Refill with Randy

By Randy LeBaron

Good morning! Grab your favorite cup. Fill it up. And let's start this day right... TOGETHER!

That was the tagline for a series of videos that I began posting on YouTube back in October 2019 titled, "Refill with Randy". In each episode my goal was to inspire others by sharing personal insights from my life and ministry, as well as highlighting some great things happening in our community, and was often joined by others over a cup of coffee. Now, 80 videos and a blog later, I will be bringing "Refill with Randy" to the Orleans Hub and Pennysaver. Some things will change, "Let's start this day week right... TOGETHER!!!" but my aim to inspire others remains the same.

Pauline Bachorski back, right

As I start this new endeavor I thought I should share a little about myself and my motivation for doing this. Back in the Spring of 2004 I was appointed as the Lead Pastor at Albion Free Methodist Church so, along with my wife, our 2 year old daughter, and our 2 week old son, I made the move from Niagara Falls to Orleans County and never looked back. Since that time our family grew, as we welcomed two more girls to the mix, and our love for the people of this area grew as well. After over 15 yrs. of pastoring at AFMC I felt God calling me out of the pulpit but not out of the area so, in the summer of 2019, I stepped out in faith and started Go Scatter Ministries. Since that time God has given me the opportunity to serve others in a variety of ways.

Pastor Randy LeBaron

In addition to speaking at several churches around the County and volunteering as a Care-Net Counselor, an Orleans County Sheriff's Chaplain, and as a helper on the Hands 4 Hope Ministry Truck, I am also an active member of of P.A.C.T. (Pastors Aligned for Community Transformation), an Adjunct Professor at Robert's Wesleyan University, and the Spiritual Care & Bereavement Coordinator for Supportive Care Orleans (Hospice). I am also adding Interim-Pastor at Medina 1st Baptist Church to that list as of today.

I often joke about how many hats I wear but the reality is that each one represents a door that, when opened, has allowed me to meet and connect with so many people. In doing so I have heard and seen many inspiring things and so my hope is to give you a glimpse of some of the good things I have gotten to experience on a regular basis. My hope is that these stories will fill you up—like a cup of coffee for your soul. So, on that note and with Valentine's Day just around the corner, I wanted to highlight how some have chosen to help those who may be grieving the holiday rather than celebrating it.

Madison & Scarlett Smith

On January 31st my colleague at Supportive Care of Orleans (Hospice), Christine Fancher, and I were invited by Pauline Bachorski, the Service Unit Manager and Leader of Albion Girl Scout Troupes 82007 and 82261, to join them for their meeting that evening at North Point Chapel. Upon arriving we were greeted by a large group of scouts, along with some parents and other leaders, and asked to share a little about Hospice. Afterward the girls went right to work making gifts to give to our patients at The Martin-Linsen Residence (Hospice Home). Using everything from markers, stamps, glue, a cricut machine, and a whole lot of love, the girls made cards, envelopes, and even some crafty flowers, to serve as a reminder that each resident is being remembered and loved. Thank you girls!!!

Emmalyn Curfman

And, as appreciated as the gifts will be to those who may be experiencing their last Valentine's Day, we at Supportive Care also wanted to do something for the many who are experiencing their first Valentine's Day without their loved one. To that end our Grief Support Group, which meets every 2nd & 4th Tuesday of the month at the Albion 1st Baptist Church at 4pm, is going to change up the format for our next meeting on Tuesday, February 14th. After polling current members of the group my co-leader, Amanda Byron, and I decided that rather than sticking with with a typical session we would simply make our group a safe space where people could come play some games and enjoy some snacks together with others who are going through a similar experience. So if you or someone you know is struggling with grief and loss please know that the game night, as well as the regular group meetings, are open to anyone in the community and are free of charge. You may be experiencing Valentine's Day very different this year but you don't have to do it alone.

See you in two weeks!

It is with great sadness that we share the sudden passing of Fredrick Joseph Carlo of McMinnville, OR, on Jan. 30, 2023. Fred was born on March 9, 1950 to Helen (Yoffredo) and Edward Carlo. He was predeceased by his parents, brother Ed, and sister Carolyn (Vandetta). He is survived by sisters Claire (Rick) Safe and Mary 'Maria' Carlo (Windsor Wade), uncle Bernie Yoffredo, nephew Shawn (Andrea) Lischer, as well as several cousins, great nieces and nephews, and a beloved community of friends. Fred was active in sports at Holley High School, graduating in 1968, and designated by the Yearbook staff as the guy with 'the mischievous twinkle in his eye'. After an extended European trip, he moved to the Northwest, settling in Portland, where he became a pioneer in the region's culinary scene. His business, Salumeria di Carlo, produced prosciutto and several varieties of Italian sausage inspired by his grandparents and his multiple trips to Italy. His sausage sandwiches became a must-have at Portland's Farmers Market. Fred always joked that his four greatest passions were red wine, pork, baseball, and women. We can also add the Oregon Coast, the Metolious River, and everything about Italy, his favorite city being Florence. It was in Tuscany that he apprenticed under Dario Cecchini, a renowned Italian butcher. We will forever remember Fred for his big heart, his generous table that created new and lasting friendships, his storytelling, and sense of humor. His laughter will remain forever in the hearts of all who knew him. A Celebration of Fred's Life will be held at a later date.

After a long and courageous battle with cancer, Diana Marie (Steblein) Ingersoll, 68, entered into eternal rest with her loving husband by her side on February 8, 2023. She was born in Lockport, NY, on February 23, 1954, to Roger and Marilyn Steblein Sr. She was a graduate of Lockport High School in 1973. Diana loved baking, and her family looked forward to her homemade treats and beautiful cakes on birthdays and holidays. She also was very talented with a sewing machine and crochet hook, and has left many beautiful pieces for her family to treasure. Left to carry her torch of faith, caring, and love are her parents, Roger Sr. and Marilyn Steblein of Gasport, NY. Siblings Judy (Dale) Livergood of Florida, Roger Jr. (Valerie) Steblein of Virginia, Michael Steblein of Oregon, and Douglas (Betty) Steblein of California. Brother-in-law Donald (Vikki) Ingersoll of Gasport, NY, and sister-in-law Shirley (Bill) Goddard of Pennsylvania. Her husband, David, and sons, Timothy (Colleen) Ingersoll, Daniel (Randi) Ingersoll, and David Allen (Jenna) Ingersoll. Seven grandchildren, Taylor (Mitchell Peck) Porter, Elisabeth Ingersoll, Molly Ingersoll, Madelyn Ingersoll, Dominik Tombari, Sarah Ingersoll, and Jayden Rushing. She will also be missed by numerous aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces, and nephews. There will be no calling hours. A celebration of Diana's life will be held at the Oak Orchard Assembly of God, 12111 Ridge Rd, Medina, NY 14103 at 2:00 PM on Monday, February 13, 2023. In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to Supportive Care of Orleans, 14080 NY-31, Albion, NY 14411 or B. # Planning Your Valentine's Day Proposal

February 14 is a day dedicated to love. And for couples who are pondering their futures together, Valentine's Day may seem tailor-made for wedding proposals. According to a survey of 1,000 married adults by James Allen, an online diamond and bridal jewelry retailer, people really love getting engaged on Valentine's Day. Forty-three percent of Millennials report favoring Valentine's Day for proposals — whether they're doing the asking or being asked.

There are a few things to keep in mind when considering whether or not to pop the question on Valentine's Day. Here are some ideas for planning the proposal.

• Make it your own: Even if the proposal is taking place on one of the most popular days of the year to get engaged, interject some personality into the occasion. Include important elements that are dear to the person to whom you are proposing, such as favorite flowers or a preferred restaurant. Restaurant reservations may be hard to come by on Valentine's Day, so you may want to select a more private meal at home or something catered unless you want to share your proposal with a crowd.

• Visit possible locations in advance: Think about where you would like to propose and visit those areas at different times of the day. Timing a proposal during sunset with the rays creating a warm glow on a park bench or on the incoming tide can make it more magical. Adjust proposal area plans for busier crowds expected on Valentine's Day.

• Have the ring at the ready: Jewelry shops are in demand around Valentine's Day, so be sure to choose and have the ring sized well in advance of the proposal. This ensures the ring will be ready in time. If the ring will be a surprise, get hints beforehand to understand your loved one's design tastes. Consider bringing a friend along when shopping to offer support and advice.

• Use chocolate to your advantage: Boxes of chocolate are ubiquitous on Valentine's Day. Nestle the ring inside of a box of truffles or another favorite confection and have the question "Will you marry me?" attached to the inside of the box.

• Hire a photographer: Work with a photographer to capture the moment, whether it's a professional photographer or a friend enlisted for the task. This way you can be fully immersed in the moment as it unfolds, and then look back on the experience from a different perspective when the photos are printed.

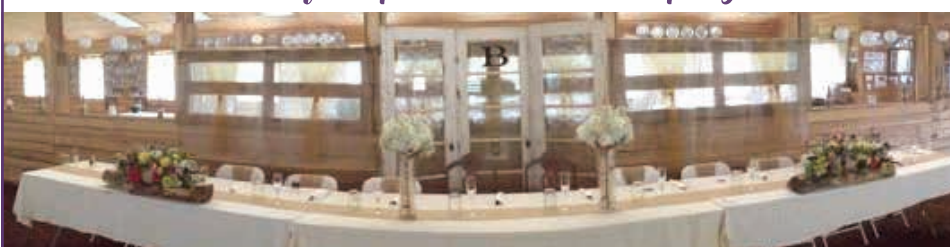

Valentine's Day is a popular time for wedding proposals. With a little planning, the occasion can be even more special.

3 things you should do in the 15 minutes before a job interview

1. Stay calm.

When you become stressed, your body releases stress hormones like cortisol and epinephrine. Depending on the level of your stress, these can slightly or greatly inhibit your ability to think clearly, says David Parnell, a legal consultant, communication coach, and author of "The Failing Law Firm: Symptoms and Remedies."

"Ensuring that you remain calm, collected, and cool in the minutes leading up to the interview is necessary to avoid this hormonal elixir, and keep your mind clear," he says.

Career coach Anita Attridge agrees. She says staying calm before and during an interview allows you to listen better and to stay focused on how to best respond to questions.

"In addition, you are better able to think how you can best present your accomplishments in alignment with what is important to the interviewer — and being calm also demonstrates your ability to deal with stressful situations."

2. Breathe.

This will help you remain calm. "Counting your breath is one of the most immediate and impactful techniques for calming your nerves," Parnell says. "Simply focus on your breaths, counting each until you reach 10, and repeat."

3. Arrive early, but don't go inside.

Few things can shake you more than running late to an interview, so always arrive early. But be sure to wait in your car or a nearby café, as being too early can place unnecessary pressure on your interviewer and start the meeting off on the wrong foot, Parnell explains.

Rita Friedman, a Philadelphia-based career coach, says you shouldn't walk into the office building more than 10 minutes early. "It can come across as an imposition, as if you are expecting the interviewer to drop whatever he or she is doing to attend to you."
