JCSD holds Church Security Workshop

By Linda Cranford

The recent shooting death of nine people at the Emmanuel African Methodist Episcopal Church in Charleston, South Carolina, has stirred the interest in church security for pastors, church staff, and church members throughout Jones County, and across the country.

This past week Sheriff Alex Hodge and the Jones County Sheriff's Department hosted a Church Security Workshop at the Sheriff's Department Training Center. Over 200 people crowded into the training center for the workshop on Tuesday night, June 23. The overwhelming response prompted the Sheriff's Department to schedule a second night on Thursday, and as of Tuesday, had over 150 people signed up for that session. Due to the increased interest, Sheriff Hodge announced that another workshop will be scheduled in the near future for July, and will be held at the Howard Tech Park Advanced Technology Center in Ellisville.

Tuesday night was not the first Church Security workshop offered by the Sheriff's Department. Several months ago the workshop was offered, and only a handful attended.

In welcoming everyone to the workshop, Hodge exclaimed, "In recent months we have heard the names of our Mississippi towns, such as Hattiesburg, Jackson, and Gulfport mentioned in the national news. The days of us thinking that things happen elsewhere are over. Our surroundings are no longer what they were even a month ago."

When Major Jamie Tedford, Major of Operations, adressed the crowd he said an example of that very point was taking place as he spoke. Sheriff Deputies were on scene at a local church responding to some type of incident at the church.

"It's time to start thinking outside the box," said Tedford.

Lt. Robert Little, Narcotics Division/SWAT, provided a major part of the workshop, with Sgt. Scott Sims, Narcotics Division/SWAT, leading the discussion on the importance of security teams, and security team training.

"The purpose of this workshop is to provide you with information to assist you in the overall security of the church," explained Little. "We want to promote discussion at your church, so that you can develop or improve your own plan, and offer resources from our department to assist you with your plan."

The workshop included a discussion on the types of emergencies a church should be prepared for, and having

Emergencies each church should plan for and be prepared for include weather related incidents, such as tornadoes, lightning strikes, flooding, etc.; structural related emergencies – building collapses and power outages; medical emergencies; accidents – chemical spills, automobile, and bus; bomb threats; criminal activity – property vandalism, theft, burglaries; domestic violence – assaults, kidnapping, sexual assaults; protest or emotionally disturbed individuals; and acts of violence incidents such as an active shooter.

"It's not a one size fits all," said Little. He said each church needs to develop than own plan.

"As we have seen, acts of violence can happen anywhere and at any time," exclaimed Little. Demonstrating the importance of having an armed security team, he showed a video of an incident that happened in Colorado where an active shooter entered a church, and a female off-duty law enforcement officer, who was a member of the church security team, managed to shoot the individual. The gunman had shot four people, killing two, at a training center in another town before coming to this church. He shot five people, killing two, at this church. The female off-duty officer shot the gunman 10 times, but he was still alive, and killed himself.

Sims explained the concealed carry laws in Mississippi, who should be on a security team, how the members of the security team should be identified to law enforcement, amount of training and type of training needed for the security team, and the role of each member on the security team. He also discussed property security.

“What we have found in the Sheriff’s Department and what we recommend to use for identification is a deployment sash, which comes in a small pouch that can be attached to your belt,” said Sims. The deployment sash can be slipped over the head, and hangs across the front and back of the person, like a Miss America sash.

With the help of Sgt. Tonya Madison, Lt. David Ward, Deputy Lou Low, and Deputy Tyler Zugg, Sims explained the process as the officers demonstrated the handling and apprehension of a person in an unarmed hostage situation. The demonstration showed how knowing the little things to do, and working as a team, can make a big difference in peacefully neutralizing a situation.

“You’re not always going to be able to prevent every single thing that happens,” said Little, “but you can downsize the situation with a plan.”

Each church represented at the workshop was given a USB thumb drive containing examples of a security plan, information on state laws, and other information to assist the churches in developing their own plan that will best fit their needs.

Little emphasized the willingness of the Sheriff’s Department in providing assistance to the community in developing their Church Security plan, and helping with security team training.

An advertisement for Stockstill Trucking, Inc. The top half features the company name in a large, bold, black serif font. Below the name is a high-quality photograph of a red Peterbilt 379 semi-truck, shown from a front-three-quarter view. The truck is a conventional cab model with a chrome grille, dual headlights, and a large chrome bumper. It has a red hood and fenders, and a chrome exhaust stack. The truck is parked on a light-colored surface. Below the truck, the address "158 Central Industrial Row Purvis, MS" is printed in a bold, black sans-serif font. At the bottom, two phone numbers, "601.794.5577" and "800.794.5578", are listed in a large, bold, black sans-serif font. The entire advertisement is enclosed in a thin black rectangular border.

Central Sunbelt FCU to host Summer Shred-it day in Laurel on July 11

Submitted

Central Sunbelt FCU will host a Summer Shred day on July 11, 2015 between 9:00 am and 1:00 pm at 1506 Congress St in Laurel, MS. This free community-wide event aims to help citizens safely dispose of their sensitive personal documents.

The 2015 Identity Fraud Study, released by Javelin Strategy and Research, reported that $16 billion was stolen from roughly 12.7 million victims in 2014. We live in a highly technical age, and while cyber security is of the utmost importance, many fraud cases happen due to theft or negligence of physical paper documents. Fraud that occurs due to stolen documents can be nearly impossible to track.

Proper filing and disposal of personal documents can be encumbering, so Central Sunbelt has partnered with Enviro to provide highly secure cross-cut shredding services free of charge to anyone who wishes to take advantage of the service.

With tax season settled comfortably behind us, Central Sunbelt believes that now is the best time to take another look at our personal records and clean out our filing cabinets. With various types of document and regulatory practices, determining which documents to keep or dispose of can be a bit confusing. To help, we have compiled a list of the most frequently stored records and how long they should be kept.

- Paycheck stubs: keep these until you have successfully filed your taxes.
- Credit Card receipts: unless needed for tax purposes, dispose of these each month after reconciling them with your monthly statement.
- Bank / Credit Card statements: Typically these will only need to be kept for one year. However, you may want to keep a particular statement for upwards of 7 years if it contains transaction data that may be necessary for tax purposes.

- Monthly investment statements: Generally should not be kept for longer than 30 days.
- Annual investment statements: Hold these for 7 years past the date of selling any investments.
- Health benefit documents: hold these for 1 year.
- Utility records: Hold these for 3 years.
- Tax documents and supporting records: keep these for 7 years after the tax filing date.

Don't forget to let Central Sunbelt help you dispose of your secure personal documents at 1506 Congress St in Laurel on July 11th between 9:00 am and 1:00 pm.

CSFCU is the third largest credit union in the state of Mississippi and proudly serves the cities of Laurel, Hattiesburg, McComb, and Waynesboro, as well as all of Jones, Wayne, and Pike counties.

Celebrating Independence

By Ryan Griffin

This weekend we will celebrate the 4th of July. In 1776, representatives from the 13 colonies drafted a resolution that would declare their independence from Great Britain. The Continental Congress voted on July second, and two days later the resolution was adopted by the delegates. So we take this day to celebrate and remember the birth of America.

John Adams wrote about the day in a letter to his wife and said., "I am apt to believe that it will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to God Almighty. It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires, and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward forever more."

Of course, our independence did not happen with the stroke of a pen. It took brave people fighting a war for the next several years. It wasn't until the signing of the Treaty of Paris in 1783 that America had become an independent nation.

So, what's holding you back? In your life, career, education...what is keeping you from moving to the next stage? You may be looking for a career move or breakthrough, but you are fearful you won't succeed or you feel comfortable where you are. Famed leadership author, John Maxwell said, "If we are growing, we're always going to be out of our comfort zone."

Just know if you are growing you may not feel very comfortable at times and you may stumble from time to time, but that means you are moving in the right direction.

Maybe it's an addiction or obstacle in your life that you want to break free from or move past. Booker T. Washington had some encouraging words about life's hurdles. "Success is to be measured not so much by the position that one has reached in life, as by the obstacles one has overcome trying to succeed."

Make the resolution that you will overcome your trial, and work everyday to do so. Like our independence from Great Britain, it won't come overnight, you may have to take one small step at a time, but you can accomplish the goal you set.

And for those who have already conquered that fear or overcome the obstacle, then don't forget what Adams said, and celebrate your independence as well.

"Where everybody gets a great deal!"

Football kick-off is just weeks away

By Mitchell Williams

Was reminded of something, the other day. You know what it was? How about this: Football season is just seven weeks away! That’s right, seven dadgum weeks away! High school football games for the 2015 football season will kickoff in a little less than two months. Crazy, huh Seems like we just finished up football season . . . just last month. For a number of people, they wish football season would last throughout the year. Never take a break. Yeah, some folks have never been able to let America’s favorite sport go, at least for a little while. We understand. The South is in love with pigskin and probably always will. So what can we expect in 2015 in our area? It’s a million dollar question. Who knows? But here are a few facts.

*Bassfield High School has won three straight Class 2A titles in a row. No Mississippi school other than South Panola has ever won four in a row.

*Lumberton High has a new head football coach. Zach Jones is a native of Lumberton.

*Oak Grove has a new coach. Randy Butler, a former USM assistant coach, replaces the retiring Nevil Barr, a true Southern gentleman and a living legend around these parts.

*Collins, Laurel, Petal, Bassfield, Hattiesburg, Columbia Academy and Sumrall are just a few schools where their head coaches have all won a state championship in their careers.

*Benito Jones of Wayne County and Octavious Cooley of Laurel are listed as the two most highly sought football players in our area this year. A note, both Jones and Cooley have verbally committed to Ole Miss.

Well, that’s a few nuggets before kickoff. Oh, one more thing. If high school football season is just seven weeks away, the beginning of school is just five weeks away. You ready?

See you at a game soon.

"It could not have been a better experience for a first time mom and dad. Everyone at the hospital was phenomenal."

Lew Yoder

A lawyer, a husband, a son—Lew Yoder has a lot of roles, but his favorite is being dad to his beautiful daughter, Blair. Lew and his wife, Jade, had their daughter at South Central Regional Medical Center two and a half years ago and they remember it like it was yesterday.

"When we moved here, South Central had just recruited a new OBGYN, Dr. Becky Roberts, who was absolutely wonderful before, during and after our delivery. It could not have been a better experience for a first time mom and dad. Everyone at the hospital was phenomenal."

He said, like most new parents, he and Jade would be concerned about little things, but Dr. Roberts was always so responsive when they called. "That is what is great about living in a smaller community," he said, "where you know the doctors, the nurses and even the administrators. It is not like that in larger communities."

Lew's parents grew up in Laurel. They, along with Lew and his brother, went to Laurel High School where the football team still plays "between the bricks". Lew and Jade lived in other places, but knew that when they started a family, they wanted to move back to Laurel.

When it comes to raising Blair, Lew says, "my vision for her is to grow up as happy as I was as a child in a place where she can make great friends and be surrounded by her parents, her grandparents and her aunt and uncle who all love her," Lew said. "I want her to get a great education which she can get here and quality health care at a remarkable hospital with great doctors who care about her, our family and our community." Lew said he sees nothing but a bright future for Laurel and Jones County and he looks forward to living here for many years to come.

There's no place like home.

Our Home. Our Hospital.
