SPEAK OUT!!!

The Mount Morris Shopper feels that everyone has a right to be heard (or read, in this case) so we are offering this page each week (space permitting) for our readers to share their ideas, views, feelings or whatever. Realizing that everyone cannot AFFORD to pay for this privilege, the Mount Morris Shopper is offering this page as a FREE Public Service for articles or letters sent in for publication. All letters submitted must be signed with the name, address and phone number of the author. Please make letters as brief as possible.

Dear "Speakout",
Separation of Church and State.

A couple of weeks ago, one of our "Speak Out" contributors challenged some of my statements in my July 10th article entitled "Make America Great Again" or "Build Back Better".

I purposely waited and gave much thought regarding a rebuttal because I believe in facts rather than personal opinions. I respect my fellow "Speak Out" contributor's views and her right to freedom of the press. Therefore, my rebuttal will include specific facts and not my personal opinions.

To begin, there is no mention of "separation of church and state" in any founding document including the Declaration of Independence, the United States Constitution or any of the Amendments to the Constitution. The phrase "separation of church and state" originated from President Thomas Jefferson who wrote a letter to the Danbury Baptist Association of Connecticut on January 1, 1802, as a response to their concern that the federal government might establish a national religion. He reassured this group that a "legislature could 'make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof,' thus building a wall of separation between Church & State."

This phrase is not a cornerstone of the First Amendment. Liberals now state that this phrase is part of our founding documents and use that concept to restrict Christianity because they wish God completely out of our culture. I agree with my fellow contributor that America does not have a national religion. But that does not mean that Christianity can have no influence in American life today as many would have it.

My fellow contributor mentioned that our Constitution does not revolve around the Bible. A thorough study of our United States Constitution reveals that 34 percent of its direct quotes came from the Bible.

My fellow contributor has proposed that "socialism" is a good thing. I disagree because we are expecting our government to do for us instead of we doing for ourselves. When we do this, we are eroding our freedoms as big government is more than pleased to do for us as long as we are willing to pay for their socialistic programs.

I agree with my fellow contributor that both Democrats and Republicans are served by capitalism. I agree that corporate profits are soaring while wages are stagnant, and people cannot afford housing.

I disagree that education, childcare, unemployment, and healthcare are infrastructure as I pointed out from Merriam-Websters dictionary.

I fully agree with my fellow contributor that the United States of America is not a Christian nation. Our country was established on Christianity, but the majority of American churches are lukewarm and no longer preach the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

The idea that Jesus Christ supported socialism is absurd. For centuries it was the duty of the individual family to care for the elderly and help others with food and housing. Jesus never suggested that it was the job of government to take care of us. Anyone who ever talked to anyone living during the early 20th century would have learned that families took care of one another and did not rely on government to do so.

Today we rely on big brother to take care of us. Lord willing, I will send another article next week.

I look forward to reading your views.

Ron Powell
 Nunda

Dear "Speakout",

Recent letters have spoken to the difficulty in finding credible journalism.

Unfortunately, every single thing produced by a human person has a bias -- it comes from a specific person, who has the viewpoints they do. Our job as media consumers is to be critical of the content we see, listen to, and read.

One of the best things a news consumer can do is to look for multiple, credible, sources saying the same thing. Be wary of phrases and words that invoke strong emotion or are blatant opinions. Double-check other news outlets for specific details.

News on television must both conform to "between commercials" timeframes and are hosted by networks, funded by commercials. In general, print or audio-only will have more context and less "gimmicky" fear-mongering (because there is not an incentive in keeping you until the next commercial, as exists with video). Aim for a mixture of print, audio, and video -- and as always, corroborate.

Sites like AdFontes Media have actually built huge databases to analyze outlets' balance of fact and opinion, and where they "lean" on the "liberal/conservative" spectrum and have charts for websites, television shows, podcasts and other content. Search for "the Media Bias Chart" if you'd like to see them.

In general, the Associated Press, PBS and NPR are some of the most objective national news sources one can find. If you look up the Media Bias Chart, you'll see them nearest the middle.

Fortunately, we are also home to several local press organizations such as the Mount Morris Shopper, the Livingston County News, the Batavia Daily News, the Warsaw Country Courier, Video News Service, the Batavian, and more.

As local organizations, they are not beholden to large corporate advertisers and network executives; frankly, it's been aggravating to see local reporters, photographers and editors lumped in as "The Media" and painted with the same brush as FOX and MSNBC.

Ultimately we need journalists, because none of us have time to absorb the enormity of material in, say, a Supreme Court argument -- and simply because the majority of us aren't physically present for everything we need or want to know about. We cannot eliminate human bias and are unlikely to reduce hyperbolic clickbait. But by being responsible about what we consume and share, and supporting the organizations doing good journalism, we at least take steps in the right direction.

Regards,
 Lauren Berger

WATER SURVEY

The Town of Mount Morris is considering a Town-Wide Extension of Public Water project. The purpose of this project is to provide a safe and reliable potable water supply. In addition, the project would provide fire protection for residents located within the proposed Town of Mount Morris Water District No.2. In order for the Town to determine if this public water project should be pursued, the Town is conducting surveys. Surveys have been mailed out to Town property owners who do not already have public water. The Town would appreciate your feedback. If you did not receive a survey, please contact the Town Clerk's Office at 585-658-2730.

TOWN CLERK OFFICE HOURS

Monday: 10:00am-6:30pm
Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday: 8:30am-4:30pm
Friday: Closed

LOCAL CONSTRUCTION

Please be sure to take care when driving during our local construction phase as traffic can get congested. Please slow down, take your time and drive careful.

MUSIC IN THE PARK

The Town of Mount Morris will be hosting a "Music in the Park" event at Tuscarora Park on Friday, August 19, 2022 from 6:00-9:00pm. There will be a live musical performance by Jim Ronan and Dana Jared. Food vendors will also be on sight! Come out and enjoy this free, family friendly event!

Small Steps Big Rewards

The Aging Mastery Program® (AMP) aims to help millions of baby boomers and older adults take key steps to improve their well-being, add stability to their lives, and strengthen their ties to communities. AMP includes:

-  Classes, Activities, and Clubs
-  Rewards and Incentives
-  Implementation and Evaluation Materials
-  Online Tools and Resources

"This program was very uplifting and I learned that the aging process can be done gracefully. I am working on a plan for the future to share with my family."

The Aging Mastery Program®

In this program, participants take core and elective classes that combine evidence-informed materials, expert speakers, group discussions, levels of mastery and achievement, and small rewards. All of the courses are designed to provide the skills and tools needed to achieve measurable improvements in managing health, remaining economically secure, and contributing actively in society.

AMP Core Curriculum

Navigating Longer Lives: The Basics of Aging Mastery: Introduction to the program and its philosophy with a special emphasis on the new realities of aging, making the most of the gift of longevity, and taking small steps to improve health, financial well-being and quality of life.

Exercise and You: Discussions of the importance of exercising both the mind and body with a focus on strategies for incorporating meditation, aerobics, strengthening, flexibility, and balance into daily routines.

Sleep: Overview of how sleep patterns change as we age, the importance of monitoring the sleep cycle, and simple strategies to improve sleep.

Healthy Eating and Hydration: Review of nutrition as it relates to aging with a focus on strategies for incorporating healthy eating and hydration into daily routines.

Financial Fitness: Introduction to strategies for remaining economically secure in an era of longevity with an emphasis on setting financial goals and setting financial boundaries with friends and families.

Medication Management: Best practices covering how to take medications as directed, how to store medications safely, and how to keep track of multiple medications.

Advance Planning: Guidance around key steps needed to manage health care, financial, and housing/care decisions with a focus on considering the role of personal values and beliefs in these decisions.

Healthy Relationships: Exploration of the benefits of being socially active, as well as the risks of isolation with a focus on practical strategies for continuing to build and strengthen friendships and family connections as we age.

Falls Prevention: Overview of the importance of falls prevention among older adults and strategies to prevent falling.

Community Engagement: Introduction to the value of continuing contribution and small acts of kindness with a focus on identifying personal aptitudes for meaningful volunteer and civic opportunities.
