Veteran's Memorial Museum celebrates Veteran's Day

By Linda Cranford

People from Laurel/Jones County and surrounding areas gathered at the Veteran's Memorial Museum in Laurel Wednesday, November 11, to celebrate our veterans, past and present.

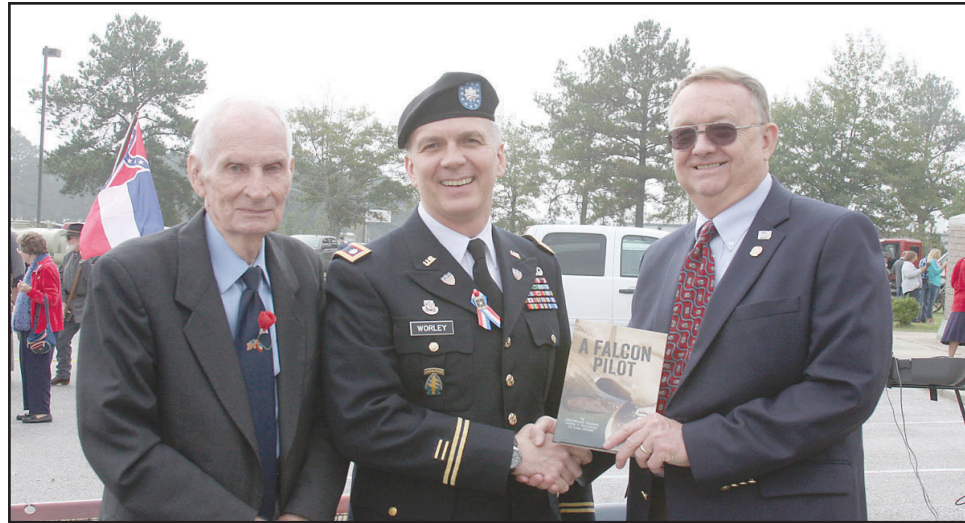

Veteran Rob Ruffin, who volunteers at the museum, welcomed everyone, and Rev. Gene Douglas, Senior Pastor at Highland Baptist Church in Laurel, gave the invocation. Northeast Jones Golden Horizons sang the "National Anthem," and the colors were presented by members of Trail Life USA Troop 38 with Troop Master John Robertson. Ruffin recognized Gold Star Mothers and families of veterans and Golden Horizons sang "America the Beautiful."

Keynote speaker for the celebration was Lt. Col. Joseph Worley, who served 26 years in the military, five of those on foreign soil.

He served in peace times and in war. "The volunteer military is our nation's strength; past and present," stated Worley. "Their families have served, also, and deserve our respect and appreciation."

Serving as a logistician, in 2010, Worley worked on developing a system to move the thousands of pounds of mail being sent to our troops in Afghanistan. "We had to make it (the packages and mail) move fast and efficiently. It moved on contract trucks, contract aircraft, Army trucks, Air Force aircraft, and we even moved it by donkey at the most farthest points in Afghanistan. There were some days we had over 100,000 pounds of mail coming in." He said they were able to work out a system that would deliver the thousands of pounds of mail within 14 days.

Back home in Jones County, the real world

By Kay Scarborough

Don't you love the cooler weather? I feel like I could sleep all day...wishful thinking. Before you get too comfortable thinking there are no garden chores to take care of during November...think again!

We spent most of today sprucing up the yard. We trimmed the leggy blackberries, cleaned up the many flower beds and trimmed brown tops from perennials.

During the drought this summer, I decided that at least one flowerbed had to go; too much to water. In the chosen flowerbed, I dug up all the iris to replant somewhere; husband removed dead bottlebrush, and we transplanted the confederate rose(although it did not bloom at all this year). After filling in the holes, we leveled the soil and mowed over it.

After that, we removed some straggly crepe myrtles from the front of the yard. Had to use an axe on one of them. We cut back a few more things then called it a day. All this was in the front yard, we'll tackle the side and back next, after we rest up from today.

Lets just talk about bulbs for a while. Now is the time to plant spring flowering varieties, my absolute favorite is yellow daffodils. When buying bulbs, select the biggest and firmest ones in the pile, the flowers will be prettier. According to Felder Rushing, whose gardening knowledge and style I greatly admire, daffodils are narcissus and vice versa. Different species sometimes have distinct common names -- paper whites and jonquils, for example, but they are all daffodils. And narcissus.

I recently planted paperwhite narcissus for forced blooming indoors. This means I'm forcing them to bloom now, instead of their usual bloom period, which is spring. The simplest way to do this is to put a few bulbs close together in a small pot or shallow bowl, fill in around them with gravel to hold them upright and fill halfway up the bulbs with water. Keep in a cool place indoors until they begin to sprout then move to a sunny window and keep them watered. You can expect flowers in three to four weeks. You may have to tie the greenery together loosely with twine, to keep them from flopping over. After being forced to bloom in water, the bulbs will not survive outdoors, compost them.

Ever wonder why your daffodils don't bloom? Felder says the usual culprits are:

- Too much shade in the spring
- Poor drainage, bulbs rot
- Too much nitrogen fertilizer, or no fertilizer at all
- Crowded bulbs may need lifting and dividing
- Leaves are cut off too early in the spring
- Plants are moved when in flower
- Varieties planted are not suited for the South

Go buy some paperwhites and "force" them to bloom for you. They smell "delectable" (a very good word I heard from a precocious grandchild).

"There are other ways other than shaking their hands and telling the stories that we can do to honor our military," said Worley. He suggested supporting a military foundation or military program, and suggested supporting USM which has an excellent Army ROTC program. "I ask that you support organizations such as Operation Heal Our Patriots, which is a program within Samaritan Purse that serves couples, and helps them in their marriage. I would also ask that you encourage businesses and other community organizations to hire military veterans and their family members."

Following Worley's keynote address, members of the Jones County Rosin Heels, Camp 227, Sons of Confederate Veterans presented a 21-Gun Salute, followed by the playing of "Taps" by South Jones High School freshman band student Jarod Bush. Following the program, refreshments were served inside the museum, and cups of Jambalaya, prepared by Rev. Douglas, was also served.

Summit Financial offers "From Payday to Paid Off" Program

Get your pay day loans converted to payments after 90 days.

Laurel, MS - Summit Financial Services, Corp, based out of Laurel, Mississippi, has announced a new program to help short term payday loan customers establish credit through their payday lending and consumer finance companies. Any Payday loan customer in the Laurel or Ellisville branch of Summit Financial Services with sustained use of our payday loan service and satisfactory payment history for 90 days will automatically qualify for a more traditional style consumer loan through Summit owned Jones County Finance. This program will allow the higher cost of a payday loan to be moved to the more traditional, lower cost consumer loan with installment payments that will help the consumer get the loan paid out in a timely manner.

"We understand emergencies happen, and when it does, our customers need a way to borrow money until they get a paycheck. We offer short term, check advance loans to help those customers that need help between paydays" explains Kelvin Hall, Chief Operating Officer of Summit Financial. Hall continued, "Sometimes our customers have a hard time after paying off the short term loan, so they need to borrow the money again to the next payday. We are offering these customers who may have no credit, limited credit, or poor credit an opportunity to move the payday loan to our consumer finance division and create an installment loan that will help establish credit or mend poor credit, and more importantly, get the loan paid off with installments. These loans will be based on the pay record of the payday style loans, and those customers wishing to move their payday loan to our Jones County Finance Company will be able to do so, guaranteed, with no credit check, just credit reporting to the credit bureau".

This pilot program is called "From Payday to Paid Off" and will help the many users of payday loans to get back on track with their finances. For more information, visit the office of Summit Financial Services, Corp at 1228 W 5th Street in Laurel or 103 Hwy 11 South in Ellisville (next to Pizza Hut) or call 601-682-0212.

Jan. 28, 1953-Nov. 18, 2014

It's so hard to believe a year has passed. It's as vivid as yesterday that the Angels took you home. Our hearts are broken and will never be the same. Your strength during this last 3 years was amazing to everyone.

You endured so much but kept going, never gave up. We are lost without you but realize you are in a much better place, no more pain, no more sickness and have the Angels with you. We feel your presence everyday watching over us. The look of peace on your face as you were laid to rest was strength for us to go on. We knew God was leading you home. This message below came to us and we knew it was for a purpose:

The moment that you died our hearts were torn into two, one side filled with heartache the other died with you.

I often lie awake at night, when the world is fast asleep and take a walk down memory lane with tears upon my cheeks. Remembering you is easy. I do it everyday, but missing you is heartache that never goes away. We hold you tightly within our hearts and there you will remain until the joyous day arrives that we will meet again.

We love and miss you so much, Connie, Victoria, Paul, Cory, Mom and Brothers & Sisters

2015 Stringer Alpaca Fall Festival Saturday, November 21

Bring the kiddies, and grandma, too, and have a fun day with the entire family at the Stringer Alpaca Fall Festival this Saturday, November 21, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Enjoy feeding the Alpacas, who are in full fleece, meet Daisy – the pigmy goat, see how the Alpaca fiber is made into yarn, and visit the Farm Store. There will be fun jumps for the kids, dulcimer music, all kinds of arts and crafts with almost 40 vendors on hand, delicious funnel cakes, popcorn, and more. Admission is free, and will be held come rain or shine. Follow the signs on Highway 15 at Dean's Smokehouse to 385 CR 155, Stringer. For more information contact Mary Ann Stroka at 716-863-4366 or visit astrokagenusalpacas.com

Picks of the Pine Belt

By Micah Cotten

Pascagoula (9-3) @ Laurel (9-3)

The Golden Tornadoes have now proved they can turn it up late in the game over the past couple weeks in their victories over Wayne County and Hattiesburg. The Panthers of Pascagoula have shown a great defense all season as they haven't given up over 20 points to any 5A team they have played. Their offense provides a solid running game as well. But this looks like it will be more like their 2nd Round playoff game last year where Laurel won 28-14.

Laurel 32, Pascagoula 17

Wayne County (9-3) @ Pearl River Central (11-1)

Wayne County has been hot all season and look like they are angry after their defeat by Laurel as they racked up 58 points last week. PRC has been improving all season long riding a 9 game winning streak with their triple option attack that is always tough to stop. They look to redeem their 42-6 defeat they suffered last season at the hands of the War Eagles.

This season they will pull it off to face Laurel at 5A South State.

PRC 36, Wayne County 30

Bay Springs (11-2) @ Lake (11-1)

Bay Springs and Lake are both enjoying great seasons but Bay Springs is looking better from both sides of the ball. Lakes only loss this season came at home, and they will suffer another one in this game as Bay Springs will host the 2A South State to face the winner of Taylorsville vs Bassfield.

Bay Springs 42, Lake 32

Bassfield (11-2) @ Taylorsville (7-5)

Bassfield will have to go through Taylorsville to get to the 2A South State contest. Taylorsville has a really good offense that can keep up with Bassfield, but the Tartars' defense will let this one slip away.

Bassfield 47, Taylorsville 37

Resurrection (11-0) @ Stringer (7-6)

Stringer wants to avenge their 29-0 loss to Resurrection earlier in the year. Resurrection is looking for another shutout, as they have 7 on the season, while only giving up 32 points in 11 games. Expect more of the same, but Stringer will be able to get on the board this time around.

Resurrection 27, Stringer 7

Kemper County (11-2) @ Collins (12-1)

The Kemper County Wildcats have a more balanced attack than Collins, but the passing attack that the Tigers have hasn't been stopped all season. The Wildcats have the better defense, Tigers have the better offense but Collins will pull away late and continue their road to defending their 3A State Championship.

Collins 44, Kemper County 27

Brandon (11-2) @ Petal (8-4)

Petal has really turned it around this season after starting 3-4 on the season and look to redeem themselves of the 35-14 loss they suffered to Brandon back in early October. Brandon has the team that would be able to win state if they could get there and might be looking ahead a bit as they will find out Petal isn't gonna lay down for them. Petal will make it close but...

Brandon 34, Petal 28

Oak Grove (10-2) @ Meridian (7-5)

Meridian has the most talented team in the entire state and have finally started to gel together. Oak Grove has seemed to wear down a bit as the season has advanced. They edged out Meridian in a last second field goal the last time they played. Meridian will be able to pull it off this time as they head to South State.

Meridian 28, Oak Grove 18

Tornadoes Tiberious Ellis (6), Daveon Rogers (21) and Travion Evans (29), all swarm to the Tiger ball carrier Friday night. The Laurel defense only gave up 10 points in the win.

Laurel receiver, Octavious Cooley (19), grabs this pass out of the air for a big Tornado first down.

Laurel receiver, Dontario Drummond (5) reels in this pass and took it for their first touchdown, getting things rolling for the Tornadoes.

LCS freestyler Kash Eason signs with D2 National Champs Drury University

By Linda Cranford

Laurel Christian School senior Kash Eason has signed a Letter of Intent to attend Drury University, a Division II school, as a member of the Men's Swimming and Diving team starting next summer. Eason and his parents, Ronald and Meg Eason, signed the paperwork in front of the entire LCS senior class Friday morning, November 13.

From 2005 to 2014, Drury University Men's Swimming and Diving claimed 10 consecutive Men's Swimming and Diving D-II National Championships; the longest streak in NCAA-II history. DU is only the eighth school at any level to win 10 straight titles in any sport in the history of NCAA.

"They're the best," exclaimed Eason. "Their times are better than most of the Division I schools."

According to Eason's father, Kash had 50 colleges and universities interested in him. But, after visiting DU he told his parents, "That's the place I need to be." "I liked the campus and the coaches," said Eason.

Eason is receiving an Academic and Athletic Scholarship. He has been on the honor roll every year since the 1st grade and the Headmaster's list this year, and is a member of the Honor Society. He received an English II award, and competed in the ABC competition for Algebra II.

Eason is a member of the Laurel Swim Association and has been working with Coach Warren Holladay since age four. Since age five, he has been top five in multiple events in the state, and has been number one in Mississippi since age 13 in the 1500y free, 1650y free, 800y free, and 1000y free.

"Kash is a hard worker," stated Holladay. "He's always swum hard, but when he was 13 or 14 years old, is when he started really caring about where he was and what his times were doing. Swimming is a hard sport. They have to work a lot. He'd come in at 5:30 in the morning, and we would swim five or six thousand yards, which is three or four miles in the morning. Then he would come back in the afternoon and we'd swim eight thousand or nine thousand yards, which is another five or six miles. If you're going to swim at a high level, it requires a time commitment and a personal commitment." Holladay said he has been coaching his entire life. He began coaching when he was 18 years old, and he is now 62. In his long career, he has coached several Olympic swimmers. "I think Drury is a good match for Kash. They have long tradition of competing at a high level, and they've always had a good long distance program, which is what Kash does. I think Kash's future is bright in swimming. I see him getting bigger, faster, and stronger."

Eason said that being selected to the USA Olympic Swim Team has been a goal of his since watching the 2012 Olympics on TV. He said he looks up to the career of a lesser known long course swimmer, Conner Jaeger, who was a member of the 2012 USA Olympic Swim Team, and has set a national record in the 1500 free.

Eason's father said that since the 10th grade, Kash has been taking online courses with the goal of having more time to spend toward swimming in his senior year. "He works out six hours a day, six days a week," exclaimed Ronald. "I bet he swims 60 or 70 miles a week. He's six foot, four inches tall, and only weighs 146 pounds; and that's all muscle, no fat."

Friday night, Eason was back in the pool competing with the Laurel Swim Association at the Laurel Sportsplex Natatorium. Three weeks ago, he broke the 17 and over 1650 free record for the State of Mississippi with a time of 15:56. Friday night, he broke that record with a time of 15:49. When he knocks off 3 tenths of a second more to his time, he will qualify to compete in the Junior National Championship in December in Austin, Texas.

LRMA's annual Very Special Arts Festival

By Linda Cranford

Smiles, laughter, and music filled the Cameron Center in Laurel Friday, November 13, as over 300 school age children with special needs from Jones County and surrounding counties gathered in the Cameron Center for the annual "Very Special Arts Festival" offered by the Lauren Rogers Museum of Art with the assistance of members of the Laurel Junior Auxiliary, LRMA docents and volunteers, Laurel Arts League, and Raleigh Women's Club.

Angie King, LRMA outreach coordinator, said the event has been offered to the special needs students for almost 21 years. "Our theme this year is Road Trip," said King. As the children traveled to each activity, the activity was associated with a city or state. In California, the children colored a sun, they created a deep dish pizza wedge in Chicago and they went Deep Sea Fishing in Florida.

"We believe this is the only remaining Special Arts activity in the state," said King. "I loved it when I heard one of the kids say, when he walked through the doors, 'oh, it looks like a party.' They really enjoy this day."

The "Very Special Arts Festival" is Laurel Junior Auxiliary's oldest existing project, and they look forward to helping with the event each year. LJA received the Martha Wise award for the event at the 2013 convention of the National Association of Junior Auxiliary. The award is given to the chapter with the most outstanding existing project.
