APL Hosts Talk with Dr. Chuck Radis, Author of Go by Boat

AUBURN, ME (July 12, 2022) -- Dr. Chuck Radis, the author of Go by Boat, will be speaking about his medical practice on the gritty islands of Casco Bay in his newly released sequel, Island Medicine. His writing has been described as a cross between James Herriot's All Creatures Great and Small and Doc Martin. In a career which spans island medicine to rheumatology, from public health work in a UN refugee settlement to advocacy for Medicare for all, Dr. Radis's writing focuses on the importance of empathy, respect, and yes, humor, in patient care.

Following graduation from Bates College in Maine in 1976 and subsequently becoming an osteopathic physician (DO), Dr. Radis, with his wife Sandra and daughter Kate, moved to Peaks Island in 1985, where he began his medical practice. Traveling by police boat, ferry, and his own 16 foot skiff, Dr. Radis performed over 100 house-calls a year on Peaks and on the neighboring islands in Casco Bay, in addition to clinic days on Chebeague Island and Peaks Island. His practice was featured in Maine Streets and Back Roads of New England on WCVTV in Boston, and was also the subject of numerous newspaper accounts. Although he eventually left his island practice and completed a fellowship in rheumatology and clinical immunology, he returned to live on Peaks Island and has commuted to his mainland medical practice for nearly 3 decades. He has continued to be intimately involved in health care issues affecting island residents, and still performs house calls. In recent year's Dr. Radis's writing has become more eclectic, reflecting his wide-ranging interests, from botany to United Nations work in a settlement in Uganda, to essays on empathy in medicine. He has co-written a flower guide: The Flowering Plants of Casco Bay. Dr. Radis is currently a Clinical Professor of Medicine at the University of New England, College of Osteopathic Medicine in Biddeford, Maine and continues to practice rheumatology.

Free Meals for All Maine Kids This Summer

Guest Column by Sen. Nate Libby MAINE (July 15, 2022) -- Last year, Maine took a historic step forward by becoming one of the first states in the nation to guarantee that all Maine students have access to free meals at school, regardless of their family's income. This important change was the result of bipartisan agreement in the Legislature that no child should have to think about where their next meal is coming from – instead, they should just focus on learning, growing and being a kid. This year, we made sure that change is here to stay by passing a bipartisan supplemental budget that set aside funding for universal free school meals, as well as other measures that support teachers and students.

With school out for the summer, it's important to remember that, traditionally, summer can be a time of great food insecurity for some students. Without school, some kids lost their one reliable source of nutritious food. I want you to know that this is no longer the case in Maine. Whether it's summer break or the middle of the school year, Maine kids 18 years old and younger are eligible for free breakfast and lunch. Visit hotlunchsummer.com or text "Summer Meals" to 914-342-7744 to find the locations, dates and times of meals being served all summer long near you. Make sure that the child in your life has the fuel they need to be a kid enjoying summer in Maine.

While the most important thing is making sure kids have access to food, a close second is making sure that food is nutritious. In the last few years, I've supported several measures that put healthier, locally grown food on students' lunch trays. Last year, the Legislature expanded the Local Foods Fund to help schools purchase locally produced fruits, vegetables, meats, value-added dairy products and other minimally processed foods. The fund reimburses schools one dollar for every three dollars spent when they buy these products from local sources. Not only does this benefit students, it helps the farmers and food producers who work hard right here in our community, and it keeps our dollars circulating in our local economy. In Lewiston, the Somali Bantu Community Association's Liberation Farms is providing local students with carrots, beets, tomatoes and more for their school lunches – a win-win for students and farmers alike.

If your family needs additional support finding food, there's help available, and you should never hesitate to reach out for assistance. Depending on your family's unique needs, you may be eligible for programs like SNAP, WIC or TANF that can help you purchase food for your family. There are also many local resources around Lewiston that can help connect you with what you need to keep your family healthy. To find a resource near you, visit www.gsfb.org/get-help/food-map, dial 2-1-1 or visit 211.org.

An estimated one in six Maine kids experience food insecurity, and children who experience this lack of nutrition and the chronic stress that comes with it are

Happy 100th Birthday

Dan Dionne, chair of the Board of Trustees of Court Street Baptist Church in Auburn, presented a balloon shower on behalf of the church members to Mae Donahue on the occasion of her 100th birthday. Recently, the church vestry was the setting for a birthday party/luncheon. More than 90 of her relatives and church family honored the spunky centenarian, who was born on June 28, 1922, and joined the church May 28, 1961. Each week, she attends church services, does her own grocery shopping, and hosts a board game afternoon for a half dozen friends. And, earlier this year, Mae made her first commercial, an advertisement for Community Concepts.

Local Students Honored at SkillsUSA Workforce Event

ATLANTA, GA (Grassroots Newswire) (June 30, 2022) - The following local career and technical students won one of the nation's highest awards at the 2022 SkillsUSA Championships, held in Atlanta, on June 22-23. More than 5,200 students competed at the national showcase of career and technical education. The SkillsUSA Championships is the largest skill competition in the world and covers 1.79 million square feet, equivalent to 31 football fields or 41 acres.

The following students are Skill Point Certificate recipients from your area:

* Vincent Lupardo, from Durham and a student at Portland Arts & Tech High School (Portland), was awarded a Skill Point Certificate in Automotive Maintenance and Light Repair Demonstration.

* Joshua Gosselin, from Wales and a student at Lewiston Regional Tech Center (Lewiston), was awarded a Skill Point

Certificate in T-Shirt Design.

Students were invited to the event to demonstrate their technical skills, workplace skills and personal skills in 108 hands-on occupational and leadership competitions including robotics, automotive technology, drafting, criminal justice, aviation maintenance and public speaking. Industry leaders from 650 businesses, corporations, trade associations and unions planned and evaluated the contestants against their standards for entry-level workers. Industry support of the SkillsUSA Championships is valued at over $36 million in donated time, equipment, cash and material. More than 1,100 industry judges and technical committee members participated this year.

The Skill Point Certificate represents demonstrated workplace readiness in the student's occupational specialty. Students can add the certificate to an employment portfolio. Skill Point Certificates were awarded to all national contestants who met a threshold contest score for their event as an indicator of proiciency. All SkillsUSA Championships competitors were honored on Friday night, June 24 at the SkillsUSA Awards Ceremony at State Farm Arena, which was sponsored by partner Frontdoor Inc. with keynote speaker Darren Keefe of HGTV.

"More than 5,200 students from every state in the nation participated in the 2022 SkillsUSA Championships," said SkillsUSA Executive Director Chelle Travis. "This showcase of career and technical education demonstrates SkillsUSA at its finest. Our students, instructors and industry partners work together to ensure that every student excels. This program expands learning and career opportunities for our members."

The SkillsUSA Championships event is held annually for students in middle school, high school or college/postsecondary programs as part of the SkillsUSA National Leadership & Skills Conference. The national, nonprofit partnership of students, instructors and industry is a verified talent pipeline for America's skilled workforce that is working to help solve the skills gap.

AUBURN, MAINE (June 29, 2022) — Maine Source Homes & Realty of Auburn is celebrating 50 years of service to Maine homeowners by powerfully giving back to the Lewiston-Auburn community. The company's "Helping Our Neighbors Campaign" has identified 6 local nonprofits and charities it will powerfully support throughout 2022. In June, Jon Mercier, Designated Broker/ Realtor® at Maine Source Homes & Realty, offered a donation check for $2,150 to ACADIA Charter School, the second of the 6 selected nonprofit beneficiaries. Notably contributing to Maine Source Homes & Realty's fundraising drive for ACADIA were Maine source agent Deb Morin, Androscoggin Homes, Action Screen Printing, and Maine Source Homes customer Chris Brann.

ACADIA is an acronym for "A Charter Academy for Developing Independence and Achievement." The school targets the development of the whole child through a strong social/emotional learning component, as well as by offering highly differentiated academic instruction for all students. The children benefit from this academic approach by becoming strong, independent students who self-advocate and get to know themselves as learners.

More About the

Neighbor Campaign" is funded by Maine Source Homes & Realty's team of realtors, as well as by the company's clients. For each house-closing the company assists clients with during a given two-month period throughout 2022, the company donates $100 to one of the 6 beneficiary charities/nonprofits. In turn, Maine Source Homes & Realty then asks the selling or buying realtor, along with the client, if they would like to match the donation. This fundraising strategy resulted in the $2,150 donation to ACADIA Charter School.

Maine Community Health Needs Assessment Reports Released

AUGUSTA, ME (July 12, 2022)— Maine Shared Community Health Needs Assessment (Maine Shared CHNA) 2022 Reports once again show mental health, social determinants of health, substance use, and access to care among the top health priorities identified across multiple communities throughout Maine. These findings, and more, are summarized in each of the 16 County Reports and the State Report.

There are two major sections to the State Report. The first section describes each of the four statewide priorities in more detail including their related health indicators and participants' key take-aways identified through the community engagement process. There is also a description of community-identified resources available to address those concerns and any related gaps or needs.

The second section provides similar input provided from just 10 of Maine's diverse communities. New this cycle is an expanded effort to reach those who experience systemic disadvantages and therefore experience greater health disparities. Those communities included:

- Black or African Americans
- People who are Deaf and Hard of Hearing
- People who live with a disability
- People with low income
- People experiencing homelessness
- Immigrants
- Lesbian, gay, transgender, bisexual, and queer community
- People with a mental health diagnosis
- Older adults
- Youth

Jo Morrissey, Program Manager said, "We want to gratefully acknowledge the countless community partners who committed to hosting, facilitating, attending, and engaging in this effort. In addition to the hosts in each of Maine's 16 counties, we'd like to thank our Community Event hosts (Consumer Council System of Maine, Disability Rights Maine, Green Memorial A.M.E. Zion Church, Health Equity Alliance, Maine Continuum of Care, Maine Council on Aging, Maine Primary Care Association, Maine Youth Action Network); and our Oral Survey partners (Capital Area New Mainers, City of Portland Minority Health Program, Gateway Community Services, Maine Access Immigrant Network, Maine Community Integration, Maine Immigrant and Refugee Services, Mano en Mano, New England Arab American Organization, and New Mainers Public Health Initiative). These partners worked to adapt the City of Portland Minority Health Program's Oral Survey to collect input from 1,000 individuals within Maine's diverse immigrant community. The Maine Shared CHNA partners recognize that achieving health equity requires close collaboration with those who experience disparities to identify their priorities and what's working, and what's not working for them."

Other identified priorities included diabetes, oral health, cardiovascular disease, older adult health, cancer, and improved healthcare communication, especially among the Deaf and Hard of Hearing community.

The State Report and the 16 County Reports can be found on the Maine Shared CHNA website at (www.mainechna.org). The website also contains Data on Health Profiles by geographies such as Public Health Districts, counties, and 3 urban areas (Bangor, Lewiston/Auburn, and Portland). Health Equity Data Sheets are also provided by race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, sex, education, income, older adults, insurance status, and rurality. There are also two data sheets from the Maine Integrated Youth Health Survey on LGBT youth and transgender youth.

The health reports will be used by Maine's non-profit hospitals to create community health improvement plans.

Maine's District Coordinating Councils to create District Health Improvement Plans within the next two years.

the Maine CDC to create a State Health Improvement Plan within the next two years.

policy makers, non-profits, businesses, academics, and other community partners for their strategic planning purposes and grant writing.

The Maine Shared CHNA is a unique public-private statewide collaborative effort between Central Maine Healthcare, the Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention, an office of the Maine Department of Health and Human Services, Maine-General Health, Maine-Health, and Northern Light Health. Funding for the Maine Shared CHNA is provided by the partnering healthcare systems with generous in-kind support from the Maine CDC and community partners.

Significant analysis was conducted by epidemiologists at the Maine CDC and the University of Southern Maine's Muskie School of Public Service. Market Decisions Research provided quantitative and qualitative analysis, as well as design and production support. John Snow, Inc. (JSI) provided methodology, community engagement, and qualitative analysis expertise and support. The oral survey was adapted from the City of Portland's Minority Health Program's survey. Special thanks to the Partnership for Children's Oral Health for their data contribution.

The extended engagement efforts were pilot outreach initiatives made possible with additional funding support from the Maine Health Access Foundation and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (U.S. CDC) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (U.S. DHHS) as part of the Preventive Health and Health Services Block Grant (Awards NB01OT009343-01 & NB01OT009413-01; note the contents of these reports are of the author(s) and do not necessarily represent the official views of, nor an endorsement, by the U.S. CDC/HHS, or the U.S. Government.).

Wiscasset Art Walk Features Drum-Making on July 28, 5-8pm

Yellow Submarine with Jim Doble

WISCASSET, ME (July 13, 2022) – The Wiscasset Art Walk tradition of making community art continues Thursday, July 28 evening, from 5 to 8pm. Musicians and woodworkers will stake out their spot on the sidewalk to hand-make percussive instruments for visitors to play.

Instrument maker Jim Doble, of Union, will bring the necessary materials to build an Amadinda, a traditional xylophone-type instrument of the Baganda tribe of southern Uganda. While a Ugandan instrument is made of hewn logs laid out on banana leaves, Jim has modified his Amadinda design to use available materials, for ease of playing, and portability.

On his web site, Jim explains: “My Amadindas are played by people of musical backgrounds ranging from three year-olds to world class percussionists. They are well used in music therapy and immensely popular in children’s museums.”

For the Wiscasset Art Walk, Jim will make an Amadinda from raw logs, which has “Surprisingly good tone!” In June, Jim brought two of his propane tank instruments to WAW – a mushroom drum and his yellow submarine.

Woodworker Rick

Burns and musician Steven Almasi, both from Wiscasset, will be focused on the cajón, a box-shaped percussion instrument originally from Peru. The player sits on the top of the drum and slaps the drum’s faces with hands or implements.

While Rick constructs the drum, Steve will use his own cajón to demonstrate the many different sounds that can be coaxed from this simple box drum.

Also on the sidewalk, Partners in Education will be encouraging children and adults to assemble and decorate their own rattles, which they can play immediately. Game designer and furniture maker Aaron Weissblum, of Alna, developed the concept and materials.

In August, Aaron will contribute a variety of rattles and rain sticks, which he’s making in his wood-working shop, to the mix of Amadinda and cajón, for a percussive extravaganza in the Village.

Wiscasset Art Walk offers something for everyone. Spend the evening looking at art, listening to live music, perusing the unique shops, talking with locals, and eating the freshest catch. Look for sparkling streamers at participating doorways. Free parking is plentiful.

Wiscasset Art Walk 2022 is made possible by the generosity of Lead Sponsors Donna and Frank Barnako and Major Sponsors Ames True Value, Big Barn Coffee, BIRCH Home Furnishings & Gifts, Bradbury Art & Antiques, Carriage House Gardens, First National Bank, Fogg and Dalton Art Restoration, Industrial ME, J. Edward Knight Insurance, Newcastle Realty, Ozias, Peter Eaton at the Lilac Cottage, Red’s Eats, Rock Paper Scissors, and Sherri Dunbar/Tim Dunham Realty. Additional sponsor support comes from Cod Cove Inn.

GREENE, ME (July 5, 2022) -- Tyler Rose begins our tour of the Sawyer Memorial building by straightening his double Windsor tie knot, adjusting his cuffs and looking up at me with a grin. "Let me show you what makes this place so special to me and to so many others." We enter the lavish tan and beige granite stoned building through the front door...

Rose has been in his role as the Executive Director of the Araxine Wilkins Sawyer Foundation, located on 371 Sawyer Road in Greene, upon his graduation from the University of Maine at Farmington in 2015. "Well, I graduated on a Saturday and started my first day here on the following Monday."

Throughout his 7 years with the Sawyer Foundation Rose has seen it all. "I've hosted all different kinds of events here during my time. We've had bands, comedians, authors, lecturers, filmmakers, magicians, puppeteers and that really just scratches the surface," Rose tells me as we walk into the beautifully crafted 210 seat auditorium.

The Sawyer Foundation was established in 1937 by John Marshall "J.M." Sawyer, a successful businessman from Greene. The nonprofit organization had its first lineup of events in 1938. "We largely are doing many of the same things as we started off doing all those years ago, the same focus anyway. We are a family-friendly venue here to serve the community as a meeting place for family, friends and neighbors to gather and enjoy both educational and entertainment events," Rose explains to me.

Rose brings the tour into the conference room where portraits of J.M. and his mother, Araxine, rest on a mantle over a stone fireplace. J.M. formed the Sawyer Foundation to honor his mother to whom he attributed much of his success in business and in life more generally.

"Mr. Sawyer truly adored his mother. So much so that he built the Sawyer Memorial building and wanted to ensure that anyone, no matter their financial situation, could come to this space and attend the same types of events his mother brought him to in his youth."

The Sawyer Foundation's bylaws clearly state that there shall never be admission fees to any of the events held at the Sawyer Memorial. Rose directs my attention to a sole donation box positioned at the entrance of the auditorium where generous attendees can and often do donate. There were no opportunities for donating to that donation box in 2020 when the lineup of events had to be canceled due to COVID-19.

The Sawyer Memorial closed its doors for the first time since 1943 during World War 2 rationing. Rose says this was the hardest decision he ever had to make, but there was a silver lining. "The community really rallied around us. We received an outpouring of donations despite not having shows and just as many letters, emails and phone calls encouraging us along through those difficult times," Rose says while picking up the donation book where gen-

Woman's Literary Union Garage Sale Held July 23

WLU President Kathy Lawrence with some of the Christmas in July items at the WLU Garage Sale

AUBURN, ME (July 12, 2022) -- Want to find a treasure? Have extra items to donate? The Woman's Literary Union Garage Sale is for you! The WLU Garage Sale will be held on Saturday, July 23rd from 9am to 1pm at the Foss Mansion, 19 Elm Street, Auburn.

Sales and donations help restore the Foss Mansion. Built in 1914-1917, the Horatio Foss Mansion is a mix of Georgian revival and Spanish influence. The mansion was bequeathed to the WLU by Ella Foss in 1941. It is on the National Register of Historic Places and now available for rentals.

The WLU of Androscoggin County was organized in 1892. Early WLU projects included raising money for local playgrounds and parks, and promoting early childhood education and Kindergarten in the local school system. Today, the WLU holds events throughout the year to raise funds for scholarships and to support the Foss Mansion. One very popular event is the Prom Gown Giveaway. During prom season, the WLU makes girls' dreams come true with free formal dresses, gowns and accessories.

erous patrons have their names displayed in the lobby.

Rather than dwelling on not having a 2020 season of events, Rose took the opportunity to double his efforts in bringing the Sawyer Foundation firmly into the 21st century. "When I first started here I was using a typewriter that may very well have been here from the construction of the place," Rose tells me, showing where the typewriter sat in his office. Now the Sawyer Foundation has the capabilities to stream and post all of their events online via their Facebook page.

"We had a very small Facebook following entering 2020. Now we have more than tripled the amount of people who follow us and there are even more who are checking out our page to see what we've got going on. This will be a key component and in my opinion it will be pivotal for our future growth."

Rose says that many of the filmed events from the 2021 season received tremendous attention and significant engagement.

"It's been a goal for the Sawyer Foundation to catch up with the 21st century, but it's a delicate tightrope to walk. We want to remain a unique venue with that old-fashioned charm, but we also don't want to lose relevancy either."

The 2021 lineup of shows were all filmed and posted to the Sawyer Foundation's Facebook page where they were viewed, shared, liked and commented on from thousands of local residents and beyond. "It took a whole lot of planning, some sleepless nights and a half-dozen or so rolls of duct tape, but I pulled it off," Rose says with a laugh as we continue the tour to the projector and camera room.

The 2022 season of events is off and running and all events are planned to be held in person in addition to videos posted afterwards on their Facebook page. There are two new types of events on new days and times this year that the Sawyer Foundation is experimenting with.

On Saturday, July 30th there will be an event with the Greene Village Nature Trails that will begin with a presentation at the Sawyer Memorial followed by outdoor exploration on the nature trails themselves and refreshments served afterwards.

On Saturday, August 20th the Sawyer Memorial will be hosting a "Food Truck Social" where attendees will enjoy an afternoon of food, live music, games, prizes and more at one of the Sawyer Memorial's large parking lots.

"We wanted to try out a few new things, a couple different types of events and on different days in the hope that we can attract some new faces in addition to our familiar ones," Rose explained while we walked the path to the location of where the Food Truck Social will be held.

The complete list of 2022 events is available both on the Sawyer Foundation's website: www.sawyer-foundation.com and on their Facebook page. A proud son of Greene, Rose has been involved with the Sawyer Foundation from a young age and he firmly believes the Sawyer Foundation's efforts to catch up technologically will help guarantee its place in the future. "I graduated preschool in this auditorium, I attended countless shows growing up, I spent many summers volunteering my time here. I understand the importance of a place like this in our community. Mr. Sawyer has long since passed, but I still look up to him and I want to ensure his mission of providing family-friendly educational and entertainment events for the public continues into perpetuity."

Seniors Not Acting Their Age

Biking Round the Mountain

A cyclist rides a narrow bridge over Thorndike Brook on Round the Mountain Trail

Guest Column by Ron Chase

(July 10, 2022) -- Several years ago, a friend mentioned he was working as a volunteer to help pioneer a route for a bike trail around Ragged Mountain in the Camden Hills. Subsequently, I crossed the beginnings of the new trail while hiking on Ragged Mountain. Each time I returned, progress was being made.

A 5.5 mile segment of Round the Mountain Trail (RMT) opened in late 2020. During a winter trek to the summit in early 2021, I noted the path had quickly become a popular venue for hiking and snowshoeing. It appeared that a heavy snowfall would provide for some exhilarating cross country skiing, and fat tire biking would be another potential winter use. Later, I located the new Thorndike Brook Trailhead in Hope and resolved to bike RMT the following summer.

When I returned in the summer, I found a unique multi-use trail available for hiking, running, and biking during non-winter months. The crushed rock and gravel course averages about six feet in width and travels around about seventy percent of the lower slopes of Ragged and Little Ragged Mountains. Numerous sturdy wooden bridges were constructed along the well-designed path. During my ride, it seemed I was always climbing or descending hills. Maybe it was function of my advancing years, but I found the outing a strenuous workout.

Recently, while discussing possible outdoor adventures with my longtime friend, John Stokinger, we decided to tackle RMT. Both seniors, we anticipated a challenge.

We began the outing at Thorndike Brook Trailhead, the western entrance to RMT, where there is parking for several vehicles and an information kiosk that includes a trail map. Initially, we experienced easy riding past an impressive stone seating area to a narrow metal bridge over Thorndike Brook. From there, the trail climbed gradually past a junction with the Georges Highland Path (GHP) Little Ragged Mountain Hiking Trail. At about one mile, a spur trail turned left. A sign indicated it continued for 1.1 mile on the western side of Little Ragged Mountain.

We proceeded southerly on rolling terrain crossing several bridges to the first of three junctions with the GHP Ragged Mountain Hiking Trail. After easier riding for about a mile, Mirror Lake was visible through the trees on our right where the GHP joined RMT for a short distance. GHP quickly turned left to begin a steep 1.1 mile climb to the Ragged Mountain summit. Biking is prohibited on the hiking trails.

RMT began to climb more steeply north to the crest of the saddle between the eastern slope of Ragged Mountain and Spring Mountain. This area is punctuated by precipitous cliffs, a hairpin turn, and an exhausting ascent. Our reward was a long exciting descent with several warning signs recommending gentle braking to a location where the newly constructed RMT ends. Here the pathway connects with Kuller Trail which continues to the northern trailhead at the Camden Snow Bowl Ski Area.

During our partial exploration of Kuller, we encountered a long muddy sector of trail and decided to turn back. Anticipating a formidable climb to the top of the col between Ragged and Spring Mountains factored into the decision.

After reaching the saddle, we enjoyed a thrilling downhill plummet to the Mirror Lake area. Shortly beyond, I accidentally frightened a deer that was also enjoying the trail. Following some additional climbing to Little Ragged Mountain spur junction, the final mile to Thorndike Brook Trailhead was predominantly a delightful circuitous descent.

While relaxing after the ride, John observed that the demanding climbs were worth the stimulating descents. We used hybrid bikes for our ride, but I think mountain or fat tire bikes are better suited for the trail system. John measured our trek to be 8.44 miles on his GPS and the actual moving time was about 1.5 hours.

Coastal Mountains Land Trust, partnering with several other entities, envisions extending the RMT until it circumnavigates Ragged and Little Ragged Mountains. I hope they finish the remaining three miles while I'm still able to complete what I expect to be an arduous ride for this elderly cyclist.

The Barn Celebrates 50th Anniversary With Shows

SOUTH PARIS, ME (July 15, 2022) -- Celebration Barn Theater, Maine's Center for physical theater training and performance, celebrates its 50th anniversary with three evenings of performances July 28-30, 2022. Karen Montanaro performs her new show about her partnership with world-renowned mime and Celebration Barn founder Tony Montanaro on Thursday and Friday evenings. Bill Irwin and Avner Eisenberg headline Celebration Barn's 50th Anniversary Spectacular on Saturday night.

The anniversary events mark five decades of Celebration Barn's contribution and commitment to physical theater and the Oxford Hills community. Located in South Paris, Maine, Celebration Barn offers workshops and residencies for physical theater artists to hone their craft and develop their body of work. The nonprofit also services the local community through its popular Show Series and community-based initiatives, such as Theater in Schools.

The weekend of performances kicks off on Thursday, July 28 with Karen Montanaro's Tony Montanaro ~ A Love Story. A brand new one-woman, multi-media show directed by Robert Post, Tony Montanaro ~ A Love Story is described as "a funny, intimate, and breathtaking account" of the personal and professional relationship between Tony and Karen Montanaro. A former professional ballerina whose art was transformed through her relationship with the late Tony Montanaro, Karen has gained a reputation for "bringing the fusion of pantomime and dance to its highest level of expression" (Main Echo, Hanau, Germany). A second presentation of the show takes place Friday evening.

Saturday, July 30, Bill Irwin and Avner Eisenberg headline Celebration Barn's 50th Anniversary Spectacular.

Bill Irwin is an American actor, clown, and comedian. He is best known for his vaudeville-style stage performances and has been noted for his contribution to the renaissance of American circus during the 1970s. He has also made a number of appearances on film and television, and he won a Tony Award for his role in Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf on Broadway. Children know him as Mr. Noodle on Sesame Street's Elmo's World.

Avner Eisenberg is hailed as one of the greatest clowns of all time. Often a featured performer in comedy, magic, clown, and theater festivals around the world, he has been described by New York Magazine as "a clown for the thinking man." His show Avner the Eccentric was a Broadway hit in the 1980s. He also appeared on Broadway in Ghetto and The Comedy of Errors. Avner is widely known for his portrayal of the holy man in the Michael Douglas film The Jewel of the Nile.

"Irwin and Eisenberg are two of the brightest stars in the firmament of clowning," said David Bruin, the Barn's executive artistic director. "For decades, their stellar performances on stages, screens, and street corners have amazed audiences worldwide. As paragons of artistry, consummate professionals, and world-class teachers, it is an honor to showcase them both as we celebrate fifty years of Celebration Barn!"

Celebration Barn's 50th Anniversary Spectacular will also spotlight performers including Hilary Chaplain, Fritz Grobe, Amanda Huotari, Sheila Kerrigan, Bernie Kramer, Khalil LeSaldo, Mike Miclon, Dyer Rhoads, Antonio Rocha, Lou Sydel, Thom Wall, and members of the original Celebration Mime Ensemble. In addition, the Spectacular will feature the presentation of two awards. The inaugural Tony Montanaro Award will be presented to the Encompass Collective for their contributions to artistry and community at Celebration Barn, and the inaugural Community Partner Award will be given to Frank and Cheryl Shaskan for their longtime support and dedication to the life of the Barn.

"We're thrilled to be honoring the past and ushering in the future of Celebration Barn with this incredible weekend of performances," said Celebration Barn Board President Davis Robinson. "We look forward to celebrating this exciting milestone with our special and ever-growing community."
