Summer Festivals
Return to Benton
Harbor and Buchanan

Benton Harbor Riverfest

Benton Harbor Riverfest is back this year and set to kick off Friday August 5 in Charles Yarbrough Park located at 800 Riverview Dr in Benton Harbor. The festival has expanded to three days with the addition of a full day of music and vendors on Sunday afternoon. The original Riverfest ran in the 90's with the festival taking a bow at the end of the decade.

In 2021, Benton Harbor Commissioner Sharon Henderson worked with local organizers and area companies to bring the festival back. Their goal is to highlight area talent, bring national talent to Benton Harbor's riverfront, give area vendors and small businesses a space to show their work and mostly, to make positive use of the riverfront park that has gone un-utilized for too long. The city made improvements to the park for last year's Riverfest, including updating the power, so that a large stage and sound could be supported.

"We believe that embracing the talent in Benton Harbor is a wonderful thing. We have a beautiful riverfront that must be utilized. What better way than the community coming together through showcasing unity and fellowship, it is one of the most powerful things that can happen," says co-organizer Trenton Bowens.

The three-day festival will feature dozens of local vendors with art, fashion, and eleven food trucks on site. Music lineup for the weekend includes local favorites like Sankofa, Erik Fisher, Michael Brock and Benton Harbor raised rapper Elzappo Foreign.

Headlining the festival on Saturday night is Glenn Jones. Jones is best known for Fun & Interesting Things to Do in Michigan's Great Southwest!

Greetings readers! Please allow me to introduce myself. My name is Marcy Simpson and I am a life-long resident of Southwest Michigan. In April I was named successor to Millicent Huminsky, Executive Director of the Southwest Michigan Tourist Council. I'm thrilled to have the opportunity to lead this organization and represent the community I love and call home. Millicent and I will each contribute an article once a month for the next three months until her retirement in October. I look forward to bringing you the finest things to do in our beautiful little corner of Michigan.

Summer is in full swing as artists take over Broad Street in downtown St. Joe during Chalk the Block Friday, August 5 through Sunday, August 7. Attendees can watch as both amateur and professional artists prepare their squares on Friday evening, work all day Saturday and enjoy the completed chalk masterpieces on Sunday. This family-friendly festival showcases regional, national and international artists, using our quaint lakeside town as their backdrop. It's a favorite of locals and tourists alike.

Head over to the heart of The Benton Harbor Arts District for Benton Harbor Arts Association Arts in the Park featuring local artist's booths, music, food trucks, and more on Friday, August 5. Krasl Art Center is delighted to participate in Arts in the Park with a special artmaking project related to the New Biennial.

Like running or walking? Love wine? This race is for you! Head out to the Round Barn Estate for the first annual Mt. Tabor Trails Wine Run 5K. Run, Walk, and enjoy some wine – it's the only way to 5k! Join in the fun morning of exercise, camaraderie, wine, and socializing at the Round Barn Estate and Mt. Tabor Trails on Sunday, August 7.

Take a trip with the Southwest Michigan Symphony Orchestra on Saturday, August 13 as they present music that will delight all ages. From Frozen to Star Wars and Video Games to Jurassic Park, these pieces will be instantly recognizable for both the young and the young at heart. Some may remember "Casey at the Bat," others will recognize the March from Raiders of the Lost Ark, and the Muppet Medley. This concert will be held at the Shadowland Pavilion and will provide entertainment for the whole family.

Attention stargazers - Dr. T.K. Lawless International Dark Sky Park in Vandalia, nine miles east of Cassopolis, is the place to be for the Perseid Meteor Shower on August 11 and 12. For those of you not familiar with what a dark sky park is, an IDA International Dark Sky Park (IDSP) is a land possessing an exceptional or distinguished quality of starry nights and a nocturnal environment that is specifically protected for its scientific, natural, educational, cultural heritage, and/or public enjoyment. The land may be publicly owned, or privately owned provided that the landowner(s) consent to the right of permanent, ongoing public access to specific areas included in the IDA designation. It's one of only three in Michigan to boast the distinction of an International Dark Sky Park. If the conditions are right, this will be a special experience for people of all ages. Limited camping spaces are available. Call to reserve your space 269-445-4456.

Join The GhostLight Theatre on Sunday, August 14 for The Dunes Theatre Cabaret. The high-energy variety show will be 90 minutes with one intermission. The cabaret will have a Stephen Sondheim inspired theme and will feature seven singers and three instrumentalists.

If you would like more information on these and many more events and activities in Southwest Michigan, please visit our website at swmichigan.org. I will be back in August with more fun and interesting things to do in Michigan's Great Southwest!

Joshua Doxtator, PGA
General Manager
The Golf Club at Harbor Shores Resort

Drive Fore Show, Putt Fore Dough

I have two young boys who are getting into golf and compete in PGA Junior League. When they come out to Harbor Shores to hone their skills, they immediately go to the range and pound balls until their hands hurt. As I offer encouragement to work on the part of the game that matters, they typically side eye me paired with a heavy sigh. Interestingly enough, this is the natural response from players of all ages.

Fast forward to their first PGA Junior League match. They're pumped up, ready for action and have their hearts set on winning! They manage to get to the first hole in two shots, now it's time to putt; 4 atrocious putts later, they lose the hole by one. I didn't even need to say it, but I had to, "maybe should've spent more time putting?" They ended up tying in their first match, but they knew they had let it slip because they just couldn't get the ball in hole sooner!

It's amazing to me how often I look out the Golf Shop window and see an empty putting green and a jam-packed range tee! I get it, practicing putting isn't all that fun, but if you made more putts, would you enjoy the game more?

There are three factors to be considered when attempting to make a putt: Read, Line and Speed. Reading putts is an art and there's no surefire process; you just get better at it as you do it. Line is important as the ball has to start on the intended line in order to make the putt. However, if you're looking to eliminate 3 putts (I'm not going to even suggest 4 or 5 putts) SPEED is by far the most important. Even if you miss the line or read it wrong, if your speed is good, the ball will always end up close to the hole. Believe it or not, your brain has already been trained to know what it will take for perfect speed.

I know what you're thinking, "Josh has been hitting the tequila again." But look at it this way, if I gave you a ball and asked you to throw it to me 10 yards away, could you do it? YES! Now think about what you're focusing on when you throw the ball...the target. We get so wrapped up in watching our putter move back and forth that we sometimes forget where we're going.

One of the best drills I've used during my time playing competitively was the "No Look" drill. Try this next time you practice putting. Start with a few balls around 15 feet from the hole, get the putter set behind the ball and focus only on the hole while making the stroke. This will be difficult the first few times as you're wired to want to watch the putter make contact. You won't hit every putt perfectly but your brain will make adjustments based on feedback. I guarantee your speed will improve in a short period of time.

When you take it to the course, make sure the last thing you do is remind yourself of where the ball needs to go...and more will end up in the hole!

If you have questions about Harbor Shores, or just golfing in general, tee up an email at JDoxtator@harborshoresresort.com

A new face at the Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber working for YOU

The Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber is pleased to welcome a familiar community face to the team with the hire of Jasmine Hansen as its new Membership Engagement Manager! Jasmine joined the Chamber team during the 2022 KitchenAid Senior PGA Championship, and immediately went to work advocating for local businesses to the thousands of tournament guests who visited the Community Showcase. You may also have met her if you attended the Chamber's annual golf outing last week, the logistics for which Jasmine was instrumental in planning.

The Southwest Michigan Regional Chamber supports and advances the economic interests of businesses in the Southwest Michigan region. It offers numerous benefits to its members, including significant marketing opportunities, political advocacy, and professional networking. With offices in St. Joseph and Bridgman, the Chamber team stands ready to support our local business community.

Jasmine's role as Membership Engagement Manager is focused on fulfilling the Chamber's mission, vision, goals, and objectives throughout the region. She will manage many events and marketing activities, in addition to coordinating with current and prospective Chamber members. She will also manage the very successful Buy Local Berrien Facebook page and website that serves to promote goods and services available in Berrien County. Having Jasmine on the staff will help the Chamber meet and expand its goals of supporting local business and increasing economic prosperity. Said Hansen, "I am thrilled to begin working with all the different businesses in our community, and I look forward to helping advance their interests through our Chamber services. If you are interested in learning more about what a Chamber membership has to offer, please contact the Chamber and ask for me!"

Born in California, Jasmine grew up in Fayetteville, Arkansas and is a 2014 graduate of the University of Arkansas earning a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. Jasmine quickly found her professional niche working in the local hospitality industry, beginning in 2015 and most recently as an Event Manager coordinating weddings and other large-scale events in the Southwest Michigan area. Jasmine is a passionate advocate for our region and all that it has to offer for businesses, families, and visitors alike. The Chamber is thrilled to leverage her talents to the further benefit of local business and aspiring entrepreneurs.

Jasmine resides in St. Joseph with her husband Corey and their two-year-old Bernadoodle, Kona. She enjoys reading, going to the beach, and spending time with friends and family. She and Corey like to explore local restaurants, travel, and attend sporting events at Notre Dame.

SELL A HOUSE IN FORECLOSURE

is made in cash, you don't have to worry about a long closing process. Instead, you get an offer that satisfies your lender and helps you move on quickly before your foreclosure is final.

Work With Renewed Homes to Find a Creative Solution

If you don't have much equity in your home, it can be difficult to arrange a cash sale that will cover what you owe your lender. It's important to know that you still have options — you don't have to settle for foreclosure. Renewed Homes specializes in creative solutions, and we have arranged a number of sales in which our clients are able to avoid foreclosure, build their credit back up, and receive cash on top of that. This solution has helped many of our clients already, and it might be right for you too. If you're hoping to avoid foreclosure, but don't have the money to pay back your lender, we have the experience and the ability to help.

What to Know About Selling a Home in Foreclosure

Selling a home in foreclosure isn't easy. First of all, it's your home, so it's difficult to say goodbye to the memories you hold there. Second, it's a stressful process that often involves a lot of worry and sleepless nights. Renewed Homes is always looking for homeowners who'd like to sell, we pay cash, and can close within 14 days when necessary. We take homes of all shapes and sizes and would be happy to help you find a way out of that stressful situation of foreclosure.

– Renewed Homes

If your home is headed towards foreclosure, know that there's still time to save it, and your credit. Your house is still yours until it goes to auction and goes through the redemption period. So, you should have at least a little bit of time to get your finances in order before you go into foreclosure completely.

If you're in default, you're in what the industry calls "pre-foreclosure." Typically you will have 4-5 weeks in pre-foreclosure, this is when you want to get busy as you will have more options. After that period, it goes to the sale where the bank will bid, or an investor may purchase your mortgage. After this happens, you typically have a 6-12-month redemption period where you must pay the debt back in full, usually by selling your home. So, what can you do?

Sell Your Home for Cash

The simplest option for many homeowners facing foreclosure is to negotiate a sale that your lender will accept. Unfortunately, if you're in pre-foreclosure, you don't have much time to find a buyer, and it can be difficult to arrange a traditional sale that will close before your time is up. When you work with Renewed Homes, we can make you a cash offer to cover your missed payments and purchase your home. Since our offer

I Think I Can

"But I will make you as unyielding and hardened as they are. I will make your forehead like the hardest stone, harder than flint. Do not be afraid of them or terrified by them, though they are a rebellious people." ~ Ezekiel 3:8,9

"I think I can! I think I can! I think I can!" For nearly one hundred years, parents have encouraged their children to never give up, using the classic children's book, The Little Engine That Could. With a little optimism and hard work, no mountain is too high to climb. Yet, what we learn as children doesn't always translate into adulthood. Why? Perhaps we've learned that we have limitations. Optimism doesn't always equate to realism. Hard work doesn't always outperform others who work harder. The truth is "putting your mind to it" doesn't always cut it. But thankfully, when it comes to proclaiming God's truths, we aren't dependent on our own strength or stamina. The very Word we have the privilege to proclaim is the same Word that fuels us with a resiliency and determination. God promises to make us "unyielding" and our "foreheads like the hardest stone." That doesn't mean we won't tire while doing the work of the Lord. But it does mean with God's help: we will endure. With God's strength, we can run our race with perseverance and not be afraid or terrified of any enemy because God's Word endures forever. With God's strength, know that your toil will never be in vain.

Prayer: Holy Spirit, use your Word to provide me with stamina to be your faithful witness. Amen.

...Meanwhile in Buchanan,
 It's the 'Thrill On The Hill'

The wait is over: Buchanan's biggest party of the year is BACK! August 4th - 6th, 2022 brings the return of Thrill On The Hill to the heart of Buchanan, a three day fun fest that perfectly demonstrates Summer Fun for the whole family.

The celebration kicks off on Thursday, August 4th at 4 p.m., when Buchanan goes retro! Vendors, games, food trucks, activities, and more, will be available until 10 p.m., and 'The Hill' will be open for play downtown. This highly anticipated event transforms E. Front Street into a magnificent 500 foot water slide, bringing the beach right to Buchanan. A $5 Day Pass lets you access the downtown slope for a single day, or $12 lets you ride all weekend long. B.Y.O.T. (Bring Your Own Tube) to be approved for the slide of your life!

The 1985 will be blasting 80s tunes from 8:30 p.m - 10 p.m on Thursday, showcasing a Totally 80s Experience for Neon Night, including blacklights, beverages, and glow in the dark fun. Concert tickets are $10.

Fridays festivities begin at noon, for more downtown shopping, games, and contests, and the evenings concert features P.S. Dump Your Boyfriend, 'the Midwest's Premiere Party Band', from 8:30 p.m to 10 p.m. Entry fee for the concert is $10 per person, and the Adult Luau will follow the show. Enjoy the Adults-Only Midnight Slide Run, with the beer tent and dance floor awaiting you at the bottom of the slippery slope.

10 a.m on Saturday the 6th opens the Hill, and food trucks, beverages, treats, and eats will be available until 10 p.m. Local businesses and organizations are sponsoring activities and events, like 'Snowcones For Sight' at noon, by Smoke Vision Care, where they will be holding an eyewear collection drive. Donations will be made to the Buchanan-Galien Lions Club.

Everyone wants to be a part of Thrill On The Hill, and you'll see vendors like The Icehouse Shave Ice from Stevensville, Nelson's Port-A-Pit, volkswagen-smoked BBQ by Wood, Stock, & Grill, Sadler Hot Dogs, and Rapha Roast Coffee Company

"We are hoping that Buchanan and surrounding communities will come together, as they have in the past, to make our comeback better than any of our past events," says Ashley Regal, Executive Director of the Buchanan Area Chamber of Commerce. "There's something for everyone to enjoy."

Thrill On The Hill began in 2012, but was put on hold for 2020 and 2021 due to the pandemic. The City of Buchanan is excited to announce its return, and promises an even bigger and better Thrill than before. For more information, please visit the Thrill On The Hill facebook page. See you on the hill!

Stuart

You'll Fall for Fallingwater, Marquee My Words!

On the way to a wedding in Jamestown, New York, I visited Fallingwater, perhaps the most famous residence designed by that most famous architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

Fallingwater is off the beaten path in Southwestern Pennsylvania, but if you ever go, I'm sure you'll say "This is worth it," or at least say "Stuart's journey was worth it because it spawned that hilarious column!"

We had a reservation for a tour at 10:30 a.m., but we arrived in time for the 10 a.m. tour instead, which was a lucky break because it fell right between breakfast and mid-morning snack-time. To clarify, I'm talking about Fallingwater's mosquitos.

Fallingwater's incredible setting – a creek called Bear Run flows beneath portions of the house – required highly inventive architectural design and engineering, a client who was happy to spend boatloads of money, and an architect and engineers who were delighted to help him spend boatloads of money.

The home belonged to Edgar and Liliane Kauffmann, who earned big-time riches through Kauffmann's, Pittsburgh's largest department store.

A couple insightful factoids from the internet about the Kauffmann-Wright relationship: One says Kauffmann and Fallingwater helped revive the 67-year-old Wright's career, which faltered in the 1920s and '30s as his style fell out of fashion and the Great Depression hit. Another says that the previous factoid didn't prevent Wright from snarkily referring to Edgar Kaufmann as "Mr. Moneybags."

The house juts out over Bear Run thanks to the use of huge cantilevers — which, when you see them, you practically cantbelieve. However, over time, they sagged under the stresses they bore, and the place looked like it might become known as Fallingaparter. In the 1990s and 2000s, it took funds that Mr. Moneybags couldn't have dreamed of to change them from CANTilevers back to CANTilevers.

There were other less catastrophic threats: The cheek-by-jowl location to a creek and waterfall promotes mold growth in certain places; Edgar wryly nicknamed the edifice "Fallingwater/Rising Mildew."

I've heard these problems do not affect the model of Fallingwater that you can build by assembling an 811-piece kit produced by, yes!, Lego! (Moms and Dads! – it's available on Amazon for only a couple of overstuffed moneybags!)

Fallingwater contains lots of valuable art and accessories that belonged to the Kauffmann family, as well as unique furnishings. They're truly one-of-a-kind because they are built-in to the house. Wright designed it this way to make them, as he put it, "client-proof." Translation: They could never be removed and replaced with anything that Wright would consider tacky.

Fallingwater appears on every "Things to Know about Frank Lloyd Wright" list known to man. One of these, on a website called discoverwalks.com (tagline: "We know what's important") is titled "Top 10 Remarkable Facts about Frank Lloyd Wright." Well, I know what's important about this: There are people in this world who spell it "remarkable"?!

Floating a bit downstream of Fallingwater: I learned while researching this column that Wright's son, John Lloyd Wright, patented Lincoln Logs. Yes, the International Toy Hall of Famer Lincoln Logs.

Another note about John: He eventually became a successful architect himself, and most readers of this column live close enough to go see several homes he designed in LaPorte County, Indiana. It's probably worth the trip – they're on the National Register of Remarkable Places!

Dave Says

Help them... and help them get help

Dear Dave,

I finished college a couple of years ago, and I have a good job making $65,000 a year. The only debt I have is about $5,000 remaining on a car loan, and I am paying that off as quickly as possible. At the same time, my mom and dad need repairs on their small house, and I am not sure they can afford to fix things. They both work hard, but they don't make a lot of money. Plus, they have some debt. I have enough saved to pay for fixing their roof, with plenty left over. What do you think about the idea of pausing paying off my car to help them?

- Samantha

Dear Samantha,

You're a caring young lady with a great heart, who's also making good money. There's no reason you can't do both things. Help your mom and dad with the roof, then turn around and finish knocking out that car payment and re-build your savings. From what you've said, it won't put you in a financial bind, right? I'm really proud of you for wanting to help your folks this way.

I know your mom and dad work hard. And they're obviously good people to have raised a daughter like you. But I want you to think about one thing. If you make a habit of fixing their lives without them having a hand in fixing their lives, this scenario could become a nightmare for everyone.

I'd go ahead and help them, but the only way I'd do it is if they promise to let you help them address the reasons they don't have any money—and if they agree to get financial counseling. I can tell you love your mom and dad a lot. And I'm sure they work too hard to be broke. I'm not talking about fussing at them or shaming them, I'm talking about sitting down and having a loving discussion about the issues and what they can do to start making positive financial changes in their lives.

The fact that your folks have worked their entire lives, and can't come up with money for roof repairs on a small home, tells me something's wrong. The fact that they don't have any money is the symptom. The problem is they've made poor decisions and mishandled the dollars they earned. Even if you don't make a lot, you can still have a little cash set aside for emergencies if you manage it well.

- Dave
