Medina High School Recognizes Four Distinguished Alumni

On December 21st, Medina High School recognized four distinguished alumni for their outstanding contributions to their community and/or their chosen career. The award is given annually to honor alumni, promote school spirit, foster pride in the school and community and to serve as an incentive for the current student body. School Principal, Michael Cavanagh said, "Having worked in Medina for many years, I can definitely say that it is a blessing to be part of a community like ours. The people that we honor today are proof that we are all capable of achieving greatness and truly making a difference in society." This year's recipients are: Elizabeth Cooper Leone, Mercedes Holloway Wilson, Kate Schirmer Messner and Christopher Parada.

Elizabeth Cooper Leone formed Cooper Dolls in 1993 when she combined a love of sculpting with the desire to own her own business. She graduated from Medina High School in 1975 and earned a Liberal Arts degree from Wells College and a Bachelor's Degree in Art Education from Buffalo State College. She started Cooper Dolls with eight pounds of clay and a 1954 sewing machine and began to design, sculpt and market her work as collectible dolls and holiday figurines. She incorporated themes in her work of her memories of growing up in Medina. She has exhibited her work and has collectors around the world and has had her dolls featured in magazines and books. She has won several Doll of the Year awards and was invited to show her work at Disney. Mrs. Leone thanked her teachers at Medina for inspiring her and encouraged students to follow their dreams.

Mercedes Holloway Wilson is a 2000 Medina High School graduate. While she attended Medina, she was a proud member of the Varsity Volleyball, Girls Basketball and Track and Field teams. She is an accomplished singer and sang the National Anthem at Section VI basketball games at Erie Community College in Buffalo her senior year.

At the age of 28 years old, Mercedes was diagnosed with stage two breast cancer. With her belief that a healthy body goes together with a healthy mind, she set herself on a path to not only heal herself, but to help others. While still undergoing treatment, she founded a non-profit organization called For Our Daughters, with the goal of helping girls live longer, healthier lives by taking greater control of their well-being. She started a broadcasting career at WBBZ-TV with a show called "What's the Buzz" and focused on a more healthier lifestyle with a focus on nutrition. She authored a book on healthy eating and started hosting a television segment called "Recipes for Life" on WKBW-TV's "AM Buffalo". She was then promoted to be the co-host of the "AM Buffalo" morning show.

In her spare time, she shared her grandmother's relish recipe as a proof that we are all capable of achieving greatness and now you can purchase Sadie's Relish in many local stores. She also hosts workshops to educate young women on living a healthier lifestyle. She thanked her teachers at Medina High School for encouraging her along the way and extended a very heartfelt thank you to her aunt and uncle with whom she lived with while attending school. She presented her uncle, Dave King, with a special plaque, for helping to raise her into the woman she is today.

Kate Schirmer Messner graduated from Medina in 1988. While at school, she was a proud member of the Medina Marching Band where she played flute and piccolo and was also a Varsity Volleyball player. She pointed to her teachers from Oak Orchard Elementary and on who inspired her love for writing. Because of the educators she encountered at Medina, she pursued English and journalism and received a BS in Broadcast Journalism from Syracuse University's Newhouse School. She went on to work as a television news producer and reporter for NBC affiliates in Syracuse, New York and Burlington, Vermont. She also earned a MS in Teaching from SUNY Plattsburgh and spent 15 years teaching middle school English and Writing.

Kate then began to write and publish young reader books such as "The Brilliant Fall of Gianna Z" in 2009. She received the prestigious E.B White Read Aloud Award. In her career she has gone on to write more than 50 books for children. Her titles have included award-winning picture books like "Over and Under the Snow", "The Brilliant Deep" and "How to Write a Story". Novels like "All the Answers", "Breakout, and Chirp" and nonfiction like "The Next President" and "Tracking Tortoises". She is also known for the popular "Ranger in Time" chapter book adventures, the "Fergus and Zeke" easy readers and the "History Smashers" graphic nonfiction series.

Kate was honored in 2022 with receiving the Empire State Award for Excellence in Children's Literature. Her books often appear on state book award lists, and her science-themed picture books have been honored with the Green Earth Book Award and the Riverby Award for Natural History Writing. She is also a New York Times bestselling author and devotes time visiting schools and libraries around the world to talk about books, writing and reading.

Christopher Parada was a member of the Medina High School Class of 2002. He has been part of the Palace Theater team for over 15 years and the Executive Director for over 10 years. During his time at the theater he has helped lead the Palace to being a central part of the Lockport community. Directing over 75 shows, he has brought his creative style to thousands of patrons, entertained families and helped to boost the Lockport economy. He has also helped to keep the Palace Theater going through the lean years to prepare the business to partake in a four million dollar renovation that is currently taking place. With the help of the Board of Directors, he is ensuring that the Palace will be there for years to come.

When Chris is not leading the Palace Theater, he has a little side gig as Santa Claus! Ten years ago, Chris built the Santa Cottage on Day Road in Lockport. Every December, he plays Santa to local families with the thousands of children who visit the cottage. He charges nothing for this holiday joy and loves allowing families time to talk and take pictures to create holiday memories to last them a lifetime. There is no doubt, that Chris has community service in his heart. He is also a longtime member of the Light Up Lockport committee, that brings residents together to celebrate the beginning of the holiday season. He raises funds to help decorate Main Street for the holidays and assists the community in any way that he can. His hard work, dedication and passion have truly benefitted Lockport and the surrounding areas thanks to his vision and drive. Chris says he is very grateful for this award from Medina Central School District and wishes he could have attended in person.

Mr. Cavanagh says it was an honor to be able to recognize this year's outstanding alumni. To earn this honor, nominees must be a current or former member of the school community, who have graduated at least 10 years ago and who have achieved one or more of the following: excellence in their chosen career, made outstanding contributions to their community or profession or someone who made an outstanding contribution to humanity. "What I find quite interesting is the diversity among the honorees," says Mr. Cavanagh. "They have definitely left their mark on society, whether it is right here in our backyard, or in places throughout our country. It was our distinct pleasure to present our alumni with their plaques and recognize their achievements."

Travel Thoughts By Kim

Let's go on an adventure together...into my Bucket List!

Happy New Year! This edition of Travel Thoughts By Kim kicks off my fourth year of doing these articles. When I was first approached about doing them, I thought there was no way I could come up with interesting things to write about for very long. Well, I guess I was wrong!

I'm often asked "where HAVEN'T you been?" Well, the answer is "a lot of places"! I have an Adventure Bucket List in my head. It never gets smaller because when I complete one and it drops off, I tend to add at least one....or more....to the list. My goal when I first started was to try to visit all 50 states and see as much of this beautiful country as I could before I get to the point where traveling just isn't easy for me to do physically anymore. But, I quickly found out that there is so very much to see and do - it isn't just a matter of visiting all 50 states. I completed that goal in 2019 and began focusing more on specific adventures and branching out of the United States.

So, I thought I'd kick off 2023 by sharing with you some of the items that are currently rattling around in my head on that Adventure Bucket List. This is nowhere near a complete list - there's a lot more I hope to accomplish at some point, but you get the idea. You can follow along to see what, if any, of them get completed and what more I add along the way.

I've always felt like I didn't do Texas the justice it deserves. My time there met all the criteria to check it off the list, but I saw so little of the huge state. So, I really want to go back and see more. I'm thinking maybe flying into Houston, visiting a cousin near there, renting a car and driving to Galveston, San Antonio, Austin, and wherever else I can visit in a reasonable distance and time frame and fly back from wherever I end up.

I loved the time I spent in eastern Iowa and would love to go back. But, this time, I want to visit the western part of the state. In particular, I'd love to see the covered bridges in Madison County, IA. The movie "Bridges of Madison County" was filmed there. Also in that same general area, there is a John Wayne museum, a quilting museum, and other cool sounding things to see and do. Who knows what else I may find while I'm there.

I've recently added Midland, Michigan area to the list. Albion's world famous Santa Claus School founded by our own Charles Howard was purchased and moved to Midland after Mr. Howard's passing. I'd love to see how they are continuing his legacy. Also near there is the Christmas Wonderland in Frankenmuth, MI that I'm told is worth the trip all in itself and the Fantasy Land Christmas Display is in Lincoln, MI. I also have a friend that lives there that I'd get to see at the same time.

I'm obsessed with the idea of driving the Florida Keys. I've been to Key West and would love to go again, but this time spending more time to see all of the keys.

Most adventures start with me at the dining room table with a pile of maps and brochures.

I have plans to do the Canadian Rockies at some point. I'd also like to see more of Canada - like the Montreal, Quebec, and Newfoundland areas, at least.

A ride through the Panama Canal is definitely in my future at some point. I've been looking at a Caravan bus tour that not only takes you on a boat ride through the canal, but also visits other points of interest in the area. I've thought of a cruise, but comparing the two options, I'm thinking I'd enjoy the Caravan tour more....we'll see.

More international travel is an interest to me. Places I'd love to visit are Germany, Greece, more of the Tuscany region of Italy, parts of the Orient, and, I must say, I get a little excited if I ever think of doing an African Safari. All of these are probably long shots, at this point, but a girl can dream, right?

Who knows where I'll actually end up spending my adventure time, but these are some of the places that keep popping up when I think about where I may go next. Of course, I'll share wherever that ends up being with you all and you can always visit my blog at <http://thoughtsbykim.com> to read about places I've been. On the right side of the page you can scroll to find the "Categories" list and click on "Adventures" to pull up anything I wrote with the adventures tag or you can type in any destination in the search box to see if I've ever written about it.

Happy Adventuring,
Kim Pritt

All I need for a grand adventure is a plan, a map, and a camera!

Shop Smart for Vintage Signs

Decorating with vintage pieces can add an eclectic flair that sets your home apart from others. Instead of the cookie-cutter designs mass-produced for home centers and department stores, antique decor can be interesting, eye-catching and, depending on where you shop, more affordable.

One growing trend in decorating with antiques is the use of vintage signs as artwork or even to serve as cabinet doors or headboards. Vintage signs lend well to kitchens and bathrooms but can be used throughout a home as well. Few things can compare to the drama, color and unique typography provided by antique signs. And they can be used with cottage decor or even in more contemporary homes.

Those shopping for vintage signs may have noticed that the increase in demand for such signage has led to an increase in price. However, there are still bargains to be had with regard to vintage signs.

Savvy shoppers often begin their quests for vintage signs at estate and garage sales. Many times people stash away old belongings in attics and basements, unaware that vintage items are highly valuable to others. Shoppers can find great deals on vintage signs at estate and garage sales. Bargains also can be found at store closings and liquidations. You may even be able to purchase the actual sign from the shuttered store.

Online auctions are another place to search for vintage signs. Buyers can bid on signs offered at auction and have many options to choose from. Keep in mind that you may pay more for the convenience of online auctions, and other shoppers can quickly drive up auction prices.

Antique shops are another venue for antique signs and coordinating pieces. Some sellers specialize in vintage signage. Antique stores are popular in many tourist towns and major cities, where more artistic neighborhoods tend to include one or more antique shops. If a particular antique store does not have what you are looking for, they may be able to secure certain pieces you desire from other vendors.

Shoppers looking for antique signs also can purchase reproductions. There are many retailers that produce very good likenesses that may be considerably more affordable than the originals. You also can commission an artist to reproduce signage that fits with your design plans. Some research online or a query of artists in your community may yield prospects who can produce the sign you covet.

Decorating with vintage signs and other artwork becomes much easier when you know where to start your search for materials. Scouring sales, antique stores and even online auctions can generally produce a bevy of options.
