BUDGET STRETCHING FOOD IDEAS

Rising Costs Eating Up Your Family's Budget?
Tips To Help Keep You On Track and On Budget

by Phil Lempert
(NAPSA)—If the rising cost of food is taking a big bite out of your family's budget, you're not alone. Although the high cost of food is not expected to come down, you shouldn't have to give up the taste and quality you and your family are used to.

Don't worry. Making smart choices will allow you to keep your family happy. Buying frozen meals, side dishes and vegetables can provide great-tasting, high-quality foods for a fraction of the cost of dining out or fast food options.

Here are some tips to help you save money at the grocery store without sacrificing taste or quality:

Always shop with a list: If you don't, it's very likely you'll overspend. Even if you just go to the store for milk, take a note that says, "Just buy milk."

Combine convenience and value at mealtime: According to Technomics, 35 percent of people are eating out less often. Frozen foods such as Banquet Select Recipes deliver incredible value over eating out. For around $1.50, your family can enjoy a complete meal that has been thoughtfully prepared with tender cuts of meat like white-meat chicken, rich sauces, colorful vegetables and flavorful touches like shredded cheese.

Frozen fruits and vegetables are healthy alternatives to fresh: The rising cost of fresh fruits and vegetables can make it difficult to provide your family with these essentials. Buying frozen fruits and veggies will save money—sometimes more than half the price of fresh. Since frozen foods last longer, you can stock up at once and cut down on gas-guzzling trips to the grocery store.

Always make a shopping list and stick to it—if you don't, you might bust your food budget.

Get the whole family involved in saving money on food: Put your kids in charge of clipping coupons and, as a reward, give them a percentage of the savings as an allowance. You'll teach them about value and get some help with this tedious task.

Account for the entire cost of a meal: Frozen foods often provide a complete balanced meal as opposed to some meal mixes that say "just add chicken," which may be the most expensive component.

Don't overlook your savings: Pay attention at the check-out to make sure the prices and discounts from coupons and frequent-shopper programs register correctly.

Working these small changes into your grocery shopping trips will not only save money and time, but they will help keep your family happy and satisfied.

Phil Lempert, one of the nation's top trackers of supermarket trends, is a regular guest on the TODAY show and has written articles on food trends in USA Today and other national publications.

INGENIOUS IDEAS DEPARTMENT

The Perfect Solution For Exterior Mildew

(NAPSA)—To come clean in the battle against dirt, experts have developed a concentrate that is specially formulated to clean and destroy mildew at the same time.

The problem is that the combination of dirt and mildew is unattractive and can ruin the “curbside appeal” of a home. Mildew will not only discolor painted surfaces but will also feed on the paint itself, weakening it and leading to premature paint failure.

Experts say the solution is a house cleaner and mildew killer called JOMAX. When mixed together with water and laundry bleach, JOMAX forms a powerful cleaning solution that is easy to use and requires no special power washing equipment—just mix, apply with a garden sprayer and hose off. JOMAX solution kills mold and mildew instantly. Special detergents dissolve and lift off stubborn dirt while a unique bleach activator removes mildew stains without exposing the surface to heavy bleach concentrations. JOMAX can be used near plants and shrubs and will not damage glass or discolor aluminum, vinyl or painted surfaces.

Don't let the mold grow old. A special house cleaner has been developed that cleans dirt and destroys mildew.

One gallon of JOMAX will usually make enough solution to clean up to 4,000 square feet.

Washing the exterior of a house can do wonders for its appearance. Many homeowners who think they need to repaint discover that their houses only needed a good washing. With JOMAX, homeowners can keep painted exterior surfaces clean and free of mildew all year long.

For more information on cleaning the outside of your home call Zinsser at (732) 469-4367.

YOUR GARDEN

Home-Grown Tomatoes—Straight From Your Patio

(NAPSA)—Edible gardening has become a cultural phenomenon. The need to save money at the grocery store and the desire to have better-tasting fruits and vegetables has sparked an increase in home gardening. According to the Garden Writers Association, 41 million U.S. households have a vegetable garden and 37 percent plan to expand the size of their edible garden this year.

Do you want to take the first step? Consider growing tomatoes in a container right on your patio or balcony.

"Growing tomatoes is one of the most popular forms of edible gardening," says Bayer Advanced™ Garden Expert Lance Walheim, author of "Vegetable Gardening." "They can be grown from seeds or plants and they make an excellent addition to a salad."

Tips For Successful Tomato Growing

- Choose your tomato: The Patio Hybrid tomato was developed just for containers, but you can also grow varieties such as Celebrity, Early Girl, Sweet Tangerine, or Northern Exposure.
- Containers: The bigger the better, but containers that are at least five gallons are the best size for promoting growth. Make sure the container has a hole in the bottom for drainage.
- Soils and fertilization: Use a high-quality potting soil and fertilize twice a month.

When to water: The rule of thumb is to water the base of the plant when the top two inches of soil have dried. Container-grown tomatoes can require daily watering as the plant gets bigger.

Destructive insects and diseases: Whiteflies and tomato hornworms like to eat tomatoes. Diseases such as blight and powdery mildew can harm your plants as well. The brand-new Bayer Advanced Natria™ Insect, Disease and Mite Control RTU contains sulphur and pyrethrins to control insects and diseases that affect tomatoes in one ready-to-spray application. Be sure to read and follow all label directions. Visit BayerAdvanced.com for more gardening information and to view how-to videos or call (877) BAYERAG.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Create An Easy And Practical Backyard Bird Garden

(NAPSA)—Gardening and bird-watching are two of the most popular hobbies in the United States. You can combine both and may make money in the process by creating a backyard bird garden. According to Michigan State University, a well landscaped yard can increase your home's value by 5 to 11 percent.

"Choosing what to plant to create a bird garden is easy and takes only a few steps," says Wingscapes Birding Expert Stephen Kress, author and co-author of numerous birding books, including The Audubon Society Guide to Attracting Birds and The Audubon Backyard Birdwatch.

- What To Plant
- You only need to consider a few basic plants to start your bird garden:
- A front row of wildflowers and nectar-bearing flowers, such as yellow black-eyed Susan and purple echinacea. Consider adding 3-foot-tall stakes for vines, such as the hummingbird-friendly trumpet vine and morning glory.
 - Four or five taller flowering and berry-producing bushes, such as blackberry, blueberry, holly and winterberry.
 - Two small trees that produce berries and give birds a perch, such as flowering dogwood, hawthorn, crab apple or serviceberry.
- Feeders and Birdbaths
- Feeders will also attract birds to your garden and make bird-watching easier. Consider a large pole feeder and choose a high-quality birdseed mix that includes sunflower seeds. Spread some of the seed on the ground.

Birds like to splash in bird-baths year-round. The key consideration is to select a shallow bath just an inch or two deep and to keep it clean.

Photograph Birds While You're Away

You can enjoy watching all the birds in your garden even while you're away. Wingscapes BirdCam is a weatherproof, motion-activated digital camera that captures high-resolution photos and videos of birds.

You can view the images and videos on your home computer or TV. You can also e-mail those images or video clips or share them via Wingscapes.com, Flickr™, YouTube or other social media Web sites. For more information, visit www.wingscapes.com.

Collecting
by Larry Cox

“Gunsmoke” Comics

Q.I was a big fan of the television show “Gunsmoke.” I purchased the first three comics released by Dell in 1956. They are in almost mint condition. Although I have no plans to sell them, I have always been curious about how much they might be worth. — Steve, Casper, Wyoming

A.I found your three comics listed in the “Standard Guide to Golden Age Comics” by Alex G. Malloy and Stuart W. Wells, and published by Krause Books. According to this reference, issue No. 1 is valued at $300, No. 2 and No. 3 at $175 each. Your comics were released in 1956 and are not to be confused with “Gunsmoke” issued by Western Comics in April and May of 1949.

Q.I purchased a collection of 1,750 78-rpm recordings from an estate sale. The records are all songs issued on the Tops label and originally belonged to a distributor. They are still in their cardboard mailing cartons from the 1950s. I paid $2,000 for the entire collection and wonder where I can re-sell them. — Carlie, Temple, Texas

A.The Tops Record Company was a dime-store label, not that there's anything wrong with that, as Jerry Seinfeld would say. The problem is that most of the artists that recorded for Tops are unknown, the arrangements lackluster and the discs of little or no interest to collectors. According to two dealers I contacted, Tops generally sell for less than 25 cents each, even in mint condition. Since the records are worth only a fraction of what you paid, selling this collection and recovering the $2,000 you invested will be virtually impossible.

Q.I have several dozen older books, and live in an area where my nearest book dealer is several hundred miles away. How can I find out how much my books are worth? — Connie, Roundup, Montana

A.One of the best resources for you is a nifty website, www.abe.com. Type in the name of your book and the author, and it will reveal where the book is being offered for sale and how much. Pay close attention to both the condition and edition, since prices will vary a great deal based on these two factors.

Write to Larry Cox in care of KFWS, 628 Virginia Drive, Orlando, FL 32803, or send e-mail to questionsforcox@aol.com. Due to the large volume of mail he receives, Mr. Cox cannot personally answer all reader questions, nor does he do appraisals. Do not send any materials requiring return mail.

Hints For Homeowners

Extend Your Living Space With A Front Porch

The more things change, the more they stay the same — particularly when it comes to home design features such as this porch.

(NAPSA) — A growing number of homeowners are looking for ways to get more out of their property and expand their living space. Many have decided the answer lies in either adding or remodeling a porch.

New research unveiled at the 2009 International Builders’ Show reveals that the majority of homebuyers want a front porch. This reflects a previous National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) study that reports the front porch will be a standard feature on homes by 2015. It’s a sort of throwback to the turn of the 20th century.

In fact, the front porch is one of many elements building industry insiders say are changing about the American home, according to the NAHB’s “Home of the Future” study. Other trends include smaller square footage, two-story design and resource efficiency.

For many, a front porch provides an affordable extra room that refreshingly comes without walls — literally and figuratively. In other words, the front porch can serve as a dining room, game room, reading room, office, even the neighborhood’s hangout.

Whatever the reason, builders and remodelers who think outside the walls by adding a porch, or “the American Great Room” as CertainTeed calls it, stand to gain customers and move inventory. Consumers who are driving this trend view porches as a way to gain living space, curb appeal and home value.

Consumers interested in adding a front porch to their new construction or existing home can obtain design ideas by visiting the Dream Porch Web site at www.certainteed.com/porch.

Of course, as more homes are being built or remodeled to include a front porch, a simple drive around town will also spur design ideas.

Good Housekeeping

Potato Kugel

Kugel is essential on the Passover table. This version includes grated potatoes and onions, and is baked like a casserole in the oven.

- 4 tablespoons olive oil
- 1 large (10 to 12 ounces) onion, finely chopped
- 3 large eggs
- 1 large egg white
- 1/4 cup packed fresh flat-leaf parsley, finely chopped
- Salt
- Pepper
- 1 teaspoon fresh thyme leaves, chopped, plus additional sprigs for garnish
- 3 pounds all-purpose potatoes

1. Heat oven to 400 F. Brush shallow 2-quart ceramic or glass baking dish with 1 tablespoon oil.

2. In 12-inch skillet, heat 1 tablespoon oil on medium until hot. Add onion and cook 9 minutes or until golden brown and tender, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, in large bowl, combine eggs, egg white, parsley, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper until eggs are blended. Add thyme to skillet and cook 1 minute, stirring. Remove skillet from heat.

3. Working quickly, peel potatoes and grate in food processor with grating attachment or on the large holes of a box grater. Add potatoes to egg mixture as you grate to prevent potatoes from turning gray; then add onions. Stir until well-blended. Transfer potato mixture to prepared dish and spread in even layer. Brush top of potatoes with remaining 2 tablespoons oil.

4. Bake 1 hour to 1 hour 10 minutes or until browned on top and tip of small sharp knife pierces easily through potato mixture. Cool in pan 10-15 minutes. Garnish with thyme sprigs; serve warm. Makes 8 side dish servings.

Tip: To make ahead, cool completely, cover with foil, and refrigerate up to overnight. Reheat, covered, in 400 F oven 30 minutes or until warm.

FISHING TIPS

Make Your Next Fishing Trip An Eco-Friendly One

(NAPSA)—The next time you go fishing, be an environmentally conscious angler and keep your favorite fishing spots clean to ensure that future generations can reap the many rewards of the sport, says BP Pro Bass Angler Judy Israel, an 11-year veteran on the professional bass fishing circuit. On tour 120 days a year, Israel spends the majority of her time fishing and she has some simple tips on how to make your next excursion more enjoyable and eco-friendly:

Lighten your load before you hit the road and the water

An eco-friendly fishing trip begins before you hit the water, so be sure to prepare your tow-vehicle (or car) and boat for the trip. Before you tackle the drive, get the "junk out of your trunk" and leave nonessential items housed on your boat at home. "You can save fuel by taking simple steps like lightening your vehicle's load and keeping your tires properly inflated," said Israel. "And, don't forget to stop at your local BP to fill up with quality fuel. With continuous use, quality fuel, like that at BP, can clean up a dirty engine caused by the use of low quality fuel, resulting in smoother acceleration, less hesitation, restored fuel economy and reduced emissions."

Before you cast your line, bait with the right hooks

Oftentimes, an angler's hook can get caught in a fish's mouth; by using bronze hooks, which rust out over time, you can reduce the risk of injuring the fish. Avoid stainless steel hooks, since they are very durable and have a higher chance of lingering within a fish's mouth after it has been released.

There are a number of ways you can protect the great outdoors.

While on the water, choose lead-free sinkers

Sinkers are easy to lose and can end up sitting at the bottom of fishing spots for years. Most are made from lead, a highly toxic metal that has adverse effects on the nervous and reproductive systems of fish. Recently, eco-friendly alternative sinkers entered the market that are lead-free and some are even invisible to fish.

After you've reeled-in the "big catch"... release it

Be sure to release your fish after catching it, to help reduce bass mortality and to ensure this popular sport maintains a healthy fish stock for future generations. "Taking proper care of the species is the number-one priority of environmentally conscious anglers," said Israel. "It's exciting when you reel in a great catch, but releasing your fish back into its natural environment will keep the sport of bass fishing alive for a long time to come."

Although it may take some small, initial changes to make your fishing routine green, Israel says it pays to make the switch.

I wasn't looking for a discount funeral. I was looking for an affordable one.

Most "discount funerals" mean less money, less service, less attention to detail, less of everything. An affordable funeral is a complete funeral based first on the needs of the family, then priced to fit within their budget.

(NAPSA)—A recent online poll has linked student travel to gaining a competitive edge in business. THE HISTORY CHANNEL

• On April 5, 1614, Pocahontas, daughter of the chief of the Powhatan Indian confederacy, marries English tobacco planter John Rolfe in Jamestown, Virginia. Their marriage brought peace between the English colonists and the Powhatans.

• On April 6, 1776, the Continental Congress takes the first step toward American independence by announcing its decision to open all American ports to international trade with any part of the world not under British rule. It was the first act of independence by the Continental Congress.

• On April 9, 1865, at Appomattox, Virginia, Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee surrenders his 28,000 troops to Union Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, effectively ending the Civil War. Forced to abandon the Confederate capital of Richmond, Lee had no other option.

• On April 10, 1879, Sandor Herz — the future John Hertz, the man behind what will one day be the world's largest car-rental company — is born in present-day Slovakia. In 1923, Hertz bought a fleet of used Ford Model Ts and named the business Hertz Drive-Ur-Self Corporation.

• On April 7, 1954, President Dwight Eisenhower coins one of the most famous Cold War phrases when he suggests the fall of French Indochina to the communists could create a "domino" effect in Southeast Asia. He predicted that this would lead to the "loss of Indochina, of Burma, of Thailand, of the Peninsula, and Indonesia following."

• On April 4, 1975, childhood friends Bill Gates and Paul Allen found the computer software company Microsoft. In 1987, the 31-year-old Gates became the world's youngest billionaire. Today, Microsoft is the world's largest software maker.

• On April 8, 1990, "Who killed Laura Palmer?" was the question on everyone's lips when David Lynch's surreal television drama "Twin Peaks" premiered on ABC. Shot in and around the logging town of Snoqualmie, Washington, "Twin Peaks" starred Kyle MacLachlan as relentlessly quirky FBI agent Dale Cooper.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19)
Regarding your upcoming challenges, the Aries Lamb should very quickly size things up and allow you to make the best possible use of whatever resources you have on hand. Good luck.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You rarely blame others for missteps that worked against you. But this time you need to lay out all the facts and insist that everyone acknowledge his or her share of the mistakes. Then start again.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You might want to start making vacation plans. And don't be surprised by unexpected family demands. Maintain control. Be open to suggestions, but don't get bogged down by them.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Work with both your Moon Child and Crab aspects this week to keep both your creative and your practical sides balanced. Your intuition sharpens, giving you greater insight by the middle of the week.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat finally should have all the information needed to move on with a project. If not, maybe you'll want to give everything a new and more thorough check before trying to move on.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Too much emotional pain caused by someone you can't win over as a friend? Then stop trying to do so. You have other things you need to work on this week. Go to it, and good luck.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It's a good time to reassess where and how your strengths can help you build, and where your weaknesses can hinder you. Remember to build on your strongest foundation.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That personal matter that seemed so hard to deal with should be less confusing now. Don't rush. Let things happen easily, without the risk of creating even more puzzlement.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Change continues to be a strong factor in many important areas. Keep on top of them, and you won't have to worry about losing control. A personal situation takes on a new look.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A business offer sounds intriguing. But if you don't check it out thoroughly, you could have problems. Take a set of questions with you when you attend your next meeting.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Your self-confidence should be coming back. That's good news. But it might be a bit over the top right now, so best to let it settle down before you start making expensive decisions.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your life, your decisions. Good enough. But be sure you have all the facts you need to put into the decision-maker mixing bowl and hope it will come out as it should.

BORN THIS WEEK: You find much of your creativity with new people who give you much to think about.

Now here's a tip!

by Jo Ann
Derson

- In savory recipes (think cream-based soups) that call for heavy cream, try this amazing, healthy substitute from "Cooking Light": Cook 1/2 cup brown rice in 2 cups chicken stock for 25 minutes. Remove from heat and let stand 5 minutes. Blend with 1 cup low-fat milk in a blender until smooth and creamy. A savings of over 700 calories and almost 90 grams of fat per cup!
- "Got leftover cake? Freeze it! At my daughter's birthday party we had a really delicious cake, but almost half of it went uneaten. It seemed a shame to throw it away and too gluttonous to eat it all before it spoiled, so we decided to freeze it in slices. It froze perfectly, icing and all, and we were able to enjoy it several more times over the following month." — Amy in Florida
- If your toilet is slow to flush but does not appear to be stopped up, check the water valves underneath the rim of the toilet. Clear any built-up mineral deposits with a straightened out paperclip. This allows the water to flush the bowl more effectively.
- Early spring is a great time for garden clean-up chores. Remove dead or damaged limbs on trees and shrubs. Remove suckers at the base of plants. Spruce up your garden beds to get them ready for annuals.
- "To make gluing easier when crafting, I pour an entire bottle of white school glue into a glass mason jar with lid. I use paintbrushes to do my paper crafts, as the glue spreads well with a brush. If I am unable to use a brush, I use a straw to capture glue and "drop" it on other projects. The straw makes it easier to get the glue into cracks or small spots as necessary. Just put a straw down in the glue, cover the open end with your finger, remove it from the jar and position the glue end of the straw where it needs to go, then remove your finger." — J. in Maryland
