ARIES (March 21 to April 19) This is a good time to reassess important relationships, both personal and professional, to see where problems might exist and how they can be overcome. Keep the lines of communication open.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's not easy to bring order to a chaotic situation, whether it's in the workplace or at home. But if anyone can do it, you can. A pleasant surprise awaits you by week's end.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Be careful that you don't make an upcoming decision solely on the word of those who might have their own reasons for wanting you to act as they suggest. Check things out for yourself.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A personal relationship that seems to be going nowhere could be restarted once you know why it stalled in the first place. An honest discussion could result in some surprising revelations.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) That unexpected attack of self-doubt could be a way of warning yourself to go slow before making a career-changing decision. Take more time to do a closer study of the facts.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A workplace problem needs your attention now, before it deteriorates to a point beyond repair. A trusted third party could be helpful in closing the gaps that have opened.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A recent family situation could give rise to a new problem. Keep an open mind and avoid making judgments about anyone's motives until all the facts are in.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Rely on your always-sharp intuition to alert you to potential problems with someone's attempt to explain away the circumstances behind a puzzling incident.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Although you still need to do some snipping off of those lingering loose ends from a past project, you can begin moving on to something else.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) With your self-confidence levels rising, you should feel quite comfortable with agreeing to take on a possibly troublesome, but potentially well-rewarded situation.

Generosity

A citizen of substantial wealth was approached for a major contribution to a community financial campaign. The urgent need and compelling case were stated, and the proposal made.

The man responded: "I understand why you think I can give you $100,000. Yes, I own a thriving business, and I exhibit all the signs of affluence. But there are some things you don't know. Did you know my Mother is in an expensive retirement home?" The visiting solicitors had to admit they didn't.

"Did you know also that my brother died with almost no life insurance to support his wife and four children?" Again the response was "No."

"And," he continued, "Did you know my son is deeply religious and has gone into social work? He makes less than the national poverty level to support himself and his family." Almost embarrassed, his visitors had to admit they had no idea.

He finally dismissed them saying, "Well then, if I don't give any of them a penny, why do you think I'll give anything to you?"

Piedmont Pets

April 13. 2023 By Paulette Dean

This is an annual reminder: Spring brings with it the birth/hatching of wild animals. We do not have certification to accept or rehabilitate wild animals, but we can get people in touch with people who can.

Although it seems like such a good idea to attempt to raise a wild baby bird, it really is not. Despite your best efforts, most hand-raised birds will not thrive and will probably die. Besides, it is against the law to have custody of a wild bird.

During spring and summer, many young birds are found on the ground. Any fully feathered baby bird found on the ground, seemingly unable to fly, is probably in the fledgling stage. Birds need from several days to four weeks, depending on the species, to learn how to fly and forage for food. One or more parent will feed them during this period. During the time the fledglings are on the ground, it is vital that cats and dogs be kept inside. With so many stray cats around, this is a very dangerous time for the baby birds.

If any fully feathered baby bird is found on the ground, seemingly unable to fly the best thing to do is to leave them alone, and make sure pets, strays, and other wild animals are kept away from them also. The parents will not feed the baby while people are around. However, if hours pass with no parent in sight, intervention may be needed.

An uninjured bird with little or no feathers found on the ground needs to be returned to the nest. If you can locate the nest, simply put the bird back. The parents will not be frightened by human scent, because birds do not have a strong sense of smell. If the nest is unreachable or you can't find it, the birds this young probably need intervention.

Private citizens are protected under the Good Samaritan laws and can pick up and transport wild birds to a rehabilitator. Feeding and keeping wild animals is illegal unless you have both state and federal permits.

(The information contained in this column was obtained from The Wildlife Center of Virginia and other wildlife rehabilitators. We remind everyone that, no matter how tempting it is, it is not in the bird's best interest to attempt to raise a baby bird. It is also illegal.)

Tiffany Studios

Tiffany Studios is synonymous with luxury and decorative items like jewelry, useful pieces made of precious metals and elaborate stained-glass lamps. The company also made practical objects, such as its line of commercial desk accessories made from about 1890 to the 1930s.

Desk sets include items that office workers are unlikely to see today, like this rocker blotter in the Bookmark pattern. It sold for $161 at Cowan's auctions in Cincinnati, Ohio.

The Tiffany Bookmark series featured the marks of early printers surrounded by panels of raised leaves and flowers. During the turn of the century, office workers would have used a rocker blotter along with a fountain pen and ink stand. Many people who have written with a ballpoint pen have smeared the ink. Fountain pen ink would have taken even longer to dry.

People would speed up the drying with a sprinkle of sand or powder and, later, by blotting it with special paper. This rocker blotter would have held sheets of blotting paper to use on documents written in ink.

Cookie cutters are thought to date from about 1475, with the first American cookie cutters made by tinsmiths in East Berlin, Connecticut, about 1720. Tin was the primary material for cookie cutters until 1920, when aluminum became popular. Plastic replaced aluminum after World War II. Metal cookie cutters with "bullet" handles are especially wanted by collectors. Early cutters usually have

SCHOOL BOARD EXTENDS SUPERINTENDENT'S CONTRACT

The Danville School Board extended Superintendent Dr. Angela Hairston's contract during their regular meeting Thursday evening.

The board voted unanimously to add four more years to the Superintendent's contract. Hairston's initial contract was for 2.5 years and began in December 2020.

"We are pleased with the direction of the school system under Dr. Hairston's leadership," Chair Ty'Quan Graves said. "As we continue with our Corrective Action Plan and MOU with the Virginia Department of Education, Dr. Hairston has proven leadership to achieve those objectives."

Since December 2020, Hairston has served as Superintendent. In that time, she has led the work on the Corrective Action Plan for the division, renovation and construction plans after the passing of the one-percent sales tax in November 2021, and several other initiatives.

"I am thankful that the board has confidence in me to continue the important work at Danville Public Schools," Hairston said. "I look forward to working with our administration and teachers as we all work to reach our goals."

Complex Jargon Prevents Patient From Understanding Diagnosis

DEAR DR. ROACH: After many bouts of pain in my left leg, I was referred for an MRI. They diagnosed me with left lumbar radiculitis, spondylolisthesis and lumbar spondylosis. There are many people in my independent living facility who have gotten similar diagnoses. As an RN with a master's in nursing education, I have a question: When the diagnoses are made, do doctors not explain the problem in layman's terms? I only found out what my list of diagnoses were from a physical therapist, to whom I was referred. -- N.F.P.

ANSWER: Doctors certainly should explain their diagnoses in language appropriate for their patients. We can forget that the language we use is sometimes incomprehensible, but that's not an excuse. A patient should always feel comfortable in saying they don't understand a diagnosis, or any other word or phrase their doctor uses, and ask for more explanation. Many of the most effective communicators I have seen not only ask the patient whether they understood, but have made sure their patient can explain it back to them.

In your case, these specific diagnoses are generally not well-known by nonexperts, and I am disappointed that they did not give you an explanation. Lumbar radiculitis is essentially sciatica -- it's an inflammation of the large bundle of nerve roots, which usually causes pain down the leg into particular locations, based on which nerves are being affected. It is not a specific diagnosis, as it doesn't say what is causing the damage to the nerves.

Spondylolisthesis is a condition where one vertebra overlaps another one below it (front to back, not side to side). Very mild spondylolisthesis will not cause any symptoms, but more severe cases can cause damage to the nerve roots. Spondylosis of the lumbar vertebrae is a nonspecific term signifying degeneration of the spine, usually due to osteoarthritis and often including degeneration of the disks in between the vertebrae.

DEAR DR. ROACH: What are the risks for longterm usage of metformin for prediabetes? -- T.G.

ANSWER: Metformin is a commonly used treatment for Type 2 diabetes, but has also been proven to prevent, or at least delay, the onset of diabetes in people who are at risk. This includes those who already have abnormal blood sugar but don't yet meet the diagnostic criteria for diabetes -- called "prediabetes" or "impaired glucose tolerance."

Metformin works mostly by preventing the liver from making sugar. This allows the insulin a person makes to work on dietary sugar instead and, in turn, lowers insulin levels, thus promoting weight loss.

Metformin is a very safe drug with few long-term side effects. The most common side effects are gastrointestinal -- nausea and diarrhea are the most common. These usually go away after some time and can be minimized by using the long-acting form of the drug. Vitamin B12 deficiency happens in about 20% of people over a span of five years. The most severe side effect is called lactic acidosis, but this is extremely rare when metformin is only given to people with normal kidney function. Kidney function and blood sugar levels should be periodically checked when on metformin, whether for diabetes or prevention.

Dr. Roach regrets that he is unable to answer individual questions, but will incorporate them in the column whenever possible. Readers may email questions to ToYourGoodHealth@med.cornell.edu.

Living Long Lives in the Blue Zones

In several parts of the world there are large populations that regularly live into their 90s and even pass 100 years. They're called Blue Zones, those parts of the world where seniors live longer, healthier lives. It started as a National Geographic project to look for the secrets to longevity. They were able to identify five locations: Loma Linda, California; Nicoya, Costa Rica; Sardinia, Italy; Ikaria, Greece; and Okinawa, Japan.

Fascinated scientists began to study these over-100 people and concluded that they had nine commonalities. They are:

-- The Blue Zoners move and exercise naturally, working in gardens and going about their lives with frequent walks, not engaging in heavy-lifting gym visits.

-- They have a purpose to each day.

-- They do what they must to avoid stress. Some pray, some have happy hour, some take naps, but they intentionally do something.

- They follow Confucius' rule to stop eating when * Rub hands with lemon slices to get rid of onion or fish smells. Afterward, you can put the lemon slices down your garbage disposal unit with a few ice cubes to get rid of smells there, too.

* Here's a great way to get a longer life out of a bar of soap: Press the plastic top of a pop bottle into the side of a wet bar of soap. When you set the bar down in your soap dish, put it plastic side down. This way, the bar doesn't sit in any residual water and turn into a goopy mush. The plastic top comes out easily if you need to remove it. -- Y.P. in Illinois

* Nylon stocking strips are great and work really well in the garden. If you have a pair that has a run, chop them up into pieces. You can use them to tie up staked plants, as they are strong but gentle enough to not cause any harm. -- E.S. in Wisconsin

* Reduce your energy costs of drying clothes by hanging heavy items (think towels, throw blankets, jeans, sweats) for a few hours to air dry before popping them in the dryer. You can cut the drying time by as much as two-thirds, and still get that tumble-dried softness. -- M.N. in Missouri

* Keep a kitchen timer near your phone so you can limit the length of long-distance calls. They can add up quickly if you don't watch it!

* Renew your paintbrushes with this trick: Heat vinegar to boiling. Pour into a tall, narrow container that won't melt. Add hardened brushes, bristle side down. Stick a pencil through the hole in the paintbrush handle and balance it across the top of the container. It keeps the bristles from bending in the bottom of the container. Let brushes soak until vinegar is cooled. Use a wire brush to clean.

From Meatloaf to Burgers to Meatballs: One Recipe, Endless Possibilities

There are few foods more comforting than good old-fashioned meatloaf. I'm always surprised how much my family loves this humble dish, especially the kiddies. Who knew happiness could come in such an unassuming little package?

There are several delicious reasons to make this recipe. It's moist and tender, packed with flavor and sneaks in a serving of veggies. (Shhh, don't tell the kiddies!) It really stretches a buck, and this same recipe makes burgers and meatballs, too. Leftovers make the most amazing grilled meatloaf sandwiches, ever. Oh! Stretchy Beef and Veggie Meatloaf, where have you been all my life?

- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 teaspoon salt and several grinds of pepper
- For the glaze:
- 1/2 cup ketchup
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/4 cup mustard

Preheat oven to 350 F. Lightly grease a 5-x-9-inch loaf pan or 9-x-13-inch baking pan.

In a skillet on medium-high heat, saute the onion, carrot and celery in butter or oil until the onion is soft. Season liberally with salt and pepper. Add the garlic and stir it all around until it's softened and smells divine.

Place the veggies in a large mixing bowl and let them cool for a minute. To the veggies, add breadcrumbs, beef, eggs, Worcestershire, salt and pepper. Use your (very clean) hands to gently mush it all together.

Place the mixture into the loaf pan or shape into a loaf in the baking pan. In a small bowl, combine glaze ingredients. Brush meatloaf with half the glaze.

Bake for 55 minutes. Remove meatloaf from the oven and spread with remaining glaze (because it's all about the glaze). Return to the oven for 15 more minutes. Test for doneness; your meat thermometer should read 160 F. Let meatloaf rest for 10 minutes before slicing.

Here are some tips for meatloaf lovers. Substitute Parmesan cheese for breadcrumbs for gluten free meatloaf. Don't overmix, because that makes meatloaf dense, dry and tough. Since shapes of meatloaf vary widely, cooking times will vary as well, but a rule of thumb is 35 minutes per pound of meatloaf. Mini meatloaves made in a muffin tin take 20 to 30 minutes total.

This recipe makes six generous portions, but I always make a double batch. There's never a crumb gone to waste. Serve with mashed potatoes, peas and carrots to make your own Blue Plate Special.

STRETCHY BEEF AND VEGGIE MEAT-LOAF

- 1 tablespoon butter or oil
- 2 carrots, shredded
- 2 stalks celery, finely minced
- 1 medium sweet onion, minced
- 2 cloves garlic, minced or pressed
- 3/4 cup breadcrumbs
- 2 pounds 85% lean ground beef
- 2 eggs

For Burgers: Shape the meatloaf mixture into burger patties and barbecue, pan-fry or broil. Top with a slice of cheese and let that melt. Then pop it on a bun with the usual accompaniments. You've got yourself a scrumptious little burger.

For Meatballs: Roll heaping tablespoons of the meatloaf mix into meatballs. Place on a baking sheet and bake at 350 F for 30 minutes or until a meat thermometer reads 155 F. Serve with pasta or make meatball subs. These also make a great snack or appetizer.

Want to know why I always make a double batch? Because I need leftovers to make irresistible grilled cheesy meatloaf sandwiches. Put a schmear of ketchup on the bottom slice of bread, top with meatloaf and cheese slices and the second slice of bread. Spread butter on the outside of both pieces of bread. Heat a skillet and cook the sandwich on both sides until golden brown and delicious. Bon appetit!

1. That was the name used by songwriting duo Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller. They wrote over 70 hits, including "Jailhouse Rock" and "Stand By Me."

2. Johnnie Ray. He was left death after an accident at a Scout camp as a boy.

3. Simon & Garfunkel's "El Condor Pasa (If I Could)" is from a 1913 Peruvian instrumental. Simon, having been told by a band that it was an old folk song, was eventually sued for copyright infringement, not knowing the melody actually had been copyrighted in the U.S. since 1933.

4. The Spinners, in 1972.

5. "Kansas City," by Wilbert Harrison in 1959. The song was written by the Elmo Glick duo, mentioned above, two 19-year-old R&B fans who went on to have long writing careers.
