SOUP'S ON IN STANTON

Tumbleweed Smith

Tumbleweed Smith

For 33 years Stanton has had a soup cook-off to raise funds for the restoration of the city's historic monastery and convent complex. I have been privileged to judge it a few times and have always had a good time there. It costs nothing to enter the contest. Attendees pay $5 and that gives them the privilege to sample the soups and vote in the People's Choice category. The winners get handsome wooden plaques in the shape of Texas. Stanton residents bring in cakes, pies and cookies and auctioneer Matt Kiker uses his skill to sell them to the highest bidders. One cake brought $3,000. The final tally for the action was nearly $27,000. Not bad for a town with a population of 3,000.

I tasted all 23 entries. After the judging I went around and asked the cooks to tell me what kind of soup they made. Many of the entries were creamy soups with ingredients ranging from the usual potatoes, celery and bacon to a French Onion soup made with Texas Onions. One was made with Wagu meat and one was made with beer. One entrant said the secret ingredient was love. Stanton's Volunteer Fire Department claimed the judge's first prize for an Andouille-Potato soup. Second place was a soup called Cheeseburger in Paradise. A lasagna soup placed third. The People's Choice Award went to Robbie Gibb for his Jalapeno-Crawfish Chowder.

Restoration of the monastery/convent has been a 50-year effort and it has finally got to the point where the public can tour it and hold weddings and other events there. Regina Hunt has been hired as the first executive director. "In 1882 Carmelite Monks arrived with a vision of creating a German-Catholic Community here," she says. "They finished the monastery in 1884."

It was just a tiny railroad section station called Grelton and because of the Catholic settlers, the railroad changed the name to Marianfield (Field of Mary). In 1890 as the town grew and more protestants moved in the name was changed to Stanton to honor Lincoln's Secretary of War.

A severe drought in 1886 followed by blizzards the following year brought hard times to both the monastery and the community. Many people left. In 1891 only 5 priests were in residence. The end of that year an order of nuns, The Sisters of Mercy, rented the monastery and later turned it into a convent. The Sisters bought it in 1896 and left in 1938 following a tornado that damaged some buildings.

When the complex was vacated, it began to turn into an eyesore. Over the years it was used for many things including private residences, a restaurant and haunted house. But restoration is continuing. "Over the years the soup cook-off is our largest fundraiser," says Regina, "but we do clay shoots, get donations from individual donors and grants. People in West Texas are very generous."

Andrew Burton Wins 2023 World's Strongest Firefighter Competition

The contest was held at the 2023 Arnold Sports Festival in Columbus, OH.

Andrew Burton, a Sulphur Springs native, is the 2023 World's Strongest Firefighter (WSF) champion. The 2023 WSF competition was held in Columbus, OH, on March 3-4, 2023, as a part of the 2023 Arnold Sports Festival. Over 120 competitors competed, and divisions included the Men's Open, and Women's open.

After preliminary events reduced the field down to 18 (12 Open men, two middleweight men, two women, defending champion Daniel Camacho, and one additional entry), Burton, representing Rockwall Fire Station 1 in Lavon, TX, outlasted the other 17 firefighters across four events to emerge as champion. The top 10 finishers are listed below:

2023 World's Strongest Firefighter Results

Andrew Burton
Brooks Larkin
Nathan Warfel
Idelfonso Nieves
Cameron St. Amand
Peter Juhasz
Zack Hash
Casey Shoe
Olivier de Launiere
Harry Walker

The firefighters who advanced were placed into one group, and coefficient percentages were used to provide balanced weights and scoring. 2022 champion Camacho finished 13th overall. Laura Moran was the highest-finishing woman. Julianne Durante won the women's division in the preliminary round before the finals. Harry Walker placed first in the Men's U105 group. Both received trophies for their efforts. The event was streamed live on the Strongman Corporation YouTube channel:

Ambulance Tire Deadlift

The Saturday finals began on the Expo stage with the Ambulance Tire Deadlift — a tribute to the Hummer Tire Deadlift that was an Arnold Strongman Classic tradition. The most reps lifted in 60 seconds determined the winner.

Sandbag Carry

The second event required the firefighters to carry sandbags across the stage and back for a total of 40 feet each. The fastest time was rewarded with first-place points. If the competitor couldn't complete the task, the distance was scored instead.

Axe Hold

Event number three required athletes to hold an axe in each hand out to their sides at shoulder height for max time. Their heads and backs had to stay against a board that was behind them. Weights hung on the handles of the axes to add extra resistance.

Fire Hydrant Load

This is the Firefighter equivalent of the Atlas Stones. The athletes had to lift weighted fire hydrants up to a platform and stand it up vertically before they could move on to the next one. All hydrants had to stand atop their platforms at the end of the event to be scored. The contestant with the quickest time won the event.

After the finals were concluded, Burton received the champion's trophy from Arnold Schwarzenegger. All athletes also shook hands with him, and he also handed each a challenge coin in recognition of competing. For more information about the WSF, go to the Arnold Sports Festival website.
