Obituaries

John Archer went to be with the Lord on Oct. 25, 2022 in Jamestown, NY. John was a man with a lifelong curiosity about people and places. He was born in Conewango, NY on June 26, 1929. He graduated from Randolph High School as president of his senior class, joined the Air Force in 1948, and then married Patricia, the love of his life, in 1949. Their 70 years of marriage began in Fairbanks, Alaska with the adventure continuing through twenty-one different residences in New York, California, Arizona, and Virginia, and travel across the USA and abroad. Even in his later years he was on the move and could be found taking brisk daily walks. John was a hard worker, moving from setting up voting machines, to tool and die worker, to store manager for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company for five years, to production manager at Ralston Purina for nine years, and finally to owning and operating Archer Lumber Company for thirteen years. John never met a stranger and this was evident in his civic commitment. His community involvement included Boy Scouts of America, coaching Little League, serving on the Board of Directors for both the Arnold Gregory Hospital and First Niagara Bank, as well as leadership in the local Lion's Club. A strong Christian faith ruled his life and led him to active involvement in every local church he and Pat attended, in The Gideons International, and participation in several mission outreaches, including to China, Guatemala, and Mexico. John was preceded in death by his beloved wife Pat and great grandson Emmett Neilans. He leaves to cherish his memory daughter Rebecca Neilans of Lynchburg, VA, daughter Debra Heuer and husband Karl of Huntersville, NC, and son Timothy Archer and wife Patricia of Albion, NY. He is survived by three sisters, Barbara Brown of Olean, NY, Virginia Johnson of Williams Bay, WI, and Clella Mae Essex of Loveland, CO; and by nine grandchildren, twelve great grandchildren, and numerous nieces and nephews. John also leaves to his family a love of God, love of travel, and appreciation for the natural world. The family will receive friends Wed., Nov. 2, 2022 from 10 am to noon at the Peterson Funeral Home, Frewsburg, NY followed by a funeral service at noon. Burial will be in Rutledge Rural Cemetery, Conewango, NY. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests that those wishing to make a memorial consider The Gideons International. Condolences may be sent to John's family at www.petersonfh.net.

3 more sites inducted into Medina Sandstone Hall of Fame

St. Joseph's in Albion, Canal Culvert in Ridgeway and Ryan Quarry House in Clarendon recognized by Medina Sandstone Society

By Tom Rivers, Orleans Hub Editor
Posted 21 October 2022

MEDINA - The Medina Sandstone Society inducted three members into the Medina Sandstone Hall of Fame on Thursday, bringing the total to 35 sites that have now been recognized since the Hall of Fame was established in 2013.

The three new inductees are all in Orleans County and include the Erie Canal Culvert in the Town of Ridgeway, St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Albion (including the parish's lyceum and cemetery chapel), and the Ryan Quarry home owned by Robert and Maureen Christian on South Holley Road in Clarendon.

The Hall of Fame includes churches, mansions, civic buildings, monuments and public works projects from Erie, Pa., to Buffalo, Batavia and Orleans County, Rochester and the Finger Lakes region.

David Miller, Hall of Fame Committee chairman, said the Sandstone Society wants to showcase how the local quarried stone was used to build so many magnificent sites.

"What a wealth of beautiful buildings that have come out of the ground in Orleans County," he said during the Hall of Fame ceremony at Medina City Hall on Oct. 20. "We need to appreciate them."

About 70 sites have now been nominated for the Hall of Fame. The Hall of Fame Committee wants to recognize Medina Sandstone sites with exceptional beauty, architectural uniqueness and longevity, or as Miller said, sites "that have the wow effect."

While the Hall of Fame features many ornate churches, mansions and civic structures, the Canal Culvert is the first inductee that served a more utilitarian purpose as a public infrastructure project.

The stone tunnel is 200 feet long, 11 feet high at its peak and 19 feet wide. It is an iconic site in Orleans County, and is one of a kind on the 524-mile-long canal system - the only place where you can drive under the canal. The site has been featured on Ripley's Believe It or Not.

The culvert was originally built in 1823 and was enlarged when the canal was expanded. The current culvert was built in 1911 as part of the Barge Canal enlargement.

The stone arch structure has a reinforced concrete prism liner directly above it, said Brendan Simon, west region canal engineer for the Canal Corp.

"The structure is near and dear to the canals," Simon said. "I don't know of any other structure like it on the canal system. Our staff is passionate about maintaining key pieces of infrastructure like the stone arch culvert."

Simon said the Canal Corp. is gearing up for the 200th anniversary celebration of the Erie Canal in 2025. That year Buffalo will host the World Canals Conference.

The Ryan Quarry House has been lovingly restored and cared for by Maureen and Robert Christian. The home was built in 1863 from stone likely obtained from the nearby banks of Sandy Creek. A former quarry on the property is now a 2-acre pond. This farmhouse became the office building for the Ryan Company quarry beginning in 1920.

The induction of the Ryan Quarry House at 4160 South Holley Rd. in Clarendon is the first Hall of Fame inductee that has a direct link to a Medina Sandstone quarry operation. This part of Clarendon and Holley would later have three quarries - Down's and Gorman's quarry in 1881, Gleason Place quarry in 1890 and the large Ryan Company quarry in 1920.

The Ryan quarry was adjacent to the house and the building was used as an office building for the Ryan Company in the 1920s and much of the '30s. Writing from Civilian Conservation Corps workers were found inside on the walls of the house during a later restoration.

Dave Miller of the Sandstone Society praised Maureen and Robert Christian for an extensive renovation and upkeep since they bought it in 1977. They credited their aunt Flo Johnson for saving the site when she bought it in 1950. At that point the site had been abandoned with a collapsed roof and trees growing up inside the house.

"She was told it was too far gone," Mr. Christian said. "But she always wanted a stone house in the country." The Christians bought the house from her in 1977 and raised their three children at the house. Mrs. Christian said the sound of the nearby creek and waterfalls is peaceful and relaxing.

"We just love the history of it," she said. "It's built like a fortress."

Her husband said the family has tried to maintain a part of the county's sandstone legacy.

"That's what it's all about - being a steward of it," he said.

Miller said the Hall of Fame would like to include more history of local quarrying families. The group welcomes biographies of families that were prominent in the local quarrying industry.

The induction of St. Joseph's Catholic Church is long overdue, said Jim Hancock, a member of Hall of Fame Committee. The site was nominated this year by former County Historian Bill Lattin. It joins other sites in the Hall of Fame including the Pullman Memorial Universalist Church, First Presbyterian Church of Albion, and the Civil War Monument at Mount Albion Cemetery.

St. Joseph's Church was dedicated in 1897, built of locally quarried sandstone in a Gothic Revival style on West Park Street. The parish also dedicated St. Joseph's School and Lyceum on Main Street in 1905 and then a new chapel at St. Joseph's Cemetery on Route 31 in 1920. The lyceum is the first school to be included in the Medina Sandstone Hall of Fame.

The Hall of Fame Committee praised Holy Family Parish for its care of the three sites for more than a century.

The Rev. Richard Csizmar, pastor of the parish since 1994, said many people over the years have given resources, time and talent to keep up the sites. The lyceum recently completed a $100,000 renovation, he noted.

"They're so valuable, so beautiful, and so memorable" he said about the buildings. "They are gifts from God."

PROS AND CONS OF REVERSE MORTGAGES

and tax payments.

When a person takes out a reverse mortgage, he or she may borrow a portion of the market value on the home. As of 2012, the maximum loan amount available in the United States was $625,000. Any outstanding existing mortgages are paid off with the proceeds of the reverse mortgage, and either a lump sum of the balance or monthly payments are established. A homeowner may also opt for a line of credit with the reverse mortgage proceeds. Here is a more in-depth look at the pros and cons to reverse mortgages.

Pros

A reverse mortgage enables seniors to live in their homes for the rest of their lives without fear of mortgage payments. Because there are no payments being made during the life of the loan, borrowers do not have to meet income requirements or credit checks.

As long as the borrower continues to maintain residence in the home, he or she is still eligible for the monthly payments received through the reverse mortgage. This money can be used for any purpose and is tax-free. Borrowers can opt to modernize their homes or make safety improvements. The funds can also be put toward medical expenses or travel or to help family with their own financial needs.

Because the government insures the reverse mortgage program, borrowers need not worry about receiving their payments. Should a lender fail to make a payment, the borrower is eligible for that money and a late fee as well.

Another benefit of reverse mortgages is they protect homeowners against falling home prices. If the value of the home drops after the loan is negotiated, it will not affect the equity value assessed for the life of the loan.

Cons

One down side to reverse mortgages is that the loans have higher up-front fees than other types of financing. Borrowers have to pay not only an origination fee and closing costs, but mortgage insurance costs as well. These initial costs can be several thousands of dollars.

Unlike a traditional mortgage, where the balance gets lower and lower over time, with a reverse mortgage, no payments are being made on the loan. This means the loan balance simply gets larger over time depending on how much money is drawn from the home's equity. At the end of the loan, when the homeowner moves from the property or the premises is vacated upon the borrower's death, the value of the estate decreases based on the pay-off value of the reverse mortgage loan. Heirs will pay off the mortgage by selling the home and will only inherit the remaining money after the reverse mortgage lender has the loan satisfied. This means men and women will be leaving less money for their heirs, but those heirs will not be personally liable if the home sells for less than the value of the mortgage. The mortgage lender has to claim a loss and request reimbursement from the Federal Housing Administration.

Something many seniors may not be aware of with regard to reverse mortgages is that these loans can affect eligibility for some need-based programs. Although Social Security and Medicare are not affected, Medicaid and other government assistance programs can be affected if a senior has a surplus of funds from a reverse mortgage that are not spent during the month.

A reverse mortgage is a long-term solution. People who are looking for a short-term fix will find that this type of loan probably doesn't meet their needs. Furthermore, it is hard to be approved for reverse mortgages on newly purchased homes. Lenders usually like to see at least six months or a year chain of title on a property before issuing a reverse mortgage.

Many seniors often find reverse mortgages confusing. Seniors may unwittingly agree to a loan without fully understanding the scope of the reverse mortgage. It is advisable to seek counseling on reverse mortgages before applying for one.

Signing up with a staffing or recruitment agency may be worth considering if you want to find jobs more effectively. Most towns have several staffing agencies that you can register with. Some are industry-specific and others deal with many different industries. You will likely need to provide a resume as well as copies of your certifications and qualifications, and you may need to sit for tests such as typing speed or knowledge of specific industries.

Some agencies may only deal with short-term and temporary contracts at first. This may not be exactly what you were hoping for but if you gain temporary employment with a company and impress them with your work, it could lead to a permanent job. It also gives you the chance to meet people who work in your industry, which can lead to other networking or referral opportunities.

A short-term contract can also provide you with further experience to find out if you are actually suited to the role. This is useful if you are not entirely certain what sort of job you want to do.

An agency has a reputation to uphold, so if you reflect well on them, then you will have a positive experience that could lead to increasingly better opportunities.

Using Social Media to Find Jobs

There are many different social media platforms you can use to search for jobs and interact with companies you'd like to work for. You can search for company pages on sites like Facebook and Instagram and follow them, no matter where they are in the world. By keeping up to date with a company's social media pages, you can gain valuable insights into their tone, interests and working style. You can also comment on their posts and start to build a relationship with them. You may even find out about job openings through these channels.

If you're using social media for professional purposes, it's important to make your own profiles suitable. They should convey a good image of you, even though you are using the platforms for personal rather than professional purposes. Use your real name and only publish appropriate pictures and posts.

If you're using this approach, it is a good idea to go back through the content you've posted and make sure that everything you have on your profile is suitable for a potential employer to see. Ask yourself if your social media profiles show you and your lifestyle appropriately and professionally.
