Ellisville Mayor proclaims March IDD Awareness Month

Submitted
Ellisville Mayor Tim Waldrup recently welcomed guests to City Hall where he signed a proclamation declaring March as Intellectual/Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month in the city of Ellisville.
Waldrup acknowledged that Ellisville has citizens who have intellectual and developmental disabilities. He said he wants people in Ellisville and elsewhere to be mindful of their contributions to society. The mayor stated that regardless of who a person is or where they come from, they have a purpose in life.
“We all have something to contribute to society,” said Waldrup. “People with intellectual and developmental disabilities should be given an opportunity. They should be treated with dignity and respect, just like everyone else in the community, state and nation.”

Waldrup said people with intellectual and developmental disabilities are very active in the Ellisville community. He added that he often sees them shopping, eating at restaurants, and attending church in the city. “They are absolutely engaged in life and are busy doing what they can to help themselves and their families.”
The mayor further stated, “Everyone must remember to treat people like they want people to treat them.”
Ellisville is among the many cities, organizations, and agencies across the state and country that observe National Intellectual/Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month. The observance began in 1987, when President Ronald Reagan declared March as Developmental Disabilities Awareness Month. The goal was to bring awareness to the needs of people with developmental disabilities and to help others understand the challenges often faced by the more than 7 million Americans living with a developmental disability who strive to be fully included in society.
In recent years, those with intellectual disabilities were added to the awareness campaign. Each year activities and events are held in March to promote awareness of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities and focus on their accomplishments and abilities as they contribute to their communities.

LLT Kids' Camp registration period is now open, and continues until the camp max is reached and registration is closed about a month from now. Absolute deadline to register is May 10th (if the camp hasn't filled and closed before then) - that allows time for all materials to arrive to the students. The registration will be done on-line this year. You can find a link to that page from the LLT website LaurelLittleTheatre.com. If you have any problems with the on-line registration, drop a line to LLTLaurelMS@aol.com or camp director Angie Hodge at AngieDHodge@yahoo.com. Camp is open to students that will be entering grades 1 through 9 next fall.

Pet of the Week

SPONSORED BY: JIM CLARK

Tripp, a beautiful Australian cattle dog mix, is around two years old. He has been neutered and is up to date on vaccinations. Tripp does not care much for other dogs, so he will need to be the only dog in his family. He is an active dog, but he must take things easy for a while, because he is heartworm positive. The person who adopts Tripp must be willing to treat his heartworms. If anyone is interested in helping Tripp but cannot adopt at this time, the person can donate toward the cost of heartworm treatment. Tripp is available at the Animal Rescue League, located at 2511 Moose Drive in Laurel. ARL is open Monday-Friday from 11 a.m.-4 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. If you have any questions about adopting, volunteering, or donating, you can call us at 601-649-0821. You can also find us on Facebook as the Laurel Jones County Animal Rescue League or visit our website at <http://arllaurel.webs.com>

ARL is currently in need of Puppy Chow, cat litter, and Mean Green cleaner.
