight, direct me to the cross of my Savior, Jesus, where the full price of my sin was paid. Fill my heart with the peace of forgiveness. Assure me by faith in Christ that you declare me to be holy in your sight and an heir of heaven. Amen.

Unmasking New and UN Common Bird Names

In a recent column about the board game Wingspan, I expressed concern about the self-esteem of several species of birds saddled – probably forever – with the word "Common" in their names.

However, while googling this phenomenon I've stumbled upon a number of goofy factoids about bird names, and – lucky you! – I'm inspired to develop some modest proposals for new names giving these "Common" birds more pomp, prestige, and panache!

One source of inspiration is a treasure trove of "alternate" names for the birds of Great Britain and Europe. A Swiss naturalist named Michel Deshayes spent decades obsessively collecting local, colloquial names that people have laid on various species over the centuries.

Here's a handful of interesting monikers for birds that already have non-Common names: "Johanna of the Dughill" for the Pied Wagtail; "Dickey Hedge-poker" for the Dunnoek; "Shaking Pettychaps" for the Wood Warbler.

My favorite has to be "Cold Arse Bird," for a songbird known as the Fieldfare. Naturalists describe this bird's rump as "frosty-gray," and it appears in Britain in "the chill of autumn." Thus, the Cold Arse Bird, foretelling the coming of temperatures that will also turn human rumps frosty gray.

One more: Sailors called the Black-legged Kittiwake "Tickle Arse." Why? Because Kittiwakes (a type of gull) gather their food by pursuing other birds and pestering them into dropping the food THEY'VE caught by pecking at their, ummmm, hind regions.

Ok, finally, let's start this column, with my suggestions for getting the "Common" out of those bird names:

Common Loon: It's been called – maybe still is, somewhere? – this excellent alternate name:

"Hell-diver." I could just stop there, but then I wouldn't be able to mention that the Hell-diver's Latin name is Gavia immer; and more importantly, that it's known as "Imber Diver" in some countries; and even more importantly, that there's a song called "Imber Diver," by – most important of all – a band named The Drunken Sufis.

Common Merganser: "Big Sawbill" is a pretty good colloquial replacement that already exists. But we could also devise a new name from this description of its cooked flesh: "Rank, like an old kerosene lamp-wick." Hence, the "Lamp-wick Merganser"!

Common Nighthawk: "Bull-bat," and "Mosquito Hawk," have been used for this bird. I personally love "Piramidig" – apparently a human translation of the bird's sounds, which I read somewhere are short, nasal and utterly unmusical. In short, callithumpian.

Side note about Nighthawks: They belong to a family of birds referred to as "goatsuckers." Their huge, some say "grotesque," mouths and nocturnal habits creeped people out in days gone by. In fact, the immortal philosopher Aristotle promoted these fake facts about goatsuckers: "They bee night-theeves, coming into the shepherd's goat-pens, and sucking the milke from the goat udders, which then falleth away. AND the goats become BLIND to booteth! Hey, I'm Aristotle! I knoweth what I talketh about!"

Common Yellowthroat: This one is easy – call it the Domino Warbler! Because the black coloration on its face looks like a domino mask – the small rounded kind that only covers around the eyes. Think the Lone Ranger, or Catwoman, or Mr. Incredible, or jillions of other superheroes who use this miniscule disguise to COMPLETELY obscure their real identity! And nobody wore it as well as Zorro! – for YEARS, it fooled even his own father!

Cars bus lines, 100 acres farmland, numerous hotels, a diamond mine in Australia, a gold mine west Oklahoma, a coal mine in Kentucky, furniture building companies, and resorts and factories around the world," Siriano explains. "In fact, during World War I, when Woodrow Wilson tried to ration use of coal, that was when they bought the coal mine and trucks would come back and forth from Kentucky delivering coal. The City of Benton Harbor ended up buying their power from them for a time."

House of David is credited with inventing the pin setting machine for bowling alleys, cross propellers for cruise ships to keep them from tipping over in wavy conditions, the self-flushing toilet, the process for putting grape juice into a can and the forklift. They were also hired by NASA in the 60's to figure out how to take food into space inventing the process for space food used today and built one of the first automobiles, which currently sits in the American Auto Museum.

"When I started studying them there were six or seven members that still remained and I was lucky that they kept inviting me over to tell their stories," says Chris. "I have volumes of notepads and over 10,000 photos in the House of David Museum that tell the story of who they were and all that they accomplished. While they were a high-profile organization, they were very mysterious mainly because the way they lived so oddly from the norm. They grew their own food, generated their own energy, made their own clothes, and didn't come to the outside world for anything."

One of the most notable aspects that people know about of the House of David was their baseball team.

"It was the only Caucasian team that played in the Negro Leagues. They couldn't play in the major leagues because they did not shave or cut their hair. They played all over America from 1914 to 1954. They traveled with African American teams and were a part of breaking the color barrier in that sport before Jackie Robinson entered the major leagues," says Siriano, "In fact, the Negro League Baseball Museum in Kansas City has a display about them that gives them a nod for helping breaking color barrier."

Worth roughly $10 million dollars back then, the House of David leader Benjamin Purnell, was accused of sexual misconduct with some of the young, underage female members. The New York times was there to cover this nationally followed trial in which Purnell stood trial on a hospital stretcher after being diagnosed with tuberculosis shortly after the trial began. He was eventually found not guilty on the charges but was found guilty of operating a religious organization under false pretenses. Before he went to trial, he evaded capture from 1922 to 1926 by hiding in his mansion which had rooms inside rooms, hidden vaults and escape tunnels.

"I wanted to make the movie to get the story of House of David out there. There is so much unknown, and confusion about what really existed at the compound on Britain Avenue," explains Chris. "I was fortunate enough to have lived around the (remaining) members for 25 years. They are deceased now, but I talked to them for hours at a time and I wanted to tell the real story, and the facts and dispel the rumors."

The documentary will delve deep into the House of David, explain the roots and beliefs of their religion and introduce some of their accomplishments and history. The first film covers the origins and some of the major players in forming the organization. In the future there will be nine more episodes following their history, inventions, and accomplishments to our society.

Dave Ramsey

Dave Says

Dad already made the decision

Dear Dave,
My father-in-law passed away earlier this year. Since then, my wife and I have faced a dilemma because of the inheritance. Her dad had several life insurance policies, and he left one to her and one to each of her siblings. The one he left my wife was bigger than the ones he left to the others, and now her sister who received the smallest settlement is angry about the situation. She wants more, and it's causing a real dilemma within the family. I told my wife I am okay with doing what she feels is best. What are your thoughts?

Daniel

Dear Daniel,

So, your wife's sister feels like she's entitled to something their dad didn't want her to have? The arrogance of your sister-in-law is appalling. If their dad had wanted her sister to have a different policy, he would've put her name on the other policy. I mean, it was his decision, not hers.

Giving someone money because you think it will enhance or save a relationship is a really bad idea. A relationship that's purchased isn't a real relationship—it's prostitution. If giving this sister money is the only way she'll act right or ever speak to you guys again, then she ain't worth having. That's no longer someone you should feel the need to impress, and it's not on you guys if she decides to pitch a fit or sever the relationship.

This is a heart decision, a conscience decision. I would advise you and your wife to make it together and be in full agreement. I'm sorry you two are going through this, but the idea her sister deserves more just because she wants more? Sounds like their dad already made his feelings known on that subject.

— Dave
