THE MAN WHO MADE SWINGS

Tumbleweed Smith

When Andrew Gunn of Dayton moved into his house nearly sixty years ago it was practically in the country, located about a hundred yards from a two-lane highway. He used to walk across the highway on Saturdays and Sundays to a service station where he met his buddies and they drank beer, ate BBQ and played dominoes.

Tumbleweed Smith Now that former two-lane highway is a four-lane thoroughfare and Andy wouldn't think of trying to cross it because there's a constant stream of vehicles whizzing by. And the area where his house once stood by itself is now an established neighborhood of homes and stores.

Andy used to keep a pet king snake in his front yard. He didn't like water moccasins. Once he found one on his front porch and it slithered into the space between the porch and the house. So he mixed some concrete and poured it in that space. "That snake is buried in concrete," says Andy.

He was a heavy equipment operator and then worked 25 years for an oil distributor. "I retired in 1979 at age 53," says Andy. "That's pretty good, I think." Then he started a business of his own. "My wife and I were setting here one day and she asked me if I thought we could make any money selling swings. I told her I would give it a try and started making swings. It snowballed. We had a good business."

His swings were sturdy, made of 2 by pine lumber. "I built a regular swing, then one that had the state of Texas on it. I built an A & M swing and one with a longhorn steer. Made quite a lot of money back in them days. Lakes around here were just going in and people would show up here after dark wanting swings to take to their property. I had my shop full of swings."

He could make 3 or 4 swings in a single day, working from 6 AM to 6 PM. "My wife would come out and tell me it was time to eat and I'd tell her I'd be there when I found a stopping place." He did all the work himself each one was handmade. "Some people put them in an A-frame or hung them from a tree limb. The swings had armrests with eyebolt screws in them where they could attach a chain and hang them from the front porch ceiling. They sold pretty good."

The swings came in different sizes. "Well you take a 5-foot, 3 people could sit comfortable in it. A 4-foot 2 people, well 3 if you put 2 grownups and a kid, you know. I never painted a swing because I ain't no painter."

He's not building them now, but his swings will soon be back on the market. "My buddy up at Mike's Café is going to start making them again here pretty quick using my patterns. He's getting all set up now."

He made the swings 30 years. When he started, Andy sold his swings at prices ranging from 12 to 15 dollars. When he quit making them the prices ranged from $100 to $150. He thinks the swings he made are still in good shape, comfortable and people are continuing to enjoy them.

Test Drive and Bake Sale Fundraiser for Mothers Against Drunk Driving!

Come out on April 15th from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. to Jay Hodge Chevrolet in Sulphur Springs. Our friends at Jay Hodge Chevrolet will be cooking FREE hamburgers and hot dogs for guests. While you are there, test drive a vehicle and Jay Hodge Chevrolet will donate $25 per test drive to the Northeast Texas Walk Like Madd. Stop inside at our bake sale to buy something sweet! Proceeds from the bake sale help us raise critical funds to end drunk driving, help fight drunk driving, support the victims of these violent crimes, and prevent underage drinking.

YOU CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

WALK LIKE MADD

Walk Like Madd is our signature fundraising event to help us raise both awareness and funds to end drunk driving and fight drugged driving. Many who participate have a common bond, they know someone who has been injured or killed in a drunk driving crash, or they feel strongly about creating a future of No More Victims.® In 2022, around 90 cities across the nation hosted Walk Like Madd events. With every step taken and each dollar raised, we support MADD's lifesaving mission to keep our families and communities safe.

WHY WE FUNDRAISE

Funds raised through Walk Like MADD events allow MADD staff and volunteers in our community to:

- ★ Provide emotional support and assistance with medical and legal struggles that follow a drunk and or drugged driving crash.
- ★ Conduct awareness and research-based prevention programs to end drunk driving, fight drugged driving and prevent underage drinking.
- ★ Support the heroes in law enforcement who work to keep our roads safe.
- ★ Work with state and local legislators to adopt tougher laws, including requiring ignition interlocks for all DUI offenders, and close loopholes in existing laws.
